CXLI. If such building be begun or made without sending such notice and plan, or at any levels different from those fixed by the Justices within the said fourteen days, or in any other respect contrary to the provisions of this Act, the Justices may, if necessary, cause such building to be altered, or demolished as the case may require; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid by the person failing to comply with the provisions aforesaid, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Houses built without notice, or contrary to provisions of this Act, may be altered by the Justices.

CXLII. If the Justices fail to signify in writing their approval or disapproval of the levels shown on such plan as aforesaid, and to fix other levels within fourteen days after receiving such notice and plan as aforesaid, the person giving such notice may, notwithstanding any thing hereinbefore contained, proceed to build or re-build the house therein referred to according to the levels shown on such plan, provided that such building or re-building be otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

If Justices fail to approve &c., within fourteen days, parties may proceed without.

CXLIII. All sewers and drains in streets, whether public or private, shall be provided by the Justices or by the persons to whom they severally belong, with proper traps or other coverings or means of ventilation so as to prevent stench. If the owner of any private sewer or drain shall, for ten days after notice given to him by the Justices, neglect or delay to provide proper traps or coverings or means of ventilation as aforesaid, the Justices may forthwith provide and apply the same; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such sewer and drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Sewers in streets to be covered with traps, &c.

CXLIV. The Justices may erect on, or fix to any house or building, such pipes as they may deem necessary for the proper ventilation of the sewers belonging to them, and such pipes shall be carried to a height of not less than six feet above the highest part of the house or building, and erected so as not to occasion any nuisance or inconvenience to any house or building in the neighbourhood.

Power of Justices to erect or affix to building, pipes for ventilation of sewers.

Throwing rubbish into sewers.

CXLV. Whoever throws or puts, or permits his servants to throw or put, any earth, dirt, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or any broken glass or earthen-ware, or other rubbish, or, until suitable sewers shall be provided, any night-soil, into any sewer or drain belonging to any of the Justices or into any drain communicating therewith, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Common necessaries.

CXLVI. The Justices may provide and maintain in proper and convenient situations, so as not to create a nuisance, common necessaries and urinals, and shall cause the same, when provided, to be kept in proper order and to be daily cleansed.

Licensing of public necessaries.

CXLVII. The Justices may license, for any period not exceeding one year, such necessaries for public accommodation as they, from time to time, may think proper; and whoever keeps any public necessary without such license, or, having a license for a public necessary, suffers the same to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means for cleaning the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the license may be cancelled by the Magistrate before whom the person is convicted.

Neglecting to enclose private privy.

CXLVIII. The owner or occupier of any house or building having a privy erected on his premises, shall have such privy shut out by a sufficient wall or fence from the view of persons passing by. In neglect of this provision he shall be liable to penalty of ten Rupees a day for each day of default.

Branch-drains, privies, &c., to be under control of Justices and to be kept in good order by owners.

CXLIX. All branch drains, as well within as without the lands or buildings to which they belong, and all privies and cess-pools in or near any street, shall be under the survey and control of the Justices, and shall be altered, repaired, and kept in proper order at the costs and charges of the owners of the lands and buildings to which the same belong, or for the use of which they are constructed or continued; and if the owner of any land or buildings to which any such drain, privy, or cess-pool belongs, neglect, during eight days after notice in writing for that purpose, to alter, repair, and put the same into good order in the manner required by the Justices, the Justices may cause such drain, privy, or cess pool to be altered, repaired, and put in good order, and the expense incurred by the Justices in respect thereof, shall be paid by the owner, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty for persons making or altering drains, &c., contrary to the orders of the Justices.

CL. If any such drain, privy, or cess-pool be constructed after the passing of this Act, contrary to the directions and regulations of the Justices or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or if any person, without the consent of the Justices, constructs, re-builds, or unstops, any drain, privy, or cess-pool which has been ordered by them to be demolished or stopped up, or not to be made, every person so doing shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and the Justices may cause such amendment or alteration to be made in any such drain, privy, or cess-pool as they think fit; and the expense thereof shall be paid by the person by whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool was improperly constructed, re-built, or unstopped, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Inspection of drains, privies, and cesspools.

CLI. The Justices or any Officer appointed by them for the purpose may inspect any such drain, privy, or cess-pool, and for that purpose, at any time between sunrise and sunset, after twenty-four hours notice in writing to the occupier of the premises to which such drain, privy, or cess-pool is attached, may enter upon any lands and buildings with such assistants and workmen as are necessary, and cause the ground to be opened where they or he may think fit, doing as little damage as may be, and if, upon such inspection, it appears that the drain, privy, or cess pool is not in good order and condition, or that it has been constructed after the passing of this Act contrary to the provisions thereof, the expenses of such inspection shall be paid by the person to whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool may belong; but if the drain, privy, or cess-pool be found to be in proper order and condition and not to have been constructed in violation of the provisions of this Act, the Justices or Officer as aforesaid shall cause the ground to be closed and made good as soon as may be; and the expenses of opening, closing, and making good such drain, privy, or cess-pool shall, in that case, be defrayed by the Justices. Provided always that nothing hereinbefore contained shall authorize an entry into the zenanas or private apartments appropriated to the females of Hindoo and Mussulman families for the purpose of such inspection, except by the agency of women.

Service of notice on owners and occupiers of buildings and lands.

CLII. Where any notice is required by this Act to be given to the owner or occupier of any building or land, such notice, addressed to the owner or occupier as the case may require, may be served on the occupier of such building or land, or left with some adult male member or servant of his family, or, if the notice cannot be so served, or if there be no occupier, may be put up on some conspicuous part of such building or land, and it shall not be necessary in any such notice to name the occupier or the owner. Provided always that, when the owner and his residence are known to the Justices, it shall be their duty, if such owner be residing within the limits of their authority, to cause every notice, required to be given to the owner of any building or land, to be served on such owner or left with some adult male member or servant of his family; and, if the owner be not resident within such limits, they shall send every such notice by Post addressed to his residence, and proof of delivery of the notice at the Post Office shall be held to be due service of the same.

CLIII. Whenever, under the provisions of this Act, any work is required to be executed by the owner or occupier of any building or land, and default is made in the execution of such works, the Justices, whether any penalty is or is not provided for such default, may cause such work to be executed; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the person by whom such work ought to have been executed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Justices, in default of owner or occupier, may execute works and recover expenses.

CLIV. If the defaulter be the owner of the building or land, the Justices may, by way of additional remedy, whether any action or proceeding has been brought or taken against any such owner or not, require the payment of all or any part of the expenses payable by the owner for the time being, from the person who then or at any time thereafter occupies the building or land under such owner, and, in default of payment thereof by such occupier on demand, the same may be levied by distress of the goods and chattels of such occupier; and every such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent payable by him to his landlord so much as is so paid by or recovered from him in respect of any such expenses.

Power to levy charges on occupier, who may deduct the same from his rent.

CLV. Except in cases falling under Section LXVI of this Act, no occupier of any building or land shall be liable to pay more money, in respect of any expenses charged by this Act on the owner thereof, than the amount of rent due from him for the premises in respect of which such expenses are payable at the time of the demand made upon him, or which at any time after such demand has accrued and become payable by him, unless he neglect or refuse, upon application made to him for that purpose by the Justices, truly to disclose the amount of his rent and the name and address of the person to whom such rent is payable; but the burden of proof that the sum demanded of any such occupier is greater than the rent which was due by him at the time of such demand or which has since accrued, shall lie upon such occupier; provided further that nothing herein contained shall be taken to affect any special contract made between any such owner or occupier respecting the payment of the expenses of any such works as aforesaid.

Occupier not to be liable for more than the amount of rent due.

CLVI. Whenever default is made by the owner of any building or land, in the execution of any work required to be executed by him, the occupier of such building or land may, with the approval of the Justices, cause such work to be executed, and the expense thereof shall be paid to him by the owner, or the amount may be deducted out of the rent from time to time becoming due from him to such owner.

Occupier, in default of owner, may execute works and deduct expenses from his rent.

CLVII. If the occupier of any building or land prevent the owner thereof from carrying into effect, in respect of such building or land, any of the provisions of this Act, after notice of his intention so to do has been given by the owner to such occupier, any Magistrate, upon proof thereof, may give an order in writing requiring such occupier to permit the owner to execute all such works with respect to such building or land as may be necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this Act; and if, after the expiration of eight days from the date of the order, such occupier continue to refuse to permit such owner to execute such works, such occupier shall, for every day during which he so continues to refuse, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and every such owner, during the continuance of such refusal, shall be discharged from any penalties to which he might otherwise have become liable by reason of his default in executing such works.

Proceedings in case of tenants opposing the execution of this Act.

CLVIII. All public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes pumps, and other water-works, existing at the time of the passing of this Act or afterwards made or erected and whether made or erected at the cost of the Justices or otherwise, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land (not being private property) appertaining to any public tank, shall be vested in and belong to the Justices.

Tanks, &c., vested in the Justices.

CLIX. The Justices shall cause all existing public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works used for the supply of water to the inhabitants or for the other purposes mentioned in this Act, to be continued, maintained, and supplied with water; or they shall substitute other such works and shall cause them to be maintained and supplied with water; and the Justices may, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, from time to time construct aqueducts for bringing water into the Town of Calcutta, and may provide any number of new tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, and other such water-works for the purposes aforesaid.

Construction and maintenance of works for supply of water.

CLX. Whoever, except as permitted by the Justices under Section CLXIII, bathes in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, or aqueduct belonging to the Justices; or washes or causes to be washed therein, any horse, dog, or other animal, or any wool, cloth, or wearing apparel, or any utensils for cooking or other purposes, or leather, or the skin of any animal, or other foul or offensive thing; or throws, puts, or casts, or causes to enter therein, any animal or any gravel, stone, dust, or rubbish, or any dirt, filth, or other noisome or offensive matter or thing; or causes or suffers to run, drain, or be brought thereinto, the water of any sink, sewer, drain, engine, or boiler, or any other unwholesome or offensive liquid matter or thing belonging to him or flowing from any house or building or from any ground occupied by him; or does any thing whatsoever whereby any such water shall be in any degree fouled or corrupted, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Fouling water by—Bathing.
Washing animals or things, &c.
Throwing rubbish, &c.
Allowing drains, &c., to flow.

CLXI. Whoever, being the proprietor of any gas-works, or being engaged or employed in the manufacture or supply of gas, or being the occupier or proprietor of any place where an offensive trade or manufacture is carried on, wilfully does any act connected with the said business, whereby the water in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, aqueduct, or other water-works belonging to the Justices is fouled or corrupted, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand Rupees, and to a further penalty, not exceeding five hundred Rupees, for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice in writing from the Justices in this behalf, and the Justices may, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, lay open and examine any pipes, conduits, and works belonging to such person; and if, upon such examination, it appears that the water has been fouled or corrupted by any thing proceeding from or contained in the pipes, conduits, or works examined, the expenses of such examination shall be paid by the person to whom such pipes, conduits, or works belong, or under whose management or control they may be, and be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided; but if it appear that the water has not been so fouled or corrupted, then such expenses, and all damages occasioned by the examination, shall be paid by the Justices.

Water fouled by offensive trades.

Injuring water-works or diverting or wasting water.

CLXII. Whoever wilfully or carelessly injures any water-works belonging to the Justices, or unlawfully draws off, diverts, or takes water from any such water-works, or from any waters or streams belonging to the Justices by which such water-works are supplied, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Justices may set apart bathing places, &c.

CLXIII. The Justices may, at their discretion set apart any public ghaut or place, or any part of the strand of any river (not being private property), for the purpose of being used as a bathing place; and may also provide or set apart a sufficient number of convenient tanks or runs of water for the inhabitants to bathe in, and may also set apart tanks or reserviors, or runs of water for washing animals or clothes or for any other purposes connected with the health, cleanliness, and comfort of the inhabitants.

Bye-laws to regulate—

CLXIV. The Justices may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws—

The use of water.

For regulating all or any matters and things whatsoever connected with the water to be supplied by them, and the use of such water for any of the purposes mentioned in this Act—

Bathing places.

And for regulating the time and place of bathing for persons of each sex in the places provided or appointed by them for the purpose of bathing, in such manner as shall appear to the Justices necessary, making due allowance for the habits and customs of the country.

Power to fill up unwholesome tanks, &c., on private premises.

CLXV. When any private tank or low marshy ground, or any waste or stagnant water, being within any private enclosure, appears to the Justices to be injurious to health, or to be offensive to the neighbourhood, it shall be lawful for the Justices to require, by notice in writing, the owner of the said premises to cleanse or fill up such tank or marshy ground, or to drain off or remove such stagnant water; and if he shall refuse or neglect to comply with such requisition during eight days from the service thereof, the Justices, their Officers, and workmen, may enter into the said premises and do all necessary acts for all or any of the purposes aforesaid as they shall think fit; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such premises, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to drain off and cleanse stagnant pools in open places.

CLXVI. The Justices are hereby empowered, from time to time as they shall see fit, to drain off into any sewers belonging to them and cleanse and fill up or otherwise abate any stagnant pool, ditch, tank, pond, or other recentacle of water (the same not being within any private enclosure) which shall appear to them to be useless or unnecessary or likely to prove injurious to the health of the inhabitants, whether the same be the private property of any person or otherwise; and the Justices, their Officers, and workmen, may do all necessary acts for effecting any of the purposes aforesaid.

Justices in executing works to provide roads, &c., where existing ones are injured.

CLXVII. The Justices, in executing any works directed or authorized by this Act to be made, shall provide and make, at their own expense, a sufficient number of convenient ways, water-courses, drains, and channels in the place of such as may be interrupted, injured, or rendered useless by reason of the execution of such works; and, in case of any difference arising between the Justices respectively and the persons affected thereby, such difference shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Justices breaking up street to restore the same with all convenient speed.

CLXVIII. When the pavement or surface of any street, or when any sewer or drain, shall be opened or broken up by the Justices, their Officers or servants, they shall, with all convenient speed, complete the work on account of which the same shall have been broken up, and fill in the ground and make good the pavement and surface, and the sewer or drain, so opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned thereby; and shall, in the meantime, cause the place where such pavement or surface shall be so opened or broken up, to be fenced and guarded, and sufficiently lighted during the night.

Situation of gas and water-pipes to be altered at the expense of the Justices.

CLXIX. If the Justices deem it necessary for the purposes of this Act to raise, sink, or otherwise alter the situation of any water-pipe or gas-pipe, or other water-works or gas-works laid in any of the streets, they may, from time to time, by notice in writing, require the person to whom any such pipes or works belong or under whose control they may be, to cause forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be, any such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or otherwise altered in position in such manner as the Justices direct; provided that such alteration be not such as permanently to injure such works, or to prevent the water or gas from flowing as freely and conveniently as before; and the expenses attending such raising, sinking, or altering, and full compensation for the damage done thereby, shall be paid by the Justices, as well to the persons to whom such pipes or works belong as to all other persons. And if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

If owner, &c. neglect to make alterations, the Justices may cause the same to be done.

CLXX. If the person to whom any such pipes or works belong or under whose control they may be, do not proceed forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be after the receipt of such notice, to cause the same to be raised, sunk, or altered, in such manner as the Justices require, the Justices may themselves cause such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or altered as they think fit; provided that such works be not permanently injured thereby, or the water or gas prevented from flowing as freely and conveniently as before.

Hoards to be set up during repairs.

CLXXI. Every person intending to build or take down any buildidg or to alter or repair the outward part of any building where any street or footway will be obstructed or rendered inconvenient by means of such work shall before beginning the same, and having first obtained a license in writing from the Justices so to do, cause sufficient hoards or fences to be put up, in order to separate the building where such works are being carried on, from the street or footway, and shall continue such hoard or fence standing and in good condition, to the satisfaction of the Justices during such time as the public safety or convenience requires, and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and every such person who begins to build, or take down, or alter, or repair, any building contrary to the provisions of this Section, or who, without license, erects or sets up any hoards, scaffolding, or fence whatsoever, or who, being licensed, fails to put up such fence or hoard, or to continue the same standing and in good condition as aforesaid during the time aforesaid, or who does not, while the said hoards or fences are standing, keep the same sufficiently lighted during the night, or who does not remove the same when directed by the Justices within eight days, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the said Justices.

Bars to be erected across streets during repairs, and lights placed at night.

CLXXII. The Justices shall, during the construction or repair by them of any of the streets, sewers, or drains vested in them, take proper precaution for guarding against accident, by shoring up and protecting the adjoining houses, and shall cause such bars, chains, or posts to be fixed across or in any of the streets or roads to prevent the passage of carriages, carts, or other vehicles, cattle or horses, while such works are carried on, as to them shall seem proper; and the Justices shall cause any sewer or drain or other works in streets, during the construction or repair thereof by them, to be sufficiently lighted and guarded during the night; and whoever takes down, alters, or removes any of the said bars, chains, or posts, or extinguishes any light, without the authority or consent of the Justices, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Penalty for not lighting deposits of building materials or excavations.

CLXXIII. No persons shall deposit any building materials, or make a hole in any street, without the permission of the Justices; and when such permission is granted to any person he shall, at his own expense, cause such materials, or such hole, to be sufficiently fenced and enclosed until the materials are removed, or the hole is filled up or otherwise made secure; and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and whoever deposits materials or makes a hole without such permission, or fails to fence or enclose and light such materials or hole, or does not remove such materials or fill up such hole when the permission has been withdrawn, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the Justices.

Dangerous places near streets to be repaired or enclosed.

CLXXIV. If any building, tank, well, or hole, or other place, be, for want of sufficient repair, protection, or enclosure, dangerous to passengers, the Justices shall cause the same to be repaired, protected, or enclosed so as to prevent danger therefrom; and the expenses of such repair, protection, or enclosure shall be paid to the Justices by the owner of the property so repaired, protected, or enclosed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Slaughter-houses within certain limits to be registered.

CLXXV. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta which (if any) shall be specially prescribed for the purpose by the Government of Bengal, every place used as a slaughter-house shall, within one month after the passing of this Act, be registered by the owner or occupier at the Office of the Justices in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of that time and after eight days' notice from the Justices, uses or permits to be used any slaughter-house without its being registered, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day during which such place shall be so used without having been registered.

No slaughter-houses to be newly set up without license.

CLXXVI. No place not so used at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall at any time subsequent to the passing of this Act cease to be so used, shall be used as a slaughter-house within the prescribed limits, unless and until a license in writing for the use thereof as a slaughter-house has been obtained from the Justices, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without such license, uses as a slaughter-house any place within such limits, not used as such at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall at any time subsequent to the passing of this Act cease to be so used, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, and to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence, during which the said offence is continued.

Justices to provide places for slaughter-houses.

CLXXVII. The Justices may, from time to time, if they shall think fit, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, provide places for the purpose of being used as slaughter-houses, and they are hereby empowered to make bye-laws for and with respect to the management and charges for the use of such places.

Markets, slaughter-houses, &c., to be properly drained.

CLXXVIII. Every owner or occupier, or farmer of any market for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or of any slaughter-house within the prescribed limits, shall cause such drains to be made therein as shall be considered sufficient by the Justices, and (if required so to do by the Justices) shall cause all the floors and drains to be paved with stone or burnt brick, and shall also cause a supply of water to be provided sufficient for keeping such market or slaughter-house in a clean and wholesome state; and if such owner, occupier, or farmer, after notice in writing given to him by the Justices that such market or slaughter-house is defective in any of the said particulars, and requiring him to remedy the defect specified within not less than thirty days, makes default therein, he shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day during which such default is continued.

Justices may make bye-laws for the inspection of slaughter-houses.

CLXXIX. The Justices may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of all such markets and of all slaughter-houses within the prescribed limits, and for the management and conduct of the business therein, and for keeping the same in a cleanly and proper state, and for removing filth at least once in every twenty-four hours.

Sale of unwholesome food or drink.

CLXXX. It shall be lawful for any Magistrate, on the application of the Justices or any of their Officers setting forth that there is just cause to believe that any article which has been rendered or has become noxious or unfit for use as food or drink for man is in the possession of any person for the purpose of being sold or offered or exposed for sale within the Town as food or drink for man, to grant a warrant to enter upon the premises of such person, and to search for and seize such article, and if it appear to the Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that the same is noxious or unfit for such use, he shall order such article to be forfeited and disposed of in such way as to him shall seem proper.

Power to Justices to enter and inspect slaughter-houses, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

CLXXXI. The Justices or any person appointed by them for that purpose may at all reasonable times, with or without assistants, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall, or place used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables which may be therein; and in case any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables appear to be intended for the food of man and to be unfit for such food, may seize the same; and if it appear to a Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that such animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables is unfit for the food of man, he shall order the same to be destroyed or to be so disposed of as to prevent its being exposed for sale or used for such food, and the owner thereof, or the person in whose possession the same is found, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Suspension or revocation of license, &c.

CLXXXII. The Magistrate, before whom any person is convicted of an offence contrary to the provisions of this Act relating to slaughter-houses, or of the non-observance of any of the bye-laws relating thereto made by virtue of this Act, in addition to the penalty imposed on such person under the authority of this Act, may suspend, for any period not exceeding two months, the license granted to such person under this Act; or in case such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid for any period not exceeding two months the slaughtering of cattle therein; and the Magistrate, upon the conviction of any person for a second or other subsequent like offence, in addition to the penalty imposed under the authority of this Act, may declare the license granted under this Act revoked, or if such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid absolutely the slaughtering of cattle therein.

Penalty for using slaughter-houses during suspension or revocation of license.

CLXXXIII. Whoever, during the period for which any such license is suspended or after the same is revoked as aforesaid, slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered in the slaughter-house to which such license relates, and whoever, during the period that the slaughtering of cattle in any such registered slaughter-house is forbidden as aforesaid, or after such slaughtering has been absolutely forbidden therein slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered, in any such registered slaughter house, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

Offensive and dangerous trades existing within certain limits to be registered.

CLXXXIV. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta (if any) which may be specially prescribed by the Government of Bengal for the purpose, the owner or occupier of every place used at the time of the passing of this Act for any of the following purposes, namely, for melting tallow—or for boiling offal or blood—or as a soap house—oil-boiling house—dyeing house—tannery—brick, pottery, or lime, kiln—sago manufactory—or other manufactory or place of business from which offensive or unwholesome smells arise—or as a yard or depot for hay, straw, wood, or coal—shall, within three months after this Act comes into operation, register the same at the Office of the Justices in a book to be kept by them for that purpose, and whoever, after the expiration of the said three months and after eight days' notice from the Justices, uses any such place without the same being registered, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for every day during which the offence is continued.

Penalty for establishing such trades without license.

CLXXXV. No place shall be newly used within the prescribed limits for any of the purposes mentioned in the last preceding Section, except under a license from the Justices, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without a license, uses any such place for such purpose, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees, and a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

Justices to make rules for licensing, registering, &c., such business places.

CLXXXVI. The Justices may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of every place within the prescribed limits used for any of the purposes mentioned in Section CLXXXIV, and for the management and conduct of such business, whether the same be newly established or not, in such manner as they may think necessary and proper, in order to prevent or diminish the noxious or injurious or offensive effect thereof.

The Justices may order existing slaughter-houses to be discontinued.

CLXXXVII. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Justices that any place registered or licensed under Sections CLXXV, CLXXVI, CLXXXIV, or CLXXXV of this Act is a nuisance to the neighbourhood, they may give notice to the occupier to discontinue the use of such place within one month; and whoever, after the expiration of that time, uses such place or permits it to be used in such a manner as to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees for every day during which it shall be so used.

Burial and Burning grounds to be registered.

CLXXXVIII. The Justices may, if they think fit, cause a survey and measurement to be made of every burial ground and every place used as such; and every such place and every burning ground existing at the time of the passing of this Act shall, within one month after this Act shall come into operation, be registered by the owner or the person having the control thereof, or, if there be no owner or person authorized to control the same, by order of the Justices in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of the said time, knowingly buries or burns, or causes, procures, or suffers to be buried or burned, any corpse in any ground other than such registered burial or burning ground, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

No vault or burial or burning place henceforth to be constructed without leave of the Justices.

CLXXXIX. No vault or grave shall be made within the walls of, or underneath, any church or chapel or other place of public worship built after the passing of this Act, and no burial or burning ground, whether public or private, shall be opened, made, or formed after the passing of this Act, otherwise than by or under the authority of the Government of Bengal, without a license describing the extent and boundaries thereof first obtained from the Justices, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time to grant such licenses; and whoever shall bury or burn, or cause, permit, or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpse in any vault, grave, or burial or burning ground opened, made, or formed without such license or contrary to the terms thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

Justices to issue certificates prohibiting improper burial places.

CXC. If, upon the evidence of competent persons, the Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, shall certify in manner hereinafter provided, that any burial ground or place of burial, or any place used for the burning of corpses is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof, or that any church or other place of public worship is dangerous to the health of persons frequenting the same, by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of or underneath the same, or in any churchyard or burial-ground adjacent thereto, and shall also certify that a fitting place for interment or burning (as the case may be) exists within a convenient distance, and is available, it shall not be lawful, after a time (not less than two months) to be named in such certificate, to bury or burn, or permit or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpses in, upon, within, or under the ground, church, or place of worship to which the certificate relates, except in so far as may be allowed by such certificate; and whoever, after due publication of such certificate as hereinafter provided, buries or burns, or causes, permits, or suffers to be buried or burned any corpse contrary to this enactment shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees. Provided always that every such certificate shall be published in the Government Gazette, and that a translation thereof in Bengalee shall, in the case of a burial or burning ground, be affixed conspicuously on some part of the said ground.

Proviso.

Justices may, in certain cases, permit interment in churches, &c.

CXCI. Notwithstanding any such certificate as in the preceding Section mentioned, where by usage or otherwise there is at the time of the passing of this Act, any right of interment in or under any church or chapel, or in any vault of such church or chapel, or of any church-yard, burial-ground, or place of burial affected by such certificate, or where any exclusive right of interment, or any exclusive right to ground for the purpose of interment has been purchased or acquired before the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for the Justices if, on application made to them, they are satisfied that the exercise of such right or the use of such ground will not be injurious to health, to grant a license for such exercise or use during such time and subject to such conditions and restrictions as they may think fit.

Justices may provide places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

CXCII. The Justices may, from time to time, out of the funds available for the purposes of this Act, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, provide fitting places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

Justices to make bye-laws for regulation of burial and burning grounds.

CXCIII. The Justices may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection and regulation of burial and burning grounds, and may thereby prescribe rules as to the depth of graves and places of interment, and generally as to all matters connected with the good order of burial and burning grounds, due regard being had to the religious usages of the several classes of the community.

Power to enter upon lands for the purposes of this Act.

CXCIV. The Justices shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power by themselves or their Officers, between sunrise and sunset, to enter into and upon any building or land, as well for the purpose of making any survey or inspection which they may be entitled to make, as for the purpose of executing any work authorized by this Act to be executed by them, without being liable to any legal proceedings or molestation whatsoever on account of such entry or of any thing done in any part of such building or land in pursuance of this Act.

Proviso. Provided that, except when herein otherwise provided, the Justices or their Officers shall not enter upon any building or land which they may be occupied at the time unless with the consent of the occupier thereof without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours notice of his or their intention to do so.

Power to Justices to enter on lands adjacent to works.

CXCV. The Justices or their Officers or Servants may enter upon the land of any person adjoining to or being within the distance of one hundred yards of any works by this Act authorized to be made for the purpose of depositing upon such land any soil, gravel, sand, lime, brick, stone, or other materials, or for any other purposes connected with the formation of the said works, without making any previous payment, tender, or deposit, doing as little damage as may be in the exercise of the several powers hereby granted to them, and making compensation for such temporary occupation or temporary damage of the said land to the owner and occupier thereof from time to time, and as often as any such temporary occupation shall be taken or such temporary damage done, and making compensation to the owner also for the permanent injury (if any) to such land; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses. Provided that,

Proviso. before the Justices make any such temporary use as aforesaid of the land adjoining or lying near to the said works, they shall give fourteen days' notice of such their intention to the owners and occupiers of such land, and shall set apart by sufficient fences so much of the land as shall be required to be used as aforesaid from the other land adjoining thereto.

Penalty for obstructing Justices in their duty.

CXCVI. Whoever at any time obstructs or molests any resident Justice, or the Justices or their Officers or workmen, or any person employed by them or with whom they may have contracted under the provisions of this Act in the performance and execution of their or his duty, or of any thing which they are respectively empowered or required to do by virtue or in consequence of this Act; or removes any mark set up for the purpose of indicating any level or direction necessary to the execution of works authorized by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, or, in the discretion of the Magistrate before whom he is convicted, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months.

Penalty for giving false statement or answer.

CXCVII. Every person who wilfully gives verbally or in writing a false statement of, or neglects or refuses to give, such returns and answers as under this Act may be lawfully required of him shall, on conviction of such offence before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

Powers to be exercised by the Justices when constructing drains and aqueducts without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court.

CXCVIII. For the purposes of constructing aqueducts for bringing water into the Town of Calcutta from any place without the limits of the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature or for the purpose of making sewers or drains to communicate with or empty themselves into any public sewer, lake, stream, canal, or water-course without the said limits, it shall be lawful, whenever a plan for any such aqueduct, sewer, or drain shall have been approved by the Government of Bengal, for the Justices and their Officers, with such assistants as they may require, to exercise in the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain throughout the line or country through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, all the powers which by this Act it is lawful for them to exercise within the said local limits, and which may be necessary for the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain without being subject to any action or molestation whatever for so doing; and it shall also be lawful for any Magistrate of any district through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, to exercise in respect thereof the like powers and jurisdiction within the limits of his own district, as it is by this Act lawful for a Magistrate or two Magistrates (as the case may be) of the said Town of Calcutta to exercise in respect of any work to be executed by the Justices within the said local limits.

Justices empowered to make bye-laws.

CXCIX. The Justices may, from time to time, make such bye-laws as they think fit for the several purposes for which bye-laws are hereinbefore authorized to be made by them, and may, from time to time, repeal, alter, or amend any such bye-laws; provided such bye-laws be not repugnant to law or to the provisions of this Act; and for any breach of any of such bye-laws, the offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, and, in case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day, after notice of the offence from the Justices, during which such offence is continued.

Bye-laws to be confirmed.

CC. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall have effect until the same is confirmed by the Government of Bengal.

Notice of confirmation.

CCI. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall be confirmed until the same has been published in the Government Gazette or in one of the public newspapers at least seven times, nor till the space of one month has elapsed since the date of the first publication, during which period a copy of such proposed bye-law shall be kept at the Office of the Justices; and all persons may, at any time between 10 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, inspect such copy without fee or reward.

Publication of bye-laws.

CCII. Such bye-laws, when confirmed, shall be published in the Government Gazette and in one or more of the public newspapers, and a copy thereof, in English and in Bengalee, shall be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the Justices.

CCIII. All Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of such bye-laws when the same shall have been confirmed and published as aforesaid.

Bye-laws to be judicially noticed.

CCIV. The Justices shall publish short particulars of the several offences for which any penalty is imposed by this Act, or by any bye-law made under this Act, and of the amount of every such penalty, and shall cause such particulars, in English, Bengalee, and Oordoo, to be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the Justices.

Publication of penalties.

CCV. The Justices may enter into contracts with any persons for the execution of any works directed or authorized by this Act to be done by the Justices, or for any other things necessary for the purposes of this Act.

Power to Justices to make contracts.

CCVI. The Justices may direct any prosecution for any public nuisance whatsoever, and may order proceedings to be taken for the recovery of any penalties and for the punishment of any persons offending against the provisions of this Act, and may order the expenses of such prosecution or other proceedings to be paid out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act. But nothing in this Section shall be held to hinder any person from prosecuting any other person for any nuisance.

Justices may direct prosecutions.

CCVII. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to render lawful any act or omission on the part of any person which is, or but for this Act would be deemed to be a nuisance at common law, nor to exempt any person guilty of a nuisance at common law from prosecution or action in respect thereof.

Act not to affect nuisances at common law.

CCVIII. No action shall be brought against the Justices, or any of their Officers, or any person acting under the direction of the Justices, for any thing done or intended to be done under the powers of this Act, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered or left at the Office of the Justices, or at the place of abode of such person, explicitly stating the cause of action and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff, and of his attorney or agent in the cause; and upon the trial of any such action, the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action except such as is stated in the notice so delivered, and unless such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant; and every such action shall be commenced within three months next after the accrual of the cause of action, and not afterwards; and if any person to whom any such notice of action is given shall, before action brought, tender sufficient amends to the plaintiff, such plaintiff shall not recover in any such action when brought; and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issued joined, to pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

No action to be brought against Justices or their Officers until after one month's notice of cause of action.

CCIX. The Justices may make compensation, out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act, to all persons sustaining any damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested in the Justices, their Officers, or servants, under and by virtue of this Act.

Power to make compensation out of funds.

CCX. When there is any hinderance to the acquisition by purchase of any land or building required for the purposes of this Act, the Government of Bengal, upon the representation of the Justices and after such inquiry as may be thought proper, may declare that the land or building is needed for a public purpose, and may order proceedings for obtaining possession of the same for Government, and for determining the compensation to be paid to the parties interested, according to any laws now or hereafter to be in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes. And the Government of Bengal may vest such land or building in the Justices on their paying the compensation awarded.

Mode of ascertaining compensation for land, &c.

CCXI. The Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, may sell any lands vested in them by virtue of this Act, or acquired by them for the purposes thereof, either together or in parcels as they may find most convenient and advantageous, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the purposes of this Act: and for carrying such sale into effect, the Justices may execute a conveyance of the lands sold to the purchaser, and such conveyance shall be under the common seal of the Justices.

Power to sell lands.

CCXII. Whenever any street or road hereby vested in the Justices shall be discontinued and stopped up under the provisions of Section XCII of this Act, the Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, may sell the land or such part thereof as shall not be required for the purposes of the Act.

Power to sell old roads.

CCXIII. When any license is granted under the provisions of Sections CXLVII, CLXXVI, or CLXXXV of this Act, authorising the use of any place for any of the purposes therein described, and when permission is given under Section CIV for making any temporary erection, or under Section CXX for puting up any projection, the Justices may charge a fee for such license or permission; and the rates of the fees to be so charged shall be from time to time adjusted by the Justices with the sanction of the Government, provided that no such fee shall exceed the sum of one hundred Rupees. When permission or license is given for the temporary occupation of any ground belonging to the Justices under the provisions of Section CLXXI or Section CLXXIII, the Justices may charge rent for such ground, according to the time the occupation may continue, at such rates as may from time to time be sanctioned by the Government of Bengal.

Fees for licenses.

CCXIV. In all cases where any damages, costs, or expenses are by this Act directed to be paid, the amount of the same, in case of dispute, shall be ascertained and determined by two Magistrates.

Damages and expense how to be determined.

Method of proceeding before Magistrates in questions of damages, &c.

CCXV. In any case referred to the determination of two Magistrates under this Act, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate, upon the application of either party, to summon the other party to appear before any two Magistrates at a time and place to be named in such summons; and every such summons shall be served by delivering the original or a copy thereof to the person summoned, or by leaving the same at his usual place of abode with some adult male member or servant of his family. Upon the appearance of the parties, or in the absence of any of them, upon proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such Magistrates to hear and determine such question, and for that purpose to examine such parties or any of them and their witnesses on oath; and the cost of every such enquiry shall be in the discretion of such Magistrates, and they shall determine the amount thereof. Provided that, in the event of a difference of opinion between such Magistrates, the case shall be referred to the determination of a third Magistrate or (if there be no such Magistrate) of any Justice of the Peace to be selected by them.

Proviso.

Recovery of damages by distress.

CCXVI. If the amount of damages, costs, or expenses ascertained in the manner above described be not paid by the party liable to pay the same within seven days after demand, such amount may be recovered under a warrant from the said Magistrates or either of them by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such party; and the overplus arising from the sale thereof, after satisfying such amount and the costs of the distress and sale, shall be returned on demand to the party whose goods shall have been distrained.

Justices may sue in competent Court, instead or on failure of distress.

CCXVII. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of any expenses, charges, or damages awarded under the provisions of this Act, the Justices may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Recovery of fines and penalties.

CCXVIII. Every prosecution under this Act may be instituted before any single person having the powers of a Magistrate, unless where otherwise provided; and every fine or penalty, imposed under or by virtue of this Act or any bye-law made in pursuance thereof, may be recovered by summary proceeding before a Magistrate upon information exhibited by order of the Justices.

How fines and penalties are to be applied.

CCXIX. The Magistrate, by whom any fine or penalty is imposed by virtue of this Act, may award any portion, not being more than one-half thereof, to the informer, and shall order the remainder—or, if he make no award to the informer, the whole of such fine or penalty,—to be paid to the Justices, to be by them applied to the purposes of this Act.

No person liable to fine or penalty unless complaint made within two months after offence committed.

CCXX. No person shall be liable to any fine or penalty under this Act, for any offence made cognizable before a Magistrate, unless the complaint respecting such offence shall have been made before a Magistrate within two months next after the commission of such offence.

Damage to the Justices' property to be made good in addition to penalty.

CCXXI. If through any act, neglect, or default, on account whereof any person shall have incurred any penalty imposed by this Act, any damage to the property of the Justices shall have been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage, as well as to pay such penalty; and the amount of such damage shall, in case of dispute, be determined by the Magistrate by whom the party incurring such penalty shall have been convicted; and on non-payment of such damage on demand, the same shall be levied by distress, and such Magistrate shall issue his warrant accordingly.

Police Officers to report offences to Justices and to arrest unknown offenders.

CCXXII. It shall be the duty of all Police Officers to give immediate information to the Justices of any offence committed contrary to the provisions of this Act. Any Police Officer may arrest any person committing in his view any offence against any of the provisions of this Act, if the name and address of such person be unknown to him, or if such person decline to give his name and address, or if the Police Officer in question shall have reason to doubt the accuracy of such name and address, if given; and such person may be detained at the Station House until his name and address shall be correctly ascertained.

Certain provisions of Act extended.

CCXXIII. If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall have determined that any portion of the environs of the Town of Calcutta shall be included in the system of sewerage and drainage authorized by this Act, and if the said Lieutenant-Governor shall have declared the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazettee, then Sections CXXIX to CXLV, both inclusive, of this Act shall have effect within the boundaries so declared; and all penalties, expenses, and compensation, which under the said Sections, and by the provisions of this Act, may be adjudged and determined by a Magistrate or by two Magistrates acting in and for the Town of Calcutta, may be adjudged and determined within such boundaries by the Magistrate having jurisdiction therein.

Recovery of expenses on account of improvements to private property.

CCXXIV. Whenever the Justices shall have incurred any expenses in the execution of any of the works which, under Sections CIX, CXXXVI, and CXXXVIII of this Act, the owners of any premises, houses, or buildings are required to execute, the Justices may either recover the amount of such expenses in the manner therein provided, or, if they think fit, may take engagements from the said owners for the quarterly payment of such sums as will be sufficient to defray the whole amount of the said expenses, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum, within a period not exceeding five years, and such sums, when due, may be recovered by the same process by which rates may be recovered under this Act.

Commencement of Act.

CCXXV. This Act shall commence and take effect on and from the first day of May 1863.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ON the withdrawal of the Municipal Bills which had been referred to a Select Committee of the Council last year, Government undertook to introduce a measure of a more practical nature and better suited to the state of affairs existing in the Town of Calcutta. The result has been this Bill, which has been framed with the object of entrusting Justices of the Peace, selected by Government from amongst the rate-payers, with a control over the Municipal government of the Town, and at the same time providing that the work of the Municipality shall not be liable to interruption or delay from any omission on their part to attend to their duties. It is proposed to vest the general administrative control of Municipal expenditure in a considerable body, trusting the execution in detail of all sanctioned works to one well paid Officer, who shall devote his whole time and energy to the work. This is to be effected by making all Justices of the Peace resident in the Town of Calcutta a body corporate. It is proposed that Government shall nominate to the office of Chairman of the Justices an energetic and experienced Officer, who must himself be a resident Justice. At the close of each official year, the Chairman will submit to a meeting of the Justices a Budget of the expenditure which he proposes for the ensuing year, and the rates and taxes which he desires to impose for the purpose of meeting this expenditure. The Justices will pass, modify, or otherwise alter, either the amount which it is proposed to expend, or the details of expenditure. They will then determine the amount of rates to be levied within the limits fixed by the Legislature. When the Budget has been passed by the Justices and has received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, it will be left to the Chairman to carry out the sanctioned works.

To assist the Chairman, to whom it is proposed to assign a salary not exceeding 3,000 Rupees per mensem (exclusive of house-rent,) there will be a Vice-Chairman, receiving a salary not exceeding 1,200 Rupees per mensem, who will preside at the meetings of the Justices during the unavoidable absence of the Chairman. The Chairman is to have the power of calling meetings of the Justices, in addition to those which the Bill directs to be held Quarterly, whenever he may desire to lay before them any questions of importance, and any five Justices, exclusive of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, will form a quorum. Any ten Justices may at any time submit to the Chairman a requisition for a Meeting of the Justices, to consider any matter connected with the Municipality, and the Chairman will then be bound to call a Meeting. The Chairman will be removable on a requisition to Government signed by two-thirds of the Justices resident in Calcutta. The Vice-Chairman is to be appointed by the Justices subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor, and may be removed by a Resolution of two-thirds of the Justices. The Chairman will be assisted by an efficient professional staff, consisting of a Secretary, Engineer, Surveyor, Health Officer, and Assessor, to be appointed and removed by the Justices. All other Officers are to be appointed and removed on the responsibility of the Chairman, but where the salary exceeds 200 Rupees, the confirmation of the Justices will be necessary. The Justices may appoint special Committees to report, or to advise the Chairman, in regard to particular works.

Provision has been made for taking a periodical census of the population, and for establishing a system of registration of births and deaths. The Bill also empowers the Lieutenant-Governor, should he see fit so to do, to place the Police Administration under the Chairman of the Justices.

The present Municipal revenue amounts to somewhat less than eleven lakhs of Rupees, including the one per cent income tax,—a sum which it is admitted is totally inadequate to the requirements of the Town.

Provision has been made for a moderate license tax on all shops, stalls, and pedlars. The great majority of the lower classes literally contribute nothing directly or indirectly to the town revenues, and it is very desirable to reach them by some such measure as a Municipal shop-tax of a few Rupees per annum.

As regards the house-rate, it is proposed to raise it to ten per cent, and at the option of the Justices to substitute a fixed tax for native houses, calculated on the space they occupy. The assessment is made triennial, instead of annual.

It is found that the horse and carriage tax is evaded to an enormous extent, and it is proposed to remedy this by making the payment of the tax compulsory on a certain day by means of registry and license, and in default of such registry and license within a certain date, a penalty of five times the duty is to be imposed.

Though these additional taxes are provided for, it may not be necessary that they should be all imposed at once: a discretion has therefore been left to the Justices in this respect.

Advantage has been taken of the opportunity to consolidate the whole law relating to the Municipality of Calcutta. Acts XIV, XXV, and XXVIII of 1856 have been repealed, but all their more important provisions, with some amendments and improvements which have from time to time been suggested, have been embodied in this Bill.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to publish, for general information, the following arrangement, concluded under instructions from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople, by Her Majesty's Consul and British Agent at Jeddah with the Governor of that place, prohibiting the commerce by British Subjects in Wines or Spirits at Jeddah, and defining the conditions on which they will be allowed to be imported.

Jeddah being held to be peculiarly sacred from its situation as the port of the centre of the Mahomedan religion, negotiations have taken place between the British and Ottoman Governments with a view to prohibit the importation to Jeddah of Wines or Spirits, and orders to that effect having arrived from the Sublime Porte, and Her Britannic Majesty's Consul at Jeddah having received instruction from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople, the following articles have been agreed upon, and every means shall be taken to ensure the due execution, so that, with the exception of a sufficient quantity for the personal use of the British Christian Subjects, the importation of Wines or Spirits at Jeddah shall be prohibited.

In witness whereof the following Articles have been signed by Her Britannic Majesty's Consul at Jeddah, the 29th day of November 1862.

ARTICLE I.

The commerce in Wines or Spirits at Jeddah shall be prohibited.

ARTICLE II.

British Christian Subjects shall be permitted to import sufficient Wines or Spirits for their own personal use, the quantity to be settled each month by the local Government and the British Consul; but taverns shall be prohibited, and no Wines or Spirits shall be sold to Mussulmans.

ARTICLE III.

The status quo shall continue until the 1st of January 1863, on which date the taverns shall be closed, and these articles shall come into operation.

MILITARY.
No. 43.

To HIS EXCELLENCY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

MY LORD,—Referring to my letter dated 14th August last, I have to inform you that it has been arranged, with the view of obviating the delay which now takes place, that the promotions in the whole of the Royal Artillery and Engineers shall be made exclusively in this country, casualties as they occur in the Corps being immediately reported to the Horse Guards by the Officers Commanding Brigades in India, and promotions in succession being carried out on receipt of such advices, after approval by the Field Marshal Commanding-in-Chief and the Secretary of State for India in Council.

No. 291.

2. In consequence of this alteration it is necessary that the Governments in India should furnish special reports of all retirements amongst the Officers of the late Indian Brigades of Artillery and Battalions of Engineers which may take place in India, with a view to their early communication to the Horse Guards.

I have, &c.,

ADVERTISEMENT OF SALE.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Zemindaree rights of Government to the Khas Mehals situated in the District of Midnapore, and mentioned in the Statement hereto annexed, will be put up to sale, under orders of the Board of Revenue, as communicated in their Secretary's letter No. 182, dated 13th December 1862, in the Midnapore Collectorate, on Monday, the 6th day of April 1863, corresponding with the 26th Choit 1270 Umlee, and the 25th Choit 1269 Bengallee.

The Purchasers of the Mehals will be subject to the undermentioned Conditions :—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1*st.*—The Estates to be sold to the highest bidders above the upset price.

2*nd.*—When the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rupees 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once. When the amount of purchase money exceeds Rupees 100, a deposit, at Rupees 25 per cent., to be at once made upon the amount bid; the same to be forfeited to Government if the whole amount of purchase money be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, or if the day be a close holiday, then on the first Office day, reckoning the day of sale as one, and the Mehal will be again put up to sale at the risk of the former Purchaser.

3*rd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the right conferred by the Settlement proceedings and laws in force, and Purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the Jummabundees made by the Revenue Authorities.

4*th.*—The annual Embankment charges of the Mehals which are assessed with such charges will be paid by the Purchasers, as heretofore paid by Government, proportionately with other Zemindars. The existing arrangements for the repairs and maintenance of the Embankments will remain in force.

5*th.*—In addition to the ordinary Sudder Jummas fixed on the Estates Purchasers will be bound to pay an annual sum calculated at one per cent. on the Sudder Jummas, to be devoted to the construction of roads and improvement of communications. This sum will be leviable in the same manner as other arrears of Revenue.

BHULLOOAH COLLECTORATE,
The 20th December 1862.

ADVERTISEMENT OF SALE.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Zemindaree right of Government to the undermentioned Khass Mehal, situated in the District of Rajshahye, and mentioned in the Statement hereto annexed will be put up for sale, under orders of the Board of Revenue, No. 7, dated 13th January 1863, in the Rajshahye Collectorate, on the 25th March 1863, corresponding with the 13th Chyte 1269. The Purchaser of such Mehal will be subject to the Conditions laid down below :—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1*st*.—The Estate to be sold, with the sudder jumma entered below, to the highest bidder above the upset price.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the right conferred by the Settlement proceedings and laws in force, and the Purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the ummabundee made by the Revenue Authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rupees 100, the whole amount is to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase money exceed Ruppes 100, a deposit to be at once made of Rupees 25 per cent. upon the amount bid ; the same to be forfeited to Government and the sale cancelled if the whole amount of purchase money be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, and the Mehal will again be put up to sale at the risk of the former Purchaser.

5*th*.—In addition to the ordinary sudder jumma fixed on the Estate the Purchaser will be bound to pay an annual sum calculated at one per cent. on the sudder jumma, to be devoted to the construction of roads and improvement of communication. This sum will be leviable in the same manner as arrears of Revenue.

Government of India, Foreign Department.

Annual Fair at Bermhan.

From C. BERNARD, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, to COLONEL H. M. DURAND, C. B., Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—(dated Nagpore, the 26th January 1863.)

I HAVE the honor, by direction of the Officiating Chief Commissioner, to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Viceroy in Council, the annexed copy of a letter, No. 1457, dated 17th December 1862, from the Commissioner of Jubbulpore, enclosing Report from the Deputy Commissioner of Nursingpore, on the last Annual Fair at Bermhan.

2. I am to observe that the Officiating Chief Commissioner was on the spot for a short time in person, and during his stay the principal Malgoozars were in attendance to hear the terms and principles of the settlement explained

3. I am to add that after careful enquiry the Officiating Chief Commissioner is satisfied that the falling in this year's attendance at the Fair is attributable solely to the extraordinary lateness of the season. Many traders were on their way and were behind time, and the entire agricultural population were occupied with sowings that, under ordinary circumstances, would have been completed a month before.

From Officiating Commissioner, Jubbulpore Division, to Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces.

I HAVE the honor to transmit, in original, for the information of the Chief Commissioner, a Report, with its annexures, from the Deputy Commissioner of Nursingpore, on the Annual Fair recently held at Bermhan.

2. From personal observations I am able to state that the arrangements made by Captains Cumberlege and Ireland were most excellent and worthy of praise.

3. As reported by Captain Gordon, the lateness of the rains was the undoubted cause of the falling off in the attendance at the Fair this year. A Return of daily attendance of men, women, and children has not been rendered by the Deputy Commissioner, but I believe this is no great object. I might state, however, that the general opinion held the daily average of attendance from commencement to close of the Fair to be about 5 or 6,000.

4. I trust Captain Gordon's detailed Report will meet with the Chief Commissioner's approval.

From the Deputy Commissioner of Nursingpore, to Officiating Commissioner, Jubbulpore Division.

With reference to paragraph 3 of copy of a letter, No. 3452, from the Assistant Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, dated 25th October last, forwarded with your docket No. 1043, dated 29th October, I have the honor to submit the following Report on the Annual Fair recently held at Bermhan.

2. The Fair commenced on the 4th November, that is to say, the Merchants, &c., began to arrive, but the Shops were not opened, nor did the sales commence until the 6th, viz., after the performance of the bathing and other preliminary religious ceremonies usual on the occasion. The Fair continued until the 24th, when it was broken up.

3. The entire arrangements for the protection of the property of the traders, &c., were made by my predecessor, Captain Cumberlege, and Captain Ireland, District Superintendent of Police, (I did not myself arrive there until the 16th November); they appeared to me in every way excellent, and the traders unanimously expressed the greatest satisfaction.

4. The Shops and Stalls were laid out in streets and grouped together according to their nature and kind, viz., Cloth Shops in one street, braziers in another, and so on, throughout the Fair. The centres of the principal streets were occupied by the "Mihrus," "Korees," "Kooshtas" and other local Cloth manufacturers, who brought their wares for sale from day to day and whose Stalls were therefore only temporary ones.

5. The amount of crime was very small altogether, only four or five cases were brought before the Magistrates, and these, I would remark, were cases of swindling or obtaining goods order false pretences and not of theft or larceny. The Police deserve every credit for this satisfactory result, which is in my opinion attributable to the constant vigilance exercised by Captain Ireland and his Subordinates both by day and night. The conduct of the people assembled also was most peaceable and orderly throughout.

6. The behaviour of the Police and the Madras Detachment under Lieutenant Cotton was most exemplary. No complaint of oppression or any other kind was brought to my notice by the denizens of the Fair, although they had every opportunity of doing so during my visits among them.

7. The Fair, I regret to say, exhibited a great falling off in comparison with last year, both as regards the number of Shops and also the attendance. The sales were consequently comparatively small. They increased, however, considerably towards the latter end of the Fair, and on the whole the traders, &c., I believe, realized a tolerable amount of profit, though of course very much less than last year.

8. The traders came principally from within the District, viz., from the Towns of Nursingpore, Gaurwarah, Chuchlee, Undookhera, &c., a considerable number of dealers in cloth, brass and copper utensils, native ornaments, country papers, &c., also came from the adjacent Districts of Jubbulpore, Saugor, Dumoh, and Hoshungabad; and a few dealers on spices, pearls, &c., brought their wares from Indore, Scrouj, Oojun, and Mon Ranee pore (Bundlekund); there were a few also from Nagpore and Seonee.

9. The largest amount of sales effected were of English and country cloth; next in order jeweller's ware, including all kinds of cheap native ornaments; 3rd, coral and pearls, &c.; 4th, brass and copper utensils; 5th, iron utensils, fabricated at Tendookheras and lastly, spices, perfumes, &c. The sales of other articles, such as sweetmeats, pottery, native saddlery, glassware, &c., &c., were comparatively small, and there were no sales of cattle worthy of record. A considerable business was done towards the close of the Fair in Bills of Exchange, which were drawn (as I have been informed by the Native Bankers) to the amount of one lakh of Rupees.

10. I have made every enquiry regarding the falling off remarked upon in paragraph 7, and the main cause of it I believe to be undoubtedly the late sowing, which prevented the attendance of numerous zemindars, ryots, and others connected with agricultural pursuits. The Fair took place a fortnight earlier than last year, and besides the sowing of the Rubbee crop was very considerably later than usual, as it lasted almost to the end of November. Owing to the late rains and the consequent badness of the roads many traders (from a distance) were unable to start their wares so as to be time for the Fair.

11. Agreeably to the verbal instructions of the Chief Commissioner, I issued a notice, before leaving the Fair, that the duration of next year's Fair would be for a whole month. This appeared to give the greatest satisfaction to the traders, especially those who came from a distance, and it will undoubtedly tend to secure a good attendance next year.

12. The falling off this year can be accounted for, but, I would remark, the future promises well. The traders are evidently thoroughly pleased with all the arrangements for their security and comfort. They are also from the visit of the Chief Commissioner, and the presence of the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioner during the Fair, fully aware that the wishes of Government are to promote and foster, in every way, Fairs of this nature. I feel convinced, therefore, that in all human probability next year's Fair will be larger than any that has yet taken place at Bermhan, and every effort will be used by me to ensure this satisfactory result.

13. I beg to submit the accompanying Registers shewing the description of property brought for sale, the number of Shops, Stalls, &c., of each kind, and the carriage employed. They have been compiled as carefully as possible after enquiry from the native Merchants and from the statistics collected by the Mohurirs specially appointed for the purpose. I have mainly adopted the former, as the accounts furnished by the latter appeared to me confused and incorrect in a great many points.

Government of India, Public Works Department.

Steam communication between Kooshtee and Serajgunge and through rate for Coal.

From R. Chadwick, Esq., Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company to Officiating Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department,—(No. 1617, dated the 18th November 1862.)

I have the honour to forward, for your information, copies of correspondence noted in margin, which has passed between this Office and the Bengal River Steam Company relative to a proposal for running a Steamer and Flat between Serajgunge and Kooshtee in connection with this Company.

From Captain Williamson, dated 28th October 1862.
To Captain Williamson, No. 1544, dated 31st October.
From Captain Williamson, dated 6th November.

The conditions, subject to certain modifications, and since agreed upon, I have embodied in the accompanying draft form of working arrangements. The principal feature is the guarantee proposed to be given by this Company to the Bengal River Steam Company to cover any loss in the working expenses, which are based on a calculation of the Steamer performing two trips weekly at Rupees 6,890 per mensem.

Upon this important feature in the proposed agreement I have to submit the following remarks:—Prior to the receipt of your letter No. 2047 I had already given my attention to the best means of developing the traffic beyond the Ganges, and after giving the matter full consideration, I arrived at the conclusion that it would be attended with fewer difficulties and less expense to place a Steamer on between Serajgunge and Kooshtee. With this view the several Steam Companies were applied to; soon afterwards an offer was made by Baboo Heraloll Seal, copy of whose letter is herewith attached. Subsequently a similar proposal, but of a more advantageous kind, was handed in by the Bengal Steam Company.

My enquiries into the respective merits of the class of Steamers proposed to be put on led me, under the circumstances, to entertain the offer from the latter Company. Now, assuming that the Steamer performed only one trip from Serajgunge during the week, with the Flat capable of carrying 8,000 maunds=300 tons (even at the minimum rate of two annas nine pie per maund), and one trip back with say 2,700 maunds=100 tons, the yield would be for the down trip to Kooshtee Rupees 1,400, and Rupees 500 for the up trip to Serajgunge. Therefore, looking at the vast amount of imports and exports to and from Serajgunge, the former 2,280 tons per month, the latter 31,000 tons, there can be, in my opinion, little probability of the freight not covering the working expenses. The proposed Goods' Tariff, which also accompanies this Report, is drawn out on the principle of through booking direct from Serajgunge to Calcutta.

The scale shews each Company's proportion of the rate. The slight reduction which was found necessary to be made in our local rate from Kooshtee to meet the competition by the river boats will, I have little doubt, secure at least a very large portion of the traffic.

I have now to ask for the sanction of Government to the proposed working arrangements and Tariff as an experiment, and one which, you will observe, can be cancelled by a three months' notice at any time; you will also please to note that it is proposed to commence operation on the 1st of January next.

From J. E. Cooke, Esq., Assistant Secretary to Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, Railway Branch, to Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company,—(No. 768, dated the 6th December 1862.)

of the 18th ultimo, I am instructed to inform you that, under ordinary circumstances, the Government would not recognize any arrangement by which one Trading Company would be secured advantages in respect of Railway transit over all others. But as in this particular case due notice seems to have been given to all the River Steam Companies, and the offer of the Bengal Steam Company is judged by you to be favorable to the Railway, the Lieutenant-Governor will not interpose to prevent the adoption of a plan which will probably lead to an earlier development of through traffic than could be otherwise expected, and be attended with corresponding benefit to the public.

2. As an experimental arrangement, therefore, for one year, the Lieutenant-Governor permits you to enter on the engagement proposed, but on the distinct conditions that its terms are restricted to one Steamer and two Flats; that no hindrance or obstruction is put in the way of other persons or Companies running Steamers and Flats between Kooshtee and Serajgunge; that the Railway landing conveniences are free to all; and that if the Bengal Steam Company should put on another Steamer or Flat on the Line, it must be without favor and on a footing of strict equality with others.

3. A proper Deed embodying the respective stipulations should be executed so as to place the matter on a safe basis. You will note that the Lieutenant-Governor considers that two Flats should be provided instead of one, only in order that one might be loading or unloading while the other is in transit.

4. The Lieutenant Governor takes the opportunity of urging on your attention the advisability of making a general reduction in the through charge for coal. His Honor believes that if proper facilities were offered by the Railway, Kooshtee might become a large Coal Depôt for the Steamers plying upwards and a remunerative traffic secured to the Line. On the proper adjustment of the Tariff for this article of transport will probably depend whether Canning* or Kooshtee becomes the port of departure to the eastward, and in view to the determination of this result a special rate of two annas per maund for the through charge is suggested. A full report of your conclusions on this head should be submitted at an early date for the information of Government.

* Mutlah.

From R. CHADWICK, ESQ., Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, to the Officiating Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department,—(No. 47, dated the 9th January 1863.)

REFERRING to paragraph 4 of your letter No. 768, I have the honor to state that I have fully considered the question of reduction in the through rate as suggested by the Lieutenant-Governor, and shall be prepared, on receiving official sanction, to cancel the present mileage rate for Coal to Kooshtee, and to carry out His Honor's views by adopting the through rate of two annas per maund, as I have every reason to believe from enquiries which I have had instituted that the several Steam Companies will eventually make Kooshtee a Coaling Depôt provided the Company offer favorable terms.

From the Officiating Joint Secretary to Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Railway Branch, to the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company,—(No.181G., dated the 16th January 1863.)

IN reply to your letter No. 47 of the 9th instant, I am directed to inform you that the Lieutenant-Governor authorizes the adoption of a special charge of two annas per maund for Coal carried through as an experimental and temporary arrangement for one year and subject to revision at the end of that time.

It is desirable that this reduction should at once be notified in the public papers, in order that it may be generally known and availed of.

Government of Bengal.

Road from Govindpore to Ranchee.

From MAJOR E. T. DALTON, Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, to LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. P. BEADLE, B. E., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department,—(No. 163, dated the 2nd February 1863.)

REFERRING to your Office letter No. 3078 of the 8th July 1861, I have the honor to inform you that I have just completed an inspection of the new Govindpore and Ranchee Road, and on the whole am well satisfied with the progress of the work.

2. The earthwork has been completed all but a few miles in the Hazareebaugh District, where it will soon be finished. A considerable number of Drain Bridges of masonry, some arched, some with wooden platforms on masonry abutments, has been constructed; the work is now being well pushed on, and, though there will be much still to complete, I hope to be able to declare the Road open for traffic by the end of the month.

3. I was directed to make this a fair-weather Road with rough timber Bridges; I hope, however, to complete it, as I am now making it with platform Bridges on masonry piers and abutments, without exceeding the Estimate, and there will then remain only the proposed Causeways to the five larger rivers.

4. Of these five Rivers the Damoodah and Khoda alone offer serious obstacles to traffic during the fair-weather months. The Damoodah is quicksandy, and as I would not propose to bridge it, I should be glad if arrangements could be made for carrying out the Causeways.

5. The Khodo should, I think, be crossed by a platform Bridge on piers of masonry. The approaches to this river, difficult as regards the construction of a Causeway, are favorable to the construction of a Bridge precipitous and rocky; and there is a rocky foundation throughout.

6. The Gomothy and the Khonjoe have naturally firm sandy bottoms and very easy approaches and may be left as they are.

7. There remains only the Jumar, which I think should be bridged. Where it is crossed it is not only the Govindpore and Ranchee Road, but also the Ranchee and Hazareebaugh Road, and the river frequently rises in the rains so as to stop all traffic for a day or so.

8. Mr. Macnamara, C. E., now employed on the projected line of Road from Taldanga to Chyebassah, might be directed to estimate for the Bridge over the Khodo and superintend its construction and the construction of the Damoodah Causeway.

9. In regard to the proposed Jumar Bridge I would beg to suggest that it be taken into consideration with all the Bridges on the Road between Dorundah and Ormanjhee, which are now of rough timber, requiring frequent renewal. This portion of Road is under the Department Public Works, and I would recommend the substitution of platform Bridges on masonry piers for those now existing.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. P. BEADLE, R. E, Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, to the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore,—(dated the 16th February 1863.)

I AM directed by the Lieutenant-Governor to acknowledge your letter No. 163 of the 2nd instant, reporting on the fair-weather Road from Govindpore to Ranchee, which is being constructed by the Civil Officers of the District with local funds. His Honor is gratified to learn that the progress on this Road has been so satisfactory as to enable you to hope for its completion and opening for traffic by the end of this month, and that, without exceeding the original Estimate, the Bridges on the Road have been made of a more permanent description than was at first proposed.

2. Referring to the suggestion made in paragraph 8 that Mr. Macnamara should construct the Bridge over the Khodo, and the Causeway across the bed of the Damoodah, I am desired to state that as the Road is entirely in the Behar Circle, and Mr. Macnamara is employed on the Taldanga and Ruggonathpore Road under the Superintending Engineer of the Burdwan Circle, it will be advisable that whatever professional assistance may be required should be afforded by the Executive Engineer of the Ramghur Division; that Officer's Assistant on the lower part of the Grand Trunk Road, near Govindpore, could attend the works at that end of the Road; the Executive Engineer himself, or an Overseer under his orders, could superintend the works at the Ranchee end.

3. The Superintending Engineer of the Behar Circle will be desired to report on the recommendation made in your 9th paragraph for substituting timber platform Bridges with masonry piers for the projected rough timber Bridges over the Jumar on this line of Road, and over the several streams crossing the road between Dorundah and Ormanjhee, which is under the Public Works Department.

Government of the Punjab.

Rural Reformatories.

Memorandum on Sansee and Puckeewarah Reformatories.

THE following account is that most generally current as to the origin of the Sansees and Puckeewarahs.

Sansees.—Thieving Tribe.—In the reign of Sher Shah, i. e., Hijra 800, Togrul Soobah, of Bengal, fond of hunting, finding no other sport, set his dogs after some jungle men, they ran off leaving a new born babe, one of the servants picked it up, saying "Sansh hi" (it breathes), hence he was called Sansee Babe, grew up and married, but preferring the raw flesh of cats, jackalls, and any game to civilized life, ran off to Punjab and put up at Dodowal, in the Sealkote District. Since then his descendants have lived in mat huts, near some village or other, never associating even with each other. They have no religion, and no genealogical tree; in fact, they have always remained jungle men, living by the chase or thieving. They have only lately ceased eating raw flesh. The only distinction among them is, some burn and some bury their dead, according as they have lived near Hindoo or Mahomedan villages. The former call themselves "Kurar;" the latter "Lungah." When they marry they always go to the shrine of Mulung Shah, where their ancestor Sansee used to sit. They have also two well-known men among their ancestors, Sukheena and Sudheena, whom they hold in some reverence. (These Sansees have within three years been collected and located by Government as a Police measure on spots of waste ground, and they are gradually taking to agriculture and getting civilized. A boys' School has been set up, and one for Girls is in contemplation.)

Puckeewars.—Mussulman.—Thieving Tribe, but more civilized than the Sansees. In the reign of Feroz Shah II. a Khidmutgar of the King by name Kavicheya, of the caste of Butteara (who keep cook-shops), having stolen some royal property, fled from Delhie to the Punjab and found no refuge from his pursuers till he came to a Sansee hut, where he was concealed till pursuit was over. He married the daughter of his protector, and having been accustomed to live in gardens supported himself by going about among the gardens when the fruit was ripe, "pukka," and carrying it about for sale, hence he was called the "Pukheewallah," since corrupted into Pukheewarsh. He had twelve Sons, Buleen, Kutpal, Jewara, Mookee, Khoonga, Bibboo, Mookee, Sonekhoja, Tobee, Sumrah, Wurza, and three others, whose descendants have remained in separate tribes though they intermarry. They follow the calling of their ancestors, adding that of thieving inherited from their Sansee mother. (They also have been formed into a thriving colony by Government for Police purposes.)

The Sansees are more troublesome as thieves than the Puckheewarahs on account of their greater boldness. The latter, although very daring in their attempts at burglaries, make off at the slightest noise. The Sansee is always ready to resist with his "lattee;" a very common form of Sansee crime is to creep up to women when sleeping, wrench off their ornaments, and trust to their extraordinary fleetness of foot for escape. This they will do even in enclosed compounds.

The two most serious cases which have occurred this year will serve to shew the sort of men they are. Five men, three of whom were Sansees (as were probably the other two), apparently having news of some Khutrees on their way to Jummoo, came in from the Goordaspore District, some ten miles. They were armed with "lattees," but finding the Khutrees on the alert they went round the town, apparently meditating some other attempt. The Khutrees, however, had told the Police, and three of whom soon came to where they were sitting. The Sansees fled, but three of them finding only one pursuer turned on him and left him senseless on the ground. The other two being overtaken by two Policemen had a fight with them, one got off, but the other was taken after being wounded in several places. A Sowar was sent off and two of the others were seized, all travel, stained with hacked lattees in their houses, next morning.

Again, four Sansees of the Umritsur District came over the border and lay in wait for three Khutrees also on their road to Jummoo with money in their belts to buy goods. They rushed out of some high corn armed with clubs as the Khutrees passed; two of the latter ran off, but the third, after a long struggle, was robbed, his earrings being torn out of his ears and himself severely beaten. Two of these men were convicted, and I have little doubt of the guilt of a third, though the evidence was not sufficient for a conviction.

In the Reformatories the Puckheewarahs are the more troublesome of the two, they have a stronger disposition to wander, but both they and the Sansees have shewn such an evident disposition to take advantage of the opportunities afforded them by the Reformatories, that I have no doubt of their soon taking to settled ways of life.

The whole of the Puckheewarahs have not yet been brought into the Reformatories, but only those who held little or no land. The agricultural portion of the Sansees having only been brought in within the last two months, but notwithstanding this the Police Returns for April, May, and June shew that crimes have decreased to 173 in theft, and burglaries as compared with 307 in the quarter last year.

The country people are delighted with the new arrangements. The Commissioner was told, when lately in the District, that now professional thieving was being put a stop to.

If there was any waste land in the District I would most earnestly urge that arrangements might be made for the remaining Puckeewarahs, also for all Chooras of doubtful character. Both of these might be given waste land in Goojranwalla provided Government was prepared to sink wells for them, but perhaps the Deputy Commissioner of that District thinks he has enough thieves of his own.

When in charge of the Jhelum District in 1858 I was most anxious to have a Reformatory for the Chooras of Kala. I hear the Kala thieves are still in correspondence with the budmashes of Zufferwal.

I now proceed to notice the Reformatories in the order in which they were instituted.

The idea was first entertained by Mr. Prinsep while Settlement Officer, and in 1858 arrangements were made, which were carried out by Captain Urmston at the Jundoo Sahai Rukh, in 1859. All the Sansees in the Duska Tehseel collected there, very great difficulties had to be encountered in getting the people to work at any thing, and to prevent them starving, but by spending 500 Rupees on Oxen, 60 Rupees on Bhoosa, 26 Rupees on Wheat, and allowing them to do a little begging on their own account, and providing respectable Bunyahs to advance them coin and grain, the Reformatory was fairly started by the end of 1860, and the inhabitants are now the envy of their hitherto less fortunate brothers of the remaining Tehseels; they are thoroughly contented; a very good school is connected with the Reformatory.

The Puckheewarah Reformatory at Mokhul was commenced somewhat subsequently to that at Jundoo Sahai. Advantage was taken of a large colony of Puckeewarahs in the village, which had fallen largely into arrears of revenue, to take over half the village lands from the owners and to turn the adjacent Fort into a Reformatory for the most notorious Puckeewarahs in the District. The same difficulties were met and surmounted in the same manner as at Jundoo Sahai, but they are a more troublesome set and are not so contented as the Sansees.

In September last, with the sanction of Government, Mr. Prinsep, the Commissioner, ordered me to collect the Sealkote Sansees at Mundianwalla, those of Zufferwal at Dingranwalla, and those of Pusroor at Goendkee. This was done, with the exception of those who had land under cultivation. These latter were allowed, till the end of the spring harvest, to get in their crop. They are now all in the Reformatories.

At Mundianwalla little advance could be made beyond building the enclosure, the people being in huts till the completion of a large two-wheel well which has just been finished at a cost of Rupees 500, there being no old wells on the ground and the water lying at a great depth below the surface. The land however is good, and there is more of it, as compared with the population, than at the other Reformatories. There can be no doubt as to this prospering though the men are a very wild set.

At Dingranwalla the people are more inclined to reason, and also better off, but the land is very poor; and although the Tehseeldar arranged for fifty more acres from an adjacent village, yet I had no peace till, with the Commissioner's sanction, I allowed half of them to go to Mungul near Zufferwal. By the end of the cold weather the wall was built and a house for the Policeman at the gate; also, with assistance in the matter of timber from the trimming of Government trees, almost all the houses were complete, when the rains came and the whole thing has been most seriously damaged. The soil is very sandy.

The Reformatory at Nungal, only recently started, is occupied by the most wealthy of the Sansees, who bought twenty-five acres of land and have taken leases for Rupees 125 more. As there was no Government authority for this Reformatory I did not feel justified in spending money on it, and consequently surrounded it with a fence of thorns collected by the Sansees themselves. It will, when complete, be six feet wide and seven high, and will be more difficult to pass than a mud wall, but I should not like to try this with the Sealkote or Goendkee Sansees, for they would burn it down for the fun of the thing. The Nungal men are very content, and all that is wanted is a well at 150 Rupees and 50 Rupees for a Chowkee.

The Tehseeldar of Duska made great exertions to get the Goendkee Reformatory into order, and in a few months the walls, Chowkee, and houses were all built, and three wells in working order, but the late rains have washed every wall down, the people have been hutted and will re-build their houses, but I fear I must ask for 200 Rupees more for the wall and Chowkee. The Tehseeldar has arranged with the neighbouring villages for making over four wells at half grain rates. With this assistance, I think there will be enough land for some time to come.

The great difficulty I have had with the people is to get them to work, when they were almost starving nothing but force would make them build the walls or work on the roads. This was the result partly of a distaste for real hard labor, and partly a determination to force us into giving up the attempt to reform them. This was the spirit which animated them when Captain Miller visited the Goendkeekote and wrote such a touching account of their sufferings. I had got Rupees 200 from the Famine Fund, with which all those unable to work were fed, and I took care that work was available for those who were fit for it. If they chose to starve they were welcome to do so. But they have now made up their minds to accept their fate, and it is only laziness we have to contend against. The past year was a peculiarly unfavorable one on account of the high price of food; in future, I hope that direct aid may not be necessary. At the suggestion of the Commissioner all the villages in the District from which the Sansees come were called upon to subscribe grain for their use at the time of the Rubbee harvest; this has been done most willingly by them, as they must have lost considerably more by the pilfering of the Sansees in previous years. The store collected will probably be sufficient to carry them through the winter till their crops get ready. I should be unwilling to call upon the villagers a second time. The land is now being divided amongst the people, so much per head, this is not exactly fair, but it is the best plan I could hit upon. Consequent on this division and creation of right the Shahs are coming forward with advances, though I would rather Government was their creditor. The proprietory right is for the present retained by Government. They may therefore be considered as hereditary cultivators, whether Government will take revenue from them is a question which might be considered seven years hence; but the extent of land is so small, that with its probable population I doubt its paying revenue unless we can get them to take up trades, which in due time should be attempted.

As regards the description of the kotes it is simply this. The gates are locked at sunset and the roll is called three times during the night, any one that chooses to abscond gets punished when he is caught, and when he comes back, as he generally does, after a time. The number of absconders at present will verify the statements I have made with regard to the condition of the Reformatories and temper of the people :—

Jundoo Sahai	13	Goendkee	30
Puckheewarahs	54	Dingranwalla	6
Mundianwalla	64	Nungal	0

The number of absentees go on decreasing steadily.

There are schools at Jundoo Sahai and Mokhul at which the girls attend as well the boys up to a certain age. School-houses will be built at Mundianwalla and Goendkee and Dingranwallah immediately after the rains: teachers have been arranged for; the Nungal boys go to the Zufferwal Tehseel School, as I find the villagers round Jundoo Sahai do not hesitate to send their boys to the school there.

I do hope that Government may feel justified in spending the money asked for the advancement of this scheme; the charge will be a final, not a yearly one, and will amount in the whole to less than Rupees 5,000, about one-fourth of which I hope to recover. When it is considered that each prisoner cost Government Rupees 35 a year, and that crimes have decreased in the last quarter alone by 134, I don't think this can be called an expensive arrangement.

In conclusion, I beg to state that sanction is required for an expenditure of Rupees 1,683-8, concerning which see correspondence marginally noted; Rupees 200 will also be required to repair the damages done by the rains; also Rupees 200 for Nungal Reformatory, and some Rupees 40 is required as an advance for the present crops, which will easily be recovered at the end of this harvest.

I beg to point out that the amount requiring sanction has been reduced to Rupees 595-8 by advancing Rupees 1,088, from Tuccavee,* but if Government would consent to pay this off it would much further the success of the scheme; also Rupees 1,355 is available from savings in construction of Tehseel Pusroor budgetted and disbursed in 1861, and is now lying in deposit, which might be paid towards the adjustment of the above amount.

Deputy Commissioner's Office;
Sealkote,
The 15th August 1862.

J. W. Macnabb,

Officiating Deputy Commissioner.

MEMORANDUM.

In forwarding the Report on Rural Reformatories submitted by Mr. MacNabb, Deputy Commissioner of Sealkote, at request of Government, I wish to add some remarks, as the subject is one in which I have taken a deep interest from the commencement.

The plan of locating criminal races in waste lands is nothing new. It has been attempted in other parts of India. When District Officer of Sealkote I discovered nearly half the crime was committed by certain classes of society Sansees, Puckeewarahs, Chooras, and Selareeas.

The first two were vagabond people, living in thatched huts, and constantly moving from place to place. The Choorus were chiefly village servants, but of the lowest order. The Selareeas were an agricultural race, who owned some one hundred and twenty estates, were addicted to lawless habits, and sheltered the vagrants.

On enquiring into the causes of crime I was struck with the complaint meeting me everywhere, that so long as thieving tribes were allowed to roam about there could be no peace in the land. On the pretence of hunting and begging they passed through villages, inspected premises, marking the ground by day. They came in gangs at night, very often armed with sticks, their rule was never to leave empty-handed. If it was hot weather, they would creep up to the roofs of houses and snatch away earrings from women when asleep. If it was harvest time, they stole the corn, and if alms were refused, they punished the owners by plundering their granaries at night.

Their boldness became a bye-word, till at last both the ordinary course of Law and the inventions of the Police failed to check their depredations. There were four brothers, who styled themselves as Rajaoree, Peshaoree, Kulanoree, and Lahoree, from four cities, over which they pretended to hold sway, or what is not improbable from their being the centres of the Districts in which each was the King-thief. Two of these have died, Lahoree has been in Jail at least four times, and was one of the ringleaders; but such has been the influence of the new life, I hear he has taken to agriculture and confesses himself a changed man.

The three chief causes which led to so much open crime of this land were—

1*st*.—The want of fixed abodes.
2*nd*.—The want of means of livelihood.
3*rd*.—The predatory habits of the people.

The Police usually had recourse to watching and hunting down these tribes. Finding this unavailing, they were known to summon and keep them locked up during the dark nights within the Police Stations, liberating them in the morning.

One effect of this was to drive them to break up their encampments. For sake of respectability they lived in detached groups, but within easy reach one of another. Headmen harboured them. Village watchmen shared their illegal spoil. When pursued by the Police they were passed on from village to village, till it was discovered that this system of detached residence only led the more to the concealment of thieves, the Police were defeated, and the people harassed on every side.

As for punishment no good resulted from it, no sooner out of Jail than they were again arrested, convicted, and incarcerated. Their ways were evil. They knew no better. Theft was a sport, experience taught in it was impossible to trust them abroad, and it was hopeless to restrain them merely by punishments.

The idea was then thought of collecting them in brotherhoods in fixed locations and of encouraging habits of industry by holding out prospects of greater comfort and more profitable means of livelihood. Some "Rukhs" or plots of culturable waste belonging to Government offered good places for the experiment, and it was resolved to try and prevent crime by an earnest effort to reclaim them.

The sanction of Government being obtained, the first start was made in 1858. All the Sansees of Duska Tuhseel were collected at Jundo Sahai; all the Puckeewarahs of Pusroor were made to reside at Mokul. Captain Urmston, then succeeding me as Deputy Commissioner, took up the measure with energy, and in the first year houses were built for some five hundred souls. In the two Reformatories enclosures were formed, some sixty acres were brought under cultivation, two wells opened, and Schools established, which attracted some forty boys. It was in 1859 Captain Urmston's Report to Government shewed he had made very successful progress, and the measure was hailed as one of full of hope.

Mr. MacNabb has now furnished the second complete Report shewing results during 1861-62. It is full of interest and is accompanied by statement, which enables us to see the exact progress made, the real value of the scheme, and what it has cost Government.

In August 1861 I received sanction to extend the Reformatory principle, but to confine it to Sealkote. Some doubts were entertained as to its desirability. Mr. Roberts, Judicial Commissioner, did not believe in its advantages. The Supreme Government and Secretary of State for India were reluctant to acknowledge it until further experiment had been made.

The present Report will, I trust, do much to remove erroneous impressions that may exist. Here we have six Rural Reformatories established in one District, all going on famously. The two first, formed at Jundo Sahai and Mokul, which, in 1859, had some sixty acres under cultivation and two wells, have now a population of 1,100 souls, who have brought three hundred acres under the plough, repaired seven old, built two new wells, and have some seventy-four bullocks. And all this has been achieved at a cost of one thousand five hundred and forty-four Rupees.

But the further progress made by Mr. Macnabb during the last year reflects the greatest credit on his arrangements. He has collected these "Bedouins" in four new Reformatories, viz., at Mundianwalla, Dingranwalla, Nungal, and Goendkee, so that in the six villages he has housed and brought under proper surveillance some 2,400 Sansees and Puckeewarahs (including women and children), 1,500 acres have been cultivated, and fifteen wells are now in use.

The accompanying Map, which I have had prepared, will shew how the emigration was effected, from what localities, and the distance each institution stands from the Police Station. Only such spots have been selected as are within easy reach of Police inspection.

The extent of surveillance kept up consists of the following:—A walled enclosure has been built in each plot of waste ground; the houses are inside; there is only one gateway; a Guard of two Constables reside at the gateway; the inmates are allowed full liberty by day. They may do what they like, go where they will, but they must be back for the night, when a muster is taken by the Constables three times. They are not considered fit to be trusted with their liberty at night. In this respect they are not worse off than before, when they were hunted about and detained at Thannahs. Absentees are reported, and the penalty for absence without leave is an immediate, though slight, flogging.

It would be too much to say that these institutions have served to prevent the discontented from deserting during the day. Many do escape, but experience shews us that as their women and families remain they return. It is admitted that as they improve in circumstances and begin really to enjoy the full produce of their labors, self-interest will draw the wanderer back, and by degrees he will give up the habit of absconding and take to more settled ways. This objection then scarcely deserves notice. Nor can it be denied that at present the people are without grounds for complaint. I look upon this as a good sign. It shews they feel the restraint which we wish to impose. Of course, they dislike the changed life at first. Idle men are brought together to work. They will not work. They are employed on District Roads, making their own enclosures, houses, digging out wells. Though they have their liberty they cannot go far: roaming about is put a stop to. All this imposes a wholesome check and teaches them to submit to discipline.

The Jundo Sahai people complained loudly in the same way. They ran away, they protested, once they brought a man on a bed covered over with a sheet, declaring he had been beaten to death by the Police, but when we lifted off the sheet the man was found to be alive and the whole story concocted. They have been flogged over and over again for contumacy, repeated escapes, and breach of discipline, but they gave in at last. Now the tables are turned, and they are happy, prospering every day. It is one song of gratitude that hails the visitors in this new thriving village. Kindly treatment has succeeded to stern discipline, and the success is admitted by everybody, as well as by themselves.

What has been achieved here can and will be done in the remaining Reformatories. Every day will no doubt shew some new phase of discontent and querulous conduct, but Mr. Macnabb will live it all down. We must wait for the full development of his efforts to provide shelter and improvement, and the end will be submission, peace, and comfort.

It is worthy of notice that even in the later Reformatories there is a demand for land. Choice spots are run after. Lumberdarships are contested. There seems to be a general wish for the land to be divided, but it has been deemed advisable to put this off for one year more, so as to enable the whole area to be cultivated by joint effort, and give time for absconders to return. A rule might be enforced that when division does take place those who have absented themselves will receive only half share of land, the effect would, it is believed, tend to deter men from escaping. For my own part I believe many of the escapes are simply attributable to the parties seeing no certain provision, but as soon as bullocks are purchased and wells constructed, we shall hear of a different result, as Deputy Commissioner very justly remarks.

Of the six Reformatories, those at Jundo Sahai, Mokul, and Nungal may be said to be doing well. Goendkee promises to succeed, but it has been put back by houses falling in and the area being insufficient. Still sixty-four acres being cultivated and three wells in use shew the effort to reclaim land has been attended with some good. In Dingranwalla the land is insufficient and of poor quality; but since some of the Sansees have been removed to Nungal, and the Tehseeldar has arranged to secure land at half rates in surrounding villages, the remainder bid fair to improve.

Mundianwalla I visited yesterday. The Sansees here though querulous are improving; a large well has been completed; since my last visit the supply of water is abundant; the soil excellent. They need at least two new wells immediately. They were all housed, and the enclosure finished; a School-house has been built; I counted thirty boys, most of whom could read the Alphabet fluently; the Lumberdars admitted to me they saw a good day coming. I recognized several men who had been in Jail before, and they confessed they were prepared to take to the new life, only "we have no bullocks" was the cry.

Altogether, I am satisfied a very great result has been achieved. The District has been cleared of the old plague spots. Instead of trampers living in suspicious looking huts outside villages hunted by the Police, hated by owners of property, idle, dirty, and despised, we have the germs of six new villages with their inmates learning to be industrious, and kept under a wholesome dread of the Law. Crime has certainly decreased one-half. The Police and people tell me the measure has been one of positive relief. In five years more less unruly spirits will settle down to peaceable habits, with the appetite for plunder diminished, and the opportunity for offending removed.

There is now a School in every Reformatory, and in course of time the rising generation will receive a fair instruction. At any rate we have guarantees that they are not brought up to a life of professional thieving. Attendance is compulsory. Teachers have been appointed, and in Jundo Sahai some of the girls even are being taught to read and write.

On every side I receive proofs of public approval of this movement. I may mention some striking facts which have lately come before me.

When in the early part of this year it was feared there would be no provision, as the land in the new Reformatories had not been sown, and it was made known that a deputation of Sansees would be allowed to collect alms, the villagers, appreciating the efforts of Government, at once came forward and gave a contribution of grain

When it was reported that there was not land sufficient for the demand within the area of the Reformatory Estates, and Tehseeldars were directed to arrange for leases to be given of neighbouring land, the villagers at once agreed to let them have land at half grain rates on fixed leases.

When I spoke to some Sansees yesterday as to the probability of their keeping to agriculture, they replied, "yes, if we are only supplied with "bullocks, we will be as good as our jat neigh-"bour, and, in proof of our sincerity, we propose "to go and bring some earth from the tomb of "our ancestors, for once we have our cairns in the "village we shall strike roots in the soil, and "our neighbours will receive us."

When I exhorted them to give up the horrid practice of eating course food, such as wild cats, lizards, foxes, their Lumberdars came forward and said,—"we shall drop all this when we have "better food to eat, we will consult Mullungshah "(their protecting Saint) and talk it all over, "for if we do not take better ways the jats will "not receive us."

Apart from this testimony the experiment has now been tried under three District Officers, all of whom are favorable to its general introduction. Captain Legallais and Millet, the second District Superintendent, both declare they consider the measure as a preventive one, quite successful, while the leading agriculturists have frequently assured me they have been relieved of a great nuisance.

As to the cost, the Statement forwarded by Mr. Macnabb shews that all this has been done for Rupees 3,227-8. Of this sum Rupees 1,544 were spent in preceding years in forming the two Reformatories first started. This year Rupees 1,683-8 have been expended, viz., Rupees 1,088 in repairing four old, and constructing two new wells, which has been defrayed as Tuccavee advances according to permission given in Secretary to Punjab Government No. 103, dated 5th February 1862, to Judicial Commissioner; the remaining Rupees 595-8, spent in building enclosures, purchasing seed, &c., have now to be adjusted. In addition to this, Deputy Commissioner reports Rupees 2,300 are required to enable him to provide stock, and Rupees 2,360 must be given by degrees as advances to make more wells.

The way this can be provided is as follows:—

There are Rupees 3,200 sanctioned in Imperial Budget for Reformatories in all three Districts, Rupees 1,200 granted to Sealkote will go to clear the Rupees 595-8, and will still leave Rupees 600 over, which can be utilized in opening two new wells in Jundo Sahai and Mokul.

	Rupees.
Item No. 87 in Umritsur	1,000.
„ No. 88 in Goordaspore	1,200.
„ No. 89 in Sealkote	1,000.

In Goordaspore there is no land available for Reformatory purposes, so I propose to transfer the sanction of Rupees 1,000 in Budg[illegible] trict to Sealkote. This will go [illegible] wants of the four new Reformat[illegible] cattle, seed, and buildings. Thus [illegible] Rupees 1,600 towards the outlay [illegible] sentered in Deputy Commissione[illegible] "further expenditure required." [illegible] the remainder in a different way.

There can be no doubt the [illegible] wells and bullocks—the last a[illegible] I suggest that Deputy Comm[illegible] powered to appropriate the u[illegible] brought to the several Pounds of [illegible] sending them, after the usual peri[illegible] branding the animals, to the I[illegible] am informed that some twenty [illegible] will thus be supplied. Another [illegible] divert proceeds of a new fund for[illegible] from leasing out the income [illegible] Bysakee Cattle Fairs. The amo[illegible] upwards of Rupees 1,000 after mee[illegible] why could not this be used for su[illegible] buy cattle for Reformatory purpo[illegible] not be approved of, the Lawaris p[illegible] Division might be devoted to s[illegible] Institutions.

As regards the sum Rupees [illegible] Statement as required for advanc[illegible] outlay is to be spent on wells. I really can see no objection to Tuccavee being used in this way, already His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has approved of Rupees 1,200 being granted for six wells. This grant having been exhausted, and the wells made, it will be seen thirteen more wells must be repaired or constructed before these villages will come up to their full status. I suggest that sanction be given for another Rupees 1,200 on the principle that the land and proceeds are to be considered hypothecated till the amounts are recovered, which they can be when the people shall arrive at a more prosperous condition.

I request the sanction of Government to the above proposals.

It may be urged that the outlay here explained is very large, the scheme too expensive; but it is not difficult to see that this is not the case, when it is remembered that at least 100 of the inmates of these Institutions are generally in our Jails during the year, and as each prisoner costs Government Rupees 35 per head, we have at least effected a saving of Rupees 3,500 per annum by keeping these men out of our Jails, apart from the gain of reclaiming wild people and making them orderly, contented subjects; while there is a further benefit to the country that they are not at large to cause loss of property. If, on the other hand, we take into consideration the fiscal advantage capable of being realized to the State by 1,500 acres being cultivated, it may be represented that a sum not less than Rupees 1,000 per annum at least could any day be added to the revenues, so that, in a financial aspect, there will ultimately be ample return for the present outlay applied for.

I quite agree with Deputy Commissioner that it is too early at present to think of demanding any land revenue, it will be time five years hence to consider this. For the present our aim should be to encourage criminal races to settle down to industrious habits by the prospect of full profits as the return for labor, which they have never yet known how to appreciate.

In this Division I have confined the experiment to Sealkote. In Goordaspore there is no land, but there are some Rukhs in Umritsur which would do well for this scheme of compulsory colonization. There are two large Rukhs at Adeean and Serai Amannut Khan; the former, situated at the extreme south of Pergunnah Reya, is admirably adapted for the purpose. In Shukurgurh and Reya Tehseels there are at least 300 Sansees, and some off these, who live on the confines of the two Pergunnahs, and others, who are domiciled by [illegible] Katul Rajpoots near Jummoo Frontier, are ver[illegible] bad characters. One of them I was compelled to sentence to transportation for life, having been convicted of eight offences, committed to the Sessions, one of which was a dacoity. It was an instance of open brigandage, and he was certainly supported by a body of Sansees, some of whom are still at large. Their practice is to live on the borders of three Districts and Jummoo Territory, so that, if pursued by Police, escape is all the more easy.

In conclusion, I beg to commend, Mr. Macnabb's energetic arrangements to the special notice of Government. The whole praise is due to him and his Tehseeldars, Luchmundoss of Duska, and Nisar Allee of Pusroor, both of whom have shewn tact and good management in bringing these lawless people together without disturbance. Lieutenant Millet, Superintendent of Police, and his Subordinates, have also rendered hearty assistance, while the services of Momtaz Hossein, Deputy Inspector of Duska, have been invaluable.

I shall be glad to learn that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor agrees to reward being given of Rupees 100 to each Tehseeldar, and Rupees 50 to Momtaz Hossein, for their co-operation has enabled Government to carry out this experiment with success. They have watched over these Institutions from their first start, and it is chiefly owing to their arrangement and vigilance that criminal races have been so quietly encouraged to settle down to agricultural pursuits. The success is one of that stamp that confers a great boon on society in general; and when crime has been largely reduced by such exertions, I have the less hesitation in asking that they be made the recipients of some substantial acknowledgments in order that others may be encouraged to take notice and do the same.

(Sd.) E. A. PRINSEP,
Offg. Commissioner.

Copy of a letter from the Secretary to Government, Punjab, and its Dependencies, to the Judicial Commissioner, Punjab,—(No. 54, dated the 23rd January 1863.)

THE Lieutenant-Governor has perused with very great pleasure the Reports of Mr. Macnabb, Deputy Commissioner of Sealkote, and of Mr. E. Prinsep, late Officiating Commissioner of Umritsur, on the subject of the Penal Reformatories established for the settlement and reclamation of thieving tribes.

2. These tribes have frequently been described, and it is sufficient to mention here that a large proportion of the burglaries and thefts committed annually were traceable to them, and that comparatively few were detected or punished.

3. It is probable that there is no member of these notorious tribes who could not be legally placed in Jail in default of furnishing security, but a different plan has been followed.

4. In 1858, Mr. E. Prinsep being then Deputy Commissioner of Sealkote recommended that they should be forced to reside on lands belonging to Government and to bring them under cultivation. They were allowed, temporarily, to reap the entire fruits of their labors. During the day time they were under no restraint, but if they absconded, as several did, they were subjected to corporal punishment when they were re-taken, or when they returned to their families. At night they lived in houses within an enclosure guarded by sentries, and were thrice mustered and counted.

5. The extent of the settlements, of which there are six, varies from 412 acres the largest to 150 acres the smallest. The number of men, women, and children is altogether no less than 2,454.

6. There is satisfactory evidence that since these settlements were established there has been a sensible diminution of crime; the neighbouring population have given proof of their appreciation of the Reformatories; and the effects on the settlers themselves, notwithstanding their habitual aversion to hard labor, is represented as beneficial.

7. The peculiar criminal element of hereditary houseless wandering thieves, banded in families and tribes, but dispersed throughout an extensive rural District, preying on the poorer portion of the respectable community, and a particular object of alarm to women, has, by these measures, been laid bare and specially dealt with.

8. It is justly stated that the ordinary penal procedure had totally failed in repressing this element. Individuals were no doubt occasionally arrested and imprisoned, but their families were maintained by their associates, and the confederacy strongly bound together by ties of blood, habits, and traditions, continued to ply their hereditary trade of theft without serious interruption, so that, although it was universally known that they subsisted by robbery and were execrated as a public nuisance, their immunity from legal conviction left them as a body permanently efficient for crime.

9. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the measures which have been taken by the Local Authorities, namely, of dealing with these hereditary criminals as tribes and families and not as individuals, is judicious and warranted by the circumstances. There are probably many points in which experience will show that the system is capable of improvement; but His Honor has no hesitation in giving his approval to the main principles.

10. In some particulars these principles are identical with those regulating the third or intermediate stage of imprisonment of habitual criminals in Ireland, as will be seen from the following extract from the remarks of Captain Walter Crofton, C. B., Chairman of the Directors of Irish Government Prisons.—"The training is special "and the position of the convict made as "natural as possible, no more restraint being "exercised over him than would be necessary "to maintain order in any well regulated Estab- "lishment. At 'Lusk Common,' within fifteen "miles of Dublin, there has been for the "last five years and a half an intermediate "Establishment for employing convicts in the "reclamation of the land, and for carrying out "principles which have proved so beneficial to "themselves and the public."

11. The Lieutenant-Governor is himself disposed, even in the case of ordinary habitual criminals, to recognize the necessity of affording incentives to reform simultaneously with the continuance of punishment. But in the case of these unfortunate tribes this necessity is still more evident.

"Irish Convict System," page 11.

12. It is shewn that such incentives have not been held out in vain, and that whilst Government have granted a lease of land, and supplied agricultural stock and means of irrigation, the criminals have in some degree thrown off their natural habits of idleness and betaken themselves to the plough.

13. For the above reasons, His Honor willingly accords his sanction to the propositions made by the Commissioner as below:—

1*st*.—That the sum of Rupees 1,200, provided for Reformatories in the Goordaspore District in the Imperial Budget for 1862-63, be transferred to the Sealkote District, there being no land available in the Goordaspore District for Reformatory purposes.

2*nd*.—That a Tuccavee advance of Rupees 1,200 be authorized, in addition to what has been already sanctioned, for the purpose of constructing more wells on the principle that the land and proceeds are to be considered hypothecated till the amounts are recovered.

14. In conclusion, I am directed to request that you will convey to Mr. E. A. Prinsep and to Mr. Macnabb the hearty thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for the manner in which they have introduced the measures under notice.

As Mr. Prinsep still remains in the Division as Settlement Officer he will be able to assist the Commissioner with his advice in furtherance of the project.

15. The exertions of Lieutenant Millett, District Superintendent of Police, are also recognized.

16. His Honor sanctions the reward of Rupees 100 each, proposed by Mr. Prinsep, for Luchmun Dass, Tehseeldar of Duska, and Nissar Alee, Tehseeldar of Pusroor; also of Rupees 50 to Momtaz Hossein, Deputy Inspector of Duska.

17. Copies of this correspondence will be transmitted for the information of the Supreme Government.

Act No. IX of 1863.

An Act to amend the Code of Civil Procedure.

Preamble.

Whereas the Code of Civil Procedure requires that appeals from decisions or orders to the Sudder Court shall ordinarily be heard and determined by two or more Judges of the said Court; and whereas in the Territories, not subject to the General Regulations, the highest Civil Courts of appeal, which are declared by Section 386 of Act VIII of 1859, to be included in the expression "Sudder Court" in any part of the said Territories to which the said Code may be extended, generally consist of only a single Judge, and it is expedient to make provision for the powers to be exercised by such single Judge in hearing appeals from decisions and orders, or in proceedings relating to any other matter which may be brought before him; It is enacted as follows:—

In certain places the Highest Civil Court of Appeal to have powers of Sudder Court.

I. When in any part of the British Territories in India to which the Code of Civil Procedure has been or shall be extended under the provisions of Section 385 of the said Code, the highest Civil Court of appeal consists of a single Judge, such Judge shall have all the powers vested by such Code in two or more Judges of the Sudder Court.

No order or proceeding of such Court to be void because passed or held by a single judge.

II. No order passed by or proceeding held before the single Judge of any such highest Civil Court of appeal, subsequent to the extension of the Code of Civil Procedure to such part of the British Territories in India, shall be deemed invalid or be liable to be questioned on the ground that such order or proceeding was passed by or held before a single Judge.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 25th February 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XI OF 1863.

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the employment and remuneration of Peons for the service and execution of Civil process.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the employment and remuneration of Peons for the service and execution of Civil process in the Courts of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal and in other parts of the British Territories in India, to which this Act shall be extended as hereinafter provided; It is enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

I. From and after the passing of this Act, Section XIV of Regulation XXVI. 1814 of the Bengal Code (for modifying some of the Rules at present in force regarding the admission and trial of special and summary appeals from decisions passed in regular suits; for limiting and altering some of the existing provisions respecting the pleadings and processes, and the mode of executing decrees and regular suits and appeals; and for explaining and making certain additions to the provisions of Regulation I. 1811), Section V of Regulation VII. 1832 of the said Code (for modifying certain of the provisions of Regulation V. 1831, and for providing supplementary Rules to that enactment), and Act XIV of 1815 (to provide for the appointment of Nazirs in the Moonsiff's Courts, shall cease to have effect in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

Laws repealed.

II. Subject to the approval of the Sudder Court the Judges of the several Zillah Courts in the said North-Western Provinces shall fix the number of Peons necessary to be employed in the said Zillah Courts and in the several Courts subordinate to them for the service and execution of processes issued out of such Courts, respectively, and the Judges of the Courts of Small Causes in the said Provinces shall in like manner fix the number of Peons necessary to be employed in the said Small Cause Courts for the service and execution of processes issued out of such Courts. Subject to the like approval the said Judges may from time to time alter the number of Peons to be so employed.

Number of Peons for each Court by whom to be fixed.

Appointment and registration of Peons.

III. The appointment of Peons in the several Courts mentioned in the last preceding Section shall be made, subject to the approval of the Judge of the Court, by the Nazir of the Court in which the Peons are employed, or by the Clerk of the Court where there is such an Officer; and every such appointment shall be registered in the Court with the following particulars: the name of the Peon, his age, his place of abode, his father's name, and date of appointment.

No other persons to be employed as Peons without special leave of Court.

IV. No person who shall not be appointed and registered as a Peon in the manner hereinbefore provided shall be employed in the service or execution of the process of any Court without the special leave of such Court.

Peons to be furnished with belt and plate.

V. The Peons who are appointed and registered in the manner above prescribed, shall be furnished at the expense of the State with a uniform belt and plate, on which shall be inscribed the Court to which the Peon belongs and the number of the Peon in the Register.

Remuneration of Peons.

VI. The Peons appointed and registered under this Act shall either receive fixed salaries, or be remunerated by fees for the service of the processes served or executed by them, as the local Government shall direct. The amount of salary shall be fixed by the local Government.

Disposal of sums paid under Act for execution of process.

VII. When the Peons appointed under this Act are remunerated by a fixed salary, the money paid under this Act for the service or execution of processes shall be carried to the credit of Government, and shall be formed into a fund out of which the salaries of such Peons shall be paid. Any surplus that may accrue from such fund, after paying the salaries of the Peons, shall be at the disposal of the local Government, and may be applied by such Government, subject to the approval of the Governor-General in Council, to the improvement of the administration of Civil Justice in the North-Western Provinces.

Account of Moneys received into and paid out of Court.

VIII. A regular account of all moneys received into and paid out of of Court under this Act shall be kept, and extracts from this account shall be forwarded to the local Government at such times, and in such form as such Government shall direct.

Construction of process.

IX. Every process served or executed under this Act shall be held to be a process within the meaning of Section 188 of the Code of Civil Procedure and Section 11 of Act XXIII of 1861 (to amend Act VIII of 1859 for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter.)

Sudder Court to make rules for fixing cost for serving process, remuneration of peons, &c.

X. The Sudder Court shall make rules prescribing the cost of serving and executing processes issued by the said Court, and by the Courts subordinate to such Court, as well as by the Courts of Small Causes, established within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Sudder Court, and for levying the same, and also rules for the remuneration of the Peons appointed and registered under this Act who are not paid by fixed salaries, and of all other persons who may be employed in the service or execution of processes by leave of a Court under the 4th Section of this Act, and also such other rules as the Sudder Court shall deem necessary, and shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, for carrying out the provisions of this Act. The rules made under this Section, after being confirmed by the local Government, shall have the force of law. Subject to the same confirmation the Sudder Court may from time to time vary the rules made under the authority of this Section. The rules made and confirmed under this Section, and a table of costs for serving and executing processes, shall be exposed to public view in every Court for which Peons are appointed and registered under this Act.

Powers of Governor-General and of Lieutenant-Governor, Punjaub, to extend Act.

XI. The Governor-General of India in Council shall have power by an order to be published in the Calcutta Gazette to extend the provisions of this Act to any part of the Territories under the immediate administration of the Governor-General in Council; and the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab shall have power by an order to be published in the Official Gazette to extend the provisions of this Act to any part of the Territory under his Government.

Interpretation of "Judge."

XII. The term "Judge" in this Act shall denote the Presiding Judicial Officer in every Court of Civil Judicature by whatever title he shall be designated. And in any place not subject to the General Regulations to which the provisions of this Act extend, or shall hereafter be extended as provided in the last preceding Section, the Judges of the Principal Courts of original Civil Jurisdiction in such place shall be the Judges to fix the number of Peons necessary to be employed in such Courts and in any Courts subordinate to such Courts as provided in Section II of this Act, and subject to the approval therein mentioned.

Interpretation of "Sudder Court" in places to which Act shall be extended.

XIII. When this Act shall be extended to any place under Section XI of this Act the term "Sudder Court" as used in this Act shall be taken to mean the Highest Civil Court of Appeal established in the place to which this Act shall be so extended.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 25th February 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XII OF 1863.

An Act to bring the Pergunnahs of Mahoba and Jeitpore, in the District of Humeerpore, under the operation of the General Regulations.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the District of Humeerpore in Bundlekund is, with the exception of the Pergunnahs of Mahoba and Jeitpore, subject to the General Regulations, and whereas it is expedient that the said Pergunnahs should, for the sake of uniformity and public convenience, be administered on the same system as prevails in the rest of the District; It is enacted as follows :—

Laws and Regulations for internal administration of Humeerpore to have full force in Mahoba and Jeitpore &c.

I. The Laws and Regulations established for the internal administration of the District of Humeerpore shall have full force and effect in the Pergunnahs of Mahoba and Jeitpore, and the administration of Civil and Criminal Justice, and the superintendence of the settlement and realization of the public revenue, and of all matters relating to rent in the said Pergunnahs, are hereby vested in the Officers who are, or may hereafter be, appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces for the said District of Humeerpore.

Saving as to suits pending at the time of passing of this Act.

II. All suits and proceedings arising in the said Pergunnahs which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be pending in any Court, or before any Officer, shall be heard and determined in the same manner as if the said Pergunnahs had not been brought under the operation of the General Regulations.

Suits remanded by any Appellate Court.

III. Any suit which, before the passing of this Act, had been determined, and which has been or shall be remanded by any Appellate Court, shall be tried before the Court which, for the time being, would be competent to try such a suit if instituted after the passing of this Act.

Appeals pending in Jhansie Commissioner's Court, and execution of Decrees.

IV. All appeals or proceedings now pending in the Court of the Commissioner of Jhansie shall be determined by such Commissioner in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed; and all applications for execution of decrees or orders which, but for the passing of this Act, would have been made to any Court or Officer existing at the time of the passing of this Act shall be made to the Court or Officer that would have had jurisdiction in respect of the matter in dispute, had the suit or proceeding been instituted after the passing of this Act.

Appeals from Decrees or orders passed before passing of Act.

V. All appeals from decrees or orders passed before the passing of this Act shall be received, heard and determined by the Court or Officer who would have had jurisdiction over such appeals, had the decrees or orders to which they relate been passed after the passing of this Act.

Commencement of Act.

VI. This Act shall take effect from such date as the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces shall fix by an order to be published in the Official Gazette.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 25th February 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XIII OF 1863.

An Act to empower Judges of the High Court and other Authorities at Bombay to direct Convicts to be imprisoned either in the House of Correction or the Common Jail.

Preamble.

WHEREAS great inconvenience is occasioned in the administration of Criminal Justice by reason of the House of Correction in the Town of Bombay not having sufficient accommodation to contain all the prisoners from time to time sentenced to be there confined for divers offences, and it is desirable that the Judges of Her Majesty's High Court at Bombay, and the Justices of the Peace and Magistrates of Police in the Town and Island of Bombay should be empowered to send prisoners to the Common Jail in the Town of Bombay as well as to the House of Correction; It is enacted as follows :—

Persons sentenced by High Court to rigorous imprisonment, &c., may be imprisoned in House of Correction or Common Jail in Bombay.

I. Whenever, from and after the passing of this Act, any person shall be sentenced by Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Bombay to rigorous imprisonment, or to imprisonment with hard labor or solitary confinement, it shall be lawful for the Judges or Judge of the said Court of Judicature to direct such person to be imprisoned either in the House of Correction, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not, or in the Common Jail in Bombay, as to them or him shall seem fit.

Where also persons sentenced by said Court to transportation, &c., may be kept.

II. Whenever, from and after the passing of this Act, any person shall be sentenced by the High Court at Bombay to transportation, or penal servitude, such person may at the discretion of the Judges or Judge of the said Court, be kept in the House of Correction, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not, or in the Common Jail in Bombay, as the place of intermediate custody.

Where also persons sentenced by Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate to rigorous imprisonment, &c., may be committed.

III. Whenever, from and after the passing of this Act, any person shall be sentenced by a Justice of the Peace or Magistrate of Police in the Town and Island of Bombay to rigorous imprisonment, or imprisonment with hard labor, the person so sentenced may be committed by such Justice of the Peace or Police Magistrate either to the House of Correction, whether such House of Correction be under the control of the Sheriff or not, or to the Common Jail in Bombay, as to such Justice of the Peace or Magistrate shall seem fit.

X. It shall be lawful for the local Government, with the sanction of the Governor-General of India in Council, to assign such salaries as from time to time such local Government may deem proper, to the Registrar-General and Deputy Registrars appointed under this Act, or to provide for the remuneration by fees of such Deputy Registrars as shall not be Public Officers. It shall also be lawful for the local Government, with the like sanction, to allow such Establishments for the General Register Office and for the Offices of the several District and Deputy Registrars as may be necessary for the purposes of this Act.

General Rules.

Control of proceedings of Deputy Registrars.

XI. Every Deputy Registrar shall perform the duties of his Office under the superintendence and control of the District Registrar in whose District the Office of such Deputy Registrar shall be situate, and the District Registrars shall have authority to issue (whether on complaint or otherwise) any orders they may consider necessary in respect of any proceeding or omission of any Deputy Registrar subordinate to them. Provided that no order of a Deputy Registrar admitting or refusing to admit to registration any Instrument shall be reversed or altered, except on appeal to be presented within thirty days from the date of such order.

Proviso as to Registration admitted or refused.

Instruments in language not understood by Deputy Registrar.

XII. If any Instrument tendered for registration be in a language which the Deputy Registrar does not understand, such Instrument shall be referred by him to the District Registrar.

General control by Registrar-General.

XIII. The Registrar General shall exercise a general superintendence over all the Register Offices within his jurisdiction, and such Registrar-General shall have the power, for any sufficient reason, on the application of any party to any Instrument the registration of which has been refused by a District Registrar, either originally or on appeal from a Deputy Registrar, to order the same to be registered.

Power of Registrar-General to frame Rules.

XIV. The Registrar-General shall, for the guidance of the District and Deputy Registrars, have power from time to time to frame rules not inconsistent with the terms of this Act. The Rules so framed shall be submitted to the local Government, and after they shall have been approved by the local Government, they shall be published in the Official Gazette, and shall have the same force as if they were inserted in this Act.

Registration to be made at a Public Office.

XV. The registration of all Instruments under this Act shall be made only at the Public Office or Court of the Officer whose duty it shall be to register the same. Provided that any District Registrar or any Deputy Registrar with the sanction of the District Registrar may, on special cause being shown, attend at the place of residence of any party to any Instrument, or of any person desiring to deposit a Will, Codicil, or authority to adopt a son.

Proviso.

Seal of Office.

XVI. The General Registrar and the several District and Deputy Registrars shall use a Seal bearing the following inscription in English, and in such other language as the local Government shall direct: "The Seal of the Registrar-General" (or of the Registrar or Deputy Registrar of).

Registry Books.

XVII. The local Government shall provide for the Office of every District and Deputy Registrar such books as may be necessary for the purposes of this Act. The books so provided shall contain such printed forms as shall from time to time be prescribed by the Registrar-General with the sanction of the local Government for the entries to be made therein, and for the indices to such books, and the pages of such books shall be consecutively numbered in print, and the number of pages in each book shall be certified on the title page by the Officer by whom such books shall be supplied.

Fire-proof boxes.

The local Government shall further supply the Office of every District Registrar with a fire-proof box to be used as hereinafter provided.

INSTRUMENTS TO BE REGISTERED.

Deeds of gift of immoveable property not to be recognized unless registered in proper time.

XVIII. No Instrument being a deed of gift of any immoveable property shall (except as provided in Section LXV of this Act) be received in evidence in any Court of Justice, or shall be acted on by any Public Officer, if such Instrument shall have been executed after the date on which this Act shall come into operation, unless the same be registered within the time prescribed by this Act.

Certain Instruments, if unregistered, not to be received in evidence.

XIX. No Instrument other than a deed of gift as provided in the last preceding Section, which purports or operates to create, declare, transfer, or extinguish any right, title, or interest of the value of one hundred Rupees or upwards in any immoveable property (except as provided in Section LXV of this Act, and not being a lease for a period not exceeding one year), and no Instrument which acknowledges the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, transfer, or extinction of any right, title, or interest of such value as aforesaid in any immoveable property (not being such a lease as aforesaid), shall be received in evidence in any Civil proceeding in any Court of Justice, or shall be acted on by any Public Officer, unless the same be registered within the time prescribed by this Act, if such Instrument shall have been executed after the date on which this Act shall come into operation.

Value of right, title, or interest affected by Instruments required to be registered, to be determined by Stamp affixed thereto.

XX. For the purposes of this Act, the value of the right, title, or interest in any immoveable property created, declared, transferred, or extinguished by any Instrument required to be registered under the last preceding Section, shall be taken to be the value indicated by the stamp affixed thereto or impressed thereon under Act X of 1862, (to consolidate and amend the law relating to Stamp Duties), or under any other Act for the time being in force for regulating the Stamp Duties.

Instruments which may be registered under this Act.

XXI. From and after the date on which this Act shall come into operation, any of the following Instruments executed after the said date may be registered under this Act:—

1. Any Instrument which purports or operates to create, declare, transfer, or extinguish any right, title, or interest of value (indicated as provided in the last preceding Section) less than one hundred Rupees in any immoveable property.

2. Any Instrument which acknowledges the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, transfer, or extinction of any right, title, or interest, of such value as aforesaid, in any such immoveable property.

3. Any lease for a period not exceeding one year.

Further instruments which may be registered.

XXII. After the date on which this Act shall come into operation any of the following Instruments, executed after the said date, may be registered under this Act.

1. Any Instrument which purports or operates to create, declare, transfer, or extinguish any right, title, or interest in any moveable property.

2. Any Will, Codicil, or Authority to adopt a son.

3. Any private award of arbitration.

4. Any Deed, Bond, Contract or other Obligation.

TIME OF REGISTRATION.

When certain Instruments must be presented for registration.

XXIII. No Instrument of the descriptions mentioned in Section XVIII or Section XIX of this Act, which shall have been executed after the date on which this Act shall come into operation, shall be accepted for registration unless presented for that purpose to the proper Officer within three months from the date of the execution thereof.

Provision as to certain other instruments.

XXIV. No Instrument of the descriptions mentioned in Section XXI or Section XXII of this Act, (other than a Will, Codicil to a Will, or Authority to adopt a son) which shall have been executed before the date on which this Act shall come into operation, shall be accepted for registration unless such Instrument be presented for registration within twelve months from such date.

Provision as to certain Instruments executed after the Act comes into operation.

XXV. No Instrument of any of the descriptions mentioned in Section XXI or Section XXII of this Act (other than a Will, Codicil to a Will, or Authority to adopt a son) which shall be executed after the date when this Act shall come into operation, shall be accepted for registration unless presented within six weeks from the date of the execution thereof.

Time for Registration of Wills, &c.

XXVI. Any Will, Codicil to a Will, or Authority to adopt a son may at any time be registered in the manner hereinafter provided, by the person making such Will or Codicil, or giving such authority.

PLACE OF REGISTRATION.

Registration where to be made.

XXVII. Every Instrument which purports or operates to create, declare, transfer, or extinguish any right, title, or interest in any immoveable property, and any Instrument acknowledging the receipt or payment of any consideration on account of the creation, declaration, transfer, or extinction of any right, title, or interest in any immoveable property, or any lease, shall be presented for registration in the Office of the Deputy Registrar within whose Division the property is situate. Every Instrument mentioned in Section XXII of this Act (not being a Will, Codicil to a Will, or Authority to adopt a son) shall be presented for registration in the Office of the Deputy Registrar within whose jurisdiction such Instrument is executed, or at any Registry Office, under the same local Government, at which all the parties to any such Instrument shall desire the same to be registered.

Registration of property situate in more than one Division of a District.

XXVIII. Every Instrument affecting immoveable property, the whole of which is not situate in one Division of a District, may be presented for registration to any Deputy Registrar in such District, within whose Division any part of such property is situate. It shall be the duty of such Deputy Registrar, after registering the Instrument forthwith, to make and forward a copy thereof endorsed in the manner hereinafter provided to the District Registrar, who shall register the same and forward an abstract of such Instrument, shewing the parties thereto and the date and substance thereof, to every Deputy Registrar in his District in whose Division any part of such property is situate, other than the Deputy Registrar in whose Office the same shall have been originally registered, and every Deputy Registrar who shall receive such abstract shall forthwith register the same:

Registration of Instruments affecting property situate in several Districts.

XXIX. Every Instrument affecting immoveable property, situate in more Districts than one, may be presented for registration to the District Registrar of any such District. It shall be the duty of the District Registrar in whose Office such Instrument is originally registered to cause to be made, and to forward to the District Registrar of every other District in which any other part of such property is situate, a copy of such Instrument, endorsed with an attestation, stating the date on which it was registered, and its number in his Register Book; and the District Registrar of any District receiving such copy so forwarded and endorsed, shall register the same as if it had been presented to him in the first instance, and shall forward a copy endorsed with such attestation as aforesaid to the Deputy Registrar of each Division of his District in which any part of such property may be situate, and such Deputy Registrar shall register the same in the manner prescribed for Instuments presented to him in the first instance.

Instruments for registration, by whom to be presented.

XXX. Every Instrument to be registered under this Act, not being a Will, Codicil to a Will, or an Authority to adopt a son, shall be presented at the Office of the Deputy or District Registrar in which such Instrument is to be registered, by all the parties thereto, or by the heirs, representatives, or assigns of such parties, or by the authorized Agents of such parties, or of their heirs, representatives, or assigns under a power of Attorney special or general. But no such power of Attorney shall be recognized for the purposes of this Act unless it shall have been delivered personally by the person executing the same to such Deputy or District Registrar. Provided that, where a person who shall have executed a power of Attorney is unable to attend personally, and such power is tendered to a District Registrar, such Registrar shall determine whether he will receive the same. If such power be tendered to a Deputy Registrar such Deputy Registrar shall only receive the same with the sanction of the District Registrar.

Mode of Registration.

Enquiry concerning identity of parties appearing before the Deputy Registrar who are not personally known to him.

XXXI. On the parties to any Instrument, their heirs, administrators, or assigns, or the authorized Agents of such parties, as provided by the last preceding Section appearing before the Deputy or District Registrar for the purpose of obtaining the registration of such Instrument, he shall proceed to enquire whether such Instrument was executed or not by all the parties thereto. If all the parties to the Instrument appear personally before the Deputy or District Registrar, and are personally known to him, or in case they are not personally known to him, if they satisfy him that they are the parties they represent themselves to be, and if they all admit the execution of the Instrument, or in the case of any party appearing by authorized Agent, if such Agent shall admit the execution of the Instrument, the Deputy or District Registrar shall register the same in the manner hereinafter provided. It shall be the duty of the District or Deputy Registrar to satisfy himself of the right of any person to appear as the heir, administrator, or assign of any party whom he shall claim to represent, or if any party shall appear by Agent, of the authority of such Agent. The Deputy or District Registrar shall enter in the Register Book the names in full of all the persons whose evidence he may take to prove such identity, right, or authority.

Powers of registration Officers to summon parties whose evidence is required.

XXXII. If any party to an Instrument shall require assistance to procure the attendance of any person whose testimony is necessary for the registration of such Instrument by a Deputy Registrar, such Deputy Registrar shall have power, if he be satisfied that such assistance is necessary, and if such person shall be within the Division of such Deputy Registrar, to issue a summons requiring such person to attend at the Office of such Deputy Registrar at a time to be named in such summons. If the person whose attendence is required is not in such Division, the party to the Instrument shall apply to the District Registrar, who, if he be satisfied that his assistance is required, shall issue a like summons for attendance at the Office of such Deputy Registrar. If the Instrument be presented for registration to a District Registrar he shall have the like powers of summoning persons to appear at his own Office, which are herein provided in respect of persons whose attendance is required at the Office of a Deputy Registrar. The provisions of the Regulations and Acts for procuring the attendance of witnesses, for the examination, remuneration, and punishment of witnesses in suits before Civil Courts shall be of equal force and effect in respect of persons summoned to appear by a summons from a Deputy or a District Registrar under this Section.

Erasures or interlineations.

XXXIII. No Instrument shall be accepted for registration, if any interlineation, erasure, or alteration shall appear on such Instrument, unless the parties appearing to register the same shall attest with their signatures such interlineation, erasure, or alteration; and it shall be the duty of the District or Deputy Registrar, at the time of registering such Instrument, to make a note in the Register, of such interlineation, erasure, or alteration.

Date and time of presentation for registration.

XXXIV. The date and time on which every Instrument shall be presented for registration shall be endorsed on such Instrument at the time of presentation, and such endorsement shall be attested by the Deputy or District Registrar in whose Office such Instrument is presented for registration, and if such Instrument shall be admitted to registration, it shall be held to have been registered from the date and time so endorsed.

Entry in Register Book.

XXXV. Every Instrument admitted to registration shall be entered in its appropriate book according to the order of its presentation, and shall be numbered accordingly. The entry made in the Register shall shew the year, month, day, and hour of presentment, the character of the Instrument presented for registration, the names in full of the parties to the Instrument, and when the Instrument shall have been presented by the Agent, or by the heir, representative, or assign of any party, the name of such Agent, heir, representative or assign, and the names in full of every person whose evidence may have been taken under Section XXXII of this Act, after which the Instrument shall be entered in full. The entry made as is above prescribed, shall be signed by every party to the Instrument, or by his Agent, heir, representative, or assign, and by the District or Deputy Registrar.

Procedure after entry in Register.

XXXVI. The Instrument shall then be returned to the party who may have presented the same for registration, with an endorsement inscribed thereon, shewing the date of registration, the number of the book in which such registry shall have been made, and the page of the book on which such entry shall appear; and if the Instrument be a Bond or other written obligation for the payment of money, and the party liable to make such payment shall, in the presence of the District or Deputy Registrar, have declared his assent to the same being enforced without a regular suit, such assent shall in like manner be endorsed on such Instrument. The endorsement on the Instrument shall be certified by the seal and signature of the District or Deputy Registrar, and the Instrument thus endorsed shall be prima facie proof, on the production thereof in any Court of Justice, that such Instrument has been duly registered in the manner provided in this Act. Provided that it shall be competent to the Court to require evidence of such registration, if it shall see sufficient cause for doing so.

Abstract of every Instrument registered in subordinate Office to be sent to General Register Office.

XXXVII. An abstract of every original Instrument affecting immoveable property registered in the Office of any Deputy Registrar shall, within three days, be forwarded, with an endorsement attesting the date on which it was registered and its number on the Register Book of such Registrar, to the District Registrar, and an abstract of every such Instrument registered in the Office of any District Registrar, whether originally or by transmission from the Office of a Deputy Registrar, shall from time to time, not less frequently than weekly, be forwarded, with an endorsement attesting the date on which it was registered and its number in the Register Book of such District Registrar, to the General Register Office.

Payment of fee per abstract.

XXXVIII. For every abstract required to be forwarded under the last preceding Section, and for every abstract or copy required under Sections XXVIII and XXIX of this Act, the same fee shall be paid as for the registration of the original Instrument.

Entry in General Register Office of Abstract of entry made by District Registrar, XXXIX. On the receipt, in the General Register Office, of any abstract of any entry made in any Register by any District Registrar, the same shall be entered in the Book No. 1, 2, 3, or 4, described in Section LVI of this Act, as the case may be.

Decrees affecting registered Instruments.

Procedure in case of registered Instruments being declared to be invalid or forged.

XL. When any Civil Court, in the exercise of its original or appellate jurisdiction shall, by a decree or order, declare any Instrument before it relating to immoveable property, which shall have been registered under this Act, to be invalid or a forgery, or when such Court, in the exercise of such jurisdiction, shall pass any decree or order affecting any Instrument before it relating to immoveable property which shall have been registered under this Act, which decree, or order shall create, declare, transfer, limit, or extinguish any right, title or interest under any such Instrument of any person in such immoveable property, such Court shall cause a memorandum of such decree or order to be sent to the District or Deputy Registrar in whose District or Division such Instrument shall have been originally registered.

How notice or certificate to be dealt with.

XLI. Whenever any memorandum is received under the last preceding Section by any District or Deputy Registrar, a transcript thereof shall immediately be made in the margin of that part of the book in which there is any register of the Instrument relating to the immoveable property affected by such memorandum, and such District or Deputy Registrar shall forthwith transmit a copy of such memorandum to the Registrar General, and to every District and Deputy Registrar in whose Office such Instrument or any abstract of such Instrument is registered

ENFORCEMENT OF REGISTERED BONDS AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS.

Bonds, &c., for sums below one hundred Rupees may be enforced under this Act without regular suit Also for sums above that limit in certain cases.

XLII. A Bond or other written obligation for the payment of money not exceeding the sum of one hundred Rupees, which shall have been registered under the provisions of this Act, may be enforced without a regular suit as hereinafter provided. A Bond or other written obligation for the payment of money exceeding the sum of one hundred Rupees which shall have been registered under the provisions of this Act may in like manner be enforced. Provided the parties to such Bond or other obligation as aforesaid shall, at the time of the registration thereof, have signified their assent to such Bond or other obligation as aforesaid being so enforced, and provided that such assent shall have been recorded at the foot of the memorandum of registration, required by Section XXXVI to be endorsed on Instruments registered under this Act.

Proviso.

But application for enforcement must be made within a period fixed.

XLIII. No Bond or other obligation as aforesaid shall be enforced under the provisions of the last preceding Section unless application for enforcement of the same be made within twelve months from the date on which the whole amount secured thereby became payable, and was not paid.

Court to which application may be made for enforcing claims under last Section.

XLIV. Any person who is desirous of enforcing a claim on a Bond or other obligation as aforesaid under Section XLII of this Act, may apply to any Court which would have had jurisdiction to try a regular suit on such Bond or other obligation as aforesaid, for enforcement of the same. Such application shall be treated as an application for the execution of a decree, and the provisions contained in Chapter IV of the Code of Civil Procedure (except Section 206) relating to execution of decrees shall, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, be considered applicable thereto so far as the same can be applied.

Procedure of Court on receipt of application.

XLV. The Court to which such application is made shall cause a notice to be served on the person against whom the enforcement is claimed, calling on him to shew cause, within a time to be fixed by the Court, why execution for the amount stated in the application should not be issued against him.

Procedure in case of alleged debtor being about to quit jurisdiction, or to move property therefrom.

XLVI. If the person making the application shall satisfy the Court, that the party against whom the claim is made is about to leave the juridiction of the Court, or to dispose of or remove his property from the jurisdiction of the Court, in order to evade payment of the money claimed to be due by him, the Court may issue process of attachment against the person or property of such party. Whenever such attachment shall issue, the provisions contained in the Code of Civil Procedure relating to arrest and attachment before judgment shall be applicable.

And in case of his appearing, and shewing cause against issue of execution.

XLVII. If the person against whom execution is claimed shall attend within the time specified in the notice, and shew cause why execution should not be issued against him, the Court shall enquire into his objections, and shall pass such order as it shall think proper. Provided that no person shall in any such case be allowed to plead in bar of such execution, any plea other than that he was no party to the registration of the Bond or other obligation as aforesaid, or that such Bond or other obligation as aforesaid has been paid and satisfied, or that the amount claimed exceeds that which is remaining due on the Bond or other obligation as aforesaid, whether for principal or interest; or a denial of the representative character in respect of which execution is claimed against him.

Court may at discretion direct institution of suit, instead of enforcing Bond, &c., under this Act.

XLVIII. The Court to which application is made for enforcement of a Bond or other obligation as aforesaid under the foregoing Sections may, for any sufficient reason, instead of granting such application, order that a suit shall be brought on such Bond or other obligation as aforesaid.

Procedure in case of Court refusing to enforce Bond, &c., under Act

XLIX. No suit between the same parties shall be entertained on any Bond or other obligation as aforesaid, the enforcement of which shall have been refused by the Court, on an application for enforcement made under Section XLIV of this Act, otherwise than as barred by lapse of time, unless the Court shall have directed a suit to be brought thereon; but all orders passed by the Court for issuing execution or refusing to issue execution on any Bond or other obligation as aforesaid, shall be open to appeal to the Court competent to hear appeals from decisions passed by the same Court in regular suits. Such appeal shall be subject to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals from orders, and shall be heard and determined under the rules of the said Code relating to such appeals.

Foregoing provisions not to bar institution of suit on Bond, &c., after lapse of period indicated

L. Nothing in the foregoing Sections shall be held to prevent the holder of any Bond or other obligation as aforesaid, for the payment of money, from instituting a regular suit on the same, subject to the Rules of Limitation for the time being in force, instead of applying for enforcement of the same under Section XLIV of this Act.

REGISTRATION OF WILLS, CODICILS, AND AUTHORITIES TO ADOPT.

Wills, &c.

LI. Any person wishing to register his Will, a Codicil to his Will, or any Instrument giving authority to adopt a son after his decease shall, either personally or by a duly authorized Agent, deliver such Will or Codicil, or such Instrument, in a sealed cover superscribed with the name of the depositor, and the nature of the Instrument, to a District Registrar, who shall, if such person be not personally known to him, satisfy himself of the identity of such person, or if such Will, Codicil, or Instrument be presented by an Agent, of the authority of such Agent as provided in Section XXXI of this Act.

LII. On receipt of such sealed cover superscribed as is above provided, and if satisfied as aforesaid, the District Registrar shall enter the same in the Register of Deposits of Wills, Codicils, and Instruments giving authority to adopt, transcribing therein the superscription on such sealed cover, and noting in the Register and on the cover the year, month, day, and hour of such receipt, together with the name of the depositor and the names of each of the persons testifying to the identity of such depositor, and shall then place such sealed cover in a fire-proof box to be supplied by Government for that purpose.

Entry in Register of Wills.

LIII. Whenever, on the death of any depositor of any such sealed packet, application may be made to the District Registar in whose Office such sealed packet was deposited to open such packet, such District Registrar, after satisfying himself that such depositor is dead, shall, in the presence of the person making such application, open such sealed packet, and shall enter a copy thereof, to be made at the expense of the applicant, in a Register of Wills, Codicils, and Instruments giving authority to adopt a son. The District Registrar shall thereupon re-deposit the original Will, Codicil, or Instrument, until required to produce the same in a Court of Justice, any copy made under the provisions of this Section, and certified by the District Registrar to be a true copy, shall be evidence of the contents of the Will, Codicil, or Instrument giving authority to adopt, of which it purports to be such copy.

Procedure on application to open sealed packet, consequent on death of depositor.

Registration Fees.

LIV. Subject to the approval of the Governor-General in Council, the local Government shall prepare a table of fees which shall be payable for the registration of Instruments under this Act, and may from time to time, subject to the like approval, alter such table. A table of fees so payable shall be exposed to public view in every Office established for the registration of Instruments under this Act, and no Instrument shall be accepted for registration until the fee so prescribed for registration of such Instrument shall have been paid.

Local Government to prescribe, subject to approval, the fees to be charged for registration.

LV. All fees received under the provisions of this Act (not being fees payable under Section X of this Act to Officers who are paid by fees) shall be remitted to the Collector's Treasury, or to such other Treasury as the local Government shall direct, under such rules as the local Government shall from time to time issue, and be credited to Government.

Disposal of Fees.

Registers.

LVI. In every General Register Office, and in the Office of every District and Deputy Registrar, four Books shall be kept, which shall be entitled—

Register Books.

1.—Register of absolute transfers of immoveable property.

2.—Register of other transfers of immoveable property.

3.—Register of awards of arbitrations.

4.—General Register of all other Instruments for the registration of which provision is made in this Act, and the entry of which is not required to be made in such other Registers as are hereinafter provided.

LVII. All entries made in such books shall be numbered in a consecutive numerical series, which shall commence and terminate with the year, a fresh series being commenced at the beginning of each year. Whenever any Instrument for the registration of which application may be made, refers to immoveable and also to moveable property, it shall be entered in Book No. 4 and also in Book No. 1, 2, or 3, as the case may be.

Entries in Registers.

LVIII. At the close of each year, two Indices shall be prepared for each Register, one containing the name of every party to every Instrument registered, and the other in the case of immoveable property, containing the name of the village or place where the property is situate, together with a description of the property, and its name, and such other particulars and in such form as the Registrar-General shall from time to time prescribe under Section XIV of this Act.

Indices.

LIX. Every District Registrar shall, in addition to the books prescribed in Section LVI of this Act, keep two books, to be entitled—

Register of deposits of Wills, and Codicils to Wills, and Instruments giving authority to adopt a son as provided in Section LII.

Register of Wills, Codicils, and Instruments giving authority to adopt a son as provided in Section LIII.

Register of Wills.

LX. The Registers in the General Register Offices, and in the Offices of the District and Deputy Registrars, shall be at all times open to inspection by any person applying to inspect the same, and certified copies of any entry in such Registers shall be given to all persons applying for such copies. A fee, to be prescribed in the Table of fees prepared under Section LIV of this Act, shall be paid by any person applying to inspect any Register, before such Register is opened to his inspection, and a fee of one Rupee over and above the charge of making the transcript shall be paid by every person requiring a copy of any entry in any such Register. The charge to be made for making copies of entries in the Register shall be regulated from time to time by the General Register Office. Provided that the Registers to be inspected under this Section shall be only the Registers No. 1, 2, and 3 specified in Section LVI, and the Register specified in Section LIII.

Inspection of Register and fees for inspection and copies of entries.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

LXI. A registered Instrument shall operate from the time from which it would have commenced to operate if no registration had been required or made, and not from the time of its registration.

Time from which Instrument shall operate.

LXII. It shall not be necessary for any Officer of Government to appear in person for the purpose of registering any Instrument, but when any Instrument is executed by or on behalf of Government, or by any Board, Commission, Court, or Public Office on behalf of Government, the Deputy or District Registrar to whom such Instrument is presented for registration may, if he deem it necessary, refer to the Head Officer of the Board, Commission, Court or Office on whose behalf such Instrument was executed, for information respecting the same, and on being satisfied of the execution thereof shall register the same.

Registry of Instruments executed by, or on behalf of, Government.

False statements to be dealt with as the offence of giving false evidence.

LXIII. If any person shall wilfully make any false statement in any deposition or declaration made by him before any Officer acting in execution of this Act, in any proceeding or enquiry under the provisions of this Act, he shall be deemed guilty of the offence of giving false evidence as defined in Section 191 of Act XLV of 1860. (The Indian Penal Code).

Limits of action in certain cases.

LXIV. No action on an Instrument of the nature of the Instruments specified in Sections XXI, and XXII of this Act which shall have been executed after this Act came into operation, and which, though it could have been registered in the manner provided by this Act, shall not have been so registered, shall be entertained, unless such action, if it relate to immoveable property, shall be brought within two years, or, if it relate to moveable property, within six months from the date when the cause of action arose. Provided that nothing in this Section shall authorize any Court to receive any unregistered deed the registration of which, to make it admissible in evidence, is required by this Act. This Section shall not apply to any Will, Codicil, or Instrument giving authority to adopt a son.

Special provision respecting Instruments affecting immoveable property within certain jurisdiction.

LXV. No Instrument which purports or operates to create, declare, transfer, or extinguish any right, title, or interest in any immoveable property situate within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of any Court established by Royal Charter shall be deemed invalid, nor shall any such Court or any other Court of Justice or Public Officer refuse to receive such Instrument in evidence, or to act thereon, by reason of such Instrument not having been registered under this Act, nor shall the provisions of Section XL of this Act apply to any decree or order passed by any Court of Royal Charter in respect of any Instrument relating to any property situated as aforesaid.

Provisions of Section LXIV of this Act not to apply in certain cases.

LXVI. The provisions of Section LXIV of this Act shall not apply to any suit brought in any Court established by Royal Charter in the exercise of its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, or to any appeal from any decision passed in any such suit, nor shall the provisions of the said Section apply to any suit brought in any Court of Small Causes situate within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Juridiction of any Court established by Royal Charter.

Commencement of Act.

LXVII. This Act shall come into operation on the 1st day of May 1864.

M. WYLIE,

Deputy Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 7th March 1863, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 11th April next:—

A Bill to create a Municipal Corporation and to provide for the Conservancy and improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to vest the property and the management of the Municipal affairs of the Town of Calcutta in a Corporation, and to make better provision for the Conservancy and improvement of the Town; It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed.

I. Acts XIV and XXV of 1856, so far as they relate to the Town of Calcutta, and Act XXVIII of 1856, are hereby repealed respectively, except so far as they repeal any other Act, and except as to any assessment which shall have been made, or to any act or offence which shall have been done or committed, or to any fine or penalty which shall have been incurred, or to any money which shall have become due, or to any proceedings which have been commenced before this Act shall come into operation. Any sum of money due, or which may become due under any or either of the said Acts, may be levied and recovered under the provisions of this Act.

Interpretations.

II. The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the meanings hereby assigned to them unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction:—

"Town."

The word "Town" shall include all places within the local limits of the original jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

"The Justices."

The Justices of the Peace in Calcutta to be a Corporation for purposes of this Act.

III. All Justices of the Peace for the time being resident in the Town of Calcutta shall, by the name of "The Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta," be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and by such name shall sue and be sued.

Property now vested in Municipal Commissioners shall vest in the Justices.

IV. All property, moveable and immoveable, acquired, before the passing of this Act, by the Municipal Commissioners for the Town of Calcutta appointed under Act XXVIII of 1856, and now vested in them, or in any person in trust for them, shall, upon the coming of this Act into operation, vest in the Justices as Trustees for the purposes of this Act.

Municipal Fund. All monies received by the Justices by virtue of this Act, or of any other Act, all fines, fees, and penalties paid or levied under this Act, and all monies which may be assigned by Government for purposes of Conservancy and improvement in the said Town, shall constitute a fund, which shall be called the Municipal Fund of Calcutta, and shall, together with all property, of what nature or kind soever, which may become vested in the Justices, be under the direction, management, and control of the Justices in the manner hereinafter provided, and shall be applied to the purposes of this Act and of any other Act which hereafter may be in force for the Conservancy or improvement of the Town of Calcutta.

Appointment and removal of Chairman of Corporation.

V. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall, from time to time, appoint one of the said resident Justices to be Chairman of the Justices. Such Chairman shall be removeable from office by the Lieutenant-Governor if his removal be applied for by not less than two-thirds of the said resident Justices in a requisition addressed to the Lieutenant-Governor and signed by them, but not otherwise.

Nomination and appointment of Vice Chairman.

VI. The Justices at a meeting shall, before the day of next, nominate one of the said resident Justices to be Vice-Chairman of the said Corporation. Such nomination shall be subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; and in the event of any nomination made by the Justices not being approved of by him, or of any vacancy occuring in the office of Vice-Chairman, the Justices shall forthwith proceed to make a fresh nomination, and so on, from time to time.

Appointment of Secretary, Surveyor, Engineer, Health Officer, and Assessor

VII. It shall be lawful for the Justices at a meeting, from time to time, to appoint proper persons to the several Offices of Secretary, of Surveyor, of Engineer, of Health Officer, and of Assessor for the Town of Calcutta. Every person so appointed, and every Vice-Chairman, shall be, in all things, under the immediate orders of the Chairman, and shall perform such duties as shall be assigned by him, and shall be removeable by the Justices by a resolution passed at a special meeting and in favor of which not less than two-thirds of the resident Justices shall have voted.

Chairman and Vice-Chairman to reside in Calcutta and not to engage in any other profession or trade.

VIII. Every Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall reside within the Town of Calcutta, and shall devote his whole time to the duties of his office; and no Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall have or engage in any other profession, trade, or business whatsoever; provided that nothing in this Act shall be deemed to prevent any Civil or Military Officer in the service of Government from holding the office of Chairman or Vice-Chairman so long as such Officer shall fill no other appointment; provided further, that it shall be lawful for any Chairman or Vice-Chairman to hold also the office of Commissioner of Police or Deputy Commissioner of Police for the Town of Calcutta if he shall be appointed to such office by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Proviso.

Allowances of Chairman and Vice-Chairman.

IX. The Chairman and the Vice-Chairman respectively may receive such allowances out of the funds to be raised under this Act as shall be from time to time fixed by the Justices at a meeting. Provided that such allowance for any Chairman shall not exceed the rate of three thousand Rupees a month (exclusive of house rent), and that such allowance for any Vice-Chairman shall not exceed the rate of twelve hundred Rupees a month.

Salaries of Secretary, Surveyor, &c.

X. Every Secretary, Surveyor, Engineer, Health Officer, and Assessor, appointed as hereinbefore provided, may receive such allowance out of the funds to be raised under this Act as shall be from time to time fixed by the Justices at a meeting with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Appointment and remuneration of Overseers, Clerks, and Subordinate Officers.

XI. The Chairman may from time to time appoint all such Overseers, Clerks, and subordinate Officers and servants as he shall think necessary and proper to assist in the execution of this Act, and may from time to time remove any of such persons and appoint others in their place; and out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act he may, with the sanction of the Justices at a meeting, pay such allowances to the said persons respectively as he shall think reasonable. Provided that no person shall be appointed to, or removed from, any office the monthly salary of which exceeds two hundred Rupees, without the sanction of the Justices at a meeting.

Justices to grant leave of absence, &c., with sanction of Government.

XII. It shall be lawful for the Justices, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to grant such leave of absence to any Chairman or any Officer appointed under Sections VI or VII of this Act, and to make such arrangements for the carrying on the duties of his office during his absence on leave as shall to them seem proper; and it shall also be lawful for the Justices, with the like sanction, out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act, to pay to any Chairman or other Officer aforesaid such allowance during absence on leave as shall to them seem proper; provided that no greater expenditure from the funds shall be in any case incurred in the whole, by reason of any allowance paid under this Section, than would have been incurred had no leave been granted; provided also that nothing shall be done or resolved by the Justices under this Section except at a special meeting.

Proviso.

At Meetings of the Justices questions to be decided by majority of votes. Chairman or Vice-Chairman to preside and have casting vote.

XIII. All acts authorized or required to be done by the Justices, and all questions that may come before the Justices for decision, shall, save as is herein otherwise provided, be done and decided by the majority of the resident Justices present at any meeting held in pursuance of this Act, the whole number present at the meeting not being less than five, exclusive of the Chairman and of the Vice-Chairman. It shall be the duty of the Chairman and of the Vice-Chairman to attend all such meetings, unless prevented by sickness or other unavoidable cause; and the Chairman, or in his absence the Vice-Chairman, shall be President, and shall have a second or casting vote in all cases of equality of votes.

No business to be transacted at a Meeting unless Chairman or Vice-Chairman is present.

No business shall be transacted at any meeting at which neither the Chairman nor the Vice-Chairman is present, but the meeting shall be adjourned by the Senior Justice present, to such time as may seem to him fit.

Minutes of Proceedings of Justices to be kept, and to be open to inspection.

XIV. Minutes of the Proceedings of all Meetings of the Justices shall be drawn up, and fairly entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall be signed by the President after each Meeting, and the said Minutes shall, at all reasonable times, be open, at the Office of the Justices, to the inspection of any of the said resident Justices without charge, and of any other person on payment of a fee of one Rupee.

Notice of all Meetings, except those held quarterly, to be given by Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

XV. Previous to any Meeting of the Justices held by virtue of this Act, save the quarterly Meetings hereinafter mentioned, a notice of the time and place of such intended Meeting shall be given seven clear days at least before such Meeting, by advertisement signed by the Chairman, or, in his absence, by the Vice-Chairman, and inserted in the Government Gazette and in at least one of the daily newspapers published in Calcutta.

Chairman or Vice Chairman to cal Meetings as often as he thinks proper; and also at the requisition of ten Justices.

XVI. The Chairman, and, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman, shall have power to call a Meeting of the Justices as often as he shall think proper, and shall be bound to call a Meeting on a requisition signed by ten resident Justices at the least and requiring him to do so. In every case in which a Meeting is called, a summons to attend it, specifying the business proposed to be transacted thereat and signed by the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman, as the case may be, shall be left at the usual place of abode of every Justice resident in the Town seven clear days at least before such Meeting; and no business shall be brought before or transacted at the Meeting other than is specified in the notice.

Quarterly General Meetings to be held in January, April, July, and October.

XVII. There shall be four Quarterly Meettings in every year, at which the Justices shall meet for the transaction of general business. It shall not be necessary to give any notice of the business to be transacted at such Quarterly Meetings, and they shall be holden at noon on the first Monday in the months of January, April, July, and October respectively, or if any such Monday shall happen to be a holiday, then on the next succeeding day which shall not be a holiday.

Chairman or Vice-Chairman to sit daily for transaction of business and to exercise the powers of the Justices.

XVIII. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall, except upon such holidays as shall be allowed by Government, sit daily for the transaction of business connected with or arising under this Act, and, when so sitting, shall have all the powers vested by this Act in the Justices; and they may respectively exercise the like powers at all times in carrying out the orders of the Justices, or in executing any works sanctioned by them, and generally in the management of the business aforesaid. Provided that it shall not be lawful for the Chairman or Vice-Chairman to act in opposition to, or contravention of, any order of the Justices, or to exercise any power which it is by this Act expressly declared shall be exercised only by the Justices at a meeting.

Justices may appoint Committees.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Justices at a meeting, from time to time, to appoint from among the resident Justices such and so many Committees, either of a general or of special nature, and consisting of such number of persons as they may think fit, for the purpose of reporting upon any matter connected with the Conservancy or improvement of the Town, or of advising and aiding the Chairman in the discharge of any portion of his executive duties, which, in the discretion of the Justices, would be better regulated or managed with the advice and aid of any such Committees; provided that the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman shall be a Member of every such Committee, and that the proceedings of every such Committee shall be submitted to the Justices at a meeting for their approval.

Proviso.

Budget Estimates of Income and Expenditure to be submitted annually to the Justices.

XX. At the first quarterly meeting held under this Act the Chairman shall lay before the Justices a Budget or Estimate prepared by him of the expenditure and income of the Municipality from the date on which this Act shall come into operation up to the first subsequent day of May: and at the quarterly meeting to be held in the month of April in each year, the Chairman shall lay before the Justices a Budget or Estimate prepared by him of the expenditure and income of the Municipality for the financial year commencing on the 1st of May then next succeeding, in such detail and form as the Justices shall from time to time by order passed at a quarterly meeting direct. Provided always that such Budget shall be completed and printed, and a copy thereof sent to each of the Justices resident in Calcutta at least fourteen days before the meeting before which the Budget is to be laid.

The Budget of Expenditure to be divided into two parts.

XXI. The Budget shall shew what expenditure it is proposed to incur during the period to which it relates, and the manner in which it is proposed to meet such expenditure. The Budget of expenditure shall be divided into two parts; the first part shall be termed the Budget of Obligatory Expenditure; and the second part shall be termed the Budget of Optional Expenditure.

Budgets of Obligatory and Optional Expenditure what to contain.

XXII. The Budget of Obligatory Expenditure shall contain the estimated charges for the following Municipal services:—

Salaries.
Contingencies.
Maintenance and repair of existing works.
Execution of works already sanctioned at any Special or quarterly meeting.

The Budget of Optional Expenditure shall contain all other estimated charges.

Estimate of Income how to be divided, and what to contain.

XXIII. The Estimate of income shall be divided into two parts; the first part to be termed the Estimate of Ordinary Revenues; the second part to be termed the Estimate of Extraordinary Revenues.

The Estimate of Ordinary Revenues shall contain the estimated income from the following scources:—

Taxes absolutely fixed by Acts of the Legislature.
Taxes levied under authority of the Justices specially appropiated for the general charges or for particular objects.
Miscellaneous sources of Revenue specially appropriated for the general charges.

The Estimate of Extraordinary Revenue shall contain the estimated income from special rates and all other sources.

Revision and passing of Estimates.

XXIV. It shall be in the discretion of the Justices to pass or to reject, or to modify, the Estimates of all sums entered in the Budget: and it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal to reduce the Estimate of Expenditure, whether Obligatory or Optional, if and as he shall think proper; and no work or or series of works, the entire estimated cost of which, as shewn in the Budget, shall exceed fifty thousand Rupees, shall be commenced without the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor having been first obtained.

No work, the estimated cost of which exceeds 50,000 Rs., to be commenced without sanction of Government.

Mode of fixing the rate at which taxes shall be levied under this Act.

XXV. At the first quarterly meeting held under this Act the Justices shall fix the rates at which such taxes as are leviable under this Act shall be levied, from the date on which this Act shall come into operation, till the first day of May next ensuing; and at the quarterly meeting to be held in the month of April in each year the Justices shall fix the rates at which such taxes as are leviable under this Act shall be levied for the year commencing on the first day of May then next ensuing. The rates so fixed shall not be altered before the quarterly meeting held in the next succeeding month of April, except by a resolution passed by the Justices at a special meeting at which not less than two thirds of the resident Justices shall be present and vote.

Such rate not to be altered except at a Special Meeting.

Tax on carriages horses, &c.

XXVI. A tax, at a rate not exceeding the rates specified in the Schedule (A) to this Act annexed, shall be imposed upon all carriages, horses, ponies, and mules kept or used within the said Town, and shall be payable in advance. Provided that this Section shall not apply to or include,—Gun Carriages, or Ordnance Carts or Wagons: Cavalry horses, or horses of the Mounted Police: horses belonging to Officers doing Regimental duty at the Presidency, at the rate of one horse for each Officer: Conservancy carts, horses, ponies, or mules belonging to the Justices: or vehicles kept for sale, and not used for any other purpose, if kept by bonâ fide dealers in such vehicles.

Owners of carriages, &c., to take out license.

XXVII. The owner of every carriage, horse, poney, or mule so kept or used shall, on or before the 30th day of April and the 31st day of October in each and every year, forward to the Office of the Justices an application in writing signed by him, and containing a description of the vehicles and animals liable to the tax for which he desires to take out a license. The owner shall at the same time pay to the Justices such sum as shall be payable by him for the half-year commencing on the 1st of May or the 1st of November then next (as the case may be), for the vehicles and animals specified in such application, according to the rates given in the said Schedule. Any person becoming possessed, between the 30th day of April and the 31st day of October, or between the 31st day of October and the 30th day of April, of a carriage, horse, poney, or mule so kept or used, shall, within a week of becoming so possessed, send to the Office of the Justices a similar application, together with the full amount payable for the then current half-year according to the said Schedule, unless he shall be able to prove to the satisfaction of the Justices that the tax for the half-year has previously been paid.

On payment of the tax the Justices to give a license.

XXVIII. On receiving an application and the amount of tax as aforesaid the Justices shall give to the person forwarding the same a license for the vehicles and animals in respect of which the money is received. The owner of every carriage, horse, poney, or mule who shall have received a license for the amount of tax paid by him for any half-year, shall at all times during that half year be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by the Justices or any person duly authorised by them to demand its production.

XXIX. If the owner of any carriage, horse, poney, or mule so kept or used as aforesaid shall not have in his possession a license granted under the last preceding Section, he shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding five times the amount of the tax which would have been payable by such person supposing him to have duly paid the same as soon as it became due; and the Justices or any Officer duly authorised by them may seize or cause to be seized any such horse, poney, mule, or carriage (provided the same be not employed at the time of seizure in the conveyance of any person), together with the horse, poney, or mule drawing the carriage, and may deliver them over to the Police, and all Police Officers are hereby required, on the application of the Justices or their Officers as aforesaid, to seize and detain the same. If the carriage, horse, poney, or mule seized be not claimed, and if the fine be not paid within ten days, it may be sold by auction by order of the Magistrate, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the fine and to the costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), if not claimed by the owner within a further period of twenty days, shall be paid to the Justices.

Penalty for keeping a carriage, &c., without having a license.

XXX. The Justices, at their discretion, may compound, for any period not exceeding one year, with livery stable-keepers and other persons keeping carriages and horses for hire, for a certain sum to be paid for the carriages and horses so kept by such persons in lieu of the taxes specified in the Schedule.

Justices may compound with Livery Stable keepers and others.

XXXI. The Justices shall, from time to time, cause to be prepared and enter in distinct columns, in a book to be kept at the Office of the Justices and to be open to the inspection of any person who shall apply for leave to inspect the same, a list of the persons who, during the then current period of six months, shall have received a license under Section XXVIII of this Act and of the vehicles and animals in respect of which they may have paid.

List of persons liable to the horse and carriage tax to be entered in a book.

XXXII. The Justices may summon any person supposed to be liable to the payment of any tax under Section XXVI of this Act or any servant of such person, and may examine such person or servant as to the number and description of the horses and carriages in respect of which such person is liable to be taxed. If the person summoned shall, without lawful excuse, fail to appear in pursuance of the summons, he shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

Power to summon persons liable to the payment of the tax.

XXXIII. Every cart any hackery kept and used within the said Town, and every cart and hackery plying for hire within the Town or let for hire and used within the said Town and kept at any place beyond the limits thereof, shall be registered in the Office of the Justices with the name and residence of the owner, and shall bear, in such manner as the said Justices shall direct, the number of such registration. Provided that this Section shall not apply to or include Ordnance or Commissariat or other Government carts or hackeries or Conservancy carts or hackeries belonging to the Justices.

Registry and numbering of Hackeries.

XXXIV. The registration of carts and hackeries under the last preceding Section shall be made and the numbers assigned annually upon such day in each year as the said Justices shall appoint, and a fee of six Rupees shall be paid for each registration. Any person becoming possessed within the year of any such cart or hackery which has not been registered, may obtain registration on application to the Justices at their Office and on payment of the said fee of six Rupees. When any registered cart or hackery is transferred within the year, it shall be registered anew in the name of the person to whom it has been transferred, and a fee of four annas shall be paid for every such last-mentioned registration.

Fee for registration.

XXXV. Whoever keeps any cart or hackery required by this Act to be registered, without being so registered, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding five times the usual registration fee: and the Justices or any Officer duly authorized by them may seize or cause to be seized any such cart or hackery (provided the same be not employed at the time of seizure in the conveyance of any passengers or goods), together with the horses, bullocks, or other animals drawing the same, and may deliver them over to the Police: and all Police Officers are hereby required, on the application of the Justices or their Officers as aforesaid, to seize and detain the same. If the vehicle seized be not claimed, and if the fine be not paid within ten days, such vehicle, together with the animals seized with it (if any), may be sold by auction by order of a Magistrate, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the fine and to the costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), if not claimed by the owner within a further period of twenty days, shall be paid to the Justices.

Penalty for not registering a Cart or Hackery.

XXXVI. Every person keeping a shop or stall in the Town of Calcutta for the sale of any article or goods (whether such person be the proprietor of such shop or not), and every hawker, pedlar, or other person trading and selling goods by retail from house to house or in the public streets, shall register his name and residence in the Office of the Justices, and such registration shall be in force for one year; provided that it shall not be necessary for more than one person to register in respect of any one shop or stall. Upon registration a certificate, shewing such particulars as the Justices may direct, shall be delivered to the person on whose application the registration is made.

Registration of Shops and Hawkers.

XXXVII. The registration shall be made and the certificate assigned annually upon such day in each year as the Justices shall appoint, and a registration fee shall be paid by the applicant for registration according to the scale laid down in Schedule (B) to this Act annexed. Any person becoming possessed within the year of any shop liable to registry under this Act, but which has not been registered, may obtain registration on application to the Justices at their Office. When any registered shop or stall is transferred within the year, it shall be registered anew in the name of the person to whom it has been transferred, and a fee of two Rupees shall be paid for every such last-mentioned registration in the first class, and a fee of one Rupee for every such registration in the second or their class.

Fee for such registration.

Penalty for selling goods in shop or streets without being registered.

XXXVIII. Whoever being legally bound to register his name and residence under Section XXXVI of this Act, but not being so registered, shall sell goods or expose them for sale in any shop or stall, or shall hawk or offer goods for sale by retail from house to house or in the public streets, shall be liable to a fine, if liable to registration in the first class, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and if liable to registration in the second class, not exceeding fifty Rupees, and if liable to registration in the third class, not exceeding twenty Rupees. Any Officer duly authorised by the Justices may, at all reasonable times, require any person liable to registration under any of the provisions of the last two preceding Sections to produce the certificate of registry; and any such person who shall, when so required, neglect or refuse, without reasonable excuse, to produce his certificate, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Rate on houses, buildings, and lands.

Proviso.

XXXIX. An annual rate not exceeding ten per cent. of their annual value may be imposed by the Justices upon houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town. Provided that it shall be at the option of the Justices, in lieu of such rate, to levy upon any lands unappropriated to any building, or upon any native huts with their appurtenances, a fixed rate not exceeding one Rupee for every one hundred square feet occupied by them respectively. Any rate levied under this Section shall be payable by the owners of the said lands, houses, buildings, and huts by quarterly instalments. Houses, buildings, and lands situate in Fort William, on the Esplanade of the Fort, and in Cooley Bazar, and buildings used exclusively as places of public worship, shall not be liable to any rate under this Act.

If assessment be made at a higher annual value than is paid by the tenant, owner may recover difference from him.

XL. If the annual value or fixed rate in the last preceding Section referred to shall in any case exceed the amount of rent payable by the lessee or tenant to the owner, the owner may in such case recover from the lessee or tenant the difference between the sum assessed upon him, and the sum at which he would have been assessed had he been rated only upon the amount of rent actually payable to him, and such difference shall be added to the rent payable by such lessee or tenant and shall be recoverable by the owner from him by such means and in like manner in all respects as such rent is recoverable.

Remission on account of vacant houses.

XLI. When any house shall have been vacant for sixty consecutive days during any year, the Justices shall remit so much, not exceeding one-half of the rate for that year as may be proportionate to the number of days the said house may have remained unoccupied; provided that the owner of such house or his Agent shall have given to the Justices notice in writing of the vacancy thereof, and that the amount of rate to be remitted shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice.

Lighting-rate.

XLII. To provide for the lighting of the public streets of the said Town an annual lighting-rate, not exceeding two per cent. of their annual value, may be imposed by the Justices upon all houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town. Provided that it shall be at the option of the Justices, in lieu of such rate, to levy upon any lands unappropriated to any building, or upon any native huts with their appurtenances, a fixed rate not exceeding four annas for every one hundred square feet occupied by such last mentioned lands or huts with their appurtenances. Any rate imposed or levied under this Section, or under Section XLIV, shall be payable in quarterly instalments by the occupiers of the houses, buildings, huts, and lands upon which it may be imposed.

Gross proceeds of lighting-rate to be applied for purposes of lighting.

Proviso.

XLIII. The Justices shall cause the public streets of the Town to be sufficiently lighted; and the sum applicable annually to the current expenses of lighting the said streets, shall be the gross proceeds of the said Lighting-rate and no more; but the Justices may expend out of the funds at their disposal such further sums as may from time to time be requisite for the purchase, setting up, and maintaining of lamps, lamp-posts, pipes, and other necessary apparatus.

Water-rate.

Proviso.

XLIV. In order to provide for the better supply of water within the Town of Calcutta, an annual Water-rate, not exceeding two and a half per cent of their annual value, shall be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands in the said Town. Provided that it shall be at the option of the Justices, in lieu of such rate, to levy upon any lands unappropriated to any building, or upon any native huts with their appurtenances, a fixed rate not exceeding five annas for every one hundred square feet occupied by such last mentioned lands or huts with their appurtenances. No rate shall be imposed under this Section until a complete system for the supply of fresh water within the said Town, sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, shall have been carried out.

Occupier liable to the rate for time of occupation.

Proviso.

XLV. Every occupier shall be liable to the Lighting rate and to the Water-rate for the time of his occupation; and when any person shall have been an occupier for a part only of any quarter, the Justices shall charge him with only so much of the rate for that quarter as may be proportionate to the number of days during which he continued to be an occupier. No such rate shall be chargeable to any person on account of any unoccupied house for the time during which it may remain unoccupied. Provided always that when any person ceases to be the occupier of any premises liable to the rate, he shall give the Justices notice thereof, or, if he fail to give such notice, he shall be liable to the rate assessed on the said premises for the whole quarter, although they may have been occupied for a part only of such quarter.

Owner when liable.

XLVI. When any house or building or any land is let by the owner in apartments, flats, or portions, the owner shall be liable to pay the Lighting-rate and the Water-rate, instead of the occupier or occupiers.

Occupiers subletting.

XLVII. When any person who rents from the owner any house or building or any land, sublets the same in apartments or portions, such person, for the purposes of Lighting-rate and of the Water-rate, shall be held to be the occupier.

Person liable to rate and leaving Calcutta during a quarter may be made at once to pay the rate up to date.

XLVIII. If during the course of any quarter the Justices shall have reason to believe that any person, who, if the current quarter had come to an end, would be liable to pay the House-rate, the Lighting-rate, or the Water-rate for that quarter, is about to remove from the Town of Calcutta forthwith, it shall be lawful for the Justices to declare such person liable to the immediate payment of the said rates or any of them from the commencement of that quarter up to the date of such declaration, and the amount of such rate for such time due from such person shall be leviable forthwith in like manner and in all respects as the said rates are in ordinary cases leviable.

Annual value how to be ascertained.

XLIX. The estimated gross annual rent at which the houses, buildings, and lands, liable to the rate or rates imposed under this Act upon houses, buildings, and lands according to the annual value thereof, might reasonably be expected to let from year to year, shall for the purposes of the rate be held and deemed to be the annual value of such houses, buildings, and lands. The value of a house or building so estimated shall not include the value of any machinery contained therein.

Annual value to be assessed by the Justices: assessment to remain in force for three years.

L. The annual value at which any lands, houses, buildings, or huts with their appurtenances are to be assessed, or the number of square feet on which they are to be rated under this Act, shall be fixed by the Justices, and such lands, houses, buildings, and huts with their appurtenances shall be assessed or rated upon the value or the number of feet so fixed for three years from the date on which it is so fixed, and on no other value or number. Provided that, if during the currency of the said period of three years any new building shall be erected on any land, or any substantial alteration and improvement shall be made in any premises, it shall be lawful for the Justices to cause the land or premises to be again assessed, even though the three years shall not have expired, and such last mentioned assessment shall be in force, and the rate shall be levied according to it, until the expiry of the said three years.

Value assessed or measurement to be entered in a book, &c.

LI. The annual value assessed, or the number of square feet fixed by the Justices as hereinbefore provided, shall be entered in a book to be kept at the Office of the Justices, wherein shall also be written in distinct columns the name of the owner of the property; or, if the occupier, and not the owner, is the person liable to pay the rate, the name of the occupier; a designation of the property either by name or number, sufficient to identify the same, together with the name of the street or district in which such property is situate, and the amount of the rate assessed or fixed thereon. The valuation which at the date of this Act coming into operation shall stand entered in the book kept at the Office of the Municipal Commissioners, under Section V of Act XXV of 1856, shall be taken to be the first valuation made under this Act, until such time as the Justices shall cause a new valuation or a measurement to be made.

Description of owner or occupier if name unknown.

LII. When the name of the owner or occupier is not known, it shall be sufficient to designate him in the said book, and also in any notice or other proceeding under this Act, as "the owner" or "the occupier" of the property on which the rate is assessed, without further description.

Returns may be required for purposes of valuation.

LIII. In order to enable the Justices to arrive at a fair valuation or measurement of any houses, buildings, or lands liable to the rate, it shall be lawful for the Justices to require the owner or occupier of such houses, buildings, or lands to furnish them with returns of the measurements and of the rent or annual value thereof; and for the like purpose, it shall be lawful for the Justices, or any person or persons appointed by them for that purpose, at any time to enter and inspect and measure such houses, buildings, or lands after having given forty-eight hours' previous notice of such their intention to the occupier thereof; and whoever refuses or fails to furnish any such return for the space of one week from the day on which he shall have been required so to do, or knowingly makes a false or incorrect return; and whoever hinders, obstructs, or prevents any one of the resident Justices, or any person appointed by the Justices as aforesaid, from entering or inspecting or measuring any such houses, buildings, or lands, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees.

Power to enter houses, &c.

Public notice of valuation and measurement to be given.

LIV. When the valuation and measurement have been completed, the Justices shall give public notice thereof, and of the place where the said book containing the valuation and measurement and the rate assessed, or a copy of the said book, may be inspected, by advertisement in the Government Gazette, and in at least one of the daily newspapers published in the Town of Calcutta, and also by placards posted up in conspicuous places throughout the Town; and the person in whose custody such book may be shall permit every person claiming to be the owner or occupier of property included in the assessment or measurement, or the agent of such owner or occupier, to inspect the book and to make extracts therefrom without payment of any fee; and every person who is not such owner or occupier, to inspect and make extracts in like manner on payment of a fee of one Rupee. Any person in charge of such book who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to permit the same to be inspected, or wilfully neglect or refuse to permit extracts to be made therefrom as aforesaid, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Notice of time of revising assessment.

LV. The Justices shall, at the time and in the manner in the preceding Section mentioned, give public notice of a day, not being less than fifteen days from the publication of such notice, when they will proceed to revise the said valuation or measurement and assessment; and in all cases in which any property is for the first time assessed, or in which the valuation or measurement of any property previously assessed is increased, shall give special notice thereof to the owners or occupiers of such property. All appeals against such valuation or measurement and assessment shall be made to the Justices on or before the day fixed in the notice; and upon hearing such appeals the Justices shall make such amendments, if any, in the said book as they shall think proper.

After revision assessment book to be signed.

LVI. After the appeals have been enquired into, and after the revision of the valuation or measurement and assessment has been completed, the amendments, if any, made in the said book shall be authenticated by the seal of the Justices; and thereupon, and subject to such alterations and amendments as may thereafter be duly made, the rate so assessed shall be deemed to be the rate for the whole three years for which the assessment is made, which years shall commence on the 1st day of May next subsequent to the date of making such assessment.

Rate assessed to be deemed the rate for three years.

Alteration or amendment of assessment.

LVII. Provided always that the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, upon the representation of parties or other information, may at any time amend the said book, by inserting therein the name of any person whose name ought to be so inserted, or any property liable to the rate; or by striking out the name of any person or any property not liable to the rate, or by reducing the amount of the rate: and in all cases in which any property is inserted as liable to the rate, the amendment shall be considered to have been made at the time when the person interested first received notice thereof.

New assessment book need not be prepared every three years.

LVIII. It shall not be necessary to prepare a new book every three years, but the Justices may adopt the valuation or measurement and assessment contained in the book for any period of three years, with such alterations as may, in particular cases, be deemed necessary, as the valuation or measurement and assessment for the three years next following. Provided always that public notice of such valuation or measurement and assessment shall be given in the manner prescribed in Section LIV of this Act; and the provisions of that and the three following Sections shall be applicable to the said valuation or measurement and assessment, and to the book or books in which it is contained.

Hearing of appeals.

LIX. Appeals against any rate or tax assessed or demanded by the Justices under the provisions of this Act, shall be heard and determined by not less than three resident Justices. But no such appeal shall be heard unless the amount of the rate or tax has been deposited with the Justices. The mode of proceeding in such appeals shall be the same as that hereinafter prescribed for the determination of matters referred to two Magistrates, or as near thereto as may be.

Assessment by Justices when to be final.

LX. The assessment by the Justices of any rate or tax, when no appeal therefrom is made as hereinbefore provided, and the adjudication of any appeal under Section LIX, shall be final and conclusive.

Bill to be presented.

LXI. When any rate or tax is due, the Justices shall cause to be presented to the person liable to the payment thereof a bill for the sum due, which shall also contain a statement of the period and a description of the property or thing for which the rate or tax is charged. If the bill be for any tax, it shall also contain a notice of the time within which an appeal against such tax may be preferred.

Notice of demand.

LXII. If the bill is not paid by the person liable to pay the same within five days from the presentation thereof, the Justices may cause to be served upon such person a notice of demand in the form contained in the Schedule (C) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect; and if he shall not, within five days from the service of such notice of demand, pay the sum due, or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Justices, for non-payment of the same, and if no appeal shall have been preferred, such sum, with all costs, may be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defaulter, or if the defaulter be the occupier of any house, building, or land in respect of which a rate is due, by distress and sale of any goods and chattels found on the premises, under a warrant in the form contained in the Schedule (D) to this Act annexed, or to the like effect, to be issued for that purpose by the Justices. For every notice of demand under this Section which the Justices shall cause to be served upon any person, a fee of one Rupee shall be paid by such person, which fee shall be added to the amount of the rate or tax in respect of which the notice is given, and if not duly paid shall be levied in the same manner as such rate or tax may be levied.

Inventory—notice of distress.

LXIII. The Officer charged with the execution of a warrant of distress under the last preceding Section shall make an inventory of the goods and chattels seized under any such warrant, and shall at the same time give a notice in writing, in the form contained in the Schedule (E) of this Act annexed, to the person in possession thereof at the time of the seizure, that the said goods and chattels will be sold as therein mentioned.

Sale.

LXIV. If the warrant is not in the meantime discharged or suspended by the Justices, the goods and chattels seized shall be sold under the orders of he Justices, who shall apply the proceeds, or such part thereof as may be necessary, in discharge of the said arrears and costs; and the surplus, if any, shall be returned on demand to the person in possession of the goods and chattels at the time of the seizure.

Fees.

The fees payable upon distraints under this Act shall be such as are set forth in the Table of Fees in the said Schedule.

Goods of defaulter wherever found may be distrained.

LXV. The goods and chattels of any person from whom any rate or tax is due may be distrained, wherever the same may be found, for default in the payment of the money due from such person.

LXVI. If the sum due on account of any rate from the owner of any house building, or land remains unpaid, after notice of demand has been duly served, the Justices may demand the amount from the occupier for the time being of such house, building, or land, and, on non-payment thereof, may recover the same by distress and sale of any goods and chattels found on the premises; and in such case, the occupier may deduct from the next and following payments of his rent the amount which may be so paid by or recovered from him. Provided that no arrear of rate which has remained due from the owner of any house, building, or land, for more than one year, shall be so recovered from the occupier thereof.

Rate due from owner may be recovered from occupier and deducted by him from his rent.

LXVII. No distress levied by virtue of this Act shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the notice, Schedule, summons, notice of demand, warrant of distress, inventory, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser ab initio on account of any irregularity afterwards committed by him; but all persons aggrieved by such irregularity, may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Distress not unlawful for want of form.

LXVIII. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of the sum due in respect of any rate or tax, the Justices may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Commissioner may sue instead of proceeding by distress.

LXIX. Every notice, Schedule, summons, or notice of demand regarding any assessment, rate, or tax, or any money due due in respect of the same, may be served personally upon the person to whom the same is addressed, or be left at his usual place of abode with some adult male member or servant of his family, or, if it cannot be so served, may be put up on some conspicuous part of such place of abode, and shall thereby be deemed to be duly served. Provided that, if the place of abode of the owner of any house, building, or land in respect of which a rate is assessed be unknown, or if the owner of any such house, building, or land be not resident within the limits of the Town of Calcutta, every such notice, summons, or notice of demand shall be deemed to be duly served if put up on some conspicuous part of the house, building, or land in respect of which the rate is assessed.

Service of notices.

Proviso.

LXX. No assessment and no charge or demand of a rate or tax, made under the authority of this Act, shall be impeached or affected by reason of any mistake in the name of any person liable to pay the rate or tax, or in the description of any property or thing liable to the rate or tax, or any mistake in the amount of assessment, provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall be quashed or set aside for want of form in any Court of Justice.

Assessment not to be impeached if the directions of the Act are in substance complied with.

LXXI. The Justices shall carry out such a complete system of sewerage and drainage within the said Town as shall be directed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, subject to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered by him; and until such system has been completed, and all the expenses thereof defrayed, and all monies borrowed for the payment of such expenses have been repaid, the Justices shall set apart for the purposes above-mentioned an annual sum of not less than one hundred and fifty thousand Rupees, out of the proceeds of the rate provided by Section XXXIX of this Act.

Drainage.

LXXII. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal may determine what portions, if any, of the environs of the Town shall be included in the said system of sewerage and drainage, and may declare the boundaries thereof by notification in the Government Gazette. An annual rate to be fixed from time to time by the said Lieutenant-Governor, not exceeding two and a half per cent of their annual value, may be imposed upon all houses, buildings, and lands situated within the boundaries so notified, and the same shall be payable by the owners thereof in quarterly instalments. For the purposes of the said rate, the houses, buildings, and lands situated within such boundaries as aforesaid, shall be held to be a part of the Town; and all the provisions of this Act which relate to the assessment and collection of rates payable by owners, shall have effect in respect to such rates.

Drainage rate on houses in the environs of Town.

LXXIII. It shall be lawful for the Justices, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to erect wharves, jetties, or quays in any river or canal bordering upon lands held by the Justices as the property of the Town of Calcutta. And it shall be lawful for the Justices to levy upon all goods shipped or landed at any such quay, wharves, or jetties, wharfage and porterage fees, according to a scale to be laid down from time to time by the Justices with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

Justices may erect wharves &c., on river and canal banks, and levy fees for goods landed thereon.

LXXIV. It shall be lawful for the Officers appointed by the Justices to superintend the landing and shipment of goods from the quays, wharves, and jetties aforesaid, to detain any such goods until the wharfage and other charges due thereon shall have been paid.

Goods landed on wharves, &c., may be detained until fees are paid.

LXXV. It shall be lawful for the Justices, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to borrow and take up at interest, on the credit of the rates and taxes imposed and levied on account of the Municipal Fund under this or any other Act passed in that behalf, or of a portion of them, any sums of money necessary for defraying any expenses incurred or to be incurred by them in the execution of this or any such Act; and for the purpose of securing the re-payment of any sums so borrowed, together with such interest as aforesaid, the Justices may mortgage and assign over, to the person by or on behalf of whom such sums shall be advanced, the rates and taxes or the portion of them upon the credit of which such sums shall be borrowed. Provided always that the money borrowed under the authority of this Act shall be borrowed only for works of a permanent nature, and shall not at any time exceed in the whole ten times the average annual sum received and collected on account of the Municipal Fund.

Justices may keep a register of births and deaths, and appoint Registrars.

LXXVI. It shall be lawful for the Justices to keep in their Office a Register of all births and deaths in the Town of Calcutta, and for this purpose they shall divide the Town into such and so many districts as they shall think fit, and for every such District they shall appoint a person to be Registrar of births and deaths within such District.

Every Registrar to live in his District; lists of Registrars to be published, &c.

LXXVII. Every Registrar shall dwell within the District of which he is Registrar, and shall cause his name, with the addition of Registrar for the District for which he shall be so appointed, to be placed in some conspicuous place on or near the outer door of his own dwelling house; and the Justices shall cause to be printed and published a list of the name and place of abode of every Registrar in the Town.

Justices to have Register books prepared and numbered.

LXXVIII. The Justices shall cause to be prepared and printed a sufficient number of Register Books for making entries of all births and deaths which may take place in the Town of Calcutta according to the forms prescribed in Schedules (F.) and (G.) to this Act annexed, and the pages of such book shall be numbered progressively from the beginning to the end.

Registrar to inform himself and register births and deaths.

LXXIX. Every Registrar shall inform himself carefully of every birth and of every death which shall happen in his District after the day of next, and shall learn and register, as soon as conveniently may be after the event, without fee or reward, the particulars required to be registered, according to the forms in the said Schedules (F.) and (G.) respectively, touching every such birth and every such death as the case may be, which shall not have been already registered, every such entry being made in order from the beginning to the end of the book.

Information of births to be given within forty-two days.

LXXX. The father or mother of every child born in the Town, or in case of the death, illness, absence, or inability of the father and mother, the occupier of the house or tenement in which such child shall have been born, shall, within one month next after the day of every such birth, give information to the Registrar of the District, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars hereby required to be known and registered touching the birth of such child. Any person whose duty it shall be to give information to a Registrar under this Section, who shall refuse or neglect to give such information, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Information of deaths to be given.

LXXXI. Some person present at the death, or in attendance during the last illness of every person dying in the Town, or in case of the death, illness, inability, or default of all such persons, the occupier of the house or tenement, or if the occupier be the person who shall have died, some inmate of the house or tenement in which such death shall have happened, shall, within eight days next after the day of such death, give information to the Registrar of the District, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars hereby required to be known and registered touching the death of such person. Any person who shall refuse or neglect to give any information which it is his duty to give under this Section, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Person giving information to sign the Register.

LXXXII. Every person by whom the information contained in any Register of Births or Deaths under this Act shall have been given, shall sign in the Register his name, description, and place of abode; and no such registration shall be deemed to be complete or of any effect until such person shall have so signed it.

Account of population to be taken.

LXXXIII. At such times and in such manner as shall be directed from time to time by the Justices, an account shall be taken of the number of persons who, at the time of taking such account, shall be within the Town of Calcutta, and the persons employed in taking such account shall set down the several particulars respecting the same which are hereinafter prescribed.

Chairman to superintend the taking an account of the population.

LXXXIV. The Chairman shall superintend the taking of such account, and shall cause to be prepared and issued, for the use of the persons to be employed, such forms and instructions as he shall, with the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, deem necessary, and all the expenses incurred shall be defrayed out of the Municipal Fund.

Enumeration Districts.

LXXXV. Each Police division of the Town shall be formed into one or more enumeration Districts.

At the appointed time occupiers of houses shall give the required information.

LXXXVI. At such times as shall be appointed under Section LXXXIII. of this Act, and as shall be notified in the Official Gazette by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, every occupier of a dwelling house, or of any part of a dwelling house distinctly occupied, and every person to whom a Schedule, as hereinafter provided, may have been delivered, shall afford such information in regard to all persons who were abiding in his house or in the place under his charge on the night immediately preceding, and in such manner as may, under this Act, be lawfully required of them.

Persons to be employed as enumerators.

LXXXVII. The Chairman shall select a sufficient number of competent persons to act as enumerators; and every such enumerator, under the direction of the Chairman, shall visit every house within his District, except as hereinafter provided, and shall take an account in writing of the name, sex, age, caste, nationality, and occupation of every living person who shall abide therein on the night immediately preceding the day appointed as aforesaid, and shall also take an account of the occupied houses, and the houses then building and therefore uninhabited, and also of all other uninhabited houses within his District, and in all respects conform to, and obey the instructions which may be issued to him by the Chairman in this behalf.

Schedules.

LXXXVIII. The Chairman, when he may deem such a course to be advisable, may cause a schedule, in such form as shall be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, to be delivered to any occupier of any dwelling house who he shall have ascertained to be able to write, and such occupier shall fill in all the particulars required in the form on the day to be appointed, and shall deliver the same to such persons as may be duly authorized to demand the same.

Military and Naval Officers and others, if required, to act as enumerators.

LXXXIX. Any Military or Naval Officers in command of bodies of Military or Naval men, or of Vessels of War, or any Master of a Merchant Vessel or Nacodah or Tindal of a vessel or boat, or any person in charge of a Lunatic Asylum, Hospital, or Prison, or of any public or private charitable or scholastic institution, or any keepers of Hotels or Lodging-houses, shall, if required, act as enumerators for the purpose of taking account of persons under their command or charge or abiding in their houses on the night previous to the day to be appointed; every person so required to act as an enumerator shall receive and conform to all instructions in writing which may be issued to him by the Chairman in that behalf.

Returns of houseless persons.

XC. The Chairman shall obtain, by such ways and means as shall appear to him best adapted for the purpose, and as shall be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, returns of the particulars required by this Act with respect to all houseless persons and all persons who, during the said night of the day to be appointed, were on out-door night duty, or for any other reason were not abiding in any house of which account is to be taken by the enumerators.

Streets and roads vested in the Justices.

XCI. All public streets and roads (not being the property and kept under the control of the Government), existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall afterwards be made, and the pavements, stones, and other materials thereof, and also erections, materials, implements and other things provided for such streets and roads, shall vest in and belong to the Justices.

Power to make and improve streets and roads.

XCII. The Justices, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, may lay out and make new streets and roads, and may build and construct bridges and tunnels; and may turn, divert, discontinue, or stop up, any public street or road; and may widen, open, enlarge, or otherwise improve, any such street or road; making due compensation to the owners and occupiers of any land, houses, or buildings which may be required for any such purposes.

Power to take land adjoining new streets for building purposes.

XCIII. In laying out new streets, in addition to the land required for the carriage-ways and foot-ways thereof, the Justices, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, may purchase also the land necessary for the houses and buildings to form the said street, and may sell and dispose of the same with such stipulations and conditions as to the class and description of houses or buildings to be erected thereon as they shall think fit. Provided that, if any land be taken under the provisions of this Act, compensation shall be made to the owners for any damage which may be done thereby to any adjoining land or buildings of such owner.

Compensation for damage to adjoining land.

Power to agree for purchase of land for improving streets or roads or for other Municipal purposes.

XCIV. The Justices, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, may agree with the owners of any land for the absolute purchase thereof for the purpose of laying out and making new streets and roads, or of widening, enlarging, or otherwise improving any of the public streets or roads, or for any other purpose whatever connected with the conservancy or general improvement of the Town.

Maintenance and repair of streets and roads.

XCV. The Justices shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, from time to time cause the public streets and roads to be maintained and repaired; and from time to time may cause the same to be paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, sewered, or otherwise improved, and the surface thereof to be raised, lowered, or altered, as they may think fit; and may also make and keep in repair any foot-ways for the use of passengers in any such street or road, and also from time to time place on the sides of such foot-ways or otherwise such fences and posts as may be needed for the protection of foot-passengers.

Foot-ways.

Cleansing streets.

XCVI. The Justices shall cause the streets, including the foot-ways thereof, to be regularly swept and cleansed; and the dust, dirt, ashes, rubbish, and filth of every sort found thereon, to be collected and removed.

Dust boxes in streets.

XCVII. The Justices may cause any number of moveable or fixed dust-boxes or other convenient receptacles, wherein dust, dirt, ashes, and rubbish may be temporarily deposited until removed and carried away, to be provided and placed in proper and convenient situations, and may require the occupiers of houses in streets to cause all such matter as aforesaid to be deposited daily or otherwise periodically in the said receptacles. Every person who, after such receptacles have been provided, and after such requisition as above-mentioned, shall deposit, or cause or permit to be deposited, any such matter in any street except in such receptacles, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Depositing dirt on streets, &c.

XCVIII. Whoever deposits, or permits his servants to deposit, any dust, dirt, dung, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or filth of any kind, or any animal matter, or any broken glass or earthenware, or other rubbish, in any street or on any public quay, jetty, ghaut, or landing place, or on any part of a river-bank whether above or below high-water mark, except in such places and in such manner and at such hours as shall be fixed by the Justices, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Allowing sewerage to flow on streets.

XCIX. Whoever causes or allows the water of any sink or sewer, or any other offensive liquid matter belonging to him or being on his land, to run, drain, or be thrown or put upon any street, or causes or allows any offensive matter from any sewer or privy to run, drain, or be thrown into a surface drain in any street, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for each offence.

Removal of night-soil.

C. The Justices from time to time may fix the hours within which only it shall be lawful to remove any night-soil or other such offensive matter. When the Justices have fixed such hours and given public notice thereof, whoever removes or causes to be removed along any street any such offensive matter at any time, except within the hours so fixed, and also whoever, at any time, whether such hours have been fixed by the Justices or not, uses for any such purpose any cart, carriage, or other receptacle or vessel not having a covering proper for preventing the escape of the contents thereof, or of the stench therefrom, or who slops or spills any such offensive matter in the removal thereof, or who does not carefully sweep and clean every place in which any such offensive matter has been slopped or spilled, or who places or sets down in any public place any vessel containing such offensive matter, or who drives or takes or causes to be driven or taken any cart, carriage, receptacle, or vessel used for any such purpose as aforesaid, through any street or by any route other than such as shall from time to time be by public notice appointed for that purpose by the Justices, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees for each offence.

Places of deposit for filth.

CI. The Justices, from time to time, shall appoint or provide places convenient for the deposit of the night-soil, dung, and other filth, and the dust, dirt, ashes, and rubbish collected and removed under the authority of this Act; and for keeping all cattle, carts, implements, and other things required for the above or any of the purposes of this Act; and for any of such purposes the Justices may purchase or take on lease any land or buildings by them considered necessary, or may cause any new building to be made upon any land to be purchased or hired by them.

All rubbish, &c., collected to be the property of the Justices.

CII. All dirt, dust, ashes, rubbish, sewerage, soil, dung, and filth, collected from the streets, houses, privies, sewers, and cess-pools, shall be the property of the Justices, who shall have power to sell or dispose of the same as they may think proper, and the money arising from the sale thereof shall be applied to the purposes of this Act.

Watering streets.

CIII. The Justices, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, and so far as they may deem requisite for the public convenience, shall cause the public streets and roads to be watered; and for that purpose may provide such works and engines as they may think necessary.

Future obstructions in streets or roads.

CIV. Whoever builds any wall, or erects or sets up any fence, rail, post, or other obstruction or encroachment, in any public street or road, or in or over any open drain, sewer, or aqueduct along the side of any such street or road after the passing of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the Justices shall have power to remove any such obstruction or encroachment; and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the person erecting the same, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Justices, with the concurrence of the Commissioner of Police, from allowing any temporary erections in any public street or road on occasions of festivals and ceremonies.

Temporary obstruction on occasions of festivals, &c.

Taking up pavements.

CV. Whoever displaces, takes up, or makes any alteration in the pavement, flags, or other materials, or in the fences or posts of any public street, without the consent in writing of the Justices, or without other lawful authority, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Private persons laying out new streets.

CVI. Every person who wishes to make or lay out any new streets, shall give notice in writing thereof to the Justices, shewing the intended level and width of such street; and the level and width of every such street shall be fixed or approved by the Justices; and whoever lays out, makes, or builds upon, any such street, otherwise than in accordance with the level and width so fixed or approved, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees; and the Justices may, if they think fit, cause any such street, laid out or made at a level or width otherwise than in accordance with the level or width so fixed or approved as aforesaid, to be altered; or may cause any building erected in any such street otherwise than in accordance with such level and width, to be altered, or if necessary removed, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the offender and be recoverable as hereinafter provided. If no such level or width be fixed, and no approval or disapproval of the level or width proposed be signified by the Justices within one month, the intended street may be laid out and made upon the level and of the width specified in the notice.

Proviso.

Erection of new huts to be under the control of the Justices.

CVII. It shall not be lawful for any person to erect, in or near any street, any hut or any range or block of huts on any plot or parcel of ground not previously built upon or on which no huts are standing, without previous notice to the Justices; and the Justices may require such hut or huts to be built so that they may stand in regular lines with a free passage or way in front of each line, of such width as the Justices may think proper for salutary ventilation, and to facilitate scavengering, and at such a level as will admit of sufficient drainage. And if any such hut or huts be built without giving such notice to the Justices or otherwise than as required by the Justices, the Justices may give notice to the builder or builders thereof to take down and remove the same within one month, and if such hut or huts be not taken down or removed according to such notice, the Justices may cause the same to be taken down and removed, and the expense incurred in doing so shall be paid by the said builder or builders, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power of Justices as to existing huts.

CVIII. Whenever the Justices are satisfied, from inspection or by report of competent persons, that any existing block of huts, in or near any street, is by reason of the manner in which the huts are huddled together, or of the want of drainage and the impracticability of scavengering, attended with risk of disease to the inhabitants or the neighbourhood, they may, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, cause a notice to be fixed to some conspicuous part of such block of huts, requiring the owners or occupiers thereof, or, at the option of the Justices, the owner of the land on which such huts are built, within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Justices for that purpose, to execute such operations as the Justices with such consent as aforesaid may deem necessary for the avoidance of such risk. And in case such owners or occupiers, or the owner of the land, shall refuse or neglect to execute such operations within the time appointed, the Justices may cause the said huts to be taken down, or such operations to be performed in respect of such huts, as the Justices may deem necessary to prevent such risk. If such huts be pulled down, the Justices shall cause the materials of each hut to be sold separately, if such sale can be effected; and the proceeds shall be paid to the owner of the hut, or if the owner be unknown, or the title disputed, shall be held in deposit by the Justices until the person interested therein shall obtain the order of a competent Court for the payment of the same. The Calcutta Court of Small Causes shall be deemed a competent Court for that purpose.

CIX. If any street (not being a public street), or any part thereof, be not levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Justices, they may, by notice in writing to the respective owners or occupiers of the premises fronting, adjoining, or abutting upon, such parts thereof as may need to be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, require them to level, metal, pave, flag, channel, and sewer the same within a time to be specified in such notice, and upon non-compliance the Justices may, if they think fit, execute the works mentioned or referred to therein: and the expenses incurred by them in so doing shall be paid by the owners in default according to the frontage of their respective premises, and in such proportion as shall be settled by the Justices, or in case of dispute, as shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses; and such expense shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided. Provided always that, after such street shall have been so levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, on the requisition of the Justices, or by the Justices as aforesaid, at the expense of the owners, such owners shall have a right to require that the street shall be declared a public street, to be from time to time repaired by the Justices out of the funds at their disposal for the purposes of this Act.

Paving, &c., of private streets.

Proviso.

CX. If any street (not being a public street) be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Justices, they may, if they think fit, by notice in writing put up in any part of such street, declare the same to be a public street, and thereupon the same shall become a public street, and be from time to time repaired by them out of the funds at their disposal. Provided that no street shall become a public street as last aforesaid if within one month after such notice in writing, the owner of such street, or any one of the owners, shall, by notice in writing to the Justices, object thereto.

Certain streets to be deemed public and repaired by the Justices.

Proviso.

CXI. The Justices may, upon such terms as they think fit, allow any house or building to be set forward for improving the line of any public street in which such house or building is situated.

Houses may be set forward for improving line of streets.

CXII. When any house or building, any part of which projects beyond the regular line of a public street, or beyond the front of the house or building on either side thereof, has been taken down in order to be re-built or altered, the Justices may require the same to be set back to or towards the line of the street or the line of the adjoining houses or buildings. Provided always that the Justices shall make full compensation to the owner of any such house or building for any damage he may thereby sustain; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Houses projecting beyond line of street, when taken down, to be set back.

Proviso.

CXIII. The Justices shall, from time to time, cause to be put up or painted on a conspicuous part of some house, building, wall, or place at or near each end, corner, or entrance of every street, the name by which such street is to be known; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such name, or puts up any name different from that put up by order of the Justices, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Names of streets.

CXIV. The Justices may, from time to time, fix a number in a conspicuous place on the outer side of any house or building, or at the entrance of the enclosure thereof fronting the street; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such number, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty Rupees.

Numbers on houses.

CXV. All doors, gates, bars, and ground-floor windows put up after the passing of this Act, which open upon any public streets, shall be hung or placed so as not to open outwards; and if any such door, gate, bar, or window be hung or placed so as to open outwards on any such street, the owner of the premises to which the same is attached shall, within eight days after notice from the Justices to that effect, cause the same to be altered so as not to open outwards, and in case he neglects so to do, the Justices may make such alteration, and the expense thereof shall be paid by such owners, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Doors not to open outwards.

CXVI. If any door, gate, bar, or ground-floor window put up before the passing of this Act is hung or placed so as to open outwards upon any public street, the Justices may alter the same, so that no part thereof, when open, shall project over any such street so as to cause an obstruction, and the expense thereof shall be paid by the owners and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Doors opening outwards to be altered.

CXVII. The owner of every house or building in any public street shall, within eight days after notice from the Justices to that effect, put up and keep in good condition proper troughs and pipes for catching and carrying the water from the roof and other parts of such house or building, and for discharging the same in such manner that it shall not fall upon the persons passing along the street; and in default of compliance with such notice within the period aforesaid, such owner shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day that he shall so make default.

Troughs and pipes to be fixed to houses.

Future projections from houses to be removed.

CXVIII. The Justices may give notice in writing to the owner or occupier of any house or building to remove or alter any projection, encroachment, or obstruction, which, after the passing of this Act shall be erected or placed against or in front of such house or building, if the same overhangs, or juts into, or in any way projects or encroaches upon, or is an obstruction to the safe and convenient passage along any public street, or obstructs or projects or encroaches into or upon any uncovered aqueduct, drain, or sewer in such street; and such owner or occupier shall, within fourteen days after the service of such notice upon him, remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction, or alter the same in such manner as shall have been directed by the Justices, and in default thereof shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees; and the Justices in such case may remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction; and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the owner or occupier so making default, and shall be recoverable as hereafter provided.

Proviso.

Provided that, when the expense shall have been paid by the occupier, except in the case in which such projections, encroachments, or obstructions were made or put up by him, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the expense of removing or altering the same from the rent payable by him to the owner of the house or building.

Sun-shades, &c.

Provided always that the roofs or eaves of houses or buildings, sun-shades, weather-frames, and the like, at a height not less than twelve feet above the surface of any street, may be projected to the extent of three feet over the same.

Removal of existing projections from houses.

CXIX. The Justices may cause any such projection, encroachment, or obstruction, erected or placed against or in front of any house or building, in any public street, before the passing of this Act, to be removed or altered as they think fit; provided that they give notice of such intended removal or alteration to the occupier of the house or building against or in front of which such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall be, thirty days before such alteration or removal is begun; and if such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall have been lawfully made, they shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by such removal or alteration; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Notice of removal.

Compensation when to be made.

Justices may allow certain projections from houses.

CXX. The Justices may give permission in writing to the owners or occupiers of houses or buildings in public streets, the width of which is not less than twenty-five feet, to put up verandahs, balconies, sun-shades, weather-frames and the like, to project from any upper-story thereof over the street, to an extent not exceeding four feet from the foundation, and for special reasons to allow such projections to be extended to five feet.

Roofs and external walls of houses not to be made of inflammable materials.

CXXI. The external roofs and walls of huts or other buildings erected or renewed in or near any street, after the passing of this Act, shall not be made of grass, leaves, mats, or other such inflammable materials; and it shall not be lawful for the owner of any hut or other building in or near any street now having an external roof or wall made of any such material, and which is contiguous to or adjoining to any other building, to suffer such roof or wall to remain after the passing of this Act, unless with the consent in writing of the Justices; and whoever makes any external roof or wall of such materials, or suffers any roof or wall made of such materials to continue contrary to the provisions herein contained, and who shall not remove or alter the same within one month after notice given to him for that purpose by the Justices, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day that such roof or wall shall continue. Any person may give information and institute a prosecution before a Magistrate under this Section.

Houses in a ruinous and dangerous state.

CXXII. If, in any street, any house, building, or wall, or any thing affixed thereon, be deemed by the Justices to be in a ruinous state or likely to fall, or in any way dangerous to the inhabitants of such house or building, or to the neighbouring houses or buildings, or to the occupiers thereof, or to passengers, they shall immediately, if it appears to them to be necessary, cause a proper hoard or fence to be put up for the protection of passengers; and shall cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, if he be known and resident within the limits of their jurisdiction, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door or other conspicuous part of the said premises or otherwise to be given to the occupier thereof (if any), requiring such owner or occupier forthwith to take down, secure, or repair such house, building, wall, or thing affixed thereon, as the case shall require; and if such owner or occupier do not begin to repair, take down, or secure the same within three days after such notice, and complete such work with due diligence, the Justices shall cause all or so much of such house, building, wall, or thing as they shall think necessary, to be taken down, repaired, or otherwise secured; and all the expenses incurred by the Justices shall be paid by the owner of the premises, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Sale of materials of ruinous houses.

CXXIII. If any such house, building, or wall, or any part of the same be pulled down by virtue of the powers aforesaid, the Justices may sell the materials thereof or so much of the same as shall be taken down, and apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the expenses incurred, and shall restore any overplus arising from such sale to the owner of such house, building, or wall, on demand. The Justices, although they sell such materials for the purposes aforesaid, shall have the same remedies for compelling the payment of so much of the said expenses as may remain due after the application of the proceeds of such sale, as by this Act are given to them for compelling the payment of the whole of the said expenses.

Power to shut up and secure deserted houses.

CXXIV. If any building or land, by reason of abandonment or of disputed ownership or other cause, shall remain untenanted, and thereby become a resort of idle and disorderly persons, or be complained of by any two or more of the neighbours as a nuisance, the Justices, after due enquiry, may cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, or to the person claiming to be the owner if he be known and resident within the limits of their jurisdiction, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door of the building or some conspicuous part of the premises, requiring the persons concerned therein, whoever they may be, to secure or enclose the same; and if such notice shall not be complied with within eight days, the Justices shall cause the necessary work to be executed, and all expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the premises and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty on occupier of a house not removing filth.

CXXV. Whoever, being the occupier of a house in or near any street, keeps or allows to be kept for more than twenty-four hours, or otherwise than in some proper receptable, any dirt, dung, bones, ashes, night-soil, filth, or any noxious or offensive matter, in or upon the roof of such house, or in any out-house, yard, or ground attached to and occupied with such house, or suffers such receptacle to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means to remove the filth therefrom and to cleanse and purify the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Filthy houses, &c.

CXXVI. Whoever, being the owner or occupier of any house, building, or land, in or near any street, whether tenantable or otherwise, suffers the same to be in a filthy and unwholesome state, or overgrown with vegetation, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and to a penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day after conviction for such offence during which the offence is continued.

Power to trim hedges and trees bordering roads.

CXXVII. The Justices may give notice to the owner or occupier of any land to trim or prune the hedges thereof bordering any public road or street, so that they may not exceed the height of seven feet from the level of the road; and to cut and trim all trees which by overhanging any public road or street obstruct the passage or cause damage thereto; and in the event of such notice not being complied with within eight days from the date thereof, the Justices may cause the said hedges and trees to be cut and trimmed in the manner required, and the expense incurred by the Justices in respect thereof shall be paid to them by the owners, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Keeping swine, &c., in or near any street.

CXXVIII. Whoever keeps any pig-stye to the front of any street, not being shut out therefrom by a sufficient wall or fence, or whoever shall keep any swine in or near any street, so as to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood, or who shall, without the permission of the Justices, keep more than twenty sheep or goats, or ten horned cattle, in or near any street, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Sewers, drains, &c., vested in the Justices.

CXXIX. All public sewers and drains, and all sewers, drains, tunnels, and culverts, in, alongside, or under the streets and roads existing at the time of the passing of this Act, or afterwards made, and whether made at the cost of the Justices or otherwise, and all works, materials, and things appertaining thereto, shall be vested in and belong to the Justices.

Powers of Justices in making public sewers.

CXXX. The Justices, in making any main or other sewers for the drainage of the Town of Calcutta, may, if needful, carry such sewers through, across, or under any street, or any place laid out as or intended for a street, or any cellar or vault which may be under any of the streets, and (after reasonable notice in writing in that behalf) into, through or under any inclosed or other land whatsoever, making full compensation for any damage done thereby; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Justices to repair and alter and discontinue sewers.

CXXXI. The Justices shall maintain, and from time to time repair and as they see fit enlarge, alter, arch-over or otherwise improve, all or any of the sewers and drains vested in them by this Act; and may discontinue, close up, or destroy such of them as they may deem useless or unnecessary. Provided always that the discontinuance, closing up, or destruction of any sewer or drain, shall be so done as not to create a nuisance; and if, by reason thereof or of any such alteration as hereinbefore mentioned, any person is deprived of the lawful use of any sewer or drain, the Justices shall, with due diligence, provide some other sewer or drain as effectual for his use as the one of which he is so deprived.

Proviso.

Cleansing and emptying sewers.

CXXXII. The Justices shall, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, cause the sewers and drains belonging to them to be so constructed, maintained, and kept, as not to be a nuisance or injurious to health, and to be properly cleared, cleansed, and emptied; and for the purpose of flushing, cleasing, and emptying the same, they may construct and place, either above or underground, such reservoirs, sluices, engines, and other works as may be necessary; and they may also, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, cause all or any of such sewers and drains to communicate with and be emptied into any tidal river or other fit place, or cause the refuse from such sewers and drains to be conveyed by a proper channel to the most convenient site for its deposit, and may sell the same for any agricultural or other purposes as may be deemed most expedient, but so that the same shall not become a nuisance.

CXXXIII. When the contents of any sewer or drain or any other flow or filth or refuse are discharged into any river or stream, in the bed or channel of which the quantity of water at any season of the year is so much diminished by natural or artificial causes as to be insufficient to keep such channel clean or clear, the Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, so far as the funds at their disposal will admit, shall make such alteration in the bed of such river or stream as may prevent such sewer and drain-water from spreading over the surface of such bed, or from accumulating and stagnating in parts thereof to the injury of health or the annoyance of the surrounding population.

Bed of stream receiving sewerage to be cleared.

CXXXIV. Whoever, without the written consent of the Justices first obtained, makes or causes to be made any drain into any of the sewers or drains vested in the Justices by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees; and the Justices may cause such branch-drain to be demolished, altered, re-made, or otherwise dealt with as they think fit; and all the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the person making such branch-drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty for making unauthorized drains into public sewers.

CXXXV. No building shall be newly erected over any sewer or drain vested in the Justices by this Act, without their written consent; and if any building be so erected, the Justices may cause such building to be pulled down, or otherwise dealt with as they may think fit; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person offending, and be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Building over sewers, &c, not to be erected without consent of the Justices.

CXXXVI. If any house or building, in or near any street, be at any time not drained to the satisfaction of the Justices by a sufficient drain or pipe communicating with some sewer, or some tidal river or other place at which the Justices are empowered to empty their sewers, the Justices may construct or lay from such house or building a covered drain or pipe of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall, as they think necessary for the draining of such house or building; and the expenses incurred by the Justices in respect thereof, if not forthwith paid by the owner, shall be recoverable as hereinafter directed.

Justices empowered to make drains from houses in or near streets, which are not properly drained.

CXXXVII. No house or building shall be hereafter built in or near any street upon a lower level than will allow of the drainage of such house or building being led into some public sewer either then existing or projected by the Justices, or into some tidal river or other place into which the Justices are empowered to empty their sewers.

Level of houses hereafter built in or near streets.

CXXXVIII. If any house or building, newly erected or re-built in or near any street after the passing of this Act, have such means of drainage as in the last preceding Section mentioned, existing within one hundred feet thereof, the owner shall make a drain leading thereunto from the site of such house or building, of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall as the Justices may direct; and if he neglect to do so within a reasonable time, the Justices may cause the same to be done, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Houses hereafter built in or near streets to have drains constructed under the orders of the Justices.

CXXXIX. Before beginning, in or near any street, to build or re-build any house, the person intending to build or re-build such house shall give to the Justices notice thereof in writing, and shall accompany such notice with a plan showing the levels at which the foundation and lowest floor of such house are proposed to be laid, by reference to some level ascertained under the direction of the Justices.

Notice of new buildings in or near streets to be given to the Justices.

CXL. Within fourteen days after receiving such notice, the Justices shall signify their approval of the proposed levels, or if they disapprove thereof they shall fix other levels in lieu thereof within the same time.

Justices to signify disapproval within fourteen days.

CXLI. If such building be begun or made without sending such notice and plan, or at any levels different from those fixed by the Justices within the said fourteen days, or in any other respect contrary to the provisions of this Act, the Justices may, if necessary, cause such building to be altered, or demolished as the case may require; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid by the person failing to comply with the provisions aforesaid, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Houses built without notice, or contrary to provisions of this Act, may be altered by the Justices.

CXLII. If the Justices fail to signify in writing their approval or disapproval of the levels shown on such plan as aforesaid, and to fix other levels within fourteen days after receiving such notice and plan as aforesaid, the person giving such notice may, notwithstanding any thing hereinbefore contained, proceed to build or re-build the house therein referred to according to the levels shown on such plan, provided that such building or re-building be otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

If Justices fail to approve &c., within fourteen days, parties may proceed without.

CXLIII. All sewers and drains in streets, whether public or private, shall be provided by the Justices or by the persons to whom they severally belong, with proper traps or other coverings or means of ventilation so as to prevent stench. If the owner of any private sewer or drain shall, for ten days after notice given to him by the Justices, neglect or delay to provide proper traps or coverings or means of ventilation as aforesaid, the Justices may forthwith provide and apply the same; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such sewer and drain, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Sewers in streets to be covered with traps, &c.

CXLIV. The Justices may erect on, or fix to any house or building, such pipes as they may deem necessary for the proper ventilation of the sewers belonging to them, and such pipes shall be carried to a height of not less than six feet above the highest part of the house or building, and erected so as not to occasion any nuisance or inconvenience to any house or building in the neighbourhood.

Power of Justices to erect or affix to building, pipes for ventilation of sewers.

Throwing rubbish into sewers.

CXLV. Whoever throws or puts, or permits his servants to throw or put, any earth, dirt, ashes, garden kitchen or stable refuse, or any broken glass or earthen-ware, or other rubbish, or, until suitable sewers shall be provided, any night-soil, into any sewer or drain belonging to any of the Justices or into any drain communicating therewith, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for each offence.

Common necessaries.

CXLVI. The Justices may provide and maintain in proper and convenient situations, so as not to create a nuisance, common necessaries and urinals, and shall cause the same, when provided, to be kept in proper order and to be daily cleansed.

Licensing of public necessaries.

CXLVII. The Justices may license, for any period not exceeding one year, such necessaries for public accommodation as they, from time to time, may think proper; and whoever keeps any public necessary without such license, or, having a license for a public necessary, suffers the same to be in a filthy or noxious state, or neglects to employ proper means for cleaning the same, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees; and the license may be cancelled by the Magistrate before whom the person is convicted.

Neglecting to enclose private privy.

CXLVIII. The owner or occupier of any house or building having a privy erected on his premises, shall have such privy shut out by a sufficient wall or fence from the view of persons passing by. In neglect of this provision he shall be liable to penalty of ten Rupees a day for each day of default.

Branch-drains, privies, &c., to be under control of Justices and to be kept in good order by owners.

CXLIX. All branch drains, as well within as without the lands or buildings to which they belong, and all privies and cess-pools in or near any street, shall be under the survey and control of the Justices, and shall be altered, repaired, and kept in proper order at the costs and charges of the owners of the lands and buildings to which the same belong, or for the use of which they are constructed or continued; and if the owner of any land or buildings to which any such drain, privy, or cess-pool belongs, neglect, during eight days after notice in writing for that purpose, to alter, repair, and put the same into good order in the manner required by the Justices, the Justices may cause such drain, privy, or cess pool to be altered, repaired, and put in good order, and the expense incurred by the Justices in respect thereof, shall be paid by the owner, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

If owners neglect, Justices may cause the same to be done and charge the owners with the expense.

Penalty for persons making or altering drains, &c., contrary to the orders of the Justices.

CL. If any such drain, privy, or cess-pool be constructed after the passing of this Act, contrary to the directions and regulations of the Justices or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or if any person, without the consent of the Justices, constructs, re-builds, or unstops, any drain, privy, or cess-pool which has been ordered by them to be demolished or stopped up, or not to be made, every person so doing shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and the Justices may cause such amendment or alteration to be made in any such drain, privy, or cess-pool as they think fit; and the expense thereof shall be paid by the person by whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool was improperly constructed, re-built, or unstopped, and shall be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided.

Inspection of drains, privies, and cesspools.

CLI. The Justices or any Officer appointed by them for the purpose may inspect any such drain, privy, or cess-pool, and for that purpose, at any time between sunrise and sunset, after twenty-four hours notice in writing to the occupier of the premises to which such drain, privy, or cess-pool is attached, may enter upon any lands and buildings with such assistants and workmen as are necessary, and cause the ground to be opened where they or he may think fit, doing as little damage as may be, and if, upon such inspection, it appears that the drain, privy, or cess-pool is not in good order and condition, or that it has been constructed after the passing of this Act contrary to the provisions thereof, the expenses of such inspection shall be paid by the person to whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool may belong; but if the drain, privy, or cess-pool be found to be in proper order and condition and not to have been constructed in violation of the provisions of this Act, the Justices or Officer as aforesaid shall cause the ground to be closed and made good as soon as may be; and the expenses of opening, closing, and making good such drain, privy, or cess-pool shall, in that case, be defrayed by the Justices. Provided always that nothing hereinbefore contained shall authorize an entry into the zenanas or private apartments appropriated to the females of Hindoo and Mussulman families for the purpose of such inspection, except by the agency of women.

Proviso.

Service of notice on owners and occupiers of buildings and lands.

CLII. Where any notice is required by this Act to be given to the owner or occupier of any building or land, such notice, addressed to the owner or occupier as the case may require, may be served on the occupier of such building or land, or left with some adult male member or servant of his family, or, if the notice cannot be so served, or if there be no occupier, may be put up on some conspicuous part of such building or land, and it shall not be necessary in any such notice to name the occupier or the owner. Provided always that, when the owner and his residence are known to the Justices, it shall be their duty, if such owner be residing within the limits of their authority, to cause every notice, required to be given to the owner of any building or land, to be served on such owner or left with some adult male member or servant of his family; and, if the owner be not resident within such limits, they shall send every such notice by Post addressed to his residence, and proof of delivery of the notice at the Post Office shall be held to be due service of the same.

CLIII. Whenever, under the provisions of this Act, any work is required to be executed by the owner or occupier of any building or land, and default is made in the execution of such works, the Justices, whether any penalty is or is not provided for such default, may cause such work to be executed; and the expense thereby incurred shall be paid to them by the person by whom such work ought to have been executed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Justices, in default of owner or occupier, may execute works and recover expenses.

CLIV. If the defaulter be the owner of the building or land, the Justices may, by way of additional remedy, whether any action or proceeding has been brought or taken against any such owner or not, require the payment of all or any part of the expenses payable by the owner for the time being, from the person who then or at any time thereafter occupies the building or land under such owner, and, in default of payment thereof by such occupier on demand, the same may be levied by distress of the goods and chattels of such occupier; and every such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent payable by him to his landlord so much as is so paid by or recovered from him in respect of any such expenses.

Power to levy charges on occupier, who may deduct the same from his rent.

CLV. Except in cases falling under Section LXVI of this Act, no occupier of any building or land shall be liable to pay more money, in respect of any expenses charged by this Act on the owner thereof, than the amount of rent due from him for the premises in respect of which such expenses are payable at the time of the demand made upon him, or which at any time after such demand has accrued and become payable by him, unless he neglect or refuse, upon application made to him for that purpose by the Justices, truly to disclose the amount of his rent and the name and address of the person to whom such rent is payable; but the burden of proof that the sum demanded of any such occupier is greater than the rent which was due by him at the time of such demand or which has since accrued, shall lie upon such occupier; provided further that nothing herein contained shall be taken to affect any special contract made between any such owner or occupier respecting the payment of the expenses of any such works as aforesaid.

Occupier not to be liable for more than the amount of rent due.

CLVI. Whenever default is made by the owner of any building or land, in the execution of any work required to be executed by him, the occupier of such building or land may, with the approval of the Justices, cause such work to be executed, and the expense thereof shall be paid to him by the owner, or the amount may be deducted out of the rent from time to time becoming due from him to such owner.

Occupier, in default of owner, may execute works and deduct expenses from his rent.

CLVII. If the occupier of any building or land prevent the owner thereof from carrying into effect, in respect of such building or land, any of the provisions of this Act, after notice of his intention so to do has been given by the owner to such occupier, any Magistrate, upon proof thereof, may give an order in writing requiring such occupier to permit the owner to execute all such works with respect to such building or land as may be necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this Act; and if, after the expiration of eight days from the date of the order, such occupier continue to refuse to permit such owner to execute such works, such occupier shall, for every day during which he so continues to refuse, be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees; and every such owner, during the continuance of such refusal, shall be discharged from any penalties to which he might otherwise have become liable by reason of his default in executing such works.

Proceedings in case of tenants opposing the execution of this Act.

CLVIII. All public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works, existing at the time of the passing of this Act or afterwards made or erected and whether made or erected at the cost of the Justices or otherwise, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land (not being private property) appertaining to any public tank, shall be vested in and belong to the Justices.

Tanks, &c., vested in the Justices.

CLIX. The Justices shall cause all existing public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, aqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works used for the supply of water to the inhabitants or for the other purposes mentioned in this Act, to be continued, maintained, and supplied with water; or they shall substitute other such works and shall cause them to be maintained and supplied with water; and the Justices may, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, from time to time construct aqueducts for bringing water into the Town of Calcutta, and may provide any number of new tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, and other such water-works for the purposes aforesaid.

Construction and maintenance of works for supply of water.

CLX. Whoever, except as permitted by the Justices under Section CLXIII, offensive trade or manufacture is carried on, wilfully does any act connected with the said business, whereby the water in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, aqueduct, or other water-works belonging to the Justices is fouled or corrupted, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand Rupees, and to a further penalty, not exceeding five hundred Rupees, for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice in writing from the Justices in this behalf, and the Justices may, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, lay open and examine any pipes, conduits, and works belonging to such person; and if, upon such examination, it appears that the water has been fouled or corrupted by any thing proceeding from or contained in the pipes, conduits, or works examined, the expenses of such examination shall be paid by the person to whom such pipes, conduits, or works belong, or under whose management or control they may be, and be recoverable from him as hereinafter provided; but if it appear that the water has not been so fouled or corrupted, then such expenses, and all damages occasioned by the examination, shall be paid by the Justices.

Injuring water-works or diverting or wasting water.

CLXII. Whoever wilfully or carelessly injures any water-works belonging to the Justices, or unlawfully draws off, diverts, or takes water from any such water-works, or from any waters or streams belonging to the Justices by which such water-works are supplied, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Justices may set apart bathing places, &c.

CLXIII. The Justices may, at their discretion set apart any public ghaut or place, or any part of the strand of any river (not being private property), for the purpose of being used as a bathing place; and may also provide or set apart a sufficient number of convenient tanks or runs of water for the inhabitants to bathe in, and may also set apart tanks or reserviors, or runs of water for washing animals or clothes or for any other purposes connected with the health, cleanliness, and comfort of the inhabitants.

Bye-laws to regulate—

CLXIV. The Justices may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws—

For regulating the use of water.

For regulating all or any matters and things whatsoever connected with the water to be supplied by them, and the use of such water for any of the purposes mentioned in this Act—

Bathing places.

And for regulating the time and place of bathing for persons of each sex in the places provided or appointed by them for the purpose of bathing, in such manner as shall appear to the Justices necessary, making due allowance for the habits and customs of the country.

Power to fill up unwholesome tanks, &c., on private premises.

CLXV. When any private tank or low marshy ground, or any waste or stagnant water, being within any private enclosure, appears to the Justices to be injurious to health, or to be offensive to the neighbourhood, it shall be lawful for the Justices to require, by notice in writing, the owner of the said premises to cleanse or fill up such tank or marshy ground, or to drain off or remove such stagnant water; and if he shall refuse or neglect to comply with such requisition during eight days from the service thereof, the Justices, their Officers, and workmen, may enter into the said premises and do all necessary acts for all or any of the purposes aforesaid as they shall think fit; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the owner of such premises, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Power to drain off and cleanse stagnant pools in open places.

CLXVI. The Justices are hereby empowered, from time to time as they shall see fit, to drain off into any sewers belonging to them and cleanse and fill up or otherwise abate any stagnant pool, ditch, tank, pond, or other receptacle of water (the same not being within any private enclosure) which shall appear to them to be useless or unnecessary or likely to prove injurious to the health of the inhabitants, whether the same be the private property of any person or otherwise; and the Justices, their Officers, and workmen, may do all necessary acts for effecting any of the purposes aforesaid.

Justices in executing works to provide roads, &c., where existing ones are injured.

CLXVII. The Justices, in executing any works directed or authorized by this Act to be made, shall provide and make, at their own expense, a sufficient number of convenient ways, water-courses, drains, and channels in the place of such as may be interrupted, injured, or rendered useless by reason of the execution of such works; and, in case of any difference arising between the Justices respectively and the persons affected thereby, such difference shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Justices breaking up street to restore the same with all convenient speed.

CLXVIII. When the pavement or surface of any street, or when any sewer or drain, shall be opened or broken up by the Justices, their Officers or servants, they shall, with all convenient speed, complete the work on account of which the same shall have been broken up, and fill in the ground and make good the pavement and surface, and the sewer or drain, so opened or broken up, and carry away the rubbish occasioned thereby, and shall, in the meantime, cause the place where such pavement or surface shall be so opened or broken up, to be fenced and guarded, and sufficiently lighted during the night.

Situation of gas and water-pipes to be altered at the expense of the Justices.

CLXIX. If the Justices deem it necessary for the purposes of this Act to raise, sink, or otherwise alter the situation of any water-pipe or gas-pipe, or other water-works or gas-works laid in any of the streets, they may, from time to time, by notice in writing, require the person to whom any such pipes or works belong or under whose control they may be, to cause forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be, any such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or otherwise altered in position in such manner as the Justices direct; provided that such alteration be not such as permanently to injure such works, or to prevent the water or gas from flowing as freely and conveniently as before; and the expenses attending such raising, sinking, or altering, and full compensation for the damage done thereby, shall be paid by the Justices, as well to the persons to whom such pipes or works belong as to all other persons. And if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

If owner, &c. neglect to make alterations, the Justices may cause the same to be done.

CLXX. If the person to whom any such pipes or works belong or under whose control they may be, do not proceed forthwith, or as soon as conveniently may be after the receipt of such notice, to cause the same to be raised, sunk, or altered, in such manner as the Justices require, the Justices may themselves cause such pipes or works to be raised, sunk, or altered as they think fit; provided that such works be not permanently injured thereby, or the water or gas prevented from flowing as freely and conveniently as before.

Hoards to be set up during repairs.

CLXXI. Every person intending to build or take down any buildidg or to alter or repair the outward part of any building where any street or footway will be obstructed or rendered inconvenient by means of such work shall before beginning the same, and having first obtained a license in writing from the Justices so to do, cause sufficient hoards or fences to be put up, in order to separate the building where such works are being carried on, from the street or footway, and shall continue such hoard or fence standing and in good condition, to the satisfaction of the Justices during such time as the public safety or convenience requires, and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and every such person who begins to build, or take down, or alter, or repair, any building contrary to the provisions of this Section, or who, without license, erects or sets up any hoards, scaffolding, or fence whatsoever, or who, being licensed, fails to put up such fence or hoard, or to continue the same standing and in good condition as aforesaid during the time aforesaid, or who does not, while the said hoards or fences are standing, keep the same sufficiently lighted during the night, or who does not remove the same when directed by the Justices within eight days, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the said Justices.

Bars to be erected across streets during repairs, and lights placed at night.

CLXXII. The Justices shall, during the construction or repair by them of any of the streets, sewers, or drains vested in them, take proper precaution for guarding against accident, by shoring up and protecting the adjoining houses, and shall cause such bars, chains, or posts to be fixed across or in any of the streets or roads to prevent the passage of carriages, carts, or other vehicles, cattle or horses, while such works are carried on, as to them shall seem proper; and the Justices shall cause any sewer or drain or other works in streets, during the construction or repair thereof by them, to be sufficiently lighted and guarded during the night; and whoever takes down, alters, or removes any of the said bars, chains, or posts, or extinguishes any light, without the authority or consent of the Justices, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees.

Penalty for not lighting deposits of building materials or excavations.

CLXXIII. No persons shall deposit any building materials, or make a hole in any street, without the permission of the Justices; and when such permission is granted to any person he shall, at his own expense, cause such materials, or such hole, to be sufficiently fenced and enclosed until the materials are removed, or the hole is filled up or otherwise made secure; and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night; and whoever deposits materials or makes a hole without such permission, or fails to fence or enclose and light such materials or hole, or does not remove such materials or fill up such hole when the permission has been withdrawn, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees, and a further penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day while the offence is continued after twenty-four hours' notice from the Justices.

Dangerous places near streets to be repaired or enclosed.

CLXXIV. If any building, tank, well, or hole, or other place, be, for want of sufficient repair, protection, or enclosure, dangerous to passengers, the Justices shall cause the same to be repaired, protected, or enclosed so as to prevent danger therefrom; and the expenses of such repair, protection, or enclosure shall be paid to the Justices by the owner of the property so repaired, protected, or enclosed, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Slaughter-houses within certain limits to be registered.

CLXXV. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta which (if any) shall be specially prescribed for the purpose by the Government of Bengal, every place used as a slaughter-house shall, within one month after the passsing of this Act, be registered by the owner or occupier at the Office of the Justices in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of that time and after eight days' notice from the Justices, uses or permits to be used any slaughter-house without its being registered, shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding one hundred Rupees, for every day during which such place shall be so used without having been registered.

No slaughter-houses to be newly set up without license.

CLXXVI. No place not so used at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall at any time subsequent to the passing of this Act cease to be so used, shall be used as a slaughter-house within the prescribed limits, unless and until a license in writing for the use thereof as a slaughter-house has been obtained from the Justices, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without such license, uses as a slaughter-house any place within such limits, not used as such at the time of the passing of this Act, or which shall at any time subsequent to the passing of this Act cease to be so used, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, and to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence, during which the said offence is continued.

Justices to provide places for slaughter-houses.

CLXXVII. The Justices may, from time to time, if they shall think fit, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, provide places for the purpose of being used as slaughter-houses, and they are hereby empowered to make bye-laws for and with respect to the management and charges for the use of such places.

Markets, slaughter-houses, &c., to be properly drained.

CLXXVIII. Every owner, or occupier, or farmer of any market for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or of any slaughter-house within the prescribed limits, shall cause such drains to be made therein as shall be considered sufficient by the Justices, and (if required so to do by the Justices) shall cause all the floors and drains to be paved with stone or burnt brick, and shall also cause a supply of water to be provided sufficient for keeping such market or slaughter-house in a clean and wholesome state; and if such owner, occupier, or farmer, after notice in writing given to him by the Justices that such market or slaughter-house is defective in any of the said particulars, and requiring him to remedy the defect specified within not less than thirty days, makes default therein, he shall be liable to a penalty, not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day during which such default is continued.

Justices may make bye-laws for the inspection of slaughter-houses.

CLXXIX. The Justices may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of all such markets and of all slaughter-houses within the prescribed limits, and for the management and conduct of the business therein, and for keeping the same in a cleanly and proper state, and for removing filth at least once in every twenty-four hours.

Sale of unwholesome food or drink.

CLXXX. It shall be lawful for any Magistrate, on the application of the Justices or any of their Officers setting forth that there is just cause to believe that any article which has been rendered or has become noxious or unfit for use as food or drink for man is in the possession of any person for the purpose of being sold or offered or exposed for sale within the Town as food or drink for man, to grant a warrant to enter upon the premises of such person, and to search for and seize such article, and if it appear to the Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that the same is noxious or unfit for such use, he shall order such article to be forfeited and disposed of in such way as to him shall seem proper.

Power to Justices to enter and inspect slaughter-houses, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

CLXXXI. The Justices or any person appointed by them for that purpose may at all reasonable times, with or without assistants, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall, or place used for the sale of butcher's meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables which may be therein; and in case any animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables appear to be intended for the food of man and to be unfit for such food, may seize the same; and if it appear to a Magistrate, upon the evidence of a competent person, that such animal, carcase, meat, poultry, game, flesh, fish, or vegetables is unfit for the food of man, he shall order the same to be destroyed or to be so disposed of as to prevent its being exposed for sale or used for such food, and the owner thereof, or the person in whose possession the same is found, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Suspension or revocation of license, &c.

CLXXXII. The Magistrate, before whom any person is convicted of an offence contrary to the provisions of this Act relating to slaughter-houses, or of the non-observance of any of the bye-laws relating thereto made by virtue of this Act, in addition to the penalty imposed on such person under the authority of this Act, may suspend, for any period not exceeding two months, the license granted to such person under this Act; or in case such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid for any period not exceeding two months the slaughtering of cattle therein; and the Magistrate, upon the conviction of any person for a second or other subsequent like offence, in addition to the penalty imposed under the authority of this Act, may declare the license granted under this Act revoked, or if such person be the owner or occupier of any registered slaughter-house, may forbid absolutely the slaughtering of cattle therein.

Penalty for using slaughter-houses during suspension or revocation of license.

CLXXXIII. Whoever, during the period for which any such license is suspended or after the same is revoked as aforesaid, slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered in the slaughter-house to which such license relates, and whoever, during the period that the slaughtering of cattle in any such registered slaughter-house is forbidden as aforesaid, or after such slaughtering has been absolutely forbidden therein slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered, in any such registered slaughter house, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

Offensive and dangerous trades existing within certain limits to be registered.

CLXXXIV. Within the parts of the Town of Calcutta (if any) which may be specially prescribed by the Government of Bengal for the purpose, the owner or occupier of every place used at the time of the passing of this Act for any of the following purposes, namely, for melting tallow—or for boiling offal or blood—or as a soap house—oil-boiling house—dyeing house—tannery—brick, pottery, or lime, kiln—sago manufactory—or other manufactory or place of business from which offensive or unwholesome smells arise—or as a yard or depot for hay, straw, wood, or coal—shall, within three months after this Act comes into operation, register the same at the Office of the Justices in a book to be kept by them for that purpose, and whoever, after the expiration of the said three months and after eight days' notice from the Justices, uses any such place without the same being registered, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees for every day during which the offence is continued.

Penalty for establishing such trades without license.

CLXXXV. No place shall be newly used within the prescribed limits for any of the purposes mentioned in the last preceding Section, except under a license from the Justices, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time, to grant such licenses; and whoever, without a license, uses any such place for such purpose, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees, and a penalty not exceeding fifty Rupees for every day after the conviction for such offence during which the said offence is continued.

Justices to make rules for licensing, registering, &c., such business places.

CLXXXVI. The Justices may, in the manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection of every place within the prescribed limits used for any of the purposes mentioned in Section CLXXXIV, and for the management and conduct of such business, whether the same be newly established or not, in such manner as they may think necessary and proper, in order to prevent or diminish the noxious or injurious or offensive effect thereof.

The Justices may order existing slaughter-houses to be discontinued.

CLXXXVII. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Justices that any place registered or licensed under Sections CLXXV, CLXXVI, CLXXXIV, or CLXXXV of this Act is a nuisance to the neighbourhood, they may give notice to the occupier to discontinue the use of such place within one month; and whoever, after the expiration of that time, uses such place or permits it to be used in such a manner as to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees for every day during which it shall be so used.

Burial and Burning grounds to be registered.

CLXXXVIII. The Justices may, if they think fit, cause a survey and measurement to be made of every burial ground and every place used as such; and every such place and every burning ground existing at the time of the passing of this Act shall, within one month after this Act shall come into operation, be registered by the owner or the person having the control thereof, or, if there be no owner or person authorized to control the same, by order of the Justices in a book to be kept by them for that purpose; and whoever, after the expiration of the said time, knowingly buries or burns, or causes, procures, or suffers to be buried or burned, any corpse in any ground other than such registered burial or burning ground, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

No vault or burial or burning place henceforth to be constructed without leave of the Justices.

CLXXXIX. No vault or grave shall be made within the walls of, or underneath, any church or chapel or other place of public worship built after the passing of this Act, and no burial or burning ground, whether public or private, shall be opened, made, or formed after the passing of this Act, otherwise than by or under the authority of the Government of Bengal, without a license describing the extent and boundaries thereof first obtained from the Justices, who are hereby empowered, at their discretion, from time to time to grant such licenses; and whoever shall bury or burn, or cause, permit, or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpse in any vault, grave, or burial or burning ground opened, made, or formed without such license or contrary to the terms thereof, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

Justices to issue certificates prohibiting improper burial places.

CXC. If, upon the evidence of competent persons, the Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, shall certify, in manner hereinafter provided, that any burial ground or place of burial, or any place used for the burning of corpses is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof, or that any church or other place of public worship is dangerous to the health of persons frequenting the same, by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of or underneath the same, or in any churchyard or burial-ground adjacent thereto, and shall also certify that a fitting place for interment or burning (as the case may be) exists within a convenient distance, and is available, it shall not be lawful, after a time (not less than two months) to be named in such certificate, to bury or burn, or permit or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpses in, upon, within, or under the ground, church, or place of worship to which the certificate relates, except in so far as may be allowed by such certificate; and whoever, after due publication of such certificate as hereinafter provided, buries or burns, or causes, permits, or suffers to be buried or burned any corpse contrary to this enactment shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees. Provided always that every such certific te shall be published in the Government Gazette, and that a translation thereof in Bengalee shall, in the case of a burial or burning ground, be affixed conspicuously on some part of the said ground.

Proviso.

Justices may, in certain cases, permit interment in churches, &c.

CXCI. Notwithstanding any such certificate as in the preceding Section mentioned, where by usage or otherwise there is at the time of the passing of this Act, any right of interment in or under any church or chapel, or in any vault of such church or chapel, or of any church-yard, burial-ground, or place of burial affected by such certificate, or where any exclusive right of interment, or any exclusive right to ground for the purpose of interment has been purchased or acquired before the passing of this Act, it shall be lawful for the Justices if, on application made to them, they are satisfied that the exercise of such right or the use of such ground will not be injurious to health, to grant a license for such exercise or use during such time and subject to such conditions and restrictions as they may think fit.

Justices may provide places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

CXCII. The Justices may, from time to time, out of the funds available for the purposes of this Act, with the consent of the Government of Bengal, provide fitting places to be used as burial or burning grounds.

Justices to make bye-laws for regulation of burial and burning grounds.

CXCIII. The Justices may, in manner hereinafter provided, make bye-laws for the inspection and regulation of burial and burning grounds, and may thereby prescribe rules as to the depth of graves and places of interment, and generally as to all matters connected with the good order of burial and burning grounds, due regard being had to the religious usages of the several classes of the community.

Power to enter upon lands for the purposes of this Act.

CXCIV. The Justices shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power by themselves or their Officers, between sunrise and sunset, to enter into and upon any building or land, as well for the purpose of making any survey or inspection which they may be entitled to make, as for the purpose of executing any work authorized by this Act to be executed by them, without being liable to any legal proceedings or molestation whatsoever on account of such entry or of any thing done in any part of such building or land in pursuance of this Act.

Proviso.

Provided that, except when herein otherwise provided, the Justices or their Officers shall not enter upon any building or land which they may be occupied at the time unless with the consent of the occupier thereof without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours notice of his or their intention to do so.

Power to Justices to enter on lands adjacent to works.

CXCV. The Justices or their Officers or Servants may enter upon the land of any person adjoining to or being within the distance of one hundred yards of any works by this Act authorized to be made for the purpose of depositing upon such land any soil, gravel, sand, lime, brick, stone, or other materials, or for any other purposes connected with the formation of the said works, without making any previous payment, tender, or deposit, doing as little damage as may be in the exercise of the several powers hereby granted to them, and making compensation for such temporary occupation or temporary damage of the said land to the owner and occupier thereof from time to time, and as often as any such temporary occupation shall be taken or such temporary damage done, and making compensation to the owner also for the permanent injury (if any) to such land; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses. Provided that, before the Justices make any such temporary use as aforesaid of the land adjoining or lying near to the said works, they shall give fourteen days' notice of such their intention to the owners and occupiers of such land, and shall set apart by sufficient fences so much of the land as shall be required to be used as aforesaid from the other land adjoining thereto.

Proviso.

Penalty for obstructing Justices in their duty.

CXCVI. Whoever at any time obstructs or molests any resident Justice, or the Justices or their Officers or workmen, or any person employed by them or with whom they may have contracted under the provisions of this Act in the performance and execution of their or his duty, or of any thing which they are respectively empowered or required to do by virtue or in consequence of this Act; or removes any mark set up for the purpose of indicating any level or direction necessary to the execution of works authorized by this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred Rupees, or, in the discretion of the Magistrate before whom he is convicted, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months.

Penalty for giving false statement or answer.

CXCVII. Every person who wilfully gives verbally or in writing a false statement of, or neglects or refuses to give, such returns and answers as under this Act may be lawfully required of him shall, on conviction of such offence before a Justice of the Peace, be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred Rupees, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

Powers to be exercised by the Justices when constructing drains and aqueducts without the local limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court.

CXCVIII. For the purposes of constructing aqueducts for bringing water into the Town of Calcutta from any place without the limits of the local jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature or for the purpose of making sewers or drains to communicate with or empty themselves into any public sewer, lake, stream, canal, or water-course without the said limits, it shall be lawful, whenever a plan for any such aqueduct, sewer, or drain shall have been approved by the Government of Bengal, for the Justices and their Officers, with such assistants as they may require, to exercise in the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain throughout the line or country through which the said aqueduct, sewer, of drain is to run, all the powers which by this Act it is lawful for them to exercise within the said local limits, and which may be necessary for the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain without being subject to any action or molestation whatever for so doing; and it shall also be lawful for any Magistrate of any district through which the said aqueduct, sewer, or drain is to run, to exercise in respect thereof the like powers and jurisdiction within the limits of his own district, as it is by this Act lawful for a Magistrate or two Magistrates (as the case may be) of the said Town of Calcutta to exercise in respect of any work to be executed by the Justices within the said local limits.

Justices empowered to make bye-laws.

CXCIX. The Justices may, from time to time, make such bye-laws as they think fit for the several purposes for which bye-laws are hereinbefore authorized to be made by them, and may, from time to time, repeal, alter, or amend any such bye-laws; provided such bye-laws be not repugnant to law or to the provisions of this Act; and for any breach of any of such bye-laws, the offender shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty Rupees, and, in case of a continuing offence, to a further penalty not exceeding ten Rupees for every day, after notice of the offence from the Justices, during which such offence is continued.

Bye-laws to be confirmed.

CC. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall have effect until the same is confirmed by the Government of Bengal.

Notice of confirmation.

CCI. No bye-law, or alteration of a bye-law, shall be confirmed until the same has been published in the Government Gazette or in one of the public newspapers at least seven times, nor till the space of one month has elapsed since the date of the first publication, during which period a copy of such proposed bye-law shall be kept at the Office of the Justices; and all persons may, at any time between 10 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, inspect such copy without fee or reward.

Publication of bye-laws.

CCII. Such bye-laws, when confirmed, shall be published in the Government Gazette and in one or more of the public newspapers, and a copy thereof, in English and in Bengalee, shall be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the Justices.

Bye-laws to be judicially noticed.

CCIII. All Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of such bye-laws when the same shall have been confirmed and published as aforesaid.

Publication of penalties.

CCIV. The Justices shall publish short particulars of the several offences for which any penalty is imposed by this Act, or by any bye-law made under this Act, and of the amount of every such penalty, and shall cause such particulars, in English, Bengalee, and Oordoo, to be painted or placed on boards, which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the Office of the Justices.

Power to Justices to make contracts.

CCV. The Justices may enter into contracts with any persons for the execution of any works directed or authorized by this Act to be done by the Justices, or for any other things necessary for the purposes of this Act.

Justices may direct prosecutions.

CCVI. The Justices may direct any prosecution for any public nuisance whatsoever, and may order proceedings to be taken for the recovery of any penalties and for the punishment of any persons offending against the provisions of this Act, and may order the expenses of such prosecution or other proceedings to be paid out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act. But nothing in this Section shall be held to hinder any person from prosecuting any other person for any nuisance.

Act not to affect nuisances at common law.

CCVII. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to render lawful any act or omission on the part of any person which is, or but for this Act would be deemed to be a nuisance at common law, nor to exempt any person guilty of a nuisance at common law from prosecution or action in respect thereof.

No action to be brought against Justices or their Officers until after one month's notice of cause of action.

CCVIII. No action shall be brought against the Justices, or any of their Officers, or any person acting under the direction of the Justices, for any thing done or intended to be done under the powers of this Act, until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered or left at the Office of the Justices, or at the place of abode of such person, explicitly stating the cause of action and the name and place of abode of the intended plaintiff, and of his attorney or agent in the cause; and upon the trial of any such action, the plaintiff shall not be permitted to go into evidence of any cause of action except such as is stated in the notice so delivered, and unless such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant; and every such action shall be commenced within three months next after the accrual of the cause of action, and not afterwards; and if any person to whom any such notice of action is given shall, before action brought, tender sufficient amends to the plaintiff, such plaintiff shall not recover in any such action when brought; and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending, at any time before issued joined, to pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

Power to make compensation out of funds.

CCIX. The Justices may make compensation, out of the funds applicable to the purposes of this Act, to all persons sustaining any damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested in the Justices, their Officers, or servants, under and by virtue of this Act.

Mode of ascertaining compensation for land, &c.

CCX. When there is any hinderance to the acquisition by purchase of any land or building required for the purposes of this Act, the Government of Bengal, upon the representation of the Justices and after such inquiry as may be thought proper, may declare that the land or building is needed for a public purpose, and may order proceedings for obtaining possession of the same for Government, and for determining the compensation to be paid to the parties interested, according to any laws now or hereafter to be in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes. And the Government of Bengal may vest such land or building in the Justices on their paying the compensation awarded.

Power to sell lands.

CCXI. The Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, may sell any lands vested in them by virtue of this Act, or acquired by them for the purposes thereof, either together or in parcels as they may find most convenient and advantageous, and the proceeds of such sale shall be applied to the purposes of this Act: and for carrying such sale into effect, the Justices may execute a conveyance of the lands sold to the purchaser, and such conveyance shall be under the common seal of the Justices.

Power to sell old roads.

CCXII. Whenever any street or road hereby vested in the Justices shall be discontinued and stopped up under the provisions of Section XCII of this Act, the Justices, with the sanction of the Government of Bengal, may sell the land or such part thereof as shall not be required for the purposes of the Act.

Fees for licenses.

CCXIII. When any license is granted under the provisions of Sections CXLVII, CLXXVI, or CLXXXV of this Act, authorising the use of any place for any of the purposes therein described, and when permission is given under Section CIV for making any temporary erection, or under Section CXX for puting up any projection, the Justices may charge a fee for such license or permission; and the rates of the fees to be so charged shall be from time to time adjusted by the Justices with the sanction of the Government, provided that no such fee shall exceed the sum of one hundred Rupees. When permission or license is given for the temporary occupation of any ground belonging to the Justices under the provisions of Section CLXXI or Section CLXXIII, the Justices may charge rent for such ground, according to the time the occupation may continue, at such rates as may from time to time be sanctioned by the Government of Bengal.

Damages and expense how to be determined.

CCXIV. In all cases where any damages, costs, or expenses are by this Act directed to be paid, the amount of the same, in case of dispute, shall be ascertained and determined by two Magistrates.

CCXV. In any case referred to the determination of two Magistrates under this Act, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate, upon the application of either party, to summon the other party to appear before any two Magistrates at a time and place to be named in such summons; and every such summons shall be served by delivering the original or a copy thereof to the person summoned, or by leaving the same at his usual place of abode with some adult male member or servant of his family. Upon the appearance of the parties, or in the absence of any of them, upon proof of due service of the summons, it shall be lawful for such Magistrates to hear and determine such question, and for that purpose to examine such parties or any of them and their witnesses on oath; and the cost of every such enquiry shall be in the discretion of such Magistrates, and they shall determine the amount thereof. Provided that, in the event of a difference of opinion between such Magistrates, the case shall be referred to the determination of a third Magistrate or (if there be no such Magistrate) of any Justice of the Peace to be selected by them.

Method of proceeding before Magistrates in questions of damages, &c.

Proviso.

CCXVI. If the amount of damages, costs, or expenses ascertained in the manner above described be not paid by the party liable to pay the same within seven days after demand, such amount may be recovered under a warrant from the said Magistrates or either of them by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of such party; and the overplus arising from the sale thereof, after satisfying such amount and the costs of the distress and sale, shall be returned on demand to the party whose goods shall have been distrained.

Recovery of damages by distress.

CCXVII. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of any expenses, charges, or damages awarded under the provisions of this Act, the Justices may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Justices may sue in competent Court, instead or on failure of distress.

CCXVIII. Every prosecution under this Act may be instituted before any single person having the powers of a Magistrate, unless where otherwise provided; and every fine or penalty, imposed under or by virtue of this Act or any bye-law made in pursuance thereof, may be recovered by summary proceeding before a Magistrate upon information exhibited by order of the Justices.

Recovery of fines and penalties.

CCXIX. The Magistrate, by whom any fine or penalty is imposed by virtue of this Act, may award any portion, not being more than one-half thereof, to the informer, and shall order the remainder—or, if he make no award to the informer, the whole of such fine or penalty,—to be paid to the Justices, to be by them applied to the purposes of this Act.

How fines and penalties are to be applied.

CCXX. No person shall be liable to any fine or penalty under this Act, for any offence made cognizable before a Magistrate, unless the complaint respecting such offence shall have been made before a Magistrate within two months next after the commission of such offence.

No person liable to fine or penalty unless complaint made within two months after offence committed.

CCXXI. If through any act, neglect, or default, on account whereof any person shall have incurred any penalty imposed by this Act, any damage to the property of the Justices shall have been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage, as well as to pay such penalty; and the amount of such damage shall, in case of dispute, be determined by the Magistrate by whom the party incurring such penalty shall have been convicted; and on non-payment of such damage on demand, the same shall be levied by distress, and such Magistrate shall issue his warrant accordingly.

Damage to the Justices' property to be made good in addition to penalty.

CCXXII. It shall be the duty of all Police Officers to give immediate information to the Justices of any offence committed contrary to the provisions of this Act. Any Police Officer may arrest any person committing in his view any offence against any of the provisions of this Act, if the name and address of such person be unknown to him, or if such person decline to give his name and address, or if the Police Officer in question shall have reason to doubt the accuracy of such name and address, if given; and such person may be detained at the Station House until his name and address shall be correctly ascertained.

Police Officers to report offences to Justices and to arrest unknown offenders.

CCXXIII. If the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall have determined that any portion of the environs of the Town of Calcutta shall be included in the system of sewerage and drainage authorized by this Act, and if the said Lieutenant-Governor shall have declared the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazettee, then Sections CXXIX to CXLV, both inclusive, of this Act shall have effect within the boundaries so declared; and all penalties, expenses, and compensation, which under the said Sections, and by the provisions of this Act, may be adjudged and determined by a Magistrate or by two Magistrates acting in and for the Town of Calcutta, may be adjudged and determined within such boundaries by the Magistrate having jurisdiction therein.

Certain provisions of Act extended.

CCXXIV. Whenever the Justices shall have incurred any expenses in the execution of any of the works which, under Sections CIX, CXXXVI, and CXXXVIII of this Act, the owners of any premises, houses, or buildings are required to execute, the Justices may either recover the amount of such expenses in the manner therein provided, or, if they think fit, may take engagements from the said owners for the quarterly payment of such sums as will be sufficient to defray the whole amount of the said expenses, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum, within a period not exceeding five years, and such sums, when due, may be recovered by the same process by which rates may be recovered under this Act.

Recovery of expenses on account of improvements to private property.

CCXXV. This Act shall commence and take effect on and from the first day of May 1863.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

ON the withdrawal of the Municipal Bills which had been referred to a Select Committee of the Council last year, Government undertook to introduce a measure of a more practical nature and better suited to the state of affairs existing in the Town of Calcutta. The result has been this Bill, which has been framed with the object of entrusting Justices of the Peace, selected by Government from amongst the rate-payers, with a control over the Municipal government of the Town, and at the same time providing that the work of the Municipality shall not be liable to interruption or delay from any omission on their part to attend to their duties. It is proposed to vest the general administrative control of Municipal expenditure in a considerable body, trusting the execution in detail of all sanctioned works to one well paid Officer, who shall devote his whole time and energy to the work. This is to be effected by making all Justices of the Peace resident in the Town of Calcutta a body corporate. It is proposed that Government shall nominate to the office of Chairman of the Justices an energetic and experienced Officer, who must himself be a resident Justice. At the close of each official year, the Chairman will submit to a meeting of the Justices a Budget of the expenditure which he proposes for the ensuing year, and the rates and taxes which he desires to impose for the purpose of meeting this expenditure. The Justices will pass, modify, or otherwise alter, either the amount which it is proposed to expend, or the details of expenditure. They will then determine the amount of rates to be levied within the limits fixed by the Legislature. When the Budget has been passed by the Justices and has received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, it will be left to the Chairman to carry out the sanctioned works.

To assist the Chairman, to whom it is proposed to assign a salary not exceeding 3,000 Rupees per mensem (exclusive of house-rent,) there will be a Vice-Chairman, receiving a salary not exceeding 1,200 Rupees per mensem, who will preside at the meetings of the Justices during the unavoidable absence of the Chairman. The Chairman is to have the power of calling meetings of the Justices, in addition to those which the Bill directs to be held Quarterly, whenever he may desire to lay before them, any questions of importance, and any five Justices, exclusive of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, will form a quorum. Any ten Justices may at any time submit to the Chairman a requisition for a Meeting of the Justices, to consider any matter connected with the Municipality, and the Chairman will then be bound to call a Meeting. The Chairman will be removable on a requisition to Government signed by two-thirds of the Justices resident in Calcutta. The Vice-Chairman is to be appointed by the Justices subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor, and may be removed by a Resolution of two-thirds of the Justices. The Chairman will be assisted by an efficient professional staff, consisting of a Secretary, Engineer, Surveyor, Health Officer, and Assessor, to be appointed and removed by the Justices. All other Officers are to be appointed and removed on the responsibility of the Chairman, but where the salary exceeds 200 Rupees, the confirmation of the Justices will be necessary. The Justices may appoint special Committees to report, or to advise the Chairman, in regard to particular works.

Provision has been made for taking a periodical census of the population, and for establishing a system of registration of births and deaths. The Bill also empowers the Lieutenant-Governor, should he see fit so to do, to place the Police Administration under the Chairman of the Justices.

The present Municipal revenue amounts to somewhat less than eleven lakhs of Rupees, including the one per cent income tax,—a sum which it is admitted is totally inadequate to the requirements of the Town.

Provision has been made for a moderate license tax on all shops, stalls, and pedlars. The great majority of the lower classes literally contribute nothing directly or indirectly to the town revenues, and it is very desirable to reach them by some such measure as a Municipal shop-tax of a few Rupees per annum.

As regards the house-rate, it is proposed to raise it to ten per cent, and at the option of the Justices to substitute a fixed tax for native houses, calculated on the space they occupy. The assessment is made triennial, instead of annual.

It is found that the horse and carriage tax is evaded to an enormous extent, and it is proposed to remedy this by making the payment of the tax compulsory on a certain day by means of registry and license, and in default of such registry and license within a certain date, a penalty of five times the duty is to be imposed.

Though these additional taxes are provided for, it may not be necessary that they should be all imposed at once: a discretion has therefore been left to the Justices in this respect.

Advantage has been taken of the opportunity to consolidate the whole law relating to the Municipality of Calcutta. Acts XIV, XXV, and XXVIII of 1856 have been repealed, but all their more important provisions, with some amendments and improvements which have from time to time been suggested, have been embodied in this Bill.

GENERAL ORDER BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Camp Sihanee, the 5th March 1863.

No. 11A. of 1863.—The following copy of an Order in Council, dated 9th January 1863, promulgated in the London Gazette of the 13th January last, and received with Military Letter from the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for India No. 55, dated 31st January 1863, is published for general information :—

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January 1863.

PRESENT :

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas by an Order in Council, dated at Windsor, the thirtieth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two (reciting certain provisions of an Act passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "an Act to prevent the enlisting "or engagement of Her Majesty's subjects to "serve in Foreign Service, and the fitting out or "equipping in Her Majesty's dominions vessels for "warlike purposes, without Her Majesty's "license," Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, being desirous of enabling Her subjects to engage in and enter the Naval and Military Service of the Emperor of China, was pleased to order, and it was thereby ordered that from and after the first day of September then next it should be lawful for Horatio Nelson Lay, one of Her Majesty's subjects, and Sherard Osborn, a Captain in Her Majesty's Navy, to enter into the Military and Naval Service of the said Emperor, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for their services, and to fit out, equip, purchase, and acquire ships or vessels of war for the use of the said Emperor, and to engage and enlist British subjects to enter the Military and Naval Service of the said Emperor. And it was thereby further ordered that it should be lawful for every British subject to enlist and enter himself, by engaging and enlisting himself with the said Horatio Nelson Lay and Sherard Osborn, and no other person or persons whatsoever, in the Military and Naval Service of the said Emperor, and to serve the said Emperor in any Military, warlike, or other operations, either by land or by sea, and for that purpose to go to any place or places beyond the seas, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment from or under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for his service. Provided always, that the license and permission thereby given should be in force only for the term of two years from the said first day of September then next, unless, by order in Council, made in manner aforesaid, such period should be further extended.

And whereas Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is desirous of extending and enlarging the permission and license contained in the said Order in Council,

Her Majesty is therefore pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered that from and after the sixteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two it shall be lawful for all Military Officers in Her Majesty's Service to enter into the Military Service of the said Emperor and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for their services.

And it is hereby ordered that it shall be lawful for all Officers in Her Majesty's Military Service to serve the said Emperor in any Military, warlike, or other operations, and for that purpose to go to any place or places beyond the seas, and to accept any commission, warrant, or other appointment from or under the said Emperor, and to accept any money, pay, or reward for their services. Provided always, that the license and permission hereby given shall be in force only until the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, unless, by order in Council, made in manner aforesaid, such period should be further extended.

Separate Revenue (Assessed Taxes) Department.—No. 40A.—Allahabad, the 6th March 1863.—The following Resolution by the Hon'ble President in Council is published for general information:—

No. 506G.—Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Financial Department, dated 19*th February* 1863.

Read again Financial Resolution, No. 157G. of the 9th August 1862, regarding the levy of Income Tax on salaries of Officers serving in Foreign States.

Read also the Returns submitted in compliance with the requisition contained in the above Resolution.

Resolution.—Several questions having arisen as to the proper construction to be put upon Section I., Act XXXIX. of 1860, the Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased, after careful consideration, to rule as follows:—

Against British subjects in Foreign Territory not employed in the service of Her Majesty it is not the intention of the Government of India to press the demand for Income Tax, and the public servants of a Foreign State employed in Foreign Territory are clearly exempt from the incidence of the tax. Only the servants of the British Crown are to be considered as public servants within the meaning of the Section under review. All the members of the last class are taxable without reference to the question whether or not the funds for the payment of their salaries are provided by a Native State.

This ruling cancels all previous orders on the subject, and specially those noted in the margin. But arrears of the tax will not be demanded from those Officers who, under any of the orders hereby superseded, may hitherto have been exempted from the operation of the law.

LEGISLATIVE.

THE following Acts of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XIV. OF 1863.

An Act to amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal).

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) so far as it relates to the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and to authorize the extension of the Act to places to which its provisions do not now apply; It is enacted as follows:—

Suits cognizable by Collectors in addition to those specified in Sections XXIII and XXIV of Act X of 1859.

I. In addition to the suits specified in Sections XXIII and XXIV of Act X of 1859, the following suits shall be cognizable by the Collectors of Land Revenue under the provisions of the said Act, and, except in the way of appeal as provided in the said Act, shall not be cognizable in any other Court or by any other Officer or in any other manner (that is to say):—

1*st*.—Suits by Lumberdars for arrears of Government revenue payable through them by the co-sharers whom they represent.

2*nd*.—Suits by co-sharers for their share of the profits of an estate or any part thereof after payment of the Government revenue and village expenses, or for a settlement of accounts.

3*rd*.—Suits by Mauafeedars or assignees of Government revenue for arrears of revenue owing to them as such Mauafeedars or assignees.

4*th*.—Suits by Talookdars and other superior proprietors for arrears of revenue or otherwise (not being rent claimable under Section XXIII of the said Act X of 1859) due to them as such Talookdars or other superior proprietors.

Limitation of suits under preceding Section.

II. Suits instituted under the preceding Section shall be instituted within three years from the date when the arrear or the amount of profits claimed shall have become due, or if the suit be for an arrear, or for profits due at the time of the passing of this Act, it shall be instituted within three years after the passing of this Act, or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire. If the suit be for a settlement of accounts, the suit shall be brought within one year after the expiration of the year to which the accounts relate, or in the case of any claim for such settlement now existing, within one year from the time of the passing of this Act, or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire.

Additional ground for claim to abatement of rent.

III. In addition to the grounds mentioned in Section XVIII of the said Act X of 1859, upon which a ryot, having a right of occupancy, can claim an abatement of the rent previously paid by him, every such ryot may claim abatement on the ground that the rate of rent paid by him is above the prevailing rate payable by the same class of ryots for land of a similar description, and with similar advantages, in the places adjacent.

Addition to Clause 2, Section XXIII of Act X of 1859.

IV. Clause 2 of Section XXIII of the said Act X of 1859 shall be read as if the words "or by any other means not warranted by law" were added thereto.

Repeal and re-enactment of Sections XXXIV and LXXXVI of Act X of 1859.

V. From the date of the passing of this Act Sections XXXIV and LXXXVI of the said Act X of 1859 shall cease to have effect in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and shall not come into force in any place to which this Act shall be extended as hereinafter provided, and the following Sections are enacted in lieu thereof:—

Procedure in the institution of suits under this Act.

"Section XXXIV. Suits under this Act shall be instituted by presenting to the Collector a plaint or statement of claim, which shall contain the name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff, the name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained, the substance and value of the claim, estimated according to any law for the time being in force for the valuation of suits, and the date of the cause of action."

Issue of process of Execution.

"Section LXXXVI. Process of execution may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment debtor, but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. Such process may be issued on the oral application of the judgment creditor, his agent, or mookhtar, made at the time the decree is passed, or thereafter upon the written application of the judgment creditor, his agent, or mookhtar. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in form E or F contained in the Schedule to the said Act X of 1859, or to the like effect."

Certain provisions of Civil Procedure Code applicable to decrees in rent suits.

VI. The provisions of Section 243 and 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be applicable to decrees passed in suits under the said Act X of 1859, or this Act, in which the Collector shall award a sum of money on account either of an arrear of Government revenue, or of profits, or otherwise.

Revision and appeal.

Orders passed by a Collector under either of the said Sections shall be subject to revision by the Commissioner of the Division and the Sudder Board of Revenue, but shall not be open to appeal to the Civil Court.

Addition to Section CXII of Act X of 1859.

VII. Section CXII of the said Act X of 1859 shall be read as if the words "or where the rent of a puttee is not collected by a Lumberdar, through the putteedar who is entitled to collect the rent" were added at the end of such Section.

Local Government may invest Settlement Officers with certain powers.

VIII. The local Government may invest any Officer employed in making or revising settlements of the land revenue, with the powers of a Collector as described in the said Act X of 1859, for the decision of suits arising within the local limits of the jurisdiction assigned to such Officer, of the nature mentioned in Section XXIII of the said Act, or in this Act, while such Officer is so employed.

Matters cognizable by such Settlement Officers.

IX. In the exercise of the powers given under the last preceding Section, the Officer so invested shall have power to determine all disputes existing between Zemindars, Talookdars or other Sudder Malgoozars, or Farmers of land, or any person duly authorized on their behalf, and any dependent Zemindar, ryot or other under-tenant of whatever denomination, regarding the rates of rent payable by such dependent Zemindar, under-tenant, ryot, or other tenant.

Rule as to suits for enhancement of rent.

X. If a suit for enhancement of rent be brought before any Officer empowered under Section VIII of this Act to hear the same, such suit shall be heard and determined by such Officer notwithstanding that no notice of enhancement shall have been served under Section XIII of the said Act X of 1859 on the party from whom such enhanced rent is claimed. In such case the statement of claim shall set forth the grounds on which such enhancement of rent is claimed. If a decree be passed in favor of the claimant, such decree shall have effect only from the commencement of the next agricultural year after the date of the decree.

Provision for suits by or against ryots collectively.

XI. Whenever a claim to enhancement or abatement of rent against or by any number of ryots is brought before an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements, and empowered under Section VIII of this Act to hear such claim, such ryots may be sued or may sue collectively, and it shall be no ground for dismissing or refusing to hear the claim that such ryots are wrongly joined as plaintiffs or defendants, Provided all such ryots cultivate in the same Estate, but no decree shall be passed in any such case in which an enhancement of rent is claimed, unless such Officer as aforesaid shall be satisfied that every ryot has had an opportunity to appear and make objection to the claim preferred against him. Provided also that every decree passed in any such case shall specify the extent to which each of the ryots named in the decree shall be affected thereby.

Decisions liable to appeal.

XII. All decisions passed under the foregoing Sections by an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements, and invested as above, shall be open to the same appeal as is given by the said Act X of 1859 in respect to decisions passed by a Collector in suits of the same description.

Proviso as to former decisions.

Provided that no decree passed in any such suit by an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements before the passing of this Act, shall be open to question solely on the ground of want of jurisdiction in the Officer who passed such decree, or of any error, defect, or irregularity in procedure not productive of injury to either party, but an appeal shall lie against such decree in like manner as if the suit had been decided under this Act.

Commutation of rents in kind to fixed money payments.

XIII. In all cases in which rents have heretofore been paid in kind, or by the estimated value of a portion of the crop, it shall be lawful for an Officer employed in making or revising the settlement of the land revenue, on the application either of the payer or the receiver of the rent, to commute such rent into a fixed money payment. The rate or amount of rent thus fixed shall be binding upon the parties concerned, subject to the provisions of the said Act X of 1859. All decisions already passed by any such Officer, commuting rents in kind, or by valuation, to fixed rents in money shall, subject to the same appeal as is given by the said Act X of 1859 in respect to decisions passed by a Collector in suits under the said Act, be legal and binding.

Arbitration Chapter of Civil Procedure Code made applicable.

XIV. The provisions of Chapter VI. (relative to arbitration) of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits under the said Act X of 1859, and under this Act.

Provision for collection of water rate.

XV. In any District through which any canal passes, in respect of which any water rate is payable to Government, it shall be lawful for the local Government to appoint any proprietor or farmer of an estate through which such canal passes in such District, with the consent of such proprietor or farmer, to be a lumberdar for the collection of such water rate in such estate, and thereupon the amount annually payable on account of such water rate by the dependent Zemindars, ryots, and other under-tenants in such estate shall (subject to such abatement on account of commission or otherwise as shall be allowed by the local Government to such lumberdar), be held to be a charge on the estate of such proprietor, or farmer, and shall be added to the assessment payable to Government in respect of such estate, and the amount thereof shall be recoverable in like manner as the assessment on such estate, and for the purpose of collecting such water rate from the dependent Zemindars, ryots, and other tenants in such estate liable thereto, such lumberdar shall have the like powers, and shall be subject to the same rules as are provided in any law for the time being in force in respect of the collection of the rent of land.

Rule as to person arrested under Section CXLV of Act X of 1859.

XVI. If any person shall be arrested under Section CXLV of the said Act X of 1859, he shall be brought before the Collector with all convenient speed, and the Collector shall proceed forthwith to try the case. If the case cannot be at once heard and determined, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the party arrested to give security for his person whenever the same may be required. In default of such security, the party arrested may be committed to the Civil Jail until the case is tried.

Special appeal from decisions of Zillah Judge under Act X of 1859.

XVII. Doubts having been entertained as to whether the decisions passed by a Zillah Judge in regular appeal under the said Act X of 1859 are open to special appeal, it is hereby declared that it was the intention of the said Act that such decisions should be open to special appeal to the Sudder Court in the same manner, and subject to the same rules, as the decisions of Zillah Judges passed in regular appeal are open to special appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Construction of Act.

XVIII. This Act shall be read and taken, in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and in all places to which this Act shall be extended under the next following Section, as part of the said Act X of 1859.

Power to extend the Act.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council to extend the provisions of Act X of 1859 as amended by this Act to any Territories immediately administered by the Government of India, or for the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and of the Punjab, respectively, to extend the said Act amended as above to any part of the Territories under their respective Governments, in which the said Act X of 1859 is not now in force. Whenever the said Act amended as above shall be so extended, the Governor-General of India in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor who shall so extend the same, shall declare by what Officers in the said Territories or any parts thereof, to which the said Act X of 1859 amended as above shall be extended, the powers given by the said Act shall be exercised, and such Officers shall thereupon be authorized to exercise such powers.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XV OF 1863.

An Act to amend Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the provisions of Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) in so far as the said Act relates to agreements with Natives of India; to vessels trading from the Straits Settlement to the Gulf of Siam, and the Eastern Archipelago; and to the cancelment and suspension of certificates of competency and service; It is enacted as follows :—

Certain Sections of Act I of 1859, and Act XXVIII of 1861 repealed.

I. Sections XVII, XXI, LXXXI and LXXXII of the said Act I of 1859, and Act XXVIII of 1861 (to extend the provisions of Act I of 1859 for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) are hereby repealed.

Sections IX to XVI of Act I of 1859 not to apply to ships registered under Act X of 1841 under certain circumstances.

II. Sections IX to XVI of the said Act I of 1859 shall not apply to ships registered under Act X of 1841, (for prescribing the rules to be observed, in order that ships or vessels belonging to Ports within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, or belonging to Native Princes or States, or their Subjects, may become entitled to the privileges of British ships under a proclamation of the Governor-General of India in Council, made in pursuance of the Statute 3 and 4 Victoria, Chapter 56*)*, and trading between Ports in India and the Coast of Arabia, when such ships are navigated and manned exclusively by Arabs, Lascars, or other Asiatic Masters and Seamen, or to ships of less than 200 tons burden registered under the said Act X of 1841, and trading between any Port of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca, and the Gulf of Siam, or the Eastern Archipelago, when such ships are navigated exclusively by Malays, Lascars, or other Asiatic Masters and Seamen.

Agreements with seamen and others.

III. The Master of every ship, except ships of a burden not exceeding three hundred tons employed only in the Home-trade, shall enter into an agreement with every Seaman and with every Native of India not being a Seaman whom he carries to sea from any Port in India as one of his crew, in the manner hereinafter mentioned; and every such agreement shall be in a form sanctioned by the Governor-General of India in Council, and shall be dated at the time of the first signature thereof, and shall be signed by the Master before any Seaman or other person aforesaid signs the same, and shall contain the following particulars as terms thereof; (that is to say)—

1.—The nature and, as far as practicable, the duration of the intended voyage or engagement.

2.—The number and description of the crew, specifying how many are engaged as sailors.

3.—The time at which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to be on board or to begin work.

4. The capacity in which each Seaman and Native of India not being a Seaman is to serve.

5.—The amount of wages which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to receive.

6. A scale of the provisions which are to be furnished to each Seaman and to each Native of India not being a Seaman.

7. Any regulations as to conduct on board, and as to fines, short allowance of provisions, or other lawful punishments for misconduct, which have been sanctioned by the Government as regulations proper to be adopted and which the parties agree to adopt.

And every such agreement shall be so framed as to admit of stipulations to be adopted at the will of the Master and Seaman, and each Native of India not being a Seaman, in each case (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act), as to advance of wages and supply of warm clothing, and may contain any other stipulations which are not contrary to law. Provided that, if the Master of any ship belonging to the United Kingdom or any British possession has an agreement with his crew made in due form according to the law of the place to which such ship belongs, or in which her crew were engaged, and engages single Seamen, or any Native of India not being a Seaman, in any Port in India, such Seaman or other person aforesaid may sign the agreement so made, and it shall not be necessary for such Seaman or other person aforesaid to sign an agreement under this Act. Provided also that, in the case of Lascars or other Native Seamen, and every Native of India not being a Seaman, when it shall be agreed that the service of any such Seaman or other person aforesaid shall end at any Port not in India, the agreement shall contain stipulations for providing for such Seaman or other person aforesaid fit employment on board some other vessel bound to the Port at which he was shipped, or such other Port as may be agreed on, or for providing for him a passage to some such Port as aforesaid free of charge, or on such other terms as may be agreed on; and every such stipulation shall be signed by the owner of the vessel or by the Master on his behalf.

Proviso as to forms for British or Colonial ships.

Proviso where Lascars are shipped.

IV. Every Court having Admiralty jurisdiction in India, and the principal Court of Ordinary Criminal Jurisdiction at every Port in India where there is no Court having Admiralty jurisdiction, is hereby authorized to investigate and try charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of any Master, Mate or Engineer of any ship, who shall have obtained his certificate from the Board of Trade, and to make enquiry as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships; and if on such investigation it shall appear to any such Court as aforesaid, that the loss or abandonment of, or any serious damage to, any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by the wrongful act or default of any such Master, Mate or Engineer, or that any such Master, Mate or Engineer has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny, such Court may suspend for such period as it shall think fit, or may cancel such certificate whether of competency or service of such Master, Mate or Engineer, and the Court shall report the same to the local Government, within whose limits such Court is situated. Provided that no certificate shall be cancelled or suspended unless a copy of the Report or a Statement of the case upon which the investigation is made, shall have been furnished to the owner of the certificate before the commencement of the investigation. Provided also that the Report of such Court is confirmed by the Governor or other person administering the local Government wherein such Court is held.

Court authorized to make enquiry into charges against Masters, Mates, and Engineers, and to report to local Government.

Proviso.

V. Every Court by which any investigation or trial is held under the last preceding Section shall, at the conclusion of the case, or as soon afterwards as possible, state in open Court the decision to which they may have come with respect to cancelling or suspending certificates, and shall in all cases send a full report upon the case with the evidence to the Board of Trade, and shall also, if they determine to cancel or suspend any certificate, forward such certificate to the Board of Trade with their Report.

Procedure of such Court.

VI. If the local Government, on the information of any Shipping Master, or on any other ground, has reason to believe that any Master or Mate who has obtained a certificate of competency or service from such Government, or from any other local Government, is, from incompetency or misconduct, unfit to discharge his duties, it may direct any Board or Officer at or near to the place at which it may be convenient for the parties and witnesses to attend, to institute an investigation; and thereupon such Board or Officer shall conduct the investigation into such charge of incompetency or misconduct, and shall, on the conclusion of the investigation, make a report upon the case to the local Government which ordered the investigation.

Local Government may direct investigation in cases of incompetency and misconduct.

VII. For the purpose of any such enquiry under Section IV or Section VI, the Court, Board or Officer may summon the Master, Mate or Engineer, as the case may be, to appear, and shall give him full opportunity of making a defence, either in person or otherwise, and may summon and examine witnesses, and may make such order with respect to the costs of such investigation, and may require such security for costs, as such Court, Board, or Officer may deem just. Every order in respect of costs under this Section may be enforced in like manner as a fine may be enforced by a Magistrate in the Port where such investigation is held.

Powers of Court, &c., in making enquiry.

VIII. The local Government may suspend or cancel the certificate (whether of competency or service) granted by such local Government or by any other local Government under the said Act I of 1859, to any Master or Mate in the following cases; (that is to say)—

Local Government may cancel or suspend certificates in certain cases.

Clause 1. If upon any investigation conducted under the provisions of Sections C, CI, and CII of Act I of 1859, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default.

Loss, abandonment or serious damage by default of Master or Mate.

Clause 2. If upon any investigation held under Section VI of this Act, the Master or Mate shall be reported to be incompetent, or to have been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny.

Incompetency, gross misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny of Master or Mate.

Clause 3. If upon any investigation held under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1854, or the Merchant Shipping Amendment Act 1862, or upon any investigation made by a Naval Court constituted as is provided by any law for the time being in force, or upon any investigation made by any Court or Tribunal authorized or hereafter to be authorized by the Legislative Authority in any British possession to make enquiry into charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of Masters or Mates of ships, or as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default; or that he has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny. Provided always that, in the case of any report by any such last-mentioned Court or Tribunal, the report shall have been confirmed by the Governor or person administering the Government of such possession.

Or after other investigations.

Clause 4. If he has been superseded by the order of any Admiralty Court, or of any Naval Court constituted as provided by the Merchant Shipping Act 1854, or any other law for the time being in force.

Supersession.

Clause 5. If he is shown to have been convicted of any offence.

Conviction of any offence.

IX. Every Master, Mate or Engineer whose certificate is cancelled or suspended under the provisions of this Act, shall deliver it to the Shipping Master, or to such other person as the Court or the local Government which cancelled or suspended the certificate shall direct, and in default, shall, for each offence, incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees. Provided that if the local Government which cancels or suspends a certificate of a Master or Mate is not the local Government that granted the same, the local Government which so cancels or suspends the certificate, shall report the proceedings and the fact of cancelment or suspension to the local Government which granted such certificate. Provided also that it shall be competent to any local Government at any subsequent time to grant to any person whose certificate has been cancelled a new certificate of the same or of any lower grade.

Master Mate or Engineer to deliver up his certificate. Penalty otherwise.

Proviso for report to other local Governments.

X. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the powers of removal vested by Section CCXL of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, or Section LXXX of the said Act I of 1859 in Courts having Admiralty jurisdiction in India. The said powers may be exercised by the principal Court of ordinary Criminal jurisdiction at any Port in India where there is no Court having Admiralty jurisdiction if the Master or Mate shall have received his certificate from any local Government.

Saving of powers vested in certain Admiralty Courts.

Same powers may be exercised by Chief Criminal Court in Indian Port where there is no Admiralty Court.

XI. This Act shall be read and taken as part of the said Act I of 1859.

Act to be taken as part of Act I of 1859.

M. Wylie,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information: —

Act No. XVI of 1863.

An Act to make special provision for the levy of the Excise Duty payable on Spirits used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry.

Whereas it is expedient to make special provision for the levy of the Excise Duty payable on Spirits used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Spirits intended to be used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry may be removed from any licensed Distillery in any part of British India on payment of duty calculated at 10 per cent. on the value of the Spirits, provided that no Spirits shall be so removed until they have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption.

Such spirits may be removed from Distillery on payment of Duty, on condition.

II. The Board of Revenue, or other authority specially authorized in that behalf by the local Government, shall prescribe from time to time, subject to the approval of the local Government, rules for ascertaining and determining that Spirits proposed to be removed for the purposes aforesaid have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption, as required by Section I of this Act; for causing such Spirits to be so rendered, if necessary, by its own officers at the expense of the person who wishes to remove them; and for fixing the value of the Spirit on which the ad valorem duty shall be levied.

Rules for ascertaining and determining that spirits to be removed have been rendered unfit for human consumption, &c.

III. Every person who shall wilfully contravene any rule prescribed by the Board of Revenue, or other Authority as aforesaid, under the last preceding Section of this Act, shall be liable on conviction before any Officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees for every such offence.

Penalty for breach of such rules.

IV. Every person who shall attempt, or shall connive at an attempt, to render fit for human consumption Spirits removed from a Distillery under the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand Rupees; and the possessor of such Penalty for attempting to render fit for human consumption spirits removed under this Act.

Spirits on which such attempt has been made, or which may have been rendered fit for human consumption, shall be liable on conviction before any Officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

Such penalty how to be levied.

V. Any penalty imposed under either of the last two preceding Sections may in case of non-payment be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender, by warrant under the hand of the Officer by whom such penalty was imposed.

In case of non-payment of penalty offender may be detained pending return to distress warrant.

VI. In case any such penalty shall not be forthwith paid, any such Officer may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless the offender shall give security to the satisfaction of such Officer for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress.

Imprisonment of offender in case of failure to recover penalty by distress.

VII. If upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such penalty, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such Officer by the confession of the offender or otherwise that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty could be levied if a warrant of distress were issued, any such Officer may by warrant under his hand commit the offender to the Civil Jail, there to be imprisoned, according to the discretion of such Officer, for any term not exceeding two Calendar months when the amount of penalty shall not exceed fifty Rupees, and for any term not exceeding four Calendar months when the amount shall not exceed one hundred Rupees, and for any term not exceeding six Calendar months in any other case, the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount.

Provisions of Section XI, Act III of 1852 relating to adulteration, not to apply to spirits rendered unfit for consumption under this Act.

VIII. The prohibition contained in Section XI of Act III of 1852 (to amend the law relating to spirituous and intoxicating liquors, drugs, and preparations within the Territories subordinate to the Presidency of Bombay) against mixing any noxious drug or material in, or by other process adulterating Spirits manufactured under the provisions of Regulation XXI of 1827 of the Bombay Code, or of the said Act III of 1852, shall not apply to Spirits rendered unfit for human consumption under this Act.

Confiscation in cases of conviction under Sections III or IV.

IX. In every case of conviction under Section III or Section IV of this Act the liquor or Spirits with the cask or vessel containing the same, and the cart, boat, and animal or animals employed in carrying such liquor or Spirit shall be liable to confiscation.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVII OF 1863.

An Act to authorize the extension of the term of Office of the Municipal Commissioners in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the term of Office of the Municipal Commissioners in the Straits Settlement should be extended ; It is enacted as follows :—

Section repealed. Section suspended.

I. Section XIX of Act XXVII of 1856 (for appointing Municipal Commissioners, and for levying rates and taxes in the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca), is repealed. The operation of Section XV of the said Act shall be suspended at the election of Municipal Commissioners under the said Act, to be held next after the passing of this Act.

Governor to declare for what period Commissioner appointed by him shall hold office.

II. The Governor of the Settlement shall, upon the appointment of the Commissioner whom he is empowered by the said Act XXVII of 1856 Section V to appoint, declare for what number of years, not exceeding three, such Commissioner shall hold Office.

Elected Commissioners to hold office for periods to be determined as provided.

III. The Municipal Commissioners of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, respectively, who shall be chosen at the said next election by the largest number of votes, shall hold their Office for one, two, or three years, as shall be determined in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Allotment of periods for tenure of Office, by number of votes.

IV. The Municipal Commissioner who is chosen at such next election by the largest number of votes shall hold his Office for three years ; the Municipal Commissioner who is chosen by the next largest number of votes shall hold his Office for two years, and the remaining Municipal Commissioner shall hold his Office for one year.

Allotment in case of votes for all three Commissioners being equal.

V. If at any of the said Stations the three Municipal Commissioners chosen at the said next election shall be elected by an equal number of votes, the Governor, or, in his absence from such Station, the Resident Councillor shall declare and appoint the periods of three years, two years, and one year, respectively, for which every such elected Municipal Commissioner shall hold Office.

And in case of votes for two being equal, and yet greater than for the third.

VI. If at any of the said Stations at the said next election two of the Municipal Commissioners chosen shall have an equality of votes, but such number shall be greater than the number of votes given for the third Municipal Commissioner; the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall declare and appoint the periods of three years, and two years, respectively, for which each of the said two Municipal Commissioners shall hold Office; and the other Municipal Commissioner shall hold Office for one year only.

And in case of one having a majority, and the other two an equal number.

VII. If at any of the said Stations at the said next election one of the Municipal Commissioners chosen shall have a number of votes larger than the other two Municipal Commissioners, and such other two Commissioners shall have an equality of votes, the Municipal Commissioner who shall have such larger number of votes shall hold Office for three years, and the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall declare the periods of two years, and one year, respectively, for which each of the other two Municipal Commissioners shall hold Office.

When two or more candidates have an equal number of votes, election how to be determined.

VIII. If at any of the said Stations an equal number of votes be given for any two or more candidates at the said next election, so that the Sheriff or his Deputy is not able to declare as between such persons which of them has been elected, the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall give a casting vote for one or more of such persons, and, reckoning such vote, shall declare the period for which such person or persons shall hold Office in manner provided in Section IV.

Term of tenure of Office of Commissioner appointed under Section XVI of Act XXVII of 1856.

IX. Every Commissioner appointed under Section XVI of the said Act XXVII of 1856, in consequence of a refusal to act, a failure of election, or otherwise, shall hold Office for such term as the Governor or Resident Councillor of the Station shall declare. Provided that such term shall in no case exceed three years, and shall be a term which shall conform to the terms for which the other Commissioner or Commissioners shall have been declared and appointed to hold Office under Section IV of this Act, so that the three Commissioners shall hold their Offices for three years, two years, and one year, respectively.

Proviso.

And of Commissioner appointed under Section XVII of said Act.

X. Every Commissioner appointed under the provisions of Section XVII of the said Act XXVII of 1856, in place of any Commissioner elected at the said next election, shall hold Office for the term for which the Commissioner in whose place he is appointed was entitled to hold Office.

Names and terms of Office to be published.

XI. The names of the persons elected or appointed to be Municipal Commissioners under this Act, and the terms for which such persons shall hold Office, shall be published in such manner as the Governor may direct.

Commissioners when to enter on Office. Subsequent elections limited to one. Appointments to vacancies.

XII. The Municipal Commissioners at each of the said Stations elected under the provisions of this Act shall enter upon their Office on the first day of January after their election, and shall hold Office for the periods hereinbefore provided. At every subsequent election under the said Act XXVII of 1856, one Commissioner only shall be elected. The Commissioner elected at such subsequent election shall hold Office for three years. Appointments to fill up any vacancy occasioned by the death, resignation, or refusal to act of any such Commissioner shall have effect for the period for which such Commissioner would have held Office but for such death, resignation, or refusal to act, and all the provisions of the said Act XXVII of 1856, so far as they are not affected by this Act, which relate to the election of three Commissioners at each annual election shall, so far as practicable, be construed to apply to the election of one Commissioner only.

Construction of Act.

XIII. This Act shall be read and taken as part of the said Act XXVII of 1856.

Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XVIII OF 1863.

An Act to make provision for the speedy and efficient disposal of the business now pending in the Office of the Master of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and to provide for the abolition of the Oaths now administered to Hindoos and Mahomedans in the said Court, and to amend the Code of Civil Procedure in respect of process issued out of the said Court in the exercise of its Original Civil Jurisdiction.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, at the time of the abolition of the late Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, many matters which had been referred to the Master of the said Court were pending before him, and many of them are still pending before the Master of the High Court, and it is expedient that all such matters should be wound up and determined as expeditiously as possible, and whereas it is expedient that the law concerning the administration of oaths to Hindoos and Mahomedans in such Court should be assimilated to the law concerning such oaths in Courts not established by Royal Charter; and that the Code of Civil Procedure should be amended in respect of process issued out of the said High Court in the exercise of its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. It is enacted as follows:—

Power to Master to summon parties, &c., and to settle and wind up proceedings before him.

I. In order as expeditiously as may be to wind up all the suits, matters, and things which are now pending before the Master of the said High Court of Judicature at Fort William Bengal, it shall be lawful for the Master, at any time after the passing of this Act at his own discretion, and without application on behalf of any of the parties to the suit or reference, and in such manner as he shall deem fit, to summon all or any of the parties to any suit, matter, or thing so pending, or their Solicitors, and thereupon to proceed with such suit, matter, or thing, and to give such directions and make such orders as he may think necessary for the purpose of settling and winding up the same; but any such order shall be subject to be discharged or varied by the said Court upon application made for that purpose, and the Master shall be at liberty to proceed ex-parte for the purposes aforesaid in the absence of any of the parties or their Solicitors neglecting or refusing to attend the summons, and it shall also be lawful for the Master at his discretion to proceed with the reference, and to make a special report to the Court notwithstanding the death of any of the parties to the suit or reference, or their absence from the jurisdiction of the Court, or in cases in which, after search to the satisfaction of the Master, parties are not to be found within the jurisdiction of the Court, or it is uncertain whether such parties are living or dead.

Power to Court upon Master's report or certificate, to make order for prosecution and final disposal of any suit, &c., and for payment of costs, &c.

II. In case the Master shall be unable by reason of the conduct of parties, or otherwise, to dispose finally of any suit, matter, or thing referred to or pending before him (within such time as he shall in that behalf determine), he shall be at liberty to report on or to dispose of any part thereof within his power, and to report or certify on the whole of the case; and upon such report or certificate the Court shall make such order as it shall think proper on all or any of the parties, for the further prosecution of the suit or matter, or for the final disposal thereof and for the payment of the costs thereof, including any of the costs which may have been incurred by reason of the conduct of the parties.

Neglect to bring report before the Court.

III. If within a time to be fixed by the Master in that behalf, the report or certificate of the Master shall not be brought before the Court, the Registrar shall bring such report or certificate before the Court, and the Court is hereby empowered to make such order or decree in the suit as to the Court shall seem fit.

No fresh references to Master except in suits already before him.

IV. From and after the passing of this Act no reference shall be made to the Master except in cases in which, from some previous reference made in the suit or matter, or in some other suit or matter connected therewith, the Court may think it expedient to make such reference.

All powers possessed by Master may be exercised by Judges.

V. From and after the passing of this Act all or any of the powers, authorities, and jurisdiction which at the time of the abolition of the said Supreme Court were vested in the Master in Equity, may be exercised by the High Court, or by a Judge of the said Court.

Power to Court to dismiss suits upon certificate of Master that no proceedings have been taken for a year.

VI. Whenever it shall appear from the certificate of the Master that no proceedings have been taken in his Office for a period of one year in any reference pending before him; the Court shall have power to dismiss such suit, or to make such other order or decree in the suit as to the Court shall seem fit.

Power of division Court to refer matters for investigation by a single Judge.

VII. It shall be lawful for any division Court consisting of more than one Judge to adjourn, for the consideration of a single Judge, any matters of account, detail, or other description which, in the opinion of such Court, may be more conveniently investigated by a single Judge sitting in Chambers, and such matters shall thereupon be investigated by a single Judge, who shall proceed with such investigation sitting either in Chambers or in open Court, and shall report thereon to a division Court, and such report shall as regards such division Court be final, but shall be open to revision by any Court of Appeal to whom the order or decree founded thereon may be appealed. The Chief Justice shall from time to time determine in each case what Judge shall take or proceed with the investigation.

Power to make rules.

VIII. The said High Court shall have power to make general rules or orders for winding up the business now pending in the Office of the said Master, and generally for regulating the conduct of business, and the manner in which the same shall be transacted in the Master's Office, and for regulating the procedure of a single Judge touching investigations before him under the provisions of this Act. Provided that such rules and orders shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, or of any Act for the time being in force relating to such matters.

Extension of Act V of 1840, concerning oaths and declarations of Hindoos and Mahomedans, to High Court.

IX. The proviso contained in Section IV of Act V of 1840 (concerning oaths and declarations of Hindoos and Mahomedans), that the said Act shall not apply to any declaration or affirmation made in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, is hereby repealed, and Section I of the said Act V of 1840 shall be read as if the words following had been added thereto.

"And when verifying an Affidavit to the following effect:—I solemnly affirm in the presence of Almighty God that the signature to this is my name and handwriting, and that the contents of this Affidavit are true."

X. After the passing of this Act notices to produce documents or writings, summonses to witnesses, and all other judicial process issued in the exercise of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, except writs of summons to defendants issued under Section XLI of Act VIII of 1859 (the Code of Civil Procedure) and writs of execution, may be served by the Attorneys in the suit, or by persons employed by them, or in such other manner as the said High Court shall by any rules or orders from time to time direct.

Process from High Court may be served by Attorneys and others.

XI. It shall not be necessary for a Judge of the said High Court to sign any writ, order, summons or other judicial process issued or made in the exercise of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the said High Court. The said High Court shall have power from time to time to direct that such writs, orders, or other process shall be signed by such Officer or Officers of the said Court as to the Court may seem fit.

Not to be necessary for a Judge to sign process.

XII. This Act may be extended to the High Court of Judicature at Madras, and the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, by an order of the Governor in Council of Fort St. George, and the Governor in Council of Bombay, respectively, to be published in the Official Gazettes of Madras and Bombay, respectively; and when so extended by such order, shall take effect in the said Courts from the date of the publication of such order. When so extended to either of such High Courts, this Act shall in all respects apply to such High Court in the same manner as if the name of such High Court had appeared in this Act wherever the name of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal appears.

Extension of the Act to the High Courts at Madras and Bombay.

POLITICAL.

Camp Meerut, the 7th March 1863.

Notification.—His Excellency the Governor General is pleased to direct the publication of the following Order of Her Majesty in Council for the regulation of Consular Jurisdiction in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte :—

Order of Her Majesty in Council for the Regulation of Consular Jurisdiction in the Dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte.

At the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 9th day of January 1863.

PRESENT :

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Preamble.

WHEREAS by the Act of the Session of Parliament of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign (Chapter 94), "to remove doubts as to the exercise "of power and jurisdiction by Her Majesty within "divers countries and places out of Her Majesty's "dominions and to render the same more effectual," hereinafter called the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, it was enacted (among other things) that it was and should be lawful for Her Majesty to hold, exercise, and enjoy any power or jurisdiction which Her Majesty then had or might at any time thereafter have within any country or place out of Her Majesty's dominions in the same and as ample a manner as if Her Majesty had acquired such power or jurisdiction by the cession or conquest of territory :

Foreign Jurisdiction Act (24 Aug. 1843,) 6 & 7 Vict. c. 94.

And whereas Her Majesty has had and now has power and jurisdiction in the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased on the 27th day of August 1860, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to make, by Order in Council dated that day, provision for the exercise of Her power and jurisdiction aforesaid :

Former Order in Council.

And whereas it has seemed to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to be expedient at the present time to revise the provisions of the said Order, and to make further provision for the due exercise of Her Majesty's power and jurisdiction aforesaid, and for the more regular and efficient administration of justice and the better maintenance of order among all classes of Her Majesty's subjects and of persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection resident in or resorting to the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte :

Object of present Order.

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers in this behalf by the Foreign Jurisdiction Act or otherwise in Her vested, is pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows :—

I.—PRELIMINARY.

Date of coming into operation.

1. This Order shall come into operation on the first day of March 1863.

Repeal of former Order.

2. The Order of the 27th day of August 1860 shall be repealed.

This repeal shall not affect the past operation of that Order, or any appointment made or thing done under it.

Pending proceedings.

Pending proceedings shall be regulated by this Order as far as the nature and circumstances of each case admit.

3. In this Order—

Interpretation.

The term "the Ottomam dominions" means the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte ;

The term "month" means calendar month ;

Words importing the plural or the singular may be construed as referring to one person or thing, or more than one person or thing, and words importing the masculine as referring to females (as the case may require).

British subjects and protected persons.

4. The provisions of this Order relating to British subjects apply to all subjects of Her Majesty whether by birth or by naturalization, and also to all persons enjoying Her Majesty's protection in the Ottoman dominions.

Ionians.

The provisions of this Order relating to British subjects shall also, until it is otherwise ordered, extend to subjects of the United States of the Ionian Islands, resident in or resorting to the Ottoman dominions, except in the following particulars :—

(1.) So far as those provisions relate to trial in Civil cases with a jury (with respect to which Ionian subjects shall be in the same position as foreigners), or to the serving on juries in Civil cases.

(2.) So far as those provisions confer or relate to the power of imposing punishment of an amount greater than that which can now be lawfully awarded in the case of an Ionian subject by a Consular Officer of Her Majesty in the Ottoman dominions.

(3.) So far as those provisions confer or relate to the power of deporting from the Ottoman dominions.

Ionian vessels.

The provisions of this Order relating to British vessels extend to vessels navigating under the national commercial flag of the United States of the Ionian Islands.

Foreigners.

The provisions of this Order relating to foreigners apply to subjects of the Sublime Ottoman Porte and subjects or citizens of any other Power or State (not being enemies of Her Majesty).

II.—GENERAL PROVISIONS RESPECTING HER MAJESTY'S JURISDICTION.

Her Majesty's jurisdiction to be exercised according to this Order exclusively.

5. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction exerciseable in the Ottoman dominions for the judicial hearing and determination of matters in difference between British subjects, or between British subjects and foreigners,—or for the administration or control of the property or persons of British subjects,—or for the repression or punishment of crimes or offences committed by British subjects,—or for the maintenance of order among British subjects,—shall be exercised under and according to the provisions of this Order, and not otherwise.

6. Subject to the other provisions of this Order, the civil and criminal jurisdiction aforesaid shall, as far as circumstances admit, be exercised upon the principles of and in conformity with the Common Law, the Rules of Equity, the Statute Law, and other Law for the time being in force in and for England, and with the powers vested in and pursuant to the course of procedure and practice observed by and before Courts of Justice and Justices of the Peace in England, according to their respective jurisdictions and authorities.

Law of England to be administered.

7. Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to deprive Her Majesty's Consular Officers of the right to observe and to enforce the observance of any reasonable custom obtaining within the Ottoman dominions or to deprive any person of the benefit thereof, except where this Order contains some express and specific provision incompatible with the observance of such custom Saving for customs.

8. Except as to offences against the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties between Her Majesty and the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or against any Rules and Regulations for the observance thereof or for the maintenance of order among British subjects in the Ottoman dominions made by or under the authority of Her Majesty, or against any of the provisions of this Order, or any Rule made under it,—

What to be deemed criminal acts.

No act done by a British subject in the Ottoman dominions or on board a British vessel within those dominions, which would not by a Court or Justice having criminal jurisdiction in England be deemed a crime or offence rendering the person doing such act amenable to punishment in England, shall, in the exercise of criminal Jurisdiction under this Order be deemed a crime or offence rendering the person doing such act amenable to punishment.

III.—Constitution of Her Majesty's Consular Courts.

I.—The Supreme Consular Court at Constantinople.

9. There shall be a Court styled "Her Britannic Majesty's Supreme Consular Court for the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte."

Style of Supreme Consular Court.

10. The Supreme Consular shall hold its ordinary sittings at Constantinople; but may, on emergency, sit at any other place within the District of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, and may at any time hold its ordinary sittings at any such place within the Ottoman dominions as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may approve.

Place of sitting.

11. There shall be one Judge of the Supreme Consular Court.

Judge.

He shall be appointed by Her Majesty by warrant under Her Royal sign Manual.

How appointed.

He shall be, at the time of his appointment, a member of the Bar of England, Scotland, or Ireland, of not less than seven years' standing, or a subject of Her Majesty (by birth or naturalization) who shall have filled the office of Legal Vice-Consul in the Ottoman dominions or the office of Law Secretary to the Supreme Consular Court.

Qualification.

He shall hold by special commission from Her Majesty the appointment of Vice-Consul, but shall have rank and precedence as if he held appointment of Consul-General.

Consular Commission. Rank.

He may, in case of his absence from the District of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, either in the discharge of his duty, or with permission of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, or in case of illness, appoint, by writing under his hand and seal, a fit person to be his Deputy, who shall have all the power and authority of Judge.

Deputy.

During a vacancy in the office of Judge, or on emergency, a fit person, approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, may temporarily be and act as Acting Judge with all the power and authority of Judge.

Acting Judge.

12. There shall be attached to the Court—

Officers and Clerks of Court.

(1.) One Legal Vice-Consul:
(2.) One Law Secretary:
(3.) So many Officers and Clerks as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may from time to time think fit.

One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may from time to time temporarily attach to the Court such persons holding appointments as Consuls or Vice-Consuls as he may think fit.

13. The Legal Vice-Consul and the Law Secretary shall be appointed by Her Majesty.

Legal Vice-Consul and Law Secretary; Their appointments, rank and duties.

They shall respectively hold by special commission from Her Majesty the appointment of Vice-Consul; but the Legal Vice-Consul shall always have rank and precedence above the Law Secretary.

The Legal Vice-Consul shall act as Registrar of the Court.

The Law Secretary shall discharge such duties in connexion with the conduct of criminal prosecutions as the Judge may from time to time direct.

Criminal cases.

The Legal Vice-Consul shall hear and determine in a summary way such criminal charges as may under this Order be properly so heard and determined, and as may be specially referred to him by the Judge.

The Law Secretary shall hear and determine in a summary way such criminal charges as may under this Order be properly so heard and determined, and as the Judge may from time to time think necessary for the dispatch of urgent business to refer specially to him.

Where a suit or proceeding of a civil nature, originally instituted in the Supreme Consular Court, relates to money goods or other property or any civil right or other matter at issue of a less amount or value than 100*l.* sterling, or is instituted for the recovery of damages of a less amount than 100*l.* sterling, the Judge may refer such suit or proceeding specially to the Legal Vice-Consul to be heard and determined by him, or if it appears to the Judge necessary for the dispatch of urgent business he may refer such suit or proceeding specially to the Law Secretary to be heard and determined by him; but in all such cases an appeal shall lie as of course to the Judge.

Acting Legal Vice-Consul or Law Secretary.

In case of the absence or illness of the Legal Vice-Consul or Law Secretary, or during a vacancy in the office of Legal Vice-Consul or Law Secretary, or during the temporary employment of the Local Vice-Consul or Law Secretary in any other capacity, the Judge may, by writing under his hand and seal, appoint the Law Secretary to act temporarily as Legal Vice-Consul (if the case so requires), or any fit person approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State to act temporarily as Legal Vice-Consul or as Law Secretary (as the case may require). The Law Secretary or other person so appointed shall have all the power and authority of Legal Vice-Consul or of Law Secretary (as the case may be).

Duties of Consul and Vice-Consuls temporarily attached.

Every Consul or Vice-Consul temporarily attached to the Court under Article 12 shall discharge such duties in connexion with the Court as the Judge may from time to time, with the approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, direct; and for that purpose shall have the like power and authority as the Legal Vice-Consul.

II.—The Provincial Consular Courts.

Provincial Consular Courts to be held by Consuls or Vice-Consuls (commissioned); or by Acting Consuls or Vice-Consuls.

14. Each of Her Majesty's Consuls-General, Consuls, and Vice-Consuls (holding a commission as such from Her Majesty), resident in the Ottoman dominions (with the exception of Her Majesty's Consul-General at Constantinople, and with such other exceptions as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may at any time think fit to make), or any person acting temporarily, with the approval of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, as such a Consul-General, Consul, or Vice-Consul, shall, for and in his own Consular district, hold and form a Court styled "Her Britannic Majesty's Consular Court at [Smyrna, or as the case may be]," —hereinafter called a Provincial Consular Court.

IV.—Juries. Assessors.

Qualification of jurors.

15. Every male British subject resident in the Ottoman dominions,—being of the age of 21 years or upwards, —being able to speak and read English,—having or earning a gross income at the rate of not less than 50*l.* a year,—not having been attainted of treason or felony or convicted of any crime that is infamous (unless he has obtained a free pardon),—and not being under outlawry,—shall be qualified to serve on a jury.

Exemptions.

16. All persons so qualified shall be liable so to serve, except the following:—

Persons in Her Majesty's Diplomatic, Consular, or other Civil Service in actual employment;

Officers, Clerks, keepers of Prisons, Messengers, and other persons attached to or in the service of any Consular Courts;

Officers and others on full pay in Her Majesty's Navy or Army, or in actual employment in the service of any Department connected therewith;

Persons holding appointments in the Civil Service, and Commissioned Officers in the Naval or Military Service, of the Sublime Ottoman Porte;

Clergymen and Ministers in the actual discharge of professional duties;

Advocates and Attorneys in actual practice;

Physicians, Surgeons, and Apothecaries in actual practice; and except persons disabled by mental or bodily infirmity.

Making of jury list.

17. On or before the 14th day of March in the year 1863, and on or before the 14th day of January in every subsequent year, each Consular Court shall make out a list of the persons so qualified and liable, resident within its District.

The list shall, on or before the 21st day of the same respective month, be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Court, and shall be there exhibited until the 31st day of that month, with a notice annexed that on a day specified, not being sooner than the 7th or later than the 14th day of the then next month, the Court will hold a special sitting for the revision of the list.

The Court shall hold such special sitting accordingly, and at such sitting, or at some adjournment thereof (of which public notice shall be given), shall revise the list by striking out the name of any person appearing to be not qualified or not liable to serve, and by inserting the name of any person omitted and appearing to be so qualified and liable, either on the application of the person omitted, or on such notice to him as the Court may direct.

The list shall be finally revised and settled not later than the 21st day of April in the year 1863, and not later than the 21st day of February in every subsequent year, and when settled shall be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Court, and be there exhibited during not less than two months.

Such list, as settled in the year 1863 and in every subsequent year respectively, shall be brought into use, in the year 1863 on the first day of May, and in every subsequent year on the 1st day of March, and shall be used as the Jury List of the Court, as to the year 1863 for the ten months, and as to every subsequent year for the twelve months, then next ensuing.

Summoning and attendance of jurors.

18. Where, in pursuance of this Order, a jury is required, the Court shall summon so many of the persons comprised in the Jury List, not fewer than fifteen, as may seem requisite.

Penalty.

Any person failing to attend according to such summons shall be liable to such fine, of not more than 10*l.* sterling, as the Court may impose.

Any such fine shall not be levied until after the expiration of fourteen days. The proper Officer of the Court shall forthwith give to the person fined notice in writing of the imposition of the fine, and require him within six days after receipt of the notice to file an affidavit excusing his non attendance (if he desire to do so). The Court shall consider the affidavit, and may, if it seems proper, remit the fine.

Number of jury.

19. A jury shall consist of five jurors.

Challenges.

In civil and in criminal cases the like challenges shall be allowed as in England, with this addition, that in civil cases each party may challenge three jurors peremptorily.

Unanimity.

A jury shall be required to give an unanimous verdict.

Where there is a jury, all the proceedings at the trial shall be conducted in English,—evidence, if given in any other language, being interpreted in the usual way.

Proceedings to be in English.

20. Where a Provincial Consular Court (not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul) proceeds, in pursuance of this Order, to hear and determine any case, civil or criminal, with Assessors, the Court shall nominate and summon as Assessors not less than two and not more than four indifferent British subjects of good repute, resident in the District of the Court.

Provincial Consular Court without Legal Vice-Consul, —Assessors: their number; qualifications.

Where however, by reason of local circumstances, the Court is able to obtain the presence of one fit person only as Assessor, the Court may sit with him alone as Assessor, and where for like reasons it is not able to obtain the presence of any fit person as Assessor, it may sit without an Assessor; but in every such case the Court shall record in the minutes of proceedings its reasons for sitting with one Assessor only, or without an Assessor.

An Assessor shall not have voice or vote in the decision of the Court in any case, civil or criminal, but an Assessor dissenting in a civil case from any decision of the Court, or in a criminal case from any decision of the Court or the conviction or the amount of the punishment awarded, may record in the minutes of proceedings his dissent and the grounds thereof, and an Assessor dissenting shall be entitled to receive gratis a certified copy of the minutes.

And Functions.

V. Jurisdiction and Authorities of the Consular Courts.

I.—In General.

21. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction, civil and criminal, exerciseable in the Ottoman dominions shall, for and within the District of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, be vested exclusively in the Supreme Consular Court as its ordinary original jurisdiction.

Ordinary original jurisdiction of Supreme Consular Court.

22. All Her Majesty's jurisdiction, civil and criminal, exerciseable in the Ottoman dominions beyond the District of the Consulate-General of Constantinople, and not under this Order vested exclusively in the Supreme Consular Court, shall, to the extent and in the manner provided by this Order, be vested in the Provincial Consular Courts each for and within its own District.

Juridisction of Provincial Consular Courts.

23. The Supreme Consular Court shall have, in all matters civil and criminal, an original jurisdiction concurrent with the jurisdiction of the several Provincial Cousular Courts, such concurrent jurisdiction to be exercised subject and according to the other provisions of this Order.

Concurrent jurisdiction of Supreme with Provincial Consular Courts.

24. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may visit, or appoint the Legal Vice-Consul or the Law Secretary of the Supreme Consular Court to visit, in a magisterial or judicial capacity, any Provincial Consular Court, and there inquire of, or here and determine, any case, civil or criminal, pending in that Court, or arising within its district,—or may appoint the resident Legal Vice-Consul of any Provincial Consular Court to visit in like manner any Provincial Consular Court where there is not a resident Legal Vice-Consul.

Visits to Provincial Consular Courts.

25. A Provincial Consular Court may, of its own motion, or on the application of any person concerned, report to the Supreme Consular Court the pendency of any case, Civil or Criminal which appears to the Provincial Consular Court fit to be heard and determined by the Supreme Consular Court.

Reference of case by Provincial to Supreme Consular Court.

The Supreme Consular Court shall thereupon direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined.

26. Every Consular Court shall, in the exercise of every part of its respective jurisdiction, be a Court of Record.

Courts of Record.

27. Each Provincial Consular Court shall execute any writ or order issuing from the Supreme Consular Court, and take security from any person named in any writ or order for his appearance personally or by attorney, and in default of such security being given, or when specially ordered by the Supreme Consular Court so to do, send such person to Constantinople on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or if there is no such vessel available then on board any British or other fit vessel.

Execution by Provincial of writs and orders from Supreme Consular Court. Removal of person to Constantinople.

The order of the Supreme Consular Court shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of such vessel of war or other vessel to receive and detain such person, and carry him to and deliver him up at Constantinople according to the order.

28. The several Consular Courts shall be auxiliary to one another in all particulars relative to the administration of justice, Civil or Criminal.

Courts to be auxiliary.

29. Each Provincial Consular Court shall every six months furnish to the Supreme Consular Court a full and faithful report of every case, Civil and Criminal, brought before it, in such form as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may from time to time direct.

Report by Provincial to Supreme Consular Court.

II.—In Civil Matters.

Reconciliation and Arbitration.

30. Every Consular Court and its officers shall, as far as there is proper opportunity, promote reconciliation, and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way, and without recourse to litigation, of matters in difference between persons over whom the Court has jurisdiction.

Reconciliation before litigation.

31. Every Consular Court may promote reconciliation, and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way of any suit or proceeding pending before it.

Settlement of litigation.

32. A Consular Court may with the consent of the parties, refer to arbitration the final determination of any suit or proceeding pending before it, or of all matters in difference between the parties, on such terms and with such directions as to appointment of an arbitrator and other things as may seem fit, and may, if it thinks fit, take from the parties, or any of them, security to abide by the result of the reference.

Reference to arbitration by Court.

In any such case the award shall be final and conclusive.

On the application of any party a decree of the Court may be entered in conformity with the award, and such decree shall not be open to any appeal or re-hearing whatever.

Reference to arbitration made rule of Court.

33. Every agreement for reference to arbitration or submission to arbitration by consent between or by British subjects, may, on the application of any party, be made a rule of the Consular Court having jurisdiction in the matter of the reference or submission, which Court shall thereupon have power and authority to enforce the agreement or submission and the award made thereunder, and to control and regulate the proceedings before and after the award in such manner and on such terms as may be just.

General Authority of Courts.

Law and Equity.

34. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be a Court of Law and of Equity; and (subject to the other provisions of this Order) shall have and may exercise all jurisdiction, power, and authority, legal, equitable, or other, which any Consul of Her Majesty by custom has or may exercise in the Ottoman dominions.

Customary jurisdiction.

Special Authorities of Courts.

Bankruptcy.

35. The Supreme and every other Consular Court shall be a Court of Bankruptcy, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have, each for and within its own District, with respect to British subjects and to their debtors and creditors, being either British subjects or foreigners submitting to the jurisdiction of the Court, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to the Court of Bankruptcy, and the County Courts in England, or to any other judicial authority having for the time being jurisdiction in England in Bankruptcy.

Admiralty.

36. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court of Vice-Admiralty, and as such shall, for and within the Ottoman dominions, and for vessels and persons coming within those dominions, have all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to any Court of Vice-Admiralty in any of Her Majesty's possessions abroad, except any jurisdiction relating to prize or booty.

Every Provincial Consular Court held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul shall be a Court of Vice-Admiralty, and as such shall, for its own District, and for vessels and persons coming within that District, have the like jurisdiction.

Lunacy.

37. The Supreme Consular Court shall, as far as circumstances admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the dominions of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, with respect to British subjects, all such jurisdiction relative to the custody and management of the persons and estates of persons of unsound mind as for the time being belongs to the Lord Chancellor or other person or persons in in England intrusted by virtue of Her Majesty's sign manual with the care and commitment of the custody of the persons and estates of persons found by inquisition in England, idiot, lunatic, or of unsound mind.

Matrimonial Causes.

38. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court for Matrimonial Causes, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have in itself exclusively, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to British subjects, all such jurisdiction, except the jurisdiction relative to dissolution or nullity or jactitation of marriage, as for the time being belongs to the Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in England.

Probate and Administration.

39. The Supreme Consular Court shall be a Court of Probate, and as such shall, as far as circumstances admit, have, for and within the Ottoman dominions, with respect to the property of British subjects having at the time of death their fixed places of abode within those dominions, all such jurisdiction as for the time being belongs to Her Majesty's Court of Probate in England.

A Provincial Consular Court shall, however, also have power to grant probate or administration where there is no contention respecting the right to the grant, and it is proved on oath that the deceased had at the time of his death his fixed place of abode within the jurisdiction of the particular Court.

Probate or administration granted by a Provincial Consular Court shall have effect over all the property of the deceased within the Ottoman dominions, and shall effectually discharge persons dealing with an executor or administrator thereunder, notwithstanding any defect may afterwards appear in the grant. Such a grant shall not be impeachable by reason only that the decease had not at the time of his death his fixed place of abode within the particular jurisdiction.

Property of intestate until administration.

From the death of a British subject, having at the time of death his fixed place of abode within the Ottoman dominions, intestate, until administration granted, his personal property within those dominions shall be vested in the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, as the personal property of an intestate in England is vested in the Judge of Her Majesty's Court of Probate there.

Penalty on administering without probate.

If any person, other than one of Her Majesty's Consular Officers, takes possession of and in any manner administers any part of the personal property of any person deceased without obtaining probate or administration within three months after the death of the deceased, or within one month after the termination of any suit or dispute respecting probate or administration (if there is any such which is not ended within two months after the death of the deceased), he shall be liable to such penalty not exceeding 100*l.* sterling as the Court having jurisdiction in the matter of the property of the deceased may think fit to impose.

Trial with a Jury.

Cases for trial with jury.

40. Where a suit instituted in the Supreme Consular Court, or in a Provincial Consular Court held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, relates to money goods or other property, or any civil right or other matter at issue of the amount or value of 50*l.* sterling or upwards,—or is brought for recovery of damages of the amount of 50*l.* sterling or upwards,—the suit shall, on the demand of either party, be tried with a jury.

In any case (except where, according to the Rules of the Court, the suit is to be heard and determined in a summary way) a suit so instituted may be tried with a jury, if the Court, of its own motion or on the application of either party, thinks fit so to order.

One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may, by order under his hand, extend the present provision to any Provincial Consular Court not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul where it appears to him a sufficient Jury List can be obtained.

Trial with Assessors.

Provincial Consular Court without Legal Vice-Consul,—cases for Assessors.

41. Where a suit instituted in a Provincial Consular Court not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul relates to money goods or other property of a less amount or value than 300*l.* sterling,—or does not relate to or involve, directly or indirectly, a question respecting any Civil right or other matter at issue of the amount or value of 300*l.* sterling or upwards,—or is brought for recovery of damages of a less amount than 300*l.* sterling,—the Court may hear and determine the case without Assessors.

In all other cases the Court shall hear and determine the case with Assessors.

III.—In Criminal Matters.

Power of apprehension over British subjects.

42. Every Consular Court shall have authority to cause to be apprehended and brought before it any British subject being within the District of the Court and charged with having committed a crime or offence within the Ottoman dominions, or on board a British vessel within those dominions, and to deal with the accused according to the jurisdiction of the Court and in conformity with the provisions of this Order; or where the crime or offence is triable and is to be tried, England, to take the preliminary examination, and to commit the accused for trial, and cause or allow him to be taken to England.

Accused escaping to another district.

43. Where a person charged with a crime or offence escapes or removes from the Consular District within which the crime or offence was committed and is found within another Consular District, the Consular Court within the District of which he is found may proceed in the case to examination, trial, and punishment, or in a summary way (as the case may require), in the same manner as if the crime or offence had been committed in its own District; or may, on the requisition or with the consent of the Court of the District within which the crime or offence was committed, send him in custody to that Court, or require him to give security for his surrender to that Court, there to answer the charge and be dealt with according to law.

Where any person is to be so sent in custody a warrant shall be issued by the Court within the District of which he is found, and such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named and carry him to and deliver him up to the Court of the District within which the crime or offence was committed, according to the warrant.

Backing of Maltese warrant.

44. Where a warrant or order of arrest is issued by a competent authority in Malta for the apprehension of a British subject, a native of Malta, or of any of its dependencies, who is accused of having committed a crime or offence within the jurisdiction of the authority issuing the warrant or order, and who is, or is supposed to be, in the Ottoman dominions, and the warrant or order is produced to a Consular Court, the Court may back the warrant or order, and the same, when so backed, shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom the warrant or order was originally directed, and also to any constable or other officer of the Court by which it is backed, to apprehend the accused at any place in the Ottoman dominions where the Court by which the warrant or order is backed has jurisdiction, and to carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant or order.

Sending of prisoner to Malta for trial.

45. Malta shall be (under The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, Section IV.) the British Colony to which any person may be sent for trial who is charged with the commission of any crime or offence the cognizance whereof appertains to a Consular Court in the Ottoman dominions, where it is expedient that the crime or offence should be inquired of, tried, determined, and punished within Her Majesty's dominions.

The Judge of Supreme Consular Court may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under his hand and seal and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause the accused to be sent for trial to Malta accordingly.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named, and carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant.

Where any person is to be so sent to Malta, the Consular Court before which he is charged shall take the preliminary examination, and shall bind over such of the proper witnesses as may be British subjects in their own recognizances to appear and give evidence on the trial.

Encouragement of reconciliation.

46. A Consular Court may promote reconciliation and encourage and facilitate the settlement in an amicable way of proceedings for assault or any other offence not amounting to felony and being of a private or personal character, on terms of payment of compensation or other terms that may seem reasonable or expedient, and may thereupon order the proceedings to be stayed.

Supreme Consular Court,—Jury;

47. All crimes which in England are capital shall be tried by the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court with a Jury.

Other crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the Judge or any Officer of the Supreme Consular Court, and not heard and determined in a summary way, shall be tried with a Jury.

Any crime or offence tried before the Judge or any Officer of the Supreme Consular Court may be tried with a Jury where the Judge or other Officer so directs.

Summary jurisdiction;

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of Criminal cases within the original jurisdiction (ordinary or concurrent) of the Supreme

Consular Court as the Judge, having regard to the Law and practice existing in England, may from time to time direct, shall be heard and determined in a summary way.

And extent of punishment.

48. The Supreme Consular Court may impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding twenty years, with or without hard labor, and with or without a fine not exceeding 500*l.* sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding 500*l.* sterling.

Murder.

Recording of judgment of death.

49. Where any person is convicted of murder, the proper Officer of the Court, under the direction of the Judge, shall, in open Court, require the offender to state if he has any thing to say why judgment of death should not be recorded against him. If such offender does not allege anything that would be sufficient in Law to prevent such judgment if the offence had been committed and the trial had been had in England, the Court may order such judgment to be entered on record.

Thereupon the proper Officer shall enter judgment of death on record against such offender, as if judgment of death had been actually pronounced against him in open Court by the Court.

Actual punishment.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith send a report of every such judgment, with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations he may think fit to make, to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, for his direction as to the punishment to be actually imposed, such actual punishment not to exceed the measure of imprisonment and fine mentioned in Article 48.

Provincial Consular Court with Legal Vice-Consul, Jury;

50. Where a Provincial Consular Court is held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, crimes and offences above the degree of misdemeanour, tried before the Court, and not heard and determined in a summary way, shall be tried with a jury.

Any crime or offence may be tried with a jury where the Court so directs.

Summary jurisdiction.

Subject to the foregoing provisions, such classes of criminal cases as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court, with the advice and assistance of the resident Legal Vice-Consul, having regard to the law and practice existing in England, may from time to time direct, shall be heard and determined in a summary way.

And extent of punishment.

51. A Provincial Consular Court held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul may impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine not exceeding 100*l.* sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding 100*l.* sterling

Provincial Consular Court without Legal Vice-Consul, Assessors;

52. Where the crime or offence with which any person is charged before a Provincial Consular Court, not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul, is any crime or offence other than assault endangering life, cutting, maiming, arson, or house-breaking, and appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would be adequately punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for not more than three months, or by a fine of not more than 25*l.* sterling, the Court shall hear and determine the case in a summary way and without Assessors.

In other cases the Court shall hear and determine the case on indictment and with Assessors.

And extent of punishment.

53. A Provincial Consular Court not held before a resident Legal Vice-Consul may impose the punishment of imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of 50*l.* sterling, or the punishment of a fine alone not exceeding 50*l.* sterling.

Reservation of case by Provincial for Supreme Consular Court.

54. Where the crime or offence with which any person is charged before a Provincial Consular Court appears to the Court to be such that, if proved, it would not be adequately punished by such punishment as the Court has power to impose, and the accused is not to be sent for trial to England or Malta, the Court shall reserve the case to be heard and determined by or under the special authority of the Supreme Consular Court.

The Provincial Consular Court shall take the depositions, and forthwith send them, with a minute of other evidence, if any, and a report on the case, to the Supreme Consular Court.

The Supreme Consular Court shall direct in what mode and where the case shall be heard and determined.

Punishments in England to be regarded.

55. The Supreme and every other Consular Court in imposing punishments shall have regard, as far as circumstances admit, and subject to the other provisions of this Order, to the punishments imposed by the law of England in like cases.

Payment of expenses by offender or prosecutor.

56. A Consular Court may order any person convicted before it of any crime or offence to pay all or any part of the expenses of his trial and imprisonment or other punishment.

Where it appears to the Court that a charge is malicious, or frivolous and vexatious, the Court may order all or any part of the expenses of the prosecution to be paid by the prosecutor.

Mitigation or remission of punishment.

57. Where the circumstances of the case render it just or expedient, the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may report to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State recommending a mitigation or remission of any punishment awarded by the Supreme or any other Consular Court; and on such recommendation any such punishment may be mitigated or remitted.

But no such recommendation shall be made with respect to any punishment awarded by a Provincial Consular Court, except on the recommendation of that Court, or on the dissent of the Assessors or Assessor, if any, from the conviction or from the amount of punishment awarded.

Place of imprisonment in Ottoman dominions.

58. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it seems expedient, by warrant under his hand and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause any offender convicted before any Consular Court and sentenced to imprisonment, to be sent to and imprisoned at any such place in the Ottoman dominions, as one of her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may, from time to time, approve.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed, to receive and detain the person therein named and carry him to and deliver him up at such place, according to the warrant.

Execution of sentence in Malta.

59. Malta shall be (under the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, Section V.) the British Colony to which any offender sentenced to suffer imprisonment in respect of any crime or offence of which he is convicted before any Consular Court may be sent, where it is expedient that the sentence passed in the Ottoman dominions should be carried into effect within Her Majesty's dominions.

The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, where it appears so expedient, by warrant under his hand and seal and the seal of the Supreme Consular Court, cause such offender to be sent to Malta, in order that the sentence passed upon him may be there carried into effect accordingly.

Such warrant shall be sufficient authority to any person to whom it is directed to receive and detain the person therein named and carry him to and deliver him up at Malta, according to the warrant.

Reports to Secretary of State.

60. The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith send to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State a report of the sentence passed by the Judge or any Officer of the Court in every case not heard and determined in a summary way, with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations the Court may think fit to make.

Every Provincial Consular Court shall forthwith send to the Supreme Consular Court a report of the sentence passed by it in every case not heard and determined in a summary way, with a copy of the minutes of proceedings and notes of evidence and any observations the Court may think fit to make. The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith transmit the same, with any observations the Court may think fit to make, to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

VI.—Deportation of Offenders.

Deportation from Ottoman dominions, in what cases.

61. (i.) Where it is shown on oath, to the satisfaction of a Consular Court, that there is reasonable ground to apprehend that any British subject in the Ottoman dominions is about to commit a breach of the public peace,—or that the acts or conduct of any such British subject are or is likely to produce or excite to a breach of the public peace,—the Court may cause him to be brought before it and require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court, to keep the peace, or for his future good behaviour, as the case may require:

(ii.) Where any British subject is convicted of any crime or offence before a Consular Court, or before a Court in the sentence of which one of Her Majesty's Consular Officers concurs, the Consular Court for the District in which he happens to be may require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for his future good behaviour.

In either of these cases, if the person required to give security fails to do so, the Court may order that he be deported from the Ottoman dominions to such place as the Court may direct.

Place of deportation.

The Court shall not, however, without the consent of the person to be deported, direct the deportation of a native of Malta or of any of its dependencies to any place other than Malta,—or of a native of Gibraltar to any place other than Gibraltar,—or of a native of any part of Her Majesty's dominions other than Malta, its dependencies, or Gibraltar, to any place other than England.

A Provincial Consular Court shall forthwith report to the Supreme Consular Court any order of deportation made by it, and the grounds thereof. The Supreme Consular Court may reverse the order, or may confirm it with or without variation, and in case of confirmation, shall direct it to be carried into effect.

The person to be deported shall be detained in custody until a fit opportunity for his deportation occurs.

He shall, as soon as may be practicable, (and in the case of a person convicted, either after execution of the sentence or while it is in course of execution), be embarked in custody under the warrant of the Supreme Consular Court on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or, if there is no such vessel available then on board any British or other fit vessel bound to the place of deportation.

The warrant of the Court shall be sufficient authority to the commander or master of such vessel of war, or other vessel, to receive and detain the person to be deported and carry him to and deliver him up at the place of deportation, according to the warrant.

Expenses.

The Supreme or other Consular Court may order the person to be deported to pay all or any part of the expenses of his deportation. Subject thereto, the expenses of deportation shall be defrayed as the expenses relating to distressed British subjects are defrayed, or in such other manner as one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State may from time to time direct.

The Supreme Consular Court shall forthwith report to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State any order of deportation made or confirmed by it and the grounds thereof, and shall also inform Her Majesty's Ambassador, Minister, or Chargé d'Affaires at the Sublime Ottoman Porte of the same.

Punishment for returning.

If any person deported returns to the Ottoman dominions without the permission of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State (which permission the Secretary of State may give) he shall be liable on conviction thereof to punishment (in the discretion of the Court before which he is convicted) by imprisonment for not more than one month, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than 100*l.* sterling or by a fine of not more than 20*l.* sterling alone, and also to be forthwith again deported in manner hereinbefore provided.

VII.—Registration of Residents and Others.

Annual registration of residents.

62. Every British subject resident in the Ottoman dominions,—being of the age of 21 years or upwards,—or being married or a widower or widow, though under that age,—shall, in the year 1883 in the month of March, and in every subsequent year in the month of January, register himself or herself in a register to be kept at the Consulate of the Consular District within which he or she resides.

Registration of non-residents.

Every such British subject not so resident arriving at any place within the Ottoman dominions where a Consular Office is maintained, unless borne on the muster-roll of a British vessel there arriving, shall, within one month after his or her arrival, register himself or herself in a register to be kept at the Consular Office,—but so that no person shall be required to register himself or herself more than once in any year, reckoned from any 1st day of January.

Fee.

Every such British subject shall, on every such registration of himself or herself, pay a fee of five shillings.

Penalty.

Any such British subject failing so to register himself or herself, and not excusing his or her failure to the satisfaction of the Consular Officer, shall not be entitled to be recognized or protected as a British subject in the Ottoman dominions, and shall be liable to a fine of not more than forty shillings for each instance of such failure; in the case of a married woman (not living apart from her husband) such fine to be levied on her husband's property.

Certificate.

The Consular Officer shall issue to every British subject so registered a certificate of registration under his hand and Consular seal.

VIII.—Deaths of British Subjects non-resident.

Taking possession of property of deceased.

63. Where a British subject, not having at the time of death his fixed place of abode in the Ottoman dominions, dies in those dominions, the Consular Court, within whose District he dies, shall, where the circumstances of the case appear to the Court so to require forthwith on the death of the deceased, or as soon after as may be, take possession of his personal property within the particular jurisdiction, or put it under the seal of the Court, (in either case, if the nature of the property or other circumstances so require, making an inventory), and so keep the property until it can be dealt with according to law.

IX.—Offences against Religion.

Punishment in summary way for public insults to religion or religious institutions.

64. If any British subject is guilty of publicly deriding, mocking, or insulting any religion established or observed within the Ottoman dominions,—or of publicly offering any insult to any religious service, feast, or ceremony established or kept in any part of those dominions, or to any place of worship, tomb, or sanctuary belonging to any such religion, or to the ministers or professors thereof,—or wilfully commits any act tending to bring any such religion, or its ceremonies, mode of worship, or observances into hatred, ridicule, or contempt, and thereby to provoke a breach of the public peace,—he shall be liable (in the discretion of the Court) to imprisonment for not more than two years, with or without hard labour, and with or without a fine of not more than 100*l.* sterling, or to a fine of not more than 100*l.* sterling alone.

Notwithstanding anything in this Order, every charge against a British subject of having committed any such offence shall be heard and determined in a summary way, and any provincial Consular Court shall have power to impose the punishment aforesaid.

Her Majesty's Consular Officers shall take such precautionary measures as may seem to them proper and expedient for the prevention of such offences.

X.—Foreigners. Foreign Tribunals.

Suits between British subjects and foreigners in Consular Courts.

65. Where a foreigner desires to institute or take any suit or proceeding of a Civil nature against a British subject, or a British subject against a foreigner, the Supreme or other Consular Court, according to its respective jurisdiction, shall entertain the same, and shall hear and determine it, either by the Judge or proper Consular Officer sitting alone, or, if all parties desire, or the Court thinks fit to direct, a trial with a jury, then by such Judge or Officer with a jury, but in all other respects according to the ordinary course of the Court.

Provided that the foreigner first obtains and files in the Court the consent in writing of the competent local authority on behalf of the Sublime Ottoman Porte or of the Consul of his own nation (as the case may be) to his submitting, and does submit, to the jurisdiction of the Court, and, if required, gives security to the satisfaction of the Court, by deposit or otherwise, to pay fees, damages, costs, and expenses, and abide by and perform such decision as may be given by the Supreme or other Consular Court originally or on appeal (as the case may require).

Compulsory attendance of British subjects before foreign tribunals.

66. Where it is shown to a Consular Court that the attendance of a British subject to give evidence, or for any other purpose connected with the administration of justice, is required in a Court or before a judicial Officer of the Sublime Ottoman Porte, or in a Court or before a judicial Officer in the Ottoman dominions of any State in amity with Her Majesty, the Consular Court may, in cases and under circumstances which would require the attendance of such British subject before one of Her Majesty's Consular Courts in the Ottoman dominions, and if it seems to the Consular Court just and expedient so to do, make an order for the attendance of such British subject in such Court or before such judicial Officer and for such purpose as aforesaid,—but so that a Provincial Consular Court shall not have power to make an order for such attendance of a British subject at any place beyond the particular jurisdiction of the Court.

Any British subject, duly served with such an order and with reasonable notice of the time and place at which his attendance is required, failing to attend accordingly and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Court making the order, shall be liable to a fine of not more than 100*l.* sterling, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

XI.—Appeal to Supreme Consular Court.

1.—In Civil Cases.

Leave to appeal to be obtained.

67. Where any decision of a Provincial Consular Court, sitting with or without Assessors, is given in a civil case in respect of a sum or matter at issue of the amount or value of 50*l.* sterling or upwards,—or determines, directly or indirectly, any claim or question respecting property or any civil right of the amount or value of 50*l.* sterling or upwards,—any party aggrieved by the decision may apply to the Provincial Consular Court for leave to appeal to the Supreme Consular Court, and shall be entitled to leave on the terms prescribed by the Rules made under this Order and subject to such restrictions and exceptions as may be therein contained.

In any other case the Provincial Consular Court may, if it seems just and expedient, give leave to appeal on like terms.

In any case the Supreme Consular Court may give leave to appeal on such terms as may seem just.

II.—In Criminal Cases.

68. Where any person is convicted otherwise than in a summary way of a crime or offence, the Court or Consular Officer before whom he is tried may reserve for the consideration of the Supreme Consular Court any question of law arising on the trial.

On conviction on indictment, question of law may be reserved.

The Court or Officer shall then state a special case setting out the question reserved, with the facts and circumstances on which it arose, and shall send the case to the Supreme Consular Court.

69. Where any person is convicted in a summary way of a crime or offence, and is dissatisfied with the conviction as being erroneous in point of law, the Court or Consular Officer before whom he is tried shall, on his application, unless the application appears merely frivolous, in which case the Court or Officer may refuse the application, state a special case setting out the facts and the grounds of the conviction for the opinion of the Supreme Consular Court, and send it to that Court.

On summary conviction, appeal on point of law to lie.

70. In any such case the Court or Consular Officer shall, as may seem fit, either postpone judgment on the conviction, or respite execution of the judgment, and either commit the person convicted to prison, or take proper security for him to appear and receive judgment or, to render himself in execution (as the case may require) at an appointed time and place.

Postponement of judgment or execution.

71. The Supreme Consular Court shall hear and finally determine the matter, and thereupon shall reverse, affirm, or amend any judgment given at the trial,—or set aside such judgment, and order an entry to be made in the minutes of proceedings that in the judgment of the Supreme Consular Court the person ought not to have been convicted,—or arrest the judgment,—or order judgment to be given at a subsequent sitting of the Court or Officer by whom the case is stated,—or make such other order as justice may require,—and shall also give all necessary and proper consequential directions.

Authority of Supreme Consular Court.

72. The judgment of the Supreme Consular Court shall be delivered in open Court after the public hearing of any argument offered on behalf of the prosecution or of the person convicted.

Proceedings to be public.

73. Before delivering judgment, the Supreme Consular Court may, if necessary, cause the special case to be amended by the Court or Consular Officer by whom it was stated.

Amendment of case.

XII.—Appeal to Her Majesty in Council.

74. Where any decision of the Supreme Consular Court is given in a civil case in respect of a sum or matter at issue of the amount or value of 500*l.* sterling or upwards,—or determines directly or indirectly any claim or question respecting property or any civil right of the amount or value of 500*l.* sterling or upwards,—any party aggrieved by the decision may, within fifteen days after the same is given, apply by motion to the Supreme Consular Court for leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council.

Appeal from Supreme Consular Court in civil cases involving 500*l.* or upwards.

If leave to appeal is applied for by a party adjudged to pay money or perform a duty, the Supreme Consular Court shall direct either that the decision appealed from be carried into execution, or that the execution thereof be suspended, pending the appeal, as the Court may consider to be consistent with real and substantial justice.

If the Court directs the decision to be carried into execution, the party in whose favour it is given shall, before the execution of it, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the due performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

If the Court directs the execution of the decision to be suspended pending the appeal, the party against whom the decision is given shall, before any order for suspension of execution, give security to the satisfaction of the Court for the due performance of such order as Her Majesty in Council may think fit to make.

In all cases security shall also be given by the appellant to the satisfaction of the Court to an amount not exceeding 500*l.* sterling for the prosecution of the appeal, and for payment of all such costs as may be awarded to any respondent by Her Majesty in Council, or by the Lords of the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council.

If the last mentioned security is given within one month from the filing of the motion-paper for leave to appeal, then, and not otherwise, the Supreme Consular Court shall give leave to appeal, and the appellant shall be at liberty to prefer and prosecute his appeal to Her Majesty in Council according to the rules for the time being in force respecting appeals to Her Majesty in Council from Her Colonies, or such other rules as Her Majesty in Council may from time to time think fit to make concerning appeals from the Supreme Consular Court.

In any case other than the cases hereinbefore described, the Supreme Consular Court, if it considers it just or expedient to do so, may give leave to appeal on the terms and in the manner aforesaid.

This Order shall not affect the right of Her Majesty at any time, on the humble petition of a party aggrieved by a decision of the Supreme Consular Court, to admit his appeal thereon on such terms and in such manner as Her Majesty in Council may think fit, and to deal with the decision appealed from in such manner as may be just.

XIII.—Rules.

75. The Judge of the Supreme Consular Court may, notwithstanding anything herein contained, at any time after the making of this Order, and from time to time, frame Rules for the effectual execution of this Order, and for the observance of the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties between Her Majesty and the Sublime Ottoman Porte, and for the maintenance of order among British subjects in the Ottoman dominions, and may thereby impose reasonable penalties; and also Rules for the regulation of procedure and pleading, forms of writs, and other proceedings, expenses of witnesses and prosecutions, costs and fees, in civil and criminal cases, in the Supreme Consular Court and other Consular Courts, and the regulation of appeals to the Supreme Consular Court from the other Consular Courts.

Rules to be framed by Judge of Supreme Consular Court.

The Rules affecting the conduct of civil suits shall be so framed as to secure, as far as may be, that cases shall be decided on their merits according to substantial justice without excessive regard to technicalities of pleading or procedure and without unnecessary delay.

No Rules shall take effect unless and until approved by one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

A copy of the Rules for the time being in force shall be exhibited in some conspicuous place in each Consular Court and Consulate in the Ottoman dominions. Printed copies shall be provided and sold at such reasonable price as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall from time to time direct.

No penalty shall be enforced in any Court for the breach of any Rule until the Rule has been so exhibited in the Court for one month.

For the purpose of convicting any person committing a breach of any Rule, and for all other purposes of law, a printed copy of the Rule, purporting to be certified under the hand of the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court and the seal of the Court or under the hand and Consular seal of one of Her Majesty's Consular Officers, shall be taken as conclusive evidence of the same, and no proof of the handwriting or seal purporting to certify the same shall be required.

XIV.—Miscellaneous Provisions.

Minutes of proceedings.

76. In every case, civil or criminal, heard in a Consular Court, proper minutes of the proceedings shall be drawn up, and shall be signed by the Judge or Consular Officer before whom the proceedings are taken, and sealed with the seal of the Court, and shall, where Assessors are present, be open for their inspection and for their signature if concurred in by them.

The minutes with depositions of witnesses and notes of evidence taken at the trial by the Judge or Consular Officer, shall be preserved in the public office of the Court.

Costs in Civil cases.

77. In a civil case a Consular Court may order such costs, or costs, charges, and expenses, as to the Court seem reasonable, to be paid by any party to the proceeding, or out of any fund to which the proceeding relates.

Witnesses; British subjects.

78. A Consular Court, either of its own motion, or, in Civil cases, on the application of any party to any suit or proceeding or reference, may summon as a witness any British subject in the Ottoman dominions, but so that a Provincial Consular Court shall have power so to summon British subjects in its own District only.

Any British subject, duly served with such a summons and with reasonable notice of the time and place at which his attendance is required, failing to attend accordingly and not excusing his failure to the satisfaction of the Court, shall, over and above any other liability to which he may be subject, be liable to a fine of not more than 100*l.* sterling, or to imprisonment for not more than one month, in the discretion of the Court.

Expenses of witnesses in Civil cases.

79. In Civil cases a Consular Court may, where the circumstances appear to justify it, order that the expenses of a witness, on his appearing to give evidence, shall be defrayed by the parties or any of them.

Examination on oath.

80. Any person appearing before a Consular Court to give evidence in any case, civil or criminal, may be examined or give evidence on oath in such form or with such ceremony as he may declare to be binding on his conscience.

Perjury.

81. Any British subject wilfully giving false evidence in any suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, or on any reference, shall be liable to the penalties attaching to wilful and corrupt perjury.

Enforcing payment of costs, penalties, and other moneys.

82. All costs and all charges and expenses of witnesses, prosecutions, punishments, and deportations, and other charges and expenses, and all fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties payable under this Order, may be levied by distress and seizure and sale of ships, goods, and lands; and no bill of sale, or mortgage, or transfer of property, made with a view to security in regard to crimes or offences committed, or to be committed, shall be of any avail to defeat the provisions of this Order.

Application of fees and other moneys.

83. All fees, fines, forfeitures, and pecuniary penalties leived under this Order shall be carried to the public account, and be applied in diminution of the public expenditure on account of Her Majesty's Consular service in the Ottoman dominions.

Publication of Order.

84. A copy of this Order shall be exhibited in each Consular Court and Consulate in the Ottoman dominions. Printed copies shall be provided and sold at such reasonable price as the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court shall direct.

Suits for things done under Order.

85. Any suit or proceeding shall not be commenced in a Consular Court against any person for anything done or omitted under this Order, or any Rule made under it, unless notice in writing is given by the intending plaintiff or prosecutor to the intended defendant one month at least before the commencement of the suit or proceeding, nor unless it is commenced within three months next after the act or omission complained of, or in case of a continuation of damage within three months next after the doing of such damage has ceased.

The plaintiff in any such suit shall not succeed if tender of sufficient amends is made by the defendant before the commencement thereof; and if no tender is made the defendant may, by leave of the Court at any time, pay into Court such sum of money as he may think fit, whereupon such proceeding and order shall be had and made in and by the Court as many be had and made on the payment of money into Court in an ordinary suit.

XV.—Joint Jurisdiction.

Consular Officers exclusively to act in cases of joint jurisdiction.

86. In any case in the decision of which, under the Capitulations, Articles of Peace, and Treaties with the Sublime Ottoman Porte, any of Her Majesty's Consuls may or ought to concur, the Judge of the Supreme Consular Court or a Consular Officer exercising jurisdiction under this Order shall exclusively act on the part and on behalf of Her Majesty.

And the Right Honorable the Earl Russell and the Most Noble the Duke of Newcastle, two of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

ADVERTISEMENT OF SALE.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Zemindaree rights of Government to the Khas Mehals situated in the District of Midnapore, and mentioned in the Statement hereto annexed, will be put up to sale, under orders of the Board of Revenue, as communicated in their Secretary's letter No. 182, dated 13th December 1862, in the Midnapore Collectorate, on Monday, the 6th day of April 1863, corresponding with the 26th Choit 1270 Umlee, and the 25th Choit 1269 Bengallee.

The Purchasers of the Mehals will be subject to the undermentioned Conditions :—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1*st.*—The Estates to be sold to the highest bidders above the upset price.

2*nd.*—When the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rupees 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once. When the amount of purchase money exceeds Rupees 100, a deposit, at Rupees 25 per cent., to be at once made upon the amount bid; the same to be forfeited to Government if the whole amount of purchase money be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, or if the day be a close holiday, then on the first Office day, reckoning the day of sale as one, and the Mehal will be again put up to sale at the risk of the former Purchaser.

3*rd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the right conferred by the Settlement proceedings and laws in force, and Purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the Jummabundees made by the Revenue Authorities.

4*th.*—The annual Embankment charges of the Mehals which are assessed with such charges will be paid by the Purchasers, as heretofore paid by Government, proportionately with other Zemindars. The existing arrangements for the repairs and maintenance of the Embankments will remain in force.

5*th.*—In addition to the ordinary Sudder Jummas fixed on the Estates Purchasers will be bound to pay an annual sum calculated at one per cent. on the Sudder Jummas, to be devoted to the construction of roads and improvement of communications. This sum will be leviable in the same manner as other arrears of Revenue.

Government of Madras.

Cattle Show at Addanki.

From J. W. B. DYKES, ESQ., Collector of Nellore, to W. HUDLESTON, ESQ., Secretary to the Board of Revenue,—(No. 24, dated Udayagiri, the 21th January 1863)

I HAVE the honor to forward the usual Report on the Cattle Show held at Addanki on the 20th and 21st instant.

2. The Board will be glad to find that the Show has been again a success.

3. I am unable to account satisfactorily for the exception in respect to the three and four year old Bulls, which were poor compared to the other classes, and the question shall have my attention. It is, however, possible that all I shall be able to ascertain is simply that at the age of three and four years it is hardest to keep young Bulls in good order, they are growing, and should this prove to be the case, then, although they do not show well compared with the younger, or the more matured classes, nevertheless their being brought to the Show secure these classes being better looked after than they otherwise would be were there no Show, and here again the beneficial effects of the Show are materially felt, though not so manifestly.

4. The Governor's prize, a handsome Gold Ring, I had the honor of receiving direct from the Private Secretary a few days before the Show was held. It was delivered to the successful competitor when the other prizes were distributed; and I have pleasure in adding that the much coveted prize has, I believe, passed into the hands of a landholder and breeder of stock, likely, from what I heard, to show himself worthy of the honor.

5. In awarding the prizes for the Heifers, the difficulty arising from the mistake referred to by the Committee was got over by there being no Exhibitions this year of two year old Heifers. The revised list submitted with this letter provides for the difficulty for 1864 by reducing the amount of the prices, whilst making the necessary increase in the number of classes.

6. And in submitting this revised list with the report on the Show of 1863, I beg that the Board will be pleased to recommend for the sanction of Government that prizes be offered accordingly for the next Show, and that it be ordered to be held at Addanki on the 20th and 21st January 1864. Whilst I further beg to be permitted to publish the results of the Show for 1863, and the orders thereon, in the District Gazette, and send a copy of the Gazette gratis to all who won prizes, as well as the Members of the Committee.

7. The amount sanctioned for the Show for 1863, and provided for in the Budget, was Rupees 1,250, expended Rupees 1,161-10-0 as shown in the accompanying Memorandum, and for this expenditure sanction is requested.

ENCLOSURE No. 1.

The Report of the Committee on the Cattle Show held at Addanki on the 20th and 21st January 1863.

The Collector, Sub-Collector, and District Engineer, ex-officio members of the Committee, requested Lieutenant Smalley, Assistant District Engineer, Lieutenant Highmoor, Assistant Superintendent of Police, Kasikala Raghupati Row, Tahsildar of Kandukur, C. Balaji Row, Acting Tahsildar of Kanigiri, Rajahgopala Charri, Serishtadar of the Sub-Division, C. Arnuga Mudaliar, Sub-Magistrate of Podeli, and Vemagunti Narayana Row, Sub-Magistrate of Addanki, to assist in awarding the prizes.

Full grown Bulls .. { First prize Rupees 75. / Second „ „ 50.

as compared with last year the Show of full grown Bulls was considered fully equal, and the first prize was awarded unanimously to Manner Adi Narayadu, the second being given to Ravula Appayah.

Five year old Bulls	1st prize	Rupees	70.
	2nd „	„	45.

This class appears for the first time as a separate class in the Addanki Cattle Show; the five year olds having been hitherto compelled to compete with the full grown; and the unfairness of such a competition having attracted the attention of the Committee last year, and been represented in their report, has this year, under the orders of Government dated 3rd March 1862, No. 477, been duly rectified.

In this newly constituted class, altogether seven animals were exhibited; and the first prize was awarded to Kakalapudi Gopaul Razu; and the second fell to Upalapati Rajam Razu; whilst a third prize the Committee considered it desirable to give of 30 Rupees as a special prize to Bolineni Ramaswami. Taking these two classes together, therefore, the Committee observe, that sixteen Bulls in all have been exhibited this year against eleven exhibited last year in one general class.

	2nd „	„	40.
	3rd „	„	20.

In this class this year there has been a falling off both in numbers and quality.

The first prize was given to Ravula Appayah, the second to Mupparaz Narayadu, and the third to Kamati Lakshmaya.

Three year old Bulls...	1st prize	Rupees	50.
	2nd „	„	35.
	3rd „	„	15.

In this class also there was a falling off in numbers and quality.

The first prize was awarded to Gadda Venkatesham, the second to Umanedi Subbaya, and the third to Gadda Viranah; whilst with reference to the closeness of the competition for the third prize it was considered desirable to award a special prize to Bolineni Ramaswami of 15 Rupees.

Two year old Bulls ...	1st prize	Rupees	40.
	2nd „	„	24.
	3rd „	„	12.

This class quite equalled the Show of last year. The animals exhibited were remarkably well-bred and in splendid condition. In giving the prizes the Committee were unanimous in each instance, and awarded the 1st prize to Nallapineni Ramadu, the second to Kamanaboyana Vencatadri and the third to Upalapati Venkam Razu.

Special prizes of 10 Rupees each were also awarded to Kakalapudi Venkataramudu, Wunum-Virapah, and Todimerla Chinna Chendrigadu.

Yearling Bulls ...	1st prize	Rupees	30.
	2nd „	„	20.
	3rd „	„	10.

Of the yearlings, there was an extremely good show both as regards numbers and quality; there being an increase of 12 over the number exhibited last year; and 33 being exhibited this year against 21 last year. The 1st prize was given to Chaganta Bhimaya, for the same young Bull, which as a five months' calf, being allowed to compete, won the first yearling prize last year also, the second prize fell to Bezwada Ramudu, and the third prize was given to Kakalapudi Gopal Razu; whilst special prizes of 10 Rupees each were unanimously considered to be well deserved by Lakamraz, Adirazu; and Ramanapalli Ramadu, and were given accordingly.

	3rd „	„	20.

There was a large falling off in the number of Cows exhibited this year; and, with the exception of those that obtained prizes, the show of animals in this class was not good. The first prize was awarded unanimously to Chekka Kotadu, who exhibited a Cow that may be considered a perfect specimen of the Nellore breed; the second prize was given to Viregunta Kotappa, and the third to Babburi Ramadu.

Heifers four year old.	1st prize	Rupees	50.
	2nd „	„	35.
	3rd „	„	15.

The Committee have the pleasure of reporting again most favorably on the show of Heifers. The animals exhibited were so nearly on a par that considerable difficulty was experienced in selecting the animals for prizes. Altogether twenty-two four year old Heifers were exhibited, and of those selected and taken outside for further comparison, the first prize was unanimously awarded to Chaganti Bhimaya for a very superior specimen of its class; the second prize was given to Paida Venkateshugadu; and the third was won by Simdi Chentsayah. Three special prizes of 15 Rupees each were with great satisfaction awarded by the Committee in this class; the first to Bali Chetty Bayragi, the second to Bolineni Ramaswami, and the third to Ayani Battuni Sheshaya.

In this instance again, in accordance with the orders of Goverument above quoted, there has been a departure from the system pursued hitherto, and the Heifers have been classed according to age; but this change does not appear to have been sufficiently made known to the breeders of stock, and in the two year old class there has been no animal exhibited at all, whilst in the yearling and three year old classes only one animal has been exhibited in each. These were however considered deserving of a reward, and the second prize, for the three year old, was therefore awarded to Kasikurti Ankadu, and for the yearling to Mr. O'Connor, an European Pensioner residing at Tetto, in the Kandakur Talook.

In the revised list submitted to Government, however, the Committee observe there has been an omission, and as the prizes at present stand, no provision has been made for four year old Heifers, which will require to be rectified in the Show for 1864.

Working Cattle.	1st prize	Rupees	75.
	2nd „	„	50.
	3rd „	„	25.

The Show of Working Cattle was inferior this year in numbers and quality. The first prize was awarded to Ravula Appaya for a pair of Bullocks, which drew with ease up a gradual ascent a load of 1½ ton. The second prize was given to Gadda Venkatesham for a pair of Bullocks, which though finer in appearance, did not drag the load with the same ease.

The third prize was awarded to Bolineni Ramaswami.

Governor's prize.	A Gold Ring for the best bred animal exhibited in any class.

Before commencing to try the Working Cattle, the cattle which had won the first prizes in the various classes for which prizes were given were collected together, and the Committee proceeded to take into consideration the awarding of the Governor's prize, which, as might be expected, excited great interest, and formed the chief feature of the Show.

After considerable discussion arising from the difficulty of selecting, where all were so good, it was determined that the choice lay between a two year old Bull, the property of Nallapaneni Ramudu, and a full grown Bull exhibited by Mannar Adinarayadu, and bred by himself at Koppole in the Ongole Talook. This fine Bull was measured and stood 4 feet 7½ inches behind the hump, 5 feet 4 inches on the hump, and 4 feet 11 inches on the haunch, whilst his girth was 6 feet 10 inches, and extreme length from point of shoulder to the quarter 5 feet 4 inches, or the same as his height on the hump. The competition betwixt the two animals ran very close; four votes having been recorded for the two year old Bull, and five for the full grown Bull, to which the prize was accordingly awarded. In conclusion, the Committee consider that on the whole the Show has been very satisfactory, and they have much pleasure in drawing attention to the continued improvement in the young stock, which alone fully proves the beneficial effects of the Show and the influence it exerts on breeders.

1. Ordered to be submitted for the information of Government. The Board are glad to learn that the Cattle Show has again been a success, and that the Committee can testify to valuable results shown in this highly important branch of farming.

2. In the hope of exciting emulation the Board request the Collector to furnish copies of his Gazette Supplement containing the report of the Committee to all other Collectors for publication in their respective Districts in the local Gazette.

3. The Board recommend that the actual expenditure of Rupees 1,161-10-0 out of the estimated amount be sanctioned by Government, and that the Prize List and proposals for the Show in 1864 be approved.

4. They request leave to offer the thanks of Government to the Members of the Committee for their services.

ORDER THEREON, the 23rd February 1863, No. 331.

1. The Gorvenment concur with the Board in considering the results of the Cattle Show held at Addanki on the 20th and 21st ultimo to be very satisfactory and encouraging. It is now seven years since these Shows were first held, and it is gratifying to find that they continue to be so successful.

2. Board are requested to convey the acknowledgments of Government to Mr. Dykes and the Members of the Committee for their services at the Exhibition. The Government are greatly indebted to them for the successful results now reported.

3. The expenses of the exhibition, Rupees (1,161-10-0) one thousand one hundred and sixty-one and annas ten are sanctioned, and authority is granted for holding another next year as proposed.

Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

Services of the Engineers employed in the construction of the Eastern Bengal Railway.

From the Officiating Joint Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, Railway Branch, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department,—(Fort William, the 17th January 1863.)

MR. PURDON, the Chief Engineer of the Eastern Bengal Railway, being about to retire from the employ of the Company, has submitted a Report naming the Officers connected with the undertaking who seem to him to be deserving of commendation, and I am directed to forward a copy of it with the following observations.

2. Mr. Purdon's own services appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be highly deserving of the favorable notice of the Governor-General in Council. The zeal with which he has discharged his duties and the rare judgment and ability that have characterized his operations entitle him to an official expression of the satisfaction of the Government, and His Honor trusts that His Excellency the Viceroy's approval of his exertions may be communicated before Mr. Purdon leaves.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor also desires to bring forward the services of Mr. Leslie (now in England), who was Superintendent of the Iron Bridge Department and Engineer of the Calcutta District, and of Mr. Prestage (at present officiating as Resident Chief Engineer), who held charge of the furthest District of the Railway. The value of Mr. Granville's services to the Company, and his skill as an Architect, are already well known to and appreciated by the Government.

4. His Honor likewise altogether agrees in the justness of the tribute paid to the personal merits of Mr. Henfrey, the Agent and Partner in this country of the Contractors, with regard to which gentleman the Officiating Consulting Engineer has also recorded that "it is not too much to say that the success of the Contractors' operations is due principally to his tact and management."

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL R. STRACHEY, R. E., Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, with the Governor-General, to the Officiating Joint Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department, Railway Branch,—(dated the 24th February 1863.)

I AM directed by His Excellency the Viceroy to reply to your letter No. 192 G, dated 17th ultimo, bringing to the notice of the Government of India the services of the Engineers engaged on the construction of the Eastern Bengal Railway, the opening of which line has recently taken place.

2. His Excellency has much gratification in expressing his full concurrence in the high eulogium passed on the ability that has characterized the operations of Mr. Purdon, the Chief Engineer of the Company, and requests that the Lieutenant-Governor will convey to that gentleman the assurance that the Government of India cordially acknowledges the services he has rendered to the country by the skill with which he has laid out and directed the works of the Eastern Bengal Railway.

3. The Governor-General also desires that Messrs. Leslie, Prestage, and Granville may be assured that the Government of India is fully sensible of their meritorious services; and that Mr. Henfrey may be informed that his successful prosecution of an undertaking of such magnitude as this Railway, under circumstances so novel to English Contractors, entitles him to the hearty approval and congratulations of the Government.

LEGISLATIVE.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XIV OF 1863.

An Act to amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal).

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) so far as it relates to the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and to authorize the extension of the Act to places to which its provisions do not now apply; It is enacted as follows:—

Suits cognizable by Collectors in addition to those specified in Sections XXIII and XXIV of Act X of 1859.

I. In addition to the suits specified in Sections XXIII and XXIV of Act X of 1859, the following suits shall be cognizable by the Collectors of Land Revenue under the provisions of the said Act, and, except in the way of appeal as provided in the said Act, shall not be cognizable in any other Court or by any other Officer or in any other manner (that is to say):—

1*st*.—Suits by Lumberdars for arrears of Government revenue payable through them by the co-sharers whom they represent.

2*nd*.—Suits by co-sharers for their share of the profits of an estate or any part thereof after payment of the Government revenue and village expenses, or for a settlement of accounts.

3*rd*.—Suits by Maafeedars or assignees of Government revenue for arrears of revenue owing to them as such Maafeedars or assignees.

4*th*.—Suits by Talookdars and other superior proprietors for arrears of revenue or otherwise (not being rent claimable under Section XXIII of the said Act X of 1859) due to them as such Talookdars or other superior proprietors.

Limitation of suits under preceding Section.

II. Suits instituted under the preceding Section shall be instituted within three years from the date when the arrear or the amount of profits claimed shall have become due, or if the suit be for an arrear, or for profits due at the time of the passing of this Act, it shall be instituted within three years after the passing of this Act, or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire. If the suit be for a settlement of accounts, the suit shall be brought within one year after the expiration of the year to which the accounts relate, or in the case of any claim for such settlement now existing, within one year from the time of the passing of this Act, or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire.

Additional ground for claim to abatement of rent.

III. In addition to the grounds mentioned in Section XVIII of the said Act X of 1859, upon which a ryot, having a right of occupancy, can claim an abatement of the rent previously paid by him, every such ryot may claim abatement on the ground that the rate of rent paid by him is above the prevailing rate payable by the same class of ryots for land of a similar description, and with similar advantages, in the places adjacent.

Addition to Clause 2, Section XXIII of Act X of 1859.

IV. Clause 2 of Section XXIII of the said Act X of 1859 shall be read as if the words "or by any other means not warranted by law" were added thereto.

Repeal and re-enactment of Sections XXXIV and LXXXVI of Act X of 1859.

V. From the date of the passing of this Act Sections XXXIV and LXXXVI of the said Act X of 1859 shall cease to have effect in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and shall not come into force in any place to which this Act shall be extended as hereinafter provided, and the following Sections are enacted in lieu thereof:—

Procedure in the institution of suits under this Act.

"Section XXXIV. Suits under this Act shall be instituted by presenting to the Collector a plaint or statement of claim, which shall contain the name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff, the name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained, the substance and value of the claim, estimated according to any law for the time being in force for the valuation of suits, and the date of the cause of action."

Issue of process of Execution.

"Section LXXXVI. Process of execution may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment debtor, but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. Such process may be issued on the oral application of the judgment creditor, his agent, or mookhtar, made at the time the decree is passed, or thereafter upon the written application of the judgment creditor, his agent, or mookhtar. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in form E or F contained in the Schedule to the said Act X of 1859, or to the like effect."

Certain provisions of Civil Procedure Code applicable to decrees in rent suits.

VI. The provisions of Section 243 and 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be applicable to decrees passed in suits under the said Act X of 1859, or this Act, in which the Collector shall award a sum of money on account either of an arrear of Government revenue, or of profits, or otherwise.

Revision and appeal.

Orders passed by a Collector under either of the said Sections shall be subject to revision by the Commissioner of the Division and the Sudder Board of Revenue, but shall not be open to appeal to the Civil Court.

Addition to Section CXII of Act X of 1859.

VII. Section CXII of the said Act X of 1859 shall be read as if the words "or where the rent of a puttee is not collected by a Lumberdar, through the putteedar who is entitled to collect the rent" were added at the end of such Section.

Local Government may invest Settlement Officers with certain powers.

VIII. The local Government may invest any Officer employed in making or revising settlements of the land revenue, with the powers of a Collector as described in the said Act X of 1859, for the decision of suits arising within the local limits of the jurisdiction assigned to such Officer, of the nature mentioned in Section XXIII of the said Act, or in this Act, while such Officer is so employed.

Matters cognizable by such Settlement Officers.

IX. In the exercise of the powers given under the last preceding Section, the Officer so invested shall have power to determine all disputes existing between Zemindars, Talookdars or other Sudder Malgoozars, or Farmers of land, or any person duly authorized on their behalf, and any dependent Zemindar, ryot or other under-tenant of whatever denomination, regarding the rates of rent payable by such dependent Zemindar, under-tenant, ryot, or other tenant.

Rule as to suits for enhancement of rent.

X. If a suit for enhancement of rent be brought before any Officer empowered under Section VIII of this Act to hear the same, such suit shall be heard and determined by such Officer notwithstanding that no notice of enhancement shall have been served under Section XIII of the said Act X of 1859 on the party from whom such enhanced rent is claimed. In such case the statement of claim shall set forth the grounds on which such enhancement of rent is claimed. If a decree be passed in favor of the claimant, such decree shall have effect only from the commencement of the next agricultural year after the date of the decree.

Provision for suits by or against ryots collectively.

XI. Whenever a claim to enhancement or abatement of rent against or by any number of ryots is brought before an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements, and empowered under Section VIII of this Act to hear such claim, such ryots may be sued or may sue collectively, and it shall be no ground for dismissing or refusing to hear the claim that such ryots are wrongly joined as plaintiffs or defendants, Provided all such ryots cultivate in the same Estate, but no decree shall be passed in any such case in which an enhancement of rent is claimed, unless such Officer as aforesaid shall be satisfied that every ryot has had an opportunity to appear and make objection to the claim preferred against him. Provided also that every decree passed in any such case shall specify the extent to which each of the ryots named in the decree shall be affected thereby.

Decisions liable to appeal.

XII. All decisions passed under the foregoing Sections by an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements, and invested as above, shall be open to the same appeal as is given by the said Act X of 1859 in respect to decisions passed by a Collector in suits of the same description.

Proviso as to former decisions.

Provided that no decree passed in any such suit by an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements before the passing of this Act, shall be open to question solely on the ground of want of jurisdiction in the Officer who passed such decree, or of any error, defect, or irregularity in procedure not productive of injury to either party, but an appeal shall lie against such decree in like manner as if the suit had been decided under this Act.

Commutation of rents in kind to fixed money payments.

XIII. In all cases in which rents have heretofore been paid in kind, or by the estimated value of a portion of the crop, it shall be lawful for an Officer employed in making or revising the settlement of the land revenue, on the application either of the payer or the receiver of the rent, to commute such rent into a fixed money payment. The rate or amount of rent thus fixed shall be binding upon the parties concerned, subject to the provisions of the said Act X of 1859. All decisions already passed by any such Officer, commuting rents in kind, or by valuation, to fixed rents in money shall, subject to the same appeal as is given by the said Act X of 1859 in respect to decisions passed by a Collector in suits under the said Act, be legal and binding.

Arbitration Chapter of Civil Procedure Code made applicable.

XIV. The provisions of Chapter VI. (relative to arbitration) of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits under the said Act X of 1859, and under this Act.

Provision for collection of water rate.

XV. In any District through which any canal passes, in respect of which any water rate is payable to Government, it shall be lawful for the local Government to appoint any proprietor or farmer of an estate through which such canal passes in such District, with the consent of such proprietor or farmer, to be a lumberdar for the collection of such water rate in such estate, and thereupon the amount annually payable on account of such water rate by the dependent Zemindars, ryots, and other under-tenants in such estate shall (subject to such abatement on account of commission or otherwise as shall be allowed by the local Government to such lumberdar), be held to be a charge on the estate of such proprietor, or farmer, and shall be added to the assessment payable to Government in respect of such estate, and the amount thereof shall be recoverable in like manner as the assessment on such estate, and for the purpose of collecting such water rate from the dependent Zemindars, ryots, and other tenants in such estate liable thereto, such lumberdar shall have the like powers, and shall be subject to the same rules as are provided in any law for the time being in force in respect of the collection of the rent of land.

Rule as to person arrested under Section CXLV of Act X of 1859.

XVI. If any person shall be arrested under Section CXLV of the said Act X of 1859, he shall be brought before the Collector with all convenient speed, and the Collector shall proceed forthwith to try the case. If the case cannot be at once heard and determined, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the party arrested to give security for his person whenever the same may be required. ' In default of such security, the party arrested may be committed to the Civil Jail until the case is tried.

Special appeal from decisions of Zillah Judge under Act X of 1859.

XVII. Doubts having been entertained as to whether the decisions passed by a Zillah Judge in regular appeal under the said Act X of 1859 are open to special appeal, it is hereby declared that it was the intention of the said Act that such decisions should be open to special appeal to the Sudder Court in the same manner, and subject to the same rules, as the decisions of Zillah Judges passed in regular appeal are open to special appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Construction of Act.

XVIII. This Act shall be read and taken, in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and in all places to which this Act shall be extended under the next following Section, as part of the said Act X of 1859.

Power to extend the Act.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council to extend the provisions of Act X of 1859 as amended by this Act to any Territories immediately administered by the Government of India, or for the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and of the Punjab, respectively, to extend the said Act amended as above to any part of the Territories under their respective Governments, in which the said Act X of 1859 is not now in force. Whenever the said Act amended as above shall be so extended, the Governor-General of India in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor who shall so extend the same, shall declare by what Officers in the said Territories or any parts thereof, to which the said Act X of 1859 amended as above shall be extended, the powers given by the said Act shall be exercised, and such Officers shall thereupon be authorized to exercise such powers.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information.—

ACT No. XV OF 1863.

An Act to amend Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the provisions of Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) in so far as the said Act relates to agreements with Natives of India; to vessels trading from the Straits Settlement to the Gulf of Siam, and the Eastern Archipelago; and to the cancelment and suspension of certificates of competency and service; It is enacted as follows:—

Certain Sections of Act I of 1859, and Act XXVIII of 1861 repealed.

I. Sections XVII, XXI, LXXXI and LXXXII of the said Act I of 1859, and Act XXVIII of 1861 (to extend the provisions of Act I of 1859 for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) are hereby repealed.

Sections IX to XVI of Act I of 1859 not to apply to ships registered under Act X of 1841 under certain circumstances.

II. Sections IX to XVI of the said Act I of 1859 shall not apply to ships registered under Act X of 1841, (for prescribing the rules to be observed, in order that ships or vessels belonging to Ports within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, or belonging to Native Princes or States, or their Subjects, may become entitled to the privileges of British ships under a proclamation of the Governor-General of India in Council, made in pursuance of the Statute 3 and 4 Victoria, Chapter 56), and trading between Ports in India and the Coast of Arabia, when such ships are navigated and manned exclusively by Arabs, Lascars, or other Asiatic Masters and Seamen, or to ships of less than 200 tons burden registered under the said Act X of 1841, and trading between any Port of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca, and the Gulf of Siam, or the Eastern Archipelago, when such ships are navigated exclusively by Malays, Lascars, or other Asiatic Masters and Seamen.

Agreements with seamen and others.

III. The Master of every ship, except ships of a burden not exceeding three hundred tons employed only in the Home-trade, shall enter into an agreement with every Seaman and with every Native of India not being a Seaman whom he carries to sea from any Port in India as one of his crew, in the manner hereinafter mentioned; and every such agreement shall be in a form sanctioned by the Governor-General of India in Council, and shall be dated at the time of the first signature thereof, and shall be signed by the Master before any Seaman or other person aforesaid signs the same, and shall contain the following particulars as terms thereof; (that is to say)—

1.—The nature and, as far as practicable, the duration of the intended voyage or engagement.

2.—The number and description of the crew, specifying how many are engaged as sailors.

3.—The time at which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to be on board or to begin work.

4. The capacity in which each Seaman and Native of India not being a Seaman is to serve.

5.—The amount of wages which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to receive.

6. A scale of the provisions which are to be furnished to each Seaman and to each Native of India not being a Seaman.

7. Any regulations as to conduct on board, and as to fines, short allowance of provisions, or other lawful punishments for misconduct, which have been sanctioned by the Government as regulations proper to be adopted and which the parties agree to adopt.

And every such agreement shall be so framed as to admit of stipulations to be adopted at the will of the Master and Seaman, and each Native of India not being a Seaman, in each case (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act), as to advance of wages and supply of warm clothing, and may contain any other stipulations which are not contrary to law. Provided that, if the Master of any ship belonging to the United Kingdom or any British possession has an agreement with his crew made in due form according to the law of the place to which such ship belongs, or in which her crew were engaged, and engages single Seamen, or any Native of India not being a Seaman, in any Port in India, such Seaman or other person aforesaid may sign the agreement so made, and it shall not be necessary for such Seaman or other person aforesaid to sign an agreement under this Act. Provided also that, in the case of Lascars or other Native Seamen, and every Native of India not being a Seaman, when it shall be agreed that the service of any such Seaman or other person aforesaid shall end at any Port not in India, the agreement shall contain stipulations for providing for such Seaman or other person aforesaid fit employment on board some other vessel bound to the Port at which he was shipped, or such other Port as may be agreed on, or for providing for him a passage to some such Port as aforesaid free of charge, or on such other terms as may be agreed on; and every such stipulation shall be signed by the owner of the vessel or by the Master on his behalf.

Proviso as to forms for British or Colonial ships.

Proviso where Lascars are shipped.

IV. Every Court having Admiralty jurisdiction in India, and the principal Court of Ordinary Criminal Jurisdiction at every Port in India where there is no Court having Admiralty jurisdiction, is hereby authorized to investigate and try charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of any Master, Mate or Engineer of any ship, who shall have obtained his certificate from the Board of Trade, and to make enquiry as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships; and if on such investigation it shall appear to any such Court as aforesaid, that the loss or abandonment of, or any serious damage to, any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by the wrongful act or default of any such Master, Mate or Engineer, or that any such Master, Mate or Engineer has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny, such Court may suspend for such period as it shall think fit, or may cancel such certificate whether of competency or service of such Master, Mate or Engineer, and the Court shall report the same to the local Government, within whose limits such Court is situated. Provided that no certificate shall be cancelled or suspended unless a copy of the Report or a Statement of the case upon which the investigation is made, shall have been furnished to the owner of the certificate before the commencement of the investigation Provided also that the Report of such Court is confirmed by the Governor or other person administering the local Government wherein such Court is held.

Court authorized to make enquiry into charges against Masters, Mates, and Engineers, and to report to local Government.

Proviso.

V. Every Court by which any investigation or trial is held under the last preceding Section shall, at the conclusion of the case, or as soon afterwards as possible, state in open Court the decision to which they may have come with respect to cancelling or suspending certificates, and shall in all cases send a full report upon the case with the evidence to the Board of Trade, and shall also, if they determine to cancel or suspend any certificate, forward such certificate to the Board of Trade with their Report.

Procedure of such Court.

VI. If the local Government, on the information of any Shipping Master, or on any other ground, has reason to believe that any Master or Mate who has obtained a certificate of competency or service from such Government, or from any other local Government, is, from incompetency or misconduct, unfit to discharge his duties, it may direct any Board or Officer at or near to the place at which it may be convenient for the parties and witnesses to attend, to institute an investigation; and thereupon such Board or Officer shall conduct the investigation into such charge of incompetency or misconduct, and shall, on the conclusion of the investigation, make a report upon the case to the local Government which ordered the investigation.

Local Government may direct investigation in cases of incompetency and misconduct.

VII. For the purpose of any such enquiry under Section IV or Section VI, the Court, Board or Officer may summon the Master, Mate or Engineer, as the case may be, to appear, and shall give him full opportunity of making a defence, either in person or otherwise, and may summon and examine witnesses, and may make such order with respect to the costs of such investigation, and may require such security for costs, as such Court, Board, or Officer may deem just. Every order in respect of costs under this Section may be enforced in like manner as a fine may be enforced by a Magistrate in the Port where such investigation is held.

Powers of Court, &c., in making enquiry.

VIII. The local Government may suspend or cancel the certificate (whether of competency or service) granted by such local Government or by any other local Government under the said Act I of 1859, to any Master or Mate in the following cases; (that is to say)—

Local Government may cancel or suspend certificates in certain cases.

Clause 1. If upon any investigation conducted under the provisions of Sections C, CI, and CII of Act I of 1859, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default.

Loss, abandonment or serious damage by default of Master or Mate.

Clause 2. If upon any investigation held under Section VI of this Act, the Master or Mate shall be reported to be incompetent, or to have been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny.

Incompetency, gross misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny of Master or Mate.

Clause 3. If upon any investigation held under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1854, or the Merchant Shipping Amendment Act 1862, or upon any investigation made by a Naval Court constituted as is provided by any law for the time being in force, or upon any investigation made by any Court or Tribunal authorized or hereafter to be authorized by the Legislative Authority in any British possession to make enquiry into charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of Masters or Mates of ships, or as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default; or that he has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny. Provided always that, in the case of any report by any such last-mentioned Court or Tribunal, the report shall have been confirmed by the Governor or person administering the Government of such possession.

Or after other investigations.

Clause 4. If he has been superseded by the order of any Admiralty Court, or of any Naval Court constituted as provided by the Merchant Shipping Act 1854, or any other law for the time being in force.

Supersession.

Clause 5. If he is shown to have been convicted of any offence.

Conviction of any offence.

IX. Every Master, Mate or Engineer whose certificate is cancelled or suspended under the provisions of this Act, shall deliver it to the Shipping Master, or to such other person as the Court or the local Government which cancelled or suspended the certificate shall direct, and in default, shall, for each offence, incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees. Provided that if the local Government which cancels or suspends a certificate of a Master or Mate is not the local Government that granted the same, the local Government which so cancels or suspends the certificate, shall report the proceedings and the fact of cancelment or suspension to the local Government which granted such certificate. Provided also that it shall be competent to any local Government at any subsequent time to grant to any person whose certificate has been cancelled a new certificate of the same or of any lower grade.

Master Mate or Engineer to deliver up his certificate. Penalty otherwise.

Proviso for report to other local Governments.

X. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the powers of removal vested by Section CCXL of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, or Section LXXX of the said Act I of 1859 in Courts having Admiralty jurisdiction in India. The said powers may be exercised by the principal Court of ordinary Criminal jurisdiction at any Port in India where there is no Court having Admiralty jurisdiction if the Master or Mate shall have received his certificate from any local Government.

Saving of powers vested in certain Admiralty Courts.

Same powers may be exercised by Chief Criminal Court in Indian Port where there is no Admiralty Court.

XI. This Act shall be read and taken as part of the said Act I of 1859.

Act to be taken as part of Act I of 1859.

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. XVI of 1863.

An Act to make special provision for the levy of the Excise Duty payable on Spirits used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry.

Whereas it is expedient to make special provision for the levy of the Excise Duty payable on Spirits used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Spirits intended to be used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry may be removed from any licensed Distillery in any part of British India on payment of duty calculated at 10 per cent. on the value of the Spirits, provided that no Spirits shall be so removed until they have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption.

Such spirits may be removed from Distillery on payment of Duty, on condition.

II. The Board of Revenue, or other authority specially authorized in that behalf by the local Government, shall prescribe from time to time, subject to the approval of the local Government, rules for ascertaining and determining that Spirits proposed to be removed for the purposes aforesaid have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption, as required by Section I of this Act; for causing such Spirits to be so rendered, if necessary, by its own officers at the expense of the person who wishes to remove them; and for fixing the value of the Spirit on which the ad valorem duty shall be levied.

Rules for ascertaining and determining that spirits to be removed have been rendered unfit for human consumption, &c.

III. Every person who shall wilfully contravene any rule prescribed by the Board of Revenue, or other Authority as aforesaid, under the last preceding Section of this Act, shall be liable on conviction before any Officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees for every such offence.

Penalty for breach of such rules.

IV. Every person who shall attempt, or shall connive at an attempt, to render fit for human consumption Spirits removed from a Distillery under the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand Rupees; and the possessor of such Penalty for attempting to render fit for human consumption spirits removed under this Act.

Spirits on which such attempt has been made, or which may have been rendered fit for human consumption, shall be liable on conviction before any Officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

Such penalty how to be levied.

V. Any penalty imposed under either of the last two preceding Sections may in case of non-payment be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender, by warrant under the hand of the Officer by whom such penalty was imposed.

In case of non-payment of penalty offender may be detained pending return to distress warrant.

VI. In case any such penalty shall not be forthwith paid, any such Officer may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless the offender shall give security to the satisfaction of such Officer for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress.

Imprisonment of offender in case of failure to recover penalty by distress.

VII. If upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such penalty, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such Officer by the confession of the offender or otherwise that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty could be levied if a warrant of distress were issued, any such Officer may by warrant under his hand commit the offender to the Civil Jail, there to be imprisoned, according to the discretion of such Officer, for any term not exceeding two Calendar months when the amount of penalty shall not exceed fifty Rupees, and for any term not exceeding four Calendar months when the amount shall not exceed one hundred Rupees, and for any term not exceeding six Calendar months in any other case, the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount.

Provisions of Section XI, Act III of 1852 relating to adulteration, not to apply to spirits rendered unfit for consumption under this Act.

VIII. The prohibition contained in Section XI of Act III of 1852 (to amend the law relating to spirituous and intoxicating liquors, drugs, and preparations within the Territories subordinate to the Presidency of Bombay) against mixing any noxious drug or material in, or by other process adulterating Spirits manufactured under the provisions of Regulation XXI of 1827 of the Bombay Code, or of the said Act III of 1852, shall not apply to Spirits rendered unfit for human consumption under this Act.

Confiscation in cases of conviction under Sections III or IV.

IX. In every case of conviction under Section III or Section IV of this Act the liquor or Spirits with the cask or vessel containing the same, and the cart, boat, and animal or animals employed in carrying such liquor or Spirit shall be liable to confiscation.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVII OF 1863.

An Act to authorize the extension of the term of Office of the Municipal Commissioners in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the term of Office of the Municipal Commissioners in the Straits Settlement should be extended ; It is enacted as follows :—

Section repealed.

I. Section XIX of Act XXVII of 1856 (for appointing Municipal Commissioners, and for levying rates and taxes in the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca), is repealed. The operation of Section XV of the said Act shall be suspended at the election of Municipal Commissioners under the said Act, to be held next after the passing of this Act.

Section suspended.

Governor to declare for what period Commissioner appointed by him shall hold office.

II. The Governor of the Settlement shall, upon the appointment of the Commissioner whom he is empowered by the said Act XXVII of 1856 Section V to appoint, declare for what number of years, not exceeding three, such Commissioner shall hold Office.

Elected Commissioners to hold office for periods to be determined as provided.

III. The Municipal Commissioners of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, respectively, who shall be chosen at the said next election by the largest number of votes, shall hold their Office for one, two, or three years, as shall be determined in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Allotment of periods for tenure of Office, by number of votes.

IV. The Municipal Commissioner who is chosen at such next election by the largest number of votes shall hold his Office for three years ; the Municipal Commissioner who is chosen by the next largest number of votes shall hold his Office for two years, and the remaining Municipal Commissioner shall hold his Office for one year.

Allotment in case of votes for all three Commissioners being equal.

V. If at any of the said Stations the three Municipal Commissioners chosen at the said next election shall be elected by an equal number of votes, the Governor, or, in his absence from such Station, the Resident Councillor shall declare and appoint the periods of three years, two years, and one year, respectively, for which every such elected Municipal Commissioner shall hold Office.

And in case of votes for two being equal, and yet greater than for the third.

VI. If at any of the said Stations at the said next election two of the Municipal Commissioners chosen shall have an equality of votes, but such number shall be greater than the number of votes given for the third Municipal Commissioner; the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall declare and appoint the periods of three years, and two years, respectively, for which each of the said two Municipal Commissioners shall hold Office; and the other Municipal Commissioner shall hold Office for one year only.

And in case of one having a majority, and the other two an equal number.

VII. If at any of the said Stations at the said next election one of the Municipal Commissioners chosen shall have a number of votes larger than the other two Municipal Commissioners, and such other two Commissioners shall have an equality of votes, the Municipal Commissioner who shall have such larger number of votes shall hold Office for three years, and the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall declare the periods of two years, and one year, respectively, for which each of the other two Municipal Commissioners shall hold Office.

When two or more candidates have an equal number of votes, election how to be determined.

VIII. If at any of the said Stations an equal number of votes be given for any two or more candidates at the said next election, so that the Sheriff or his Deputy is not able to declare as between such persons which of them has been elected, the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall give a casting vote for one or more of such persons, and, reckoning such vote, shall declare the period for which such person or persons shall hold Office in manner provided in Section IV.

Term of tenure of Office of Commissioner appointed under Section XVI of Act XXVII of 1856.

IX. Every Commissioner appointed under Section XVI of the said Act XXVII of 1856, in consequence of a refusal to act, a failure of election, or otherwise, shall hold Office for such term as the Governor or Resident Councillor of the Station shall declare. Provided that such term shall in no case exceed three years, and shall be a term which shall conform to the terms for which the other Commissioner or Commissioners shall have been declared and appointed to hold Office under Section IV of this Act, so that the three Commissioners shall hold their Offices for three years, two years, and one year, respectively.

Proviso.

And of Commissioner appointed under Section XVII of said Act.

X. Every Commissioner appointed under the provisions of Section XVII of the said Act XXVII of 1856, in place of any Commissioner elected at the said next election, shall hold Office for the term for which the Commissioner in whose place he is appointed was entitled to hold Office.

Names and terms of Office to be published.

XI. The names of the persons elected or appointed to be Municipal Commissioners under this Act, and the terms for which such persons shall hold Office, shall be published in such manner as the Governor may direct.

Commissioners when to enter on Office. Subsequent elections limited to one. Appointments to vacancies.

XII. The Municipal Commissioners at each of the said Stations elected under the provisions of this Act shall enter upon their Office on the first day of January after their election, and shall hold Office for the periods hereinbefore provided. At every subsequent election under the said Act XXVII of 1856, one Commissioner only shall be elected. The Commissioner elected at such subsequent election shall hold Office for three years. Appointments to fill up any vacancy occasioned by the death, resignation, or refusal to act of any such Commissioner shall have effect for the period for which such Commissioner would have held Office but for such death, resignation, or refusal to act, and all the provisions of the said Act XXVII of 1856, so far as they are not affected by this Act, which relate to the election of three Commissioners at each annual election shall, so far as practicable, be construed to apply to the election of one Commissioner only.

Construction of Act.

XIII. This Act shall be read and taken as part of the said Act XXVII of 1856.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XVIII OF 1863.

An Act to make provision for the speedy and efficient disposal of the business now pending in the Office of the Master of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and to provide for the abolition of the Oaths now administered to Hindoos and Mahomedans in the said Court, and to amend the Code of Civil Procedure in respect of process issued out of the said Court in the exercise of its Original Civil Jurisdiction.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, at the time of the abolition of the late Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, many matters which had been referred to the Master of the said Court were pending before him, and many of them are still pending before the Master of the High Court, and it is expedient that all such matters should be wound up and determined as expeditiously as possible, and whereas it is expedient that the law concerning the administration of oaths to Hindoos and Mahomedans in such Court should be assimilated to the law concerning such oaths in Courts not established by Royal Charter; and that the Code of Civil Procedure should be amended in respect of process issued out of the said High Court in the exercise of its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. It is enacted as follows:—

Power to Master to summon parties, &c., and to settle and wind up proceedings before him.

I. In order as expeditiously as may be to wind up all the suits, matters, and things which are now pending before the Master of the said High Court of Judicature at Fort William Bengal, it shall be lawful for the Master, at any time after the passing of this Act at his own discretion, and without application on behalf of any of the parties to the suit or reference, and in such manner as he shall deem fit, to summon all or any of the parties to any suit, matter, or thing so pending, or their Solicitors, and thereupon to proceed with such suit, matter, or thing, and to give such directions and make such orders as he may think necessary for the purpose of settling and winding up the same; but any such order shall be subject to be discharged or varied by the said Court upon application made for that purpose, and the Master shall be at liberty to proceed ex-parte for the purposes aforesaid in the absence of any of the parties or their Solicitors neglecting or refusing to attend the summons, and it shall also be lawful for the Master at his discretion to proceed with the reference, and to make a special report to the Court notwithstanding the death of any of the parties to the suit or reference, or their absence from the jurisdiction of the Court, or in cases in which, after search to the satisfaction of the Master, parties are not to be found within the jurisdiction of the Court, or it is uncertain whether such parties are living or dead.

Power to Court upon Master's report or certificate, to make order for prosecution and final disposal of any suit, &c., and for payment of costs, &c.

II. In case the Master shall be unable by reason of the conduct of parties, or otherwise, to dispose finally of any suit, matter, or thing referred to or pending before him (within such time as he shall in that behalf determine), he shall be at liberty to report on or to dispose of any part thereof within his power, and to report or certify on the whole of the case; and upon such report or certificate the Court shall make such order as it shall think proper on all or any of the parties, for the further prosecution of the suit or matter, or for the final disposal thereof and for the payment of the costs thereof, including any of the costs which may have been incurred by reason of the conduct of the parties.

Neglect to bring report before the Court.

III. If within a time to be fixed by the Master in that behalf, the report or certificate of the Master shall not be brought before the Court, the Registrar shall bring such report or certificate before the Court, and the Court is hereby empowered to make such order or decree in the suit as to the Court shall seem fit.

No fresh references to Master except in suits already before him.

IV. From and after the passing of this Act no reference shall be made to the Master except in cases in which, from some previous reference made in the suit or matter, or in some other suit or matter connected therewith, the Court may think it expedient to make such reference.

All powers possessed by Master may be exercised by Judges.

V. From and after the passing of this Act all or any of the powers, authorities, and jurisdiction which at the time of the abolition of the said Supreme Court were vested in the Master in Equity, may be exercised by the High Court, or by a Judge of the said Court.

Power to Court to dismiss suits upon certificate of Master that no proceedings have been taken for a year.

VI. Whenever it shall appear from the certificate of the Master that no proceedings have been taken in his Office for a period of one year in any reference pending before him; the Court shall have power to dismiss such suit, or to make such other order or decree in the suit as to the Court shall seem fit.

Power of division Court to refer matters for investigation by a single Judge.

VII. It shall be lawful for any division Court consisting of more than one Judge to adjourn, for the consideration of a single Judge, any matters of account, detail, or other description which, in the opinion of such Court, may be more conveniently investigated by a single Judge sitting in Chambers, and such matters shall thereupon be investigated by a single Judge, who shall proceed with such investigation sitting either in Chambers or in open Court, and shall report thereon to a division Court, and such report shall as regards such division Court be final, but shall be open to revision by any Court of Appeal to whom the order or decree founded thereon may be appealed. The Chief Justice shall from time to time determine in each case what Judge shall take or proceed with the investigation.

Power to make rules.

VIII. The said High Court shall have power to make general rules or orders for winding up the business now pending in the Office of the said Master, and generally for regulating the conduct of business, and the manner in which the same shall be transacted in the Master's Office, and for regulating the procedure of a single Judge touching investigations before him under the provisions of this Act. Provided that such rules and orders shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, or of any Act for the time being in force relating to such matters.

Extension of Act V of 1840, concerning oaths and declarations of Hindoos and Mahomedans, to High Court.

IX. The proviso contained in Section IV of Act V of 1840 (concerning oaths and declarations of Hindoos and Mahomedans), that the said Act shall not apply to any declaration or affirmation made in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, is hereby repealed, and Section I of the said Act V of 1840 shall be read as if the words following had been added thereto.

"And when verifying an Affidavit to the following effect:—I solemnly affirm in the presence of Almighty God that the signature to this is my name and handwriting, and that the contents of this Affidavit are true."

X. After the passing of this Act notices to produce documents or writings, summonses to witnesses, and all other judicial process issued in the exercise of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, except writs of summons to defendants issued under Section XLI of Act VIII of 1859 (the Code of Civil Procedure) and writs of execution, may be served by the Attorneys in the suit, or by persons employed by them, or in such other manner as the said High Court shall by any rules or orders from time to time direct.

Process from High Court may be served by Attorneys and others.

XI. It shall not be necessary for a Judge of the said High Court to sign any writ, order, summons or other judicial process issued or made in the exercise of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the said High Court. The said High Court shall have power from time to time to direct that such writs, orders, or other process shall be signed by such Officer or Officers of the said Court as to the Court may seem fit.

Not to be necessary for a Judge to sign process.

XII. This Act may be extended to the High Court of Judicature at Madras, and the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, by an order of the Governor in Council of Fort St. George, and the Governor in Council of Bombay, respectively, to be published in the Official Gazettes of Madras and Bombay, respectively; and when so extended by such order, shall take effect in the said Courts from the date of the publication of such order. When so extended to either of such High Courts, this Act shall in all respects apply to such High Court in the same manner as if the name of such High Court had appeared in this Act wherever the name of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal appears.

Extension of the Act to the High Courts at Madras and Bombay.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XIX OF 1863.

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law relating to the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal; It is enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

I. From the date of the passing of this Act Regulation IX. 1811 of the Bengal Code (for facilitating the division of landed property, and for securing the rights of joint sharers in joint undivided Estates), Regulation XI. 1811 of the same Code (for extending the period fixed by the existing Regulations for revising the jumma on lands ordered to be divided into two or more Estates), Regulation XIX. 1814 of the same Code (for reducing to one Regulation, with alterations and additions, certain Regulations respecting the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government), Act XX of 1836, and Act XI of 1838, except in so far as the said Regulations and Acts repeal any Regulation or Act, or any part of any Regulation or Act, and except as to the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act, shall cease to have effect in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal. Unless as hereinafter provided, the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act shall be proceeded with and completed in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed.

Laws repealed.

II. Except as directed in the last preceding Section, all partitions of estates which shall be ordered to be made by the Officers of Government after the passing of this Act, shall be made under the provisions of this Act, whatever may be the tenure of the estate ordered to be divided.

Future partitions to be made under provisions of this Act.

III. Every recorded proprietor of a joint undivided estate paying revenue to Government or of any portion thereof, whether such Estate is held in common tenancy or otherwise, is entitled to claim partition under this Act.

What parties entitled to partition.

IV. When any one or more of the recorded proprietors of an estate as described in the last preceding Section shall desire to have his or their shares of the estate separated, in order that he or they may hold the same as a separate property or as separate properties, such proprietor or propietors shall make a written application for the purpose to the Collector of the District. Any two or more proprietors may apply to have their shares separated, and to hold the same as a joint estate.

Parties desirous of partition to apply to Collector in writing.

V. The application shall be signed by the party or parties applying for the partition, and shall specify the nature of the tenure of the estate sought to be divided. The names of all the co-sharers in the estate, the nature and extent of their respective shares, so far as the same may be known to the applicant or applicants, or can be ascertained by him or them, and the mode of partition desired, shall also be stated. If the application does not contain the particulars above mentioned, the Collector may reject it.

Application to be signed, and certain particulars specified.

Otherwise may be rejected.

VI. The Collector, on the receipt of an application for partition, shall, if the application be in order, and not open to objection on the face of it, publish a Notification of the same at his Office, and at some conspicuous place on the estate to which the application relates, and shall invite any party in possession, who may not have joined in the application and who may object to the partition applied for, to appear before him either in person or by a duly constituted agent, on a day to be specified in the Notification, not being less than fifteen or more than thirty days from the date of the Notification, and state his objection. If the application for partition shall not have been made by all the recorded proprietors of the estate, notice of the application shall be served, in the manner usual in the District for serving notices of the Revenue Officers, on such of the recorded proprietors of the estate as shall not have joined in the application. Provided that, if from any cause such service cannot take place, a proclamation notifying such application shall be published by affixing it at the Maal Cutcherry of such estate or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the Village Chowrie, Choupal, or other conspicuous place in each village in such estate.

Procedure of Collector on receipt of application.

Notice to proprietors who have not joined therein.

Proclamation in case of service of notice being impracticable.

VII. If any objection be made to the partition by any party in possession, within the time allowed, and the Collector, on a consideration of such objection, be of opinion that there is any good and sufficient reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, why the partition should be absolutely disallowed, he may refuse the application, recording the grounds of his refusal.

In case of valid objection being made within time allowed, application may be refused.

VIII. If the objection raise any question of title or of proprietary right, which shall not appear to have been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may either decline to grant the application until the question in dispute shall have been determined by a competent Court, or he may proceed to inquire into the merits of the objection. In the latter case the Collector, after making the necessary inquiry and taking such evidence as may be adduced, shall record a proceeding declaring the nature and extent of the interests in the actual possession of the party or parties applying for the partition, and any other party or parties who may be affected thereby. The procedure to be observed by the Collector in trying such cases shall be that laid down in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) for the trial of original suits. And the Collector shall have power to refer any question that may arise in such case to arbitration, and the provisions of Chapter VI. (relative to arbitrators) of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to cases so referred by a Collector.

Procedure, if question of title or of proprietary right be raised.

Reference to arbitrators.

IX. All orders and decisions passed by the Collector under the last preceding Section, for declaring the rights of parties, shall be held to be decisions of a Court of Civil Judicature of first instance, and shall be open to appeal to the District or Sudder Court, according to the value of the claim, under the rules applicable to regular appeals to those Courts. Upon such appeal being made, the District or Sudder Court, as the case may be, may issue a precept to the Collector desiring him to stay the partition pending the decision of the appeal.

Decision of Collector equivalent to decision of Civil Court, and open to appeal.

Appellate Court may, on appeal, stay partition.

X. From every decision passed under the last preceding Section by a District Court a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court, under the rules for the time being in force relating to special appeals to that Court.

Special appeal to Sudder Court.

XI. It shall not be competent to the Civil Court to entertain a suit or application for the partition of an estate, except on appeal from the decision of the Collector as hereinbefore provided, any thing contained in Section 225, Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter), to the contrary notwithstanding.

Civil Court to entertain suits only on appeal from decision of Collector.

XII. When the Collector, after disposing of the objections (if any) taken to the partition, shall order a partition to be made, he shall cause a Notification to be published in his own Office, in the District Court, and at some conspicuous place on the estate which is to be divided, intimating his intention to proceed with the partition after thirty days from the date of the Notification.

Notification on partition being ordered.

XIII. The partition shall be made by the Collector in whose District the estate is situate, or, if the estate be situate in two or more Districts, then by the Collector of any one of such Districts, who may be specially ordered by the Commissioner of the Division to superintend the partition. If the estate be situated in two or more Divisions, the partition shall be made by such Collector as the Board of Revenue shall order.

Partition by whom to be carried out.

XIV. The expense of making the partition, and the allowances of the establishment necessary for the measurement and survey of the lands, the preparation of papers, and any other charges, shall be fixed by the Collector. The amount shall be paid under such rules as may from time to time be laid down by the Board of Revenue with the sanction of the local Government, and, in default of payment, may be realized under the rules applicable to the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

Assessment, and levy of costs incurred in making partition.

XV. At any stage of the proceedings after a partition shall have been ordered, if it shall appear from information which was not before the Collector at the time the partition was ordered, or otherwise, that any reason not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, it shall be competent to the Commissioner, on the report of the Collector, and subject to any orders that the Board of Revenue may pass in the case, to stay the partition, and to order the proceedings to be quashed. The decision of the Revenue Authorities under this Section shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court.

Partition may be stayed, and proceedings, quashed by Commissioner

Decision not open to revision by Civil Court.

XVI. After the expiration of the period mentioned in the Notification referred to in Section XII of this Act, the Collector shall, if necessary, cause a measurement of all the lands comprised in the estate to be made, and a rent-roll of the same to be prepared. The village papers which are required to be prepared and periodically deposited in the Office of the Collector under the provisions of Sections XI and XII, Regulation IX. 1833 (to modify certain portions of Regulation VII. 1822 and Regulation IV. 1828*; to provide for the more speedy and satisfactory decision of judicial questions cognizable by Officers of Revenue employed in making settlements under the above Regulations; for enforcing the production of the village accounts; for the more extensive employment of Native agency in the Revenue Department; and to declare the intent of Section V, Regulation VII.* 1822, touching claims to Malikana) may be used for the purposes of this Act. Provided that any of the proprietors shall be permitted to file a rent-roll of the estate, which shall be accepted if acknowledged to be correct by all the proprietors.

Examination of the parties and their papers.

XVII. The Collector may examine the parties on solemn affirmation in regard to the papers produced before him, whether by the Officer appointed to make the partition, the proprietors, or otherwise. He shall also allow any shareholder to examine the papers so produced, and to take a copy of the same, and after such examination he shall hear any objections which any of the shareholders may make in respect to such papers. The Collector may direct any Deputy Collector or other Officer subordinate to him to examine the papers produced before him, and to make a report upon the same.

Option of settlement by private agreement. Procedure in case of refusal or default.

XVIII. The Collector, on the completion of the enquiry allowed by the last preceding Section, shall allow the parties the option of making a private partition of the estate and allotment of the public revenue amongst themselves, within such time as he may fix, or, if the parties shall not consent to make a private partition of the estate, or shall fail to make such partition within the time fixed by the Collector, the Collector shall call upon them to state whether they are willing to refer the partition of the estate and the apportionment of the public revenue to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by them. The Collector may also offer the parties the option of referring any point arising in the course of a partition to arbitration. The partition and allotment of the public revenue made by the parties, or by arbitrators appointed by them, shall be subject to the confirmation of the Collector, and the orders of the superior Revenue Authorities.

If parties cannot agree as to arbitrators, latter may be appointed by Collector.

XIX. If the parties consent to refer the partition of the estate and the allotment of the public revenue or any point arising in the course of the partition to arbitration, but they cannot agree amongst themselves as to the arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed, the Collector may appoint two or more persons to be arbitrators in the case. If the arbitrators are equally divided in opinion, the Collector shall act as umpire and the partition made by the arbitrator or arbitrators with whom the Collector shall concur shall be the partition in the case. The same rule shall apply in respect of any point arising in the course of a partition which shall be referred to arbitration.

In case of equality of votes, Collector to act as umpire.

Appointment in place of arbitrator refusing, or being unable to act.

XX. If any person, on being appointed an arbitrator, shall refuse to act, or, after accepting the appointment, shall die or become incapable of acting, another person shall be appointed arbitrator in his stead, in the same manner in which the first person was appointed.

Powers of Collector with regard to arbitrators.

XXI. After the arbitrators shall have accepted the appointment, the Collector shall transmit the whole of the papers to them, and it shall be competent to the Collector to exercise towards the arbitrators the same powers and authority for securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, which he is competent to exercise towards witnesses summoned before him, when acting Judicially, for the purpose of compelling them to attend and give evidence. The Collector shall also fix a time within which the arbitrator or arbitrators shall deliver the paper of partition. On sufficient cause shewn the Collector may extend such period.

Particulars to be specified in partition paper.

XXII. The arbitrators shall deliver a full and complete paper of partition, specifying the separate estates into which they propose that the estate shall be divided, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are proposed to be allotted, and the amount of public revenue to be assessed on each of such estates.

Remuneration of arbitrators.

XXIII. The arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for their services, the amount to be fixed by the Collector.

In default of award by first arbitrators, partition may be referred to others.

XXIV. If the paper of partition be not delivered within the time fixed by the Collector, or within any further period to which the time may have been extended, the Collector may order that the partition shall be referred to another arbitrator or arbitrators, to be chosen in the same manner and subject to the same rules as the first.

In default of private agreement, or settlement by arbitration, Officer may be appointed to make partition.

XXV. If the partition of the estate cannot be made by the parties themselves, or by arbitration, under the foregoing rules, the Collector shall appoint an Officer to make the partition, and shall forward the whole of the papers to such Officer, and shall direct him to proceed to the estate, and to make the partition within a time to be fixed by the Collector.

Who shall summon proprietors by proclamation to attend proceedings.

XXVI. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall issue a proclamation at the Maal-Cutcherry of the estate, or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chowrie or Choupal, requiring the several proprietors of the estate to attend upon him in person, or by agent, during the time that the partition is being made.

Estate may be attached and brought under Khas management under superintendence of Officer.

XXVII. At the commencement of the revenue year current in the District, the Collector may direct the Officer appointed to make the partition, or some other person, to attach the estate, and to bring it under Khas management under the personal superintendence of such Officer. The collections of the estate, after defraying the expenses of management, and any other expenses with which the estate is chargeable, shall be applied to the payment of the Government revenue, and the residue shall be divided amongst the proprietors in proportion to their respective shares, at such periods as the Collector may see fit.

Procedure in case of arrears of revenue accruing during course of partition of estate.

XXVIII. If an arrear of public revenue shall accrue on an estate ordered to be divided, while the partition of the estate is being made, any one or more of the proprietors may tender to the Collector his or their quota of the balance, and the Collector shall receive the same, and credit the amount to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors. If a sale of any part of the estate shall ultimately become necessary for the liquidation of any part of such arrear which may remain due, only the share or shares of the proprietor or proprietors who shall not have contributed their quota of the balance shall be sold in the first instance, and the partition shall go on and be completed in the same manner as if no arrear of public revenue had accrued. The purchaser or purchasers of the share or shares sold shall be entitled to separate possession of the estate or estates which, under the partition, would have been allotted to the defaulting proprietor or proprietors. Provided always that, in all cases of a partition, the entire estate shall be considered responsible for the public revenue assessed upon it until the partition shall have been completed, and the several proprietors shall have been put into possession of the separate estates into which the estate may be ordered to be divided, according as the same may be allotted to them.

Powers of Officer charged with partition in respect of measurement, &c.

XXIX. If the Officer appointed to make the partition shall consider it necessary to assist him in making the same, to cause a detailed measurement to be made of all the lands comprised in the estate, or a map of the estate to be prepared, he shall exercise the same powers for making such measurement and map as are vested in the Collector by any law for the time being in force.

Division of lands held in common.

XXX. When some of the lands forming the estate are held in common, the Collector shall declare, by a proceeding to be held under the provisions of this Act, the principle and rule under which, in accordance with the village custom, such lands shall be divided; and he shall cause the partition of such lands to be made in conformity to the provisions of this Act. The portion of the common land falling by such partition to the shares of the several co-sharers shall be added to the lands held by them in severalty, and the several estates thus formed shall be assessed and declared separate estates. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector, to cause any transfer of lands agreed to by the parties to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Proviso.

Collector may refuse to separate lands in certain cases.

XXXI. The Collector may refuse to declare any lands held in severalty, and not liable to re-distribution according to special village custom, a separate mehal, if the lands be so intermixed with other properties as to render the formation of a compact estate impossible, and if the parties affected by the partition decline to permit of the transfers necessary for curing such defect.

Where no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate.

XXXII. Where there may be no lands held in common, the lands in severalty held by the applicant for partition, or assigned to him by the Collector under the provisions of this Act, shall be assessed and declared a separate estate. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector, to cause any transfer of lands agreed to, or directed by his order, as provided in Section XXX, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Proviso as to transfers.

Sharer failing to attend after proclamation liable to forfeit right of objection.

XXXIII. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVI of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition, during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition shall be heard, unless such sharer can shew that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

Partition may be stayed if parties so desire.

XXXIV. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

Recovery of costs.

Estates formed in course of partition to be as compact as possible.

XXXV. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mehals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to render each estate as compact as possible.

Revenue to be assessed on each divided estate.

XXXVI. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

Circumstances to be considered in making partitions.

XXXVII. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of culturable and uncultivable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present, or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall be fairly and impartially selected. So far as may be practicable and consistent with compactness of partition, lands held in severalty shall be left in the possession of the parties holding the same.

Rule when dwelling house belonging to one sharer is situate on ground to be allotted to another sharer.

XXXVIII. If a dwelling house belonging to one sharer shall be situate on any land, or in any village, which it may be necessary to include in the share of another sharer, the proprietor of such house shall be at liberty to retain it, with the offices, buildings, and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay to the proprietor of the land or village in which the same is situate an equitable rent for the ground. The limits of the ground and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Officer making the partition, and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

Rule as to tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments.

XXXIX. Tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments shall be considered as attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made. In cases in which, from the extent, situation, or construction of such works, it shall be found necessary to continue them the joint property of the proprietors of two or more of the estates into which the estate may be divided, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as circumstances may admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same, and the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

Rule as to places of worship.

XL. Places of worship, which shall have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate, shall continue to be so held unless the parties shall otherwise agree amongst themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Officer making the partition shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

Particulars to be contained in the paper of partition to be submitted by Officer making same.

XLI. When the Officer appointed to make the partition shall have completed the partition, and allotted the public revenue on each of the estates into which it is proposed that the estate shall be divided, he shall prepare and submit to the Collector a paper of partition shewing how he proposes to divide the estate, and to apportion the public revenue. This paper shall specify the names of the Mehals or villages included in each separate estate, the gross produce of each Mehal and village for the three years immediately preceding the year in which the partition is ordered to be made, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are allotted, and the proportion of the public revenue proposed to be assessed on each of such estates, with any remarks regarding the mode observed in selecting the lands included in each estate, and the accounts upon which the apportionment of the public revenue assessed thereon shall have been based, as may be necessary for the information of the Collector. The paper shall further contain a detail of the adjustments, if any, which shall have been made in respect to any tanks, places of worship, or other matters, as specified in the preceding Sections. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall also submit a map shewing the several estates into which the estate is proposed to be divided.

Map to be also submitted.

Procedure of Collector thereupon.

XLII. The Collector shall take into consideration the partition proposed by the Officer appointed to make the partition, and, after calling for any further information which he shall deem necessary, and disposing of any objections which shall be taken to the partition and allotment of public revenue as proposed by such Officer, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner, together with such of the papers of the case as shall appear to him essential. He shall also forward a list of the papers not sent. The Collector shall record his opinion whether the proposed partition should be confirmed or modified, and in the latter case he shall state the nature of the modification which, in his opinion, should be made.

Commissioner may confirm or modify partition, subject to appeal to Board of Revenue.

XLIII. The Commissioner shall either uphold the partition proposed by the Collector, or modify the same. The decision of the Commissioner shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court, but shall be subject to appeal to the Board of Revenue. The Commissioner, before coming to a decision, may call for any additional papers, or direct any further inquiry that he shall consider necessary. He may also, if he think proper, direct that, when two or more of the estates into which it is proposed to divide the estate shall consist of the same proportions of the entire estate, the parties entitled thereto shall draw lots for the same before the Collector.

And may direct division by lot under certain circumstances.

Procedure by Collector on receipt of order of Commissioner, or of Board of Revenue on appeal.

XLIV. On the receipt of the order of the Commissioner, or if an appeal be preferred to the Board of Revenue, then, of the order passed on the appeal, the Collector shall cause the same to be published in his Office, and in some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by such order. The Collector shall at the same time specify the date from which each of the estates shall be held to be a separate estate, and shall enter the several estates into which the estate has been divided in the Register of Estates paying revenue to Government. The Collector shall give the several proprietors possession of the estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may avail himself of the assistance of the Magistrate in giving possession.

Government may order new allotment of public Revenue among estates formed by partition, in case of fraud or error in original allotment being proved.

XLV. In order to prevent collusion or error in the distribution of the public revenue assessed upon an estate which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Government, within twelve years from and after the date of confirmation of the partition, that the public revenue was fraudulently or erroneously apportioned at the time of the partition, the Government shall have power to order a new allotment of the public revenue upon the several estates into which such estate may have been divided, conformably to the principles prescribed in this Act, on an estimate of the gross produce of each estate at the time of the partition, to be made agreeably to the best evidence and information which may be procurable respecting the same. Such order shall not be liable to be contested in the Civil Court. The parties whose estates may be declared to have been under-assessed shall be required to pay to the proprietors of the estates which shall have been over-assessed the sum in which they shall be found to have been over-assessed, and in default of payment the amount shall be leviable by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

Consequence to party having interest in any estate, if he neglect to affirm or establish such interest while the estate is under attachment with a view to partition.

XLVI. If, during the time an estate is under attachment with a view to the partition of the same, any party shall neglect or omit to claim by a suit any right or title he may then have to the ownership or occupancy at a fixed rent of any land situated in such estate, or any other interest therein, such neglect or omission shall be a valid plea in bar of any suit relating to such right, title, or interest, unless the party can satisfy the Court that there was good and sufficient reason for his neglect or omission to institute the suit at or before such time. Provided that this Section shall not bar any action for arrears of rent, or the enhancement or alteration of rent.

Holder of decree of Civil Court, awarding right to portion of an estate, may apply for partition, and Collector may proceed thereon under Act.

XLVII. Whenever any Court of Civil Judicature shall pass a decree, awarding to any person the proprietary right in a portion of an estate paying revenue to Government, whether the portion so awarded shall consist of a fractional share in the whole or a part of the estate, or of specific lands, the decree-holder may apply to the Collector for a partition of the estate; and on the receipt of such application, the Collector shall proceed thereupon under the provisions of this Act, which are hereby declared applicable to such applications.

Union in certain cases of severed portions of estates originally undivided.

XLVIII. If two or more estates which may have originally formed portions of the same estate shall come into the possession of one person, such person shall be entitled to have such estates united, and to hold them as a single estate; or if two or more persons shall have separate possession of their respective shares of an estate which was originally held as a joint undivided estate, such persons may apply to have their shares united, and to hold them as one estate.

Application for such union how to be made, and how to be dealt with.

XLIX. The applications for the union of the estates, or of the shares of the estate, as the case may be, shall be made in writing to the Collector of the District in which the estates or shares of the estate are situate, and the Collector (provided he see no objection) shall comply with the application, and cause the necessary entries to be made in the records of his Office, reporting the case to the superior Revenue Authorities.

Certain provisions of Act applicable to partition cases pending at the time of its passing.

L. The provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to the completion and confirmation or to the staying or quashing of the partition of an estate, may be applied, at the discretion of the Collector, in all cases of the partition of estates pending at the time of the passing of this Act.

Provisions of Act may be applied to partition of estates held free from payment of revenue.

LI. The provisions of this Act may, in so far as the same are applicable, be applied by order of the local Government to the partition of any estate held free from the payment of Government revenue.

Control of Collector's proceedings under Act.

LII. In the performance of his duties under this Act, the Collector shall be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioner of the Division, and the Board of Revenue.

Orders of Collector, except in certain cases, open to revision by superior Revenue Authorities.

LIII. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act, unless otherwise provided, not being orders or decisions within the meaning of Section IX, shall be open to revision by the superior Revenue Authorities.

What other officers may exercise powers vested in Collector by this Act.

LIV. The powers vested in a Collector by this Act may be exercised by a Deputy Collector, or other Officer vested with the full powers of a Collector, subject to the control of the Collector of the District.

Powers to be exercised by Collector, or Officer appointed to make partition.

LV. In carrying out the provisions of this Act the Collector shall exercise the powers described in Regulation II. 1819, Regulation VII. 1822, and Regulations IX. and XIV. 1825. Any Officer appointed to make a partition under this Act may also exercise the powers described in the foregoing Regulations, so far as the same may be applicable.

Powers of Officers exercising jurisdiction under this Act, with regard to false evidence.

LVI. If, in any case in which a Collector or other Officer shall exercise jurisdiction under this Act, any person is guilty of the offence of giving or fabricating false evidence, or of forgery, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, or of abetting any of those offences, such Collector or other Officer shall have the same powers in respect of such offence, and of the person charged with committing the same, as are vested by the Code of Criminal Procedure in a Civil Court when any such offence is committed before or against such Court, or when a document charged to be a forgery is given in evidence in any proceedings in such Court.

Board of Revenue to be guided by instructions of local Government.

LVII. In the execution of the duties vested in the Board of Revenue by this Act, the Board shall be guided by such orders or instructions as they may from time to time receive from the local Government, to whom they shall apply in all cases which shall appear to the Board not to have been provided for by the existing law.

LVIII. Unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number, and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Interpretation.

LIX. This Act shall extend only to such parts of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal as are subject to the general Regulations of that Presidency; but the Act may be extended by order of the local Government, either wholly or in part, to any Non-Regulation Province under such Government.

Territorial scope of Act.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XX OF 1863.

An Act to enable the Government to divest itself of the management of Religious Endowments.

WHEREAS it is expedient to relieve the Boards of Revenue, and the Local Agents in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and the Presidency of Fort St. George, from the duties imposed on them by Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code (for the due appropriation of the Rents and produce of Lands granted for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, Colleges, and other purposes; for the maintenance and repair of Bridges, Serays, Kuttras, and other public buildings; and for the custody and disposal of Nuzzool Property or Escheats), and Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code (for the due appropriation of the rents and produce of lands granted for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, and Colleges, or other public purposes; for the maintenance and repair of Bridges, Choultries, or Chuttrums, and other public buildings; and for the custody and disposal of Escheats), so far as those duties embrace the superintendence of lands granted for the support of Mosques or Hindoo Temples, and for other religious uses, the appropriation of endowments made for the maintenance of such religious establishments, the repair and preservation of buildings connected therewith, and the appointment of Trustees or Managers thereof, or involve any connexion with the management of such religious establishments; and whereas it is expedient for that purpose to repeal so much of Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code, and Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code, as relate to endowments for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, or other religious purposes; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. So much of Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code, and so much of Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code, as relate to endowments for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, or other religious purposes, are repealed.

Regulations repealed.

II. In this Act words importing the singular number shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular.

Number.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Gender.

The words "Civil Court" and "Court" shall mean the principal Court of Original Civil Jurisdiction in the District in which the Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment is situate, relating to which, or to the endowment whereof, any suit shall be instituted or application made under the provisions of this Act.

"Civil Court" and "Court."

III. In the case of every Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment to which the provisions of either of the Regulations specified in Section I are applicable, and the nomination of the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent whereof at the time of the passing of this Act is vested in, or may be exercised by, the Government, or any public Officer; or in which the nomination of such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent shall be subject to the confirmation of the Government, or any public Officer, the local Government shall, as soon as possible after the passing of this Act, make special provision as hereinafter provided.

Local Government to make special provision respecting Mosques, &c., in certain cases.

IV. In the case of every such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be under the management of any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent whose nomination shall not vest in, nor be exercised by, nor be subject to the confirmation of, the Government, or any public Officer, the local Government shall, as soon as possible after the passing of this Act, transfer to such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent all the landed or other property which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be under the superintendence or in the possession of the Board of Revenue, or any local Agent, and belonging to such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, except such property as is hereinafter provided, and the powers and responsibilities of the Board of Revenue and the local Agents in respect to such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, and to all land and other property so transferred, except as regards acts done and liabilities incurred by the said Board of Revenue or any local Agent previous to such transfer, shall cease and determine.

Transfer to independent Trustees, &c., of all property belonging to their Trusts, &c., remaining in charge of Revenue Board or others.

V. Whenever from any cause a vacancy shall occur in the office of any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom any property shall have been transferred under the last preceding Section, and any dispute shall arise respecting the right of succession to such office, it shall be lawful for any person interested in the Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment to which such property shall belong, or in the performance of the worship or of the service thereof, or of the Trusts relating thereto, to apply to the Civil Court to appoint a Manager of such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, and thereupon such Court may appoint such Manager to act until some other person shall by suit have established his right of succession to such office. The Manager so appointed by the Civil Court shall have, and shall exercise all the powers which, under this or any other Act, the former Trustee, Manager or Superintendent in whose place such Manager is appointed by the Court had, or could exercise, in relation to such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or the property belonging thereto.

Rights, powers, and responsibilities of Trustees, &c., to whom any charge shall be transferred.

VI. The rights, powers and responsibilities of every Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom the land and other property of any Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment is transferred in the manner prescribed in Section IV of this Act, as well as the conditions of their appointment, election, and removal, shall be the same as if this Act had not been passed, except in respect of the liability to be sued under this Act, and except in respect of the authority of the Board of Revenue and local Agents, given by the Regulations hereby repealed, over such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and over such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, which authority is hereby determined and repealed. All the powers which might be exercised by any Board or local Agent for the recovery of the rent of land or other property transferred under the said Section IV of this Act may, from the date of such transfer, be exercised by any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom such transfer is made.

Appointment of Committees.

VII. In all cases described in Section III of this Act, the local Government shall once for all appoint one or more Committees in every Division or District to take the place, and to exercise the powers, of the Board of Revenue and the local Agents, under the Regulations hereby repealed. Such Committee shall consist of three or more persons, and shall perform all the duties imposed on such Board and local Agents, except in respect of any property which is specially provided for under Section XXI of this Act.

Provision as to qualifications for Member of such Committee.

VIII. The Members of the said Committee shall be appointed from among persons professing the religion for the purposes of which the Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment was founded, or is now maintained, and in accordance, so far as can be ascertained, with the general wishes of those who are interested in the maintenance of such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment. The appointment of the Committee shall be notified in the Official Gazette. In order to ascertain the general wishes of such persons in respect of such appointment, the local Government may cause an election to be held under such Rules (not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act) as shall be framed by such local Government.

Every Member to be appointed for life unless removed for misconduct, &c.

IX. Every Member of a Committee appointed as above shall hold his office for life, unless removed for misconduct or unfitness, and no such Member shall be removed except by an order of the Civil Court as hereinafter provided.

Provision for filling up vacancies.

X. Whenever any vacancy shall occur among the Members of a Committee appointed as above, a new Member shall be elected to fill the vacancy by the persons interested as above provided. The remaining Members of the Committee shall, as soon as possible, give public notice of such vacancy, and shall fix a day which shall not be later than three months from the date of such vacancy, for an election of a new Member by the persons interested as above provided, under Rules for elections which shall be framed by the local Government; and whoever shall be then elected under the said Rules shall be a Member of the Committee to fill such vacancy. If any vacancy as aforesaid shall not be filled up by such election as aforesaid within three months after it has occurred, the Civil Court, on the application of any person whatever, may appoint a person to fill the vacancy, or may order that the vacancy be forthwith filled up by the remaining Members of the Committee, with which order it shall then be the duty of such remaining Members to comply, and if this order be not complied with, the Civil Court may appoint a Member to fill the said vacancy.

No Member of a Committee to be Trustee, &c., of the Mosque, &c., under charge of such Committee.

XI. No Member of a Committee appointed under this Act shall be capable of being or shall act also as a Trustee, Manager or Superintendent of the Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment for the management of which such Committee shall have been appointed.

On appointment of Committee, Board and Local Agents to transfer property.

XII. Immediately on the appointment of a Committee as above provided, for the superintendence of any such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and for the management of its affairs, the Board of Revenue, or the local Agents acting under the authority of the said Board, shall transfer to such Committee all landed or other property which, at the time of appointment, shall be under the superintendence or in the possession of the said Board or local Agents, and belonging to the said religious establishment, except as is hereinafter provided for, and thereupon the powers and responsibilities of the Board and the local Agents in respect to such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and to all land and other property so transferred except as above, and except as regards acts done and liabilities incurred by the said Board or Agents previous to such transfer, shall cease and determine. All the powers which might be exercised by any Board or local Agent for the recovery of the rent of land or other property transferred under this Section may from the date of such transfer be exercised by such Committee to whom such transfer is made.

Accounts of receipts and disbursements.

XIII. It shall be the duty of every Trustee, Manager, and Superintendent of a Mosque, Temple or religious establishment to which the provisions of this Act shall apply, to keep regular accounts of his receipts and disbursements in respect of the endowments and expenses of such Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment, and it shall be the duty of every Committee of management appointed or acting under the authority of this Act, to require from every Trustee, Manager and Superintendent of such Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment, the production of such regular accounts of such receipts and disbursements at least once in every year, and every such Committee of management shall themselves keep such accounts thereof

Any person interested may sue in case of breach of trust, &c.

XIV. Any person or persons interested in any Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or in the performance of the worship or of the service thereof, or of the trusts relating thereto may, without joining as plaintiff any of the other persons interested therein, sue before the Civil Court the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent of such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or the Member of any Committee appointed under this Act, for any misfeasance, breach of trust, or neglect of duty committed by such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of such Committee, in respect of the trusts vested in or confided to them respectively, and the Civil Court may direct the specific performance of any act by such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of a Committee, and may decree damages and costs against such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent, or Member of a Committee, and may also direct the removal of such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of a Committee.

Nature of interest entitling a person to sue.

XV. The interest required in order to entitle a person to sue under the last preceding Section need not be a pecuniary, or a direct or immediate interest, or such an interest as would entitle the person suing to take any part in the management or superintendence of the trusts. Any person having a right of attendance, or having been in the habit of attending at the performance of the worship or service of any Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or of partaking in the benefit of any distribution of alms, shall be deemed to be a person interested within the meaning of the last preceding Section.

Reference to Arbitrators.

XVI. In any suit or proceeding instituted under this Act it shall be lawful for the Court before which such suit or proceeding is pending, to order any matter in difference in such suit to be referred for decision to one or more arbitrators. Whenever any such order shall be made the provisions of Chap. VI of the Code of Civil Procedure shall in all respects apply to such order and arbitration, in the same manner as if such order had been made on the application of the parties under Section 312 of the said Code.

Reference under Section 312 of Penal Code.

XVII. Nothing in the last preceding Section shall prevent the parties from applying to the Court, or the Court from making the order of reference under the said Section 312 of the said Code of Civil Procedure.

Preliminary application for leave to institute suit.

XVIII. No suit shall be entertained under this Act without a preliminary application being first made to the Court for leave to institute such suit. The application may be made upon unstamped paper. The Court, on the perusal of the application, shall determine whether there are sufficient prima facie grounds for the institution of a suit, and if in the judgment of the Court there are such grounds, leave shall be given for its institution. In calculating the costs at the termination of the suit, the Stamp Duty on the preliminary application shall be estimated, and shall be added to the costs of the suit. If the Court shall be of opinion that the suit has been for the benefit of the Trust, and that no party to the suit is in fault, the Court may order the costs, or such portion as it may consider just, to be paid out of the estate.

Costs.

Court may require accounts of Trust to be filed.

XIX. Before giving leave for institution of a suit, or after leave has been given, before any proceeding is taken, or at any time when the suit is pending, the Court may order the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or any Member of a Committee, as the case may be, to file in Court the accounts of the Trust or such part thereof as to the Court may seem necessary.

No Civil suit to bar proceedings for Criminal breach of Trust.

XX. No suit or proceeding before any Civil Court under the last preceding Section shall in any way affect or interfere with any proceeding in a Criminal Court for Criminal breach of trust.

Provision for cases in which the endowments are partly for religious and partly for secular purposes.

XXI. In any case in which any land or other property has been granted for the support of an establishment partly of a religious and partly of a secular character, or in which the endowment made for the support of an establishment is appropriated partly to religious and partly to secular uses, the Board of Revenue, before transferring to any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or to any Committee of Management appointed under this Act, shall determine what portion, if any, of the said land or other property shall remain under the superintendence of the said Board for application to secular uses, and what portion shall be transferred to the superintendence of the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or of the Committee, and also what annual amount, if any, shall be charged on the land or other property which may be so transferred to the superintendence of the said Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or of the Committee, and made payable to the said Board or to the Local Agents for secular uses as aforesaid. In every such case the provisions of this Act shall take effect only in respect to such land and other property as may be so transferred.

Government not to hold charge henceforth of property for support of any Mosque, Temple, &c.

XXII. Except as provided in this Act it shall not be lawful, after the passing of this Act, for any Government in India, or for any Officer of any Government in his official character to undertake or resume the superintendence of any land or other property granted for the support of, or otherwise belonging to, any Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, or to take any part in the management or appropriation of any endowment made for the maintenance of any such Mosque, Temple, or other establishment, or to nominate or appoint any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent thereof, or to be in any way concerned therewith.

XXIII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the provisions of the Regulations mentioned in this Act, except in so far as they relate to Mosques, Hindoo Temples, and other religious establishments; or to prevent the Government from taking such steps as it may deem necessary under the provisions of the said Regulations, to prevent injury to, and preserve buildings remarkable for their antiquity, or for their historical or architectural value, or required for the convenience of the public.

Effect of Act in respect of Regulations therein mentioned, and of buildings of antiquity &c.

XXIV. The word "India" in this Act shall denote the territories which are or may become vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic., C. 106, entitled "an Act for the better Government of India."

"India."

Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XXI OF 1863.

An Act to constitute Recorders' Courts for the Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein in British Burmah, and to establish Courts of Small Causes in the said Towns.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the Resolution of the Governor-General in Council, dated the 31st January 1862, declares that instead of a Judicial Commissioner for the whole Province of British Burmah, whose ordinary business can well be undertaken by the Chief Commissioner, and who, as Judge of a Special Court, sitting at the Head-Quarters of each Division, could not possibly dispose of the causes arising at each place in a manner that would satisfy the suitors, or be consistent with the prompt and regular administration of Justice, there shall be established at Rangoon and Moulmein a Court to be presided over by a Barrister or Advocate of not less than five years' standing, with full powers of Civil and Criminal jurisdiction, analogous to those now exercised by the Recorders of Prince of Wales' Island and Singapore, with the exception of the power to try cases in which European British subjects are charged with capital offences; and whereas it is expedient to make provision for the establishment of such Court, and of a similar Court for the Town of Akyab, and also for the establishment of a Court of Small Causes in each of the said Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein, and to prescribe the procedure for the said Courts, respectively; It is enacted as follows :—

Governor General may establish Courts for certain Towns in British Burmah.

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to establish Courts of Judicature for the Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein in British Burmah, or for any of the said Towns, which Courts, when so established, shall be called, respectively, the "Court of the Recorder of Akyab," the "Court of the Recorder of Rangoon," and the "Court of the Recorder of Moulmein." Such Courts shall be Courts of Record.

Designation, appointment, &c. of Judges of such Courts.

II. The said Courts, respectively, shall be held before a Judge who shall be called "The Recorder" thereof, and who shall be appointed by the Governor-General in Council, and shall be a Barrister of not less than five years' standing. Every Recorder appointed under this Act shall hold his Office during the pleasure of the Governor-General in Council.

Declaration to be made by Recorder.

III. Previously to entering upon the execution of the duties of his Office, every Recorder appointed under this Act shall make or subscribe the following declaration before such authority or person as the Governor-General in Council may commission to receive the same :—

"I, A. B. appointed Recorder of [ ] do solemnly declare that I will faithfully perform the duties of my Office to the best of my ability, knowledge, and judgment."

Governor General may appoint one Recorder only, or more.

IV. The Governor-General in Council may appoint only one Recorder to be the Recorder of the said three Courts, or he may from time to time appoint a separate Recorder for any one or for any two of the said Courts.

If only one Recorder, how Court shall be held.

V. So long as there shall be only one Recorder of the said three Courts, such Recorder shall hold his Court at each of the said three Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein at stated periods. He shall hold his Court in Rangoon at such times as may be necessary, in Moulmein at least once in every three months, and in Akyab at least once in every four months.

Notification by Recorder as to time and place of holding Court.

VI. The Recorder shall, on or before the 1st day of January in each and every year, or at such other convenient times as the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah shall direct, notify in the Official Gazettes of the Towns in which the Court is to be held, the days on which he intends to hold his Court at the said Towns, respectively, during the then next ensuing twelve months: and a copy of such Notification shall be stuck up in a conspicuous part of the Court Houses in the said Towns respectively.

Procedure in case of Recorder being unable to hold Court as notified.

VII. If the Recorder shall be unable to hold his Court at the time and place fixed in any Notification issued under the last preceding Section, he shall fix another period for holding his Court at such place, and shall publish notice of the same in the same manner, so far as circumstances will permit, in which a Notification under the said Section is directed to be published.

Recorder may hold Court at other than notified times.

VIII. Notwithstanding any thing in Sections VI and VII of this Act contained, it shall be lawful for the Recorder to hold his Court at times other than those notified, as provided in the said Sections, when for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear to him necessary and proper to do so.

IX. Whenever there shall be one Recorder for any two only of the said three Courts, the provisions contained in Sections VI, VII, and VIII of this Act shall be applied, so far as the same may be applicable, in respect of the sittings to be held by such Recorder within the Towns of the Courts of which he is Recorder.

Section VI to VIII how to be applied when there is one Recorder for two Courts.

X. The Recorders appointed under this Act shall have and exercise Civil jurisdiction, within such local limits in the said Towns of which they are respectively the Recorders and in the neighbourhood thereof as may from time to time be fixed by the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah, with the approval of the Governor-General in Council, and the limits so fixed shall be published in the Official Gazettes of the said Towns. Porvided that it shall be lawful for the said Chief Commissioner, with such approval as aforesaid, as often as he shall think proper, to vary or alter the limits so fixed: and, save as in this Act provided, no Court other than the Recorder's Court shall have ro exercise any Civil jusisdiction whatever within the limits for the time being fixed as aforesaid.

Civil jurisdiction of Recorder.

Proviso as to alteration of local limits.

XI. The Recorders appointed under this Act shall receive, try, and determine suits of every description, if in the case of suits for land or other immoveable property, such land or property shall be situate, or if in all other cases, the cause of action shall have arisen, or the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit shall dwell or carry on business, or personally work for gain within the local limits of the ordinary jurisdiction of their respective Courts. Provided that the Recorders shall not take cognizance of any suit, the cognizance of which, by the ordinary Civil Courts in British India not established by Royal Charter, is barred by any Act of Parliament or by any Regulation or Act of the Governor-General of India in Council.

Suits cognizable by Recorder.

Proviso.

XII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner to direct the transfer to any Recorder's Court of any case which shall have been instituted in any Court in British Burmah other than a Recorder's Court. Every case so transferred shall be tried and determined by the Recorder to whose Court it is transferred, in the same manner and under the same rules as to procedure, and in all other respects, as if the Recorder had originally had jurisdiction in the case, and the case had originally been instituted before him.

Transfer of cases from other Courts to Recorder's Court.

Such cases how to be dealt with.

XIII. A Recorder, who is the Recorder of more Courts than one, shall, while sitting in any one of the Courts of which he is Recorder, ordinarily try no suits, except such as shall have been instituted in such Court, or shall have been transferred to it by the Chief Commissioner as hereinbefore provided: but such Recorder may, if he think proper, try any suit instituted in any other of the said Courts of which he is Recorder, if the parties thereto shall join in an application to him (which shall be in writing, signed by all the parties to the suit or their Agents) so to try the same.

Rule as to trial of suits by Recorder having jurisdiction in more than one Court.

XIV. A separate seal shall be made under the direction of the Governor-General in Council for each of the said Courts, and all summonses, orders and other process issuing out of the said Courts, respectively, shall be sealed or stamped with the seal of the Court issuing the same. The said seal shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Recorder, but during any absence of the Recorder, or in case of the vacancy of the Office of Recorder, the same shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Registrar of the Court appointed as is hereinafter provided, and if there be no Registrar then it shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Deputy Commissioner.

Seal of Courts. Use and custody of same.

XV. It shall be lawful for the Recorder of any Court or Courts established under this Act, from time to time, and subject to any rules and restrictions which may be prescribed by the Governor-General in Council, to appoint such and so many Clerks and other Ministerial Officers as shall be found necessary for the administration of justice by the said Recorder in such Court or Courts, respectively, and the due execution of the powers and authorities given to him by this Act, and every Clerk and Officer appointed as aforesaid shall be liable to dismissal by order of the Recorder of the Court to which he is appointed: provided that no person shall be removed from any Office, the salary of which is one hundred Rupees per mensem or upwards, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner.

Appointment and removal of Ministerial Officers.

XVI. No person shall be permitted to appear or act as the Advocate of any suitor in any Court held under this Act in any action or suit, or touching any matter whatever, unless such persons shall have been previously licensed by the Recorder of such Court to act for the suitors of such Court, generally, or specially for the particular occasion, and it shall be lawful for the Recorder of every Court held under this Act to make rules for the qualifications and admission of proper persons to act as Advocates in such Court. Provided that nothing in this Section contained shall be deemed to prevent any person from appearing or acting as the Agent for the Secretary of State for India in Council, or to prevent any suitor from appearing, pleading, or acting on his own behalf, or on behalf of a co-suitor. Provided also that any person who for the time being is an Advocate, Vakeel, or Attorney-at-Law of any of the High Courts of Judicature in India shall be entitled without any license to act as an Advocate for any suitor in any of the said Courts, and that any person for the time being licensed to act generally in any one of the said Courts, shall without further license be also entitled to act generally in any other of the said Courts.

Licensing of Advocates, and Rules regarding qualifications and admission.

Saving of Agent for Secretary of State &c.

And of advocates &c., of High Courts.

XVII. The Recorder of any Court may for any sufficient reason withdraw or vacate any license which shall at any time be granted by such Recorder to any person to act generally or specially as an Advocate under this Act.

License may be withdrawn.

Fees of Advocates, &c., subject to taxation.

XVIII. The fees to be received by any Advocate, whether general or special, licensed under this Act, or entitled to act as an Advocate for another person in any of the said Courts, without a license under Section XVI of this Act, shall at all times be subject to the control and taxation of the Recorder of the Court having jurisdiction in the case in respect of which such fees are payable, and no fees shall be recoverable by any Advocates except such fees as shall have been allowed by the Recorder on taxation.

Rules for service and execution of process, and table of fees for same.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Recorder of any Court or Courts established under this Act to make and issue rules to regulate the service and execution of the processes of the Court or Courts within the territorial limits of his jurisdiction, and also to settle a table of fees to be allowed to the persons employed in such service or execution, and from time to time to alter any such rule or table, and the rules so made and the tables so issued shall be used and observed in the said Court or Courts; provided that such rules and tables be not inconsistent with the provisions of any law in force, and shall, before they are issued, have received the sanction of the Chief Commissioner. All such rules and tables shall be published in the Official Gazettes of the said Towns, and shall thenceforth have the force of law until repealed or over-ruled by any Act of the Legislature, or by any rule or table subsequently issued and published with the sanction and in the manner aforesaid.

Publication of same.

Proceedings in Civil Suits how to be regulated.

XX. Save as in this Act otherwise provided, the proceedings in Civil suits of every description between party and party brought in any Court established under this Act, shall be regulated by Act VIII of 1859, (the Code of Civil Procedure) as amended by Act XXIII of 1861, and by any other Act or Acts that may hereafter be passed for that purpose.

Law as administered in Calcutta High Court, in its ordinary original Civil jurisdiction, to obtain in all suits.

XXI. In all suits cognizable by any Court held under this Act, all questions as well of fact as of law or equity shall be dealt with and determined according to the law administered by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of its ordinary original Civil jurisdiction. Provided that this Section shall not apply to any case heard and determined by any Court held under this Act in which a Native of British India is a defendant, and in which any question relating to marriage, inheritance or succession shall be involved; but every such case in so far as such question is concerned, shall be determined by the law or usage which would have been applied thereto if such question had arisen in any other Court in British Burmah than a Court held under this Act.

Saving of certain cases.

In case of doubt as to certain questions, statement of case may be submitted for decision of High Court.

XXII. If in any suit, any question of law or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, shall arise, on which the Recorder shall entertain any doubt, the Recorder may either of his own motion or on the application of either of the parties to the suit draw up a statement of the case, and submit such statement with his own opinion for the decision of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

And decree may be passed contingent thereon; but pending receipt execution not to issue.

XXIII. The Recorder may proceed in the case, notwithstanding a reference to the said High Court, and may pass a decree contingent upon the opinion of the High Court on the point referred; but no execution shall be issued in any case in which a reference shall be made to the High Court until the receipt of the order of that Court.

Full bench of High Court to deal with cases referred.

XXIV. Cases referred for the opinion of the High Court shall be dealt with by a bench of two or more Judges of that Court.

And parties may appear in person, or by Advocate, &c. Transmission of Judgment of High Court, and proceeding thereupon

XXV. The parties to the case may appear and be heard in the High Court in person or by an Advocate or Pleader, and the High Court when it has heard and considered the case, shall transmit a copy of its judgment under the seal of the Court, and the signature of the proper Officer of the Court, to the Recorder, who shall on the receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case conformably to the decision of the High Court.

Costs of reference to High Court.

XXVI. Costs, if any, consequent on the reference of a case for the opinion of the High Court, shall be costs in the suit.

Appeal to High Court in certain cases.

XXVII. In all suits heard and determined by a Recorder under this Act, in which the amount or value of the suit shall exceed Rupees three thousand, and be less than Rupees ten thousand, an appeal shall lie to the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal subject to the rules contained in the said Code of Civil Procedure regarding regular appeals.

Grant of new trial on application within given time.

XXVIII. It shall be competent to the Recorder, if he shall think fit, to grant a new trial in any suit tried by him, if applied for within three months from the date of decision if the suit relate to any land or other immoveable property, and in all other cases if applied for within thirty days from the date of the decision. Provided that nothing hereinbefore contained shall interfere with the power of the Recorder to allow a review of judgment under the Code of Civil Procedure, if such review be applied for within the period allowed by the said Code for making such applications.

And review of judgment.

Security from applicant for either.

Provided also that in any case in which the Recorder may think it necessary to do so, he may, before granting a new trial or a review, require the party applying for the same to give sufficient security for the due compliance with the terms of the decree or order which it is sought to set aside or review.

XXIX. All cases and proceedings arising under Act XIX of 1841 (for the protection of moveable and immoveable property against wrongful possession in cases of successions), Act XXXV of 1858 (to make better provision for the care of the Estates of Lunatics not subject to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature), Act XL of 1858 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) as amended by Act IX of 1861 (to amend the law relating to Minors) or Act XXVII of 1860 (for facilitating the collection of debts on successions, and for the security of parties paying debts to the representatives of deceased persons) may be received and disposed of by the Recorder of any Court established under this Act, subject always to all the rules and provisions as to jurisdiction and otherwise in the said Acts contained, respectively. Orders passed by the Recorder in cases arising under the said Acts shall not be open to appeal, but the parties shall be at liberty to contest such orders in a regular suit. No Court other than the Recorder's Court shall, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Recorder's Court, receive or deal with any case or proceeding arising under any of the Acts mentioned in this section.

Recorder may receive and dispose of all cases under certain Acts, subject to provisions of same as to jurisdiction.

And his orders in such cases not open to appeal.

No other Court to deal therewith, within the jurisdiction of Recorder.

XXX. For the trial of Civil suits under this Act, the Recorder may constitute one or more persons Assessor or Assessors of the Court. Such person or persons shall attend during the trial of the suit, and shall deliver his or their opinion or opinions in writing, to be recorded on the proceedings. But the decision of the case shall rest with the Recorder. No Officer of the Recorder's Court shall be appointed an Assessor under this Section, but this prohibition shall not extend to any other public Officer.

Assessors in Civil Suits.

XXXI. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to appoint to each or any of the Recorder's Courts established under this Act, an Officer who shall be called the Registrar of the Court to which he shall be appointed.

Appointment of Registrar.

XXXII. The Registrar of the Recorder's Court shall be the chief Ministerial Officer of the Court, and shall, subject to the provisions in the next following Section contained, receive all plaints presented to the Court, and in the absence of the Recorder shall issue notice of suit to the defendants, receive any documents which the parties may wish to put in, and issue process for the attendance of their witnesses: he shall also keep lists of all causes coming on for trial and shall fix such days for their being heard, respectively, as may seem to him fit, having regard to the period appointed for the Recorder's sittings.

Duties of Registrar.

XXXIII. If the Registrar shall be of opinion that any plaint presented to the Court is defective in any of the particulars mentioned in Section 28, Section 29, Section 30, Section 31, or Section 32, of the Code of Civil Procedure, he shall not reject the plaint, but shall point out to the plaintiff wherein the plaint is defective, and shall with as little delay as possible forward the plaint to the Recorder of the Court for his orders, together with any statement which the plaintiff may think proper to make, and such plaint shall be dealt with as the Recorder shall order. Provided always that if the defect in the plaint is capable of being cured under any of the said Sections, and the plaintiff shall be willing to amend it, it shall not be necessary for the Registrar to send the plaint to the Recorder, but such amendment may thereupon be made.

Procedure in case of plaint being considered defective in certain particulars.

Proviso.

XXXIV. The Registrar shall also receive applications for the execution of decrees passed by the Recorder of the Court of which he is the Registrar, and subject to any orders which he may receive from the Recorder, shall execute such decrees in the same manner as the Recorder may execute them. No appeal shall lie from any order passed by the Registrar under this Section, but the Recorder may of his own motion reverse or modify any such order whenever he shall think it necessary to do so.

Execution of decrees by Registrar.

XXXV. The Registrar shall have the powers of a Small Cause Court Judge in suits of the nature of those described in Act XLII of 1860 (for the establishment of Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter) arising within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court of which he is the Registrar, provided that the amount or value of the claim shall not exceed two hundred Rupees, but he shall exercise such powers subject to the general control of the Recorder. The Governor-General in Council may invest any Registrar appointed under this Act with jurisdiction to hear and determine suits of the nature cognizable by him as a Small Cause Court Judge under this Section, in which the amount or value of the claim does not exceed five hundred Rupees.

Registrar to have powers of Small Cause Court Judge in certain cases

And may be invested by Governor-General with higher powers.

XXXVI. The suits cognizable by the Registrar under the last preceding Section shall be set down for hearing before such Registrar, and he shall hear and determine such suits and execute the decrees made therein in such manner as is prescribed in the said Act XLII of 1860, and subject to such rules as to procedure and otherwise in all respects as are in the said Act contained. Provided that the Recorder, whenever he thinks proper, may transfer to his own file any suits on the file of the Registrar, and may hear and determine the same subject to the rules as to procedure and otherwise hereinbefore mentioned.

Suits cognizable by Registrar how to be heard, &c.

Transfer from Registrar's to Recorder's File.

XXXVII. No appeal shall lie from any order or decision made or passed by the Registrar in any case heard or disposed of by him under the last preceding Section, but in any case in which the Registrar shall entertain any doubt upon any question of law, or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits

No appeal from decision of Registrar under last Section; but in case of doubt, statement may be submitted for opinion of Recorder.

of the decision, he shall be at liberty to state a case for the opinion of the Recorder, in like manner as the Recorder may, under Section XXII of this Act, state a case for the opinion of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all the rules and provisions hereinbefore contained, relative to the stating of a case by the Recorder, shall apply mutatis mutandis to the stating of a case by the Registrar, so far as the same are applicable

Rules applicable to such references.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Recorder to refer to the Registrar of his Court any suit, not falling within the description of suits contained in Act XLII of 1860, which shall be instituted in the Court of such Recorder, and the amount or value of the property in dispute in which shall not exceed one hundred Rupees. Every suit so referred to the Registrar shall be heard and determined, and the decree made shall be executed, by him, under the same rules as to procedure and otherwise as are applicable to suits tried by the Recorder. In such suits the Registrar shall have no power to state a case to the High Court or to the Recorder, but an appeal shall lie on questions of law and of fact, from the Registrar's decision to the Recorder, under the rules for regular appeals contained in the Code of Civil Procedure. The decision on the appeal shall be final, but the Recorder shall be at liberty to state a question of law, or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, for the opinion of the High Court in the same manner as in cases originally tried by himself.

Recorder may refer certain suits to Registrar—Rules respecting trial of same.

Reference to High Court.

XXXIX. In all suits heard and determined by a Recorder under this Act, in which the sum or matter at issue is Rupees ten thousand or upwards, or in which the judgment, decree, or order shall involve directly or indirectly any claim demand or question to or respecting property of the value of Rupees ten thousand or upwards, an appeal shall lie to Her Majesty in Council, subject to the rules and orders for the time being in force regarding appeals to Her Majesty in Council, from decisions of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of its ordinary original Civil Jurisdiction.

Appeal to Her Majesty in Council in certain cases.

XL. The Recorder shall exercise all the powers of a Court of Session as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, within the territorial limits of the Civil jurisdiction of the Court or Courts of which he is Recorder, and shall at the place or places where such Court or Courts are held, hold Gaol deliveries at convenient periods, of which due notice shall be given in the manner prescribed in Sections VI and VII of this Act, for the trial of all persons charged with offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, who may be committed to take their trial before his Court as a Court of Sessions.

Recorder to exercise power of Court of Session, and to hold Gaol deliveries for trial of offenders.

Proviso as to European British subjects charged with offences punishable with death.

Provided that the Recorder shall not have power to try any European British subject charged with an offence punishable with death under the said Code. The commitment of any European British subject charged with any such offence shall be made to the High Court of Fort William in Bengal. In all other cases the commitments made within the limits of the jurisdiction of any Recorder's Court, for offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, shall be made to that Court.

XLI. If any European British subject shall be charged in British Burmah with any offence (other than an offence punishable with death under the Indian Penal Code) which a Justice of the Peace shall not be competent to punish, and there shall be sufficient grounds for committing him for trial, such European British subject shall be committed to take his trial before the Recorder, and shall be tried by the Recorder of the Court held within the Division of British Burmah in which either such European British subject shall have been arrested, or in which the offence with which he is charged shall have been committed, that is so say, before the Recorder at Rangoon if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in Pegu; before the Recorder at Akyab if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in Arracan; and before the Recorder at Moulmein if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in the Tenasserim Provinces.

Commitment and trial of such subjects when charged with offences other than those punishable with death.

XLII. The proceedings on trials held by the Recorder as a Court of Session under this Act shall be regulated by the Code of Criminal Procedure, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act in so far as the same may be found applicable.

Proceedings of Recorder as Court of Session how to be regulated.

XLIII. If on any trial sentence of death shall be passed by the Recorder, such sentence shall not be carried into execution until it shall have been confirmed by the Chief Commissioner. It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner, in any case in which it shall seem proper to him so to do, to commute a sentence of death to a sentence of transportation for life, or for any shorter period not less than seven years.

Execution or commutation of sentence of death.

XLIV. No appeal shall lie from any order or sentence passed by the Recorder in any Criminal case. But it shall be at the discretion of the Recorder to reserve any point or points of law for the opinion of the said High Court.

No appeal from order, &c., of Recorder in criminal case, but he may reserve points for opinion of High Court.

XLV. On such point or points of law being so reserved, as in the last preceding Section mentioned, or on its being certified by the Advocate General at Fort William that, in his judgment, there is an error in the decision of a point or points of law decided by the Recorder, or that a point or points of law which has or have been decided by the said Recorder should be further considered, the said High Court shall have full power and authority to review the case, or such part of it as may be necessary, and finally determine such point or points of law, and thereupon to alter the sentence passed by the Recorder, and to pass such judgment and sentence as to the said High Court shall seem right.

Review of case and alteration of judgment by High Court.

XLVI. The Stamp Duties prescribed by Schedule B annexed to Act X of 1862 (to consolidate and amend the law relating to Stamp Duties) for Instruments and Writings in the Sudder Court shall be chargeable on Instruments and Writings in the Courts of the Recorders established under this Act, if the amount or value of the claim exceed one thousand Rupees, or if the case be an appeal. The foregoing limitation as to amount shall not extend to petitions of plaint. For such petitions whether the suit be tried by the Recorder or the Registrar of the Court, and for Certificates granted under Act XXVII of 1860 the duty prescribed by the said Schedule B shall be chargeable. For copies of decrees in suits in which the amount or value of the claim does not exceed one thousand Rupees, as well as for copies of judgments and orders, the same duty shall be chargeable as prescribed by the said Schedule B for copies of decrees, judgments, and orders passed or made by a Court below the Sudder Court. On Instruments and Writings in all other cases, as well in the Recorders' Courts, as in the Courts of the Registrars in cases cognizable by those Officers, on which a duty of eight annas is prescribed by the said Schedule B, the duty chargeable shall be eight annas.

Stamp Duties chargeable on instruments, &c., in Recorders Court.

XLVII. The Commissioner of the Division within which the said Town of Akyab, Rangoon, or Moulmein is situated, may sit with the Recorder in the trial or hearing of any Civil or Criminal case arising within the limits of his jurisdiction, and may record his opinion in any case in which he may so sit.

Commissioner may sit with Recorder in any suit, and record opinion.

XLVIII. If there shall for the time being be no Recorder, or if the Recorder of any of the said Courts shall at any time from sickness or from being absent on leave or other cause be unable to attend to the duties of his Office, it shall be lawful for the Commissioner of the Town wherein such Court is situate to sit in such Court, and to exercise all the powers vested by this Act in the Recorder, but subject to all the rules, provisions, and limitations herein prescribed and declared. Provided that no Commissioner shall act as Recorder, or exercise any authority under this Section, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner first obtained.

And may, in the absence of Recorder, sit in Court and exercise all powers.

XLIX. The Recorder shall keep such Registers and Books and Accounts, and submit to the Chief Commissioner such Statements and Returns of the work done in his Court on the Civil and Criminal sides, as may be prescribed by the said Chief Commissioner with the approval of the Governor-General in Council. The Recorder shall also comply with such requisitions as may be made by the Governor-General in Council, or by the Chief Commissioner for records.

Recorder to keep such Registers, &c., and to submit such return, &c., as Chief Commissioner shall prescribe.

L. The word "Barrister" in this Act shall be deemed to include Barristers of England or Ireland, or Members of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland, or Advocates of any High Court or Colonial Supreme Court authorized by Royal Charter to admit Advocates.

Interpretation of "Barrister."

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XXII OF 1863.

An Act to provide for taking land for works of public utility to be constructed by private persons or Companies, and for regulating the construction and use of works on land so taken.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enable the Government to take land for the construction of works of public utility by private persons or Companies; and whereas it is proper at the same time to protect the rights of all persons from whom land shall be so taken, or be proposed to be taken, and also to determine the manner in which such works may be undertaken, and shall be managed after their construction, as well as to secure to the public under suitable regulations the use of works constructed on land so taken; It is enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

AS TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE ACT.

I. The following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless when a contrary intention appears from the context.

Interpretation.

Governor-General may vest certain Officers with powers conferred by this Act on Local Government. III. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council to vest the principal Executive Officer of any territory under the immediate administration of the Governor-General in Council with any or all of the powers vested by this Act in the Local Government of such territory.

AS TO THE PRELIMINARY PROCEEDINGS TO BE TAKEN, AND THE REGISTRATION OF WORKS.

Promoters to make preliminary application accompanied by statement. IV. The promoters of any work of public utility, who shall desire to proceed under this Act, shall make a preliminary application in writing to the Local Government, explaining the general object and nature of the work, and its intended locality. Every such application shall further be accompanied by a statement of the estimated cost of the construction of the said work, and the mode in which the promoters propose to provide the funds for constructing, maintaining, and working the same.

Local Government may reject application, or call for further information, &c. V. If the Local Government shall not be satisfied with any such application or statement, it may reject it, or it may call on the promoters to supply any further information, or to amend such application or statement on any point on which such further information or amendment shall to the Local Government seem requisite.

Issue of certificate authorizing preliminary survey. VI. If the promoters shall desire to undertake any preliminary survey on account of the proposed work, before preparing and submitting the statement aforesaid, they shall declare the same in their preliminary application, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if satisfied of the expediency of permitting such survey, to issue a certificate authorizing the same. Such certificate shall declare the names of the promoters entitled to use it, the time for which it shall be in force, and the District or Districts or locality for which it shall be valid, and shall contain such further regulations for the guidance of the persons using the said certificate as to the Local Government shall seem fit. The promoters named in such certificate, and such other persons as the promoters shall name in a list to be furnished to the Chief Officer charged with the Executive Administration of each District in which the proposed work is to be constructed, shall be authorized to enter upon any lands, in the manner and for the time declared in such certificate, to undertake any survey or other investigation necessary for the proper prosecution of the proposed work; and while acting under the authority given in the said certificate, such promoters and other persons aforesaid shall be deemed to be public servants whose duty it is to make a survey under Clause 10 of Section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Provided that such promoters and other persons shall not be authorized to enter any house or building, or the curtilage of any house or enclosed garden, without the assent of the occupier, or to cut down any tree or otherwise injure or destroy any property. Provided also that such promoters and other persons aforesaid shall, while acting under the authority of such certificate, be liable as public servants for any offence described in Chapter IX of the said Indian Penal Code, to the penalty provided in the said Chapter for such offence.

Terms of certificate.

Authority conveyed thereby.

Proviso limiting authority.

Liability for offences.

Deposit of caution money may be required before issue of certificate VII. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, before issuing a certificate as aforesaid, to call on the promoters to deposit, as caution money, such sum and in such manner as the Local Government shall in each case determine, to be applied by the Local Government to make good any damage done in the course of such survey by the promoters or other persons using the said certificate. The promoters shall be entitled on their demand to receive back, after the expiry of such certificate, and after the payment of any claim for damage which shall have been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government, any surplus remaining in the hands of such Government.

Refund of Surplus.

Cancelment of certificate. VIII. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, at any time prior to the provisional registration of a public work under this Act as hereinafter provided, to cancel a certificate granted under Section VI of this Act, if it shall appear to such Local Government that the powers granted by such certificate have been abused, or for any other sufficient reason.

Publication of preliminary application, &c., by promoters, and supply of copies to Collectors, &c. IX. The promoters shall, at the time when they submit their preliminary application to the Local Government, publish the same, and if they so desire, the statement that accompanies it, in the Official Gazette, and also, if possible, in at least two Newspapers (one of which shall be in English) in the Province in which the work is proposed to be executed, and shall repeat such publication at least six times within a period of two months from the date of submission of such application to the Local Government; the promoters shall further cause to be delivered, with all reasonable despatch and within a period not exceeding two months, to the Collector of every district in which any part of such work is proposed to be constructed, or such other Officer as the Local Government shall from time to time direct, six copies of such application, with a faithful translation of the same into the vernacular language of the District; and shall in like manner publish from time to time and deliver as aforesaid, copies and translations of any amended applications submitted to the Local Government.

Publication by Collector.

X. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall, on receipt of the preliminary application, publish the same in English and in the vernacular language of the District, in the localities where the work is proposed to be constructed, in such manner as to him seems best.

Local Government to decide, after stated interval, whether work may be provisionally registered or not.

XI. At any time not sooner than four months after the receipt of the said application, or if the application be amended then within four months after the receipt of such amended application, the Local Government, on being satisfied by the promoters that the above conditions have been complied with, shall be authorized to consider finally such application, and any objections that shall have been raised against the construction of the proposed work, and to declare whether the said work may be provisionally registered under this Act or not.

And before deciding, in case of continuation on branch Railway or tramway, to allow time for opposition, &c.

XII. Before declaring that any work may be provisionally registered under this Act, being a railway or tramway in continuation of or forming a branch of any existing line, or being a line that might reasonably be expected to be united with any existing railway either as a continuation or a branch, and at the same time being at some one point within fifty miles distance of such existing railway, the Local Government shall afford to the owners of such existing line reasonable time and opportunity to declare whether they offer any opposition to the registration of the proposed line, and on a full consideration of such opposition, and of the application of the promoters, and of any objections aforesaid, and of the relative public advantages of all proposals made in the matter, the Local Government shall be authorized to declare its decision on the said application.

And may also appoint a commission to inquire into particulars.

XIII. Previously to deciding that the said work shall be provisionally registered under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if it shall think fit, to appoint a Commission of one or more persons who may be Government Officers to enquire into the general object and nature of the said work, its intended locality and probable utility, its estimated cost, the grounds of any opposition to the said work, and any other matter connected with the said work, on which such Local Government shall desire to be satisfied. For the purposes of such enquiry, such Commission shall have power to take evidence, and for obtaining the attendance and for the examination of witnesses, may exercise the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Powers of commission.

On report of Commission Local Government to decide as to registry.

XIV. On the receipt of the Report of the Commission appointed under the last preceding Section, the Local Government shall decide if the said work shall be provisionally registered.

And to prescribe conditions to be imposed on promoters, before declaring decision.

XV. Before declaring its decision as aforesaid, the Local Government shall, subject to such general or special instructions as the Governor-General of India in Council shall from time to time lay down, prescribe the conditions which such Local Government shall consider it necessary to impose on the promoters, having regard to the special circumstances of each case, in respect to the provision and payment of the price of the land for the proposed work, the construction, maintenance, or working of the same, the regulation of the use of the work as regards the security and convenience of the public, and such other matters as to the Local Government may from time to time seem right, and the Local Government shall inform the promoters of such conditions.

Duration of provisional registry, and right to have it made definitive.

XVI. The Local Government, on causing a work to be provisionally registered under this Act, shall determine for what period, being not less than six months, such registry shall be in force. And at any time within such period the promoters may claim to have the registry made definitive as hereinafter provided.

Promoters to deposit caution money before definitive registry.

XVII. Unless for any cause the Local Government shall otherwise determine, the promoters, before they are entitled to claim the definitive registry of the proposed work, shall deposit with the Government, in such manner as shall be approved by the Local Government, a sum to be fixed in each case by the Local Government, but not exceeding ten per cent. on the whole estimated cost of the said work, as caution money, to be disposed of in the manner agreed in the said conditions, unless it be otherwise dealt with as hereinafter provided. And any sum remaining in the hands of the Local Government from any caution money lodged under Section VII of this Act, shall be held to be a payment in part of the caution money required under this Section.

Also to complete agreement under conditions.

XVIII. The promoters, before such claim for definitive registry shall be admitted, shall further complete an agreement with the Secretary of State for India in Council through the Government, under the conditions aforesaid, or under such other conditions as may be agreed between the said promoters and the Local Government. And thereupon the Local Government shall cause such agreement with the conditions thereof to be published in the Official Gazette, and shall declare that the work is definitively registered as a public work under this Act.

Publication of agreement, and declaration of registry.

Definitive registry of work undertaken under agreement entered into before passing of Act.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, on the application of the promoters of any public work under this Act, to cause to be definitively registered under this Act, any public work undertaken by such promoters under an agreement entered into previously to the passing of this Act with the Secretary of State, or the Government of India, or any local Government, as though such work had been proposed to be undertaken under the provisions of this Act hereinbefore contained. Provided that, at the time of so registering any work, the Local Government shall cause the said contract to be published in the Official Gazette, with all the conditions attaching thereto, and declare that the said work has been so registered definitively.

Proviso.

Local Government may apply land, &c., for purposes of public work under Act.

XX. It shall be lawful for the Local Government to apply any land in its lawful possession, also any public road or place, for the purposes of any public work under this Act, to be constructed at the expense and risk of the promoters of such work. Provided that every such work shall be definitively registered accordingly, and that the conditions under which such work is undertaken shall be published in the Official Gazette; also that the prosecution and construction of every such work shall be subject to the provisions of Section XII of this Act.

Proviso.

Local Government may, with consent, vary conditions.

XXI. The Local Government may from time to time, with the assent of the owners of any work under this Act, vary the conditions to be agreed to under Section XV of this Act. Provided that such variation shall forthwith be published in the Official Gazette, and that after such publication the amended conditions shall be in force in supersession of those first made.

Proviso.

After definitive registry, Local Government may issue certificate authorizing surveys, &c.

XXII. After the definitive registry of any work under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government from time to time, in such wise as to it shall appear fit, to issue certificates to authorize the promoters, their servants, and agents to enter upon any lands, and to undertake such surveys or levels or other examinations as may be necessary for the proper prosecution of the said work; also to dig and bore into the sub-soil, and to indicate the intended boundaries of the land to be taken, and the positions of the proposed works, by suitable land-marks, and to perform all other necessary preliminary acts of the like nature; and such certificates shall declare the names of the persons entitled to use them, the time for which they shall be in force, and the Districts or locality for which they shall be valid, and shall contain such further regulations for the guidance of the persons using them as to the Local Government shall seem fit. And while acting under the authority given in the said certificate, such persons shall be deemed to be public servants, whose duty it is to make a survey under Clause 10 of Section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Provided, however, that such persons shall not enter any house, or building, or the curtilage of any house, or enclosed garden without giving twenty-four hours' notice, or without the assent of the occupier thereof, nor shall they cut down any tree, or otherwise injure or destroy any property, unless the same be essentially necessary. Provided also that such persons, while acting under the authority of such certificate, shall be liable as public servants for any offence described in Chapter IX of the said Indian Penal Code, to the penalty provided in the said Chapter for such offence.

Terms of Certificate.

Proviso limiting authority.

Liability for offences.

On completion of surveys, &c., promoters to submit drawings, &c.,

XXIII. The promoters shall, on the completion of the necessary surveys and the like, submit to the Local Government such drawings, maps, and plans of the proposed work, as well as of the land required for it, as the Local Government shall in each case require. And thereupon the Local Government shall appoint one or more Commissioners, who may be Government Officers, to examine the said drawings, maps, and plans, and to determine finally, in concert with the promoters or their agents, all matters of detail in respect of the exact position of the work, or of the parts thereof, as well as the boundaries of the land to be taken for the said work, and shall notify such appointment in the Official Gazette, and shall cause such Notification to be published in the District where the work is proposed to be undertaken in such manner as shall seem best to the Local Government.

Appointment of Commissioners to examine same, and settle details.

Commissioners how to proceed.

XXIV. The Commissioners appointed under the last preceding Section shall proceed at any time, but not sooner than thirty days after such notification, to settle, in concert with the promoters or their agents, the exact position of the work or of the parts thereof, and thereafter with all practicable despatch to examine the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken for the work; and the said Commissioners may call upon the promoter to make any variation in their project, and in the position of the works or any part of them, and in the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, that may to the said Commissioners seem necessary to secure the safety or convenience of the public, or to prevent any undue interference with private property, or for any other reasonable cause, and any such variation, if agreed to by the promoters, shall thereon be considered to be finally adopted; but if the promoters shall not agree, the question in dispute shall be submitted to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government shall be final, provided that the promoters shall not be bound to carry out the proposed work if any variation be insisted upon by the local Government to which the promoters will not assent.

May call for variation of project, &c.

Provision for case of promoters not agreeing thereto.

Extension of periods allowed for notices, &c.

XXV. The Local Government shall be authorized to extend the periods allowed for giving any notices, or for performing any acts required under the foregoing Sections, as from time to time may seem to it proper.

AS TO THE TAKING LANDS, THE TITLE THEREIN, AND THE PAYMENT THEREFOR.

On settlement of boundaries, &c., Local Government to issue declaration as to land being required.

XXVI. When the boundaries of the land required for the work shall have been settled as aforesaid, and the promoters shall have caused the said land to be measured, and suitable land-plans to be prepared of the same, the Local Government shall cause a declaration to be made, under the signature of a Secretary to such Government or some Officer duly authorized to certify the orders of the Local Government, that the land aforesaid is required for the said work, and such declaration, shall be conclusive that the land may be taken under this Act. After making such declaration the Local Government may proceed to take any such land as though it had been required to be taken at the public expense, and for a public purpose, and as though a declaration had been made as required under Act VI of 1857 (for the acquisition of land for public purposes.)

And may thereafter proceed to take the same.

Rule as to boundaries, plans, and measurements.

XXVII. The boundaries as determined by the Commissioners, and the plans and measurements aforesaid of the said land, when verified and found to be correct, or when duly corrected by the Collector or other Officer appointed to proceed under the said Act VI of 1857, shall be held to be the boundaries, plans, and measurements required under Section IV of the said Act, so far as the said lands are concerned.

Preliminary proceedings and declaration by Local Government, as to land required for extension of, or addition to, work under Act.

XXVIII. If at any time land shall be required for any necessary or reasonable extension of or addition to any work under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government to make all requisite declarations for the purpose of obtaining such land under this Act, after such and only such of the preliminary proceedings and enquiries hereinbefore required, as to the Local Government shall in each case seem sufficient for the protection of the rights of the public and of individuals concerned. Provided that nothing shall be done contrary to the provisions of Section XII of this Act, and that all proceedings for the actual taking possession of the land shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the said Act VI of 1857.

Proviso.

Taking land for temporary purpose.

XXIX. Land may be taken under this Act for a temporary purpose in like manner as under the said Act VI of 1857.

Right, powers, and responsibilities of Local Government as to land taken under Act.

XXX. All land taken under this Act shall vest absolutely in the Local Government as though it had been taken for a public purpose under the said Act VI of 1857, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government to dispose of any land taken under this Act, the whole or any part of which shall not be required for the purpose for which it was taken, in any manner that it may think fit. The Local Government alone shall be responsible for the payment of all claims on account of such land to all persons whatever, and the promoters shall in no wise be responsible for any such payment otherwise than to the Local Government, and then only as is herein declared and provided, and as shall be specially agreed in the conditions aforesaid.

Promoters when to be placed in possession of land.

XXXI. When all the conditions as aforesaid applicable to the transfer of the land to the promoters shall have been fully complied with, and not till then, the Government shall cause the promoters to be placed in possession of such land in accordance with such conditions. The title of the Local Government or of the promoters to such land shall not be liable to be questioned on account of any informality in any proceeding taken under this Act.

Expenses to be paid by promoters.

XXXII. All expenses attending the proceedings of the Commissioners to be appointed under Section XXIII of this Act, and all expenses incurred by the Local Government in taking up the land required for the promoters under the said Act VI of 1857, shall be paid by the said promoters, unless otherwise specially agreed. The Local Government shall determine the sum due on account of such expenses, and shall be authorized to deduct such amount from any sum lodged as caution money as aforesaid, if it be not otherwise paid by the promoters, and any sum remaining unpaid both as aforesaid, and on account of land or compensation for which the promoters are liable under the said conditions, may, on the order of the Local Government to that effect, be levied by distress and sale on the said promoters, in the manner provided for distress and sale under Civil process.

Amount of same how to be determined and recovered.

Liability of promoters for damage done in preliminary operations.

Provision for satisfaction of claims on account of damage.

XXXIII. The promoters shall further be liable for all damage done in any of their preliminary operations, and shall duly satisfy and pay all claims of this description; and if at the time of taking possession of the land required for the promoters, it shall appear that any such claim remains unsatisfied, the Collector or other Officer acting under the said Act VI of 1857 in respect of such land shall be authorized to determine all such claims summarily, as though they had been claims arising under the said Act, and all payments on account of such claims shall be made good by the promoters as under the last preceding Section.

AS TO THE PUBLIC USE OF WORKS.

Works under Act how far available for public use.

XXXIV. Every work under this Act shall be available for the use of the public in accordance with and to the extent provided by the conditions aforesaid, or any Act at the time being in force, but not otherwise; and after the publication of the conditions relating to any such works in the Official Gazette, all Courts may take judicial notice of the same, and it shall be lawful for any person whatsoever to sue the owners of such work for any damage he may incur by reason of any neglect of the said conditions by the said owners, in respect of any such public use of such work, as though such person had been a party to the said conditions.

Courts may take cognizance of conditions relating to same and owners may be sued for damage resulting from neglect.

XXXV. The owners of any work under this Act shall be authorized to levy such tolls, in such manner, as shall be fixed in accordance with the conditions aforesaid, also to refuse the use of such work, and to refuse to perform any service in connection therewith, unless such tolls shall be paid in the manner fixed aforesaid, as well as to detain any thing or animal on which such tolls shall be due, and to sell the same if the said tolls shall remain unpaid after a reasonable time has been allowed to elapse for the payment of the same. Provided that no such tolls shall be demanded or taken at any place unless proper tables and lists of such tolls be exhibited at such place in the manner fixed as aforesaid.

Powers of owners as to tolls for use of their works.

Proviso.

AS TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE WORKS, AND THE INSPECTION OF THE SAME.

XXXVI. The Local Government may appoint Inspectors to inspect any work under this Act, also all things appertaining thereto, and to the working of the same; but not books or documents otherwise than as shall be provided in the conditions aforesaid. The owners of such work, and all persons authorized by them to use the same in connection with any public use of the said work, and their servants and agents, shall be bound to afford to such Inspectors all reasonable facility for their inspection, and all such information as may be reasonably required by them

Inspection of works.

XXXVII. If it appear to the Local Government, upon the report of any Inspector, that the use of any work under this Act cannot be continued without danger to the public or to the persons employed thereon, or that rules adequate to the protection of the public under the provisions of this Act have not been framed and put in force, or that the condition agreed upon under Section XV of this Act have not been carried out, the Local Government may order that all defects shall be made good within a reasonable specified time; and in default of the owners of such work complying with such order within such time, or such further time as the Local Government shall appoint, the Local Government shall be empowered to direct that the use of such work shall be suspended, until the defects aforesaid shall be remedied to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

If report of Inspector show cause, Local Government may order use of work to be suspended until defects are remedied.

XXXVIII. The Local Government may at any time, on the report of an Inspector during the construction of any work under this Act, direct the promoters to construct in connection therewith such culverts, bridges, tunnels, drains, or other works as may be considered by the Local Government to be necessary to continue to the public any roads, or rights of way, or easements, or the use of any water theretofore available, and to make due provision for the irrigation and drainage of the country, so as to prevent the same from being impeded or unnecessarily altered by the construction of the said work. If default be made in complying with any directions given under the provisions of this Section, the Local Government may order the prosecution of the work to be stopped until such directions shall be complied with to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Local Government may direct construction of subsidiary works.

And in default of compliance, may stop work.

XXXIX. Nothing in the last preceding Section shall be construed to render the promoters liable to construct any work, or to undertake any thing, at variance with the special conditions of agreement under Section XV of this Act.

Saving as to matters at variance with special conditions.

XL. The owners of every Railway under this Act, being of the gauge of five feet six inches, shall be bound, unless specially exempted by the Governor-General of India in Council, to erect all the fixed structures, and to construct all the rolling stock, in conformity with the standard dimensions determined in that behalf from time to time by the Governor-General of India in Council, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government to order the said owners to make good all defects in such structures or rolling stock, and to suspend their use until such defects shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Fixed structures, &c., on Railway of certain gauge, to be of standard dimensions.

XLI. The provisions of Act XVIII of 1854 (relating to Railways in India) shall apply to all Railways under this Act; provided that in respect of such Railways the Local Government shall be authorized to determine, from time to time, the extent to which fences shall be constructed under Section XX of the said Act XVIII of 1854, and that the owners of such Railways shall not be liable to maintain fences under the said Section otherwise than as shall be so determined.

Act XVIII of 1854 applicable to Railways under this Act.

Proviso, as to fence.

XLII. In case any doubt shall at any time arise, as to the necessity for constructing or altering any work to ensure the safety of the public, or to provide for established public rights of way, or other public rights of any sort in connection with any work under this Act, the decision of the Local Government on such subject shall be final, and shall not be liable to be called in question in any Court of Justice.

Decision of Local Government, on questions concerning public safety &c.

XLIII. If the owners of a Railway under this Act shall desire to form a connection with any existing Railway of the same gauge, the owners of the new line shall be authorized to call on the owners of the old line to effect the junction, and if the owners of the old line shall not proceed to effect the junction within a reasonable time, the Local Government, on being satisfied that the junction may be made with safety to the public, and without injury to the existing Railway, or detriment to the traffic thereon, may authorize the owners of the proposed line to form the junction, and to do all necessary acts in that behalf, and to lay down such additional lines of rails, points, and crossings as may be necessary for the purpose, at such time and in such manner as the Local Government shall direct. Provided that if the junction be effected by the owners of the previously existing Railway, the expense of forming the junction, of supplying all necessary works, and of keeping in repair and renewing the same, shall be paid by the owners of the new line.

Provision as to junction of Railway under Act, with pre-existing line.

As to expenses.

XLIV. If any difference shall arise as to the terms on which the traffic of a branch or junction line of Railway under this Act shall pass over or upon any other line with which it shall be connected, or as to the manner and times of conducting the traffic, or of regulating the same, over the two lines or either of them, or as to any matter touching any line under this Act used in common by two or more Companies, the Local Government shall be authorized, on the application of either or any one of the said Companies, to hear and determine all such differences, and any order given by the Local Government in such a case shall be final and binding on all parties, provided that no order shall be so given at variance with any condition of any agreement between the Government and any of the said Companies, that shall be applicable to the said lines of Railway.

Local Government to determine differences between owners of lines joined, connected, or used in common.

Proviso.

AS TO THE MAKING OF BYE-LAWS.

XLV. It shall be lawful for the owners of any work under this Act to make Bye-Laws and Regulations for the guidance of their servants and agents, and of persons employed by them, and for the maintenance of order in the use of such work, and to provide for the safety and convenience of the public, or of the persons employed on such work; and all such Bye-Laws and Regulations shall be subject to the approval of the Local Government, and when so approved all Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of the same, and the Local Government shall be authorized to cause any alterations to be made in the Bye-Laws and Regulations so made and approved, as to the Local Government shall from time to time seem proper. Provided that such Bye-Laws and Regulations be not repugnant to any Law in force in the British Territories in India, and that no penalty shall be attached to the infringement of any such Bye-Law or Regulation exceeding a fine of fifty Rupees.

Power of owners to make Bye-laws and Regulations.

Subject to approval and alteration.

Proviso.

XLVI. Such Bye-Laws and Regulations affecting the public shall be published, and the substance of them shall be notified, in such places on the said work and in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time approve or direct, and no penalty shall be recoverable under such Bye-Laws or Regulations unless the same shall have been published and kept published as aforesaid.

Publication of Bye-laws, and notification of substance of same.

XLVII. In the case of a Railway under this Act, being of the guage of five feet and six inches, it is further provided that the Bye-Laws and Regulations shall, unless the Governor-General of India in Council shall otherwise permit, conform in every respect to the Regulations for Railway Companies under the said Act XVIII of 1854.

Provision as to Bye-laws in the case of a Railway, under Act, of 5½ feet guage.

AS TO THE LIEN OF THE GOVERNMENT ON ANY WORK.

XLVIII. No lands taken or supplied by Government for any work under this Act; no tree, building, or structure standing on such lands; no machinery nor permanent way fixed to the soil on such lands; nor anything whatsoever on which the Local Government shall be entitled to re-enter, or of which it shall be entitled to take possession without payment on the determination from any cause of the agreement between the Local Government and the promoters under the conditions aforesaid, shall without the consent of the Local Government be liable to be seized or applied in satisfaction of any debts or liabilities of any sort of the promoters, nor without such consent shall the promoters alienate the same, or any part thereof, in any way not provided for, or consonant with such agreement or conditions.

Lands for work under Act, and fixtures thereon, not liable to seizure for debt, nor alienable by promoters, without consent of Local Government.

XLIX. If the owners of a work under this Act shall voluntarily determine to wind up their affairs, or shall be so directed by an order of Court, or shall abandon or determine to abandon such work, or shall commit an act of Bankruptcy or Insolvency, it shall be lawful for the Local Government thereupon to terminate all contracts then existing between it and the promoters in respect of such work, and to re-enter upon and take possession of all things whatsoever, to which the Local Government shall be so entitled under the conditions of such contracts; also of all lands taken at the public expense, or supplied to the said promoters free of cost, together with all trees, buildings, and structures standing on such lands, as well as all machinery and permanent way fixed to the soil on such lands; provided that nothing shall be so taken which shall be expressly excluded from such liability under the conditions aforesaid. But the Local Government shall be bound to surrender to a lawful claimant all moveable property of which it shall at any time obtain possession from the promoters otherwise than by purchase, which shall not have been fully paid for by the promoters; or in lieu of such surrender, if the Local Government shall so determine, to satisfy all just outstanding claims on account of such property; provided that no such surrender shall be obligatory, and no such claim shall be entertained, in respect of any thing that shall have been delivered to the said promoters more than twelve months before the date of such surrender being required, or of such claim being made known to the Local Government.

Right of Local Government to terminate contracts with promoters in certain cases.

And to re-enter and take possession of lands &c.

Saving of moveable property in certain cases.

Proviso.

AS TO MINES NEAR ANY WORK.

L. Whenever land shall be taken under this Act for the construction of any work, the taking thereof shall not be held to convey or include the right to any mine of coal or other minerals lying under such land, except only such part thereof as shall be necessary to be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works, unless compensation for the same shall have been expressly allowed in the award made in favor of the persons interested in the land.

Provision as to mines lying under land taken under Act.

And to working of mines under or near work under Act.

LI. If the owner, lessee, or occupier of any mine of coal, or of any other mineral, lying immediately under any work under this Act, or within forty yards therefrom, shall work the same, it shall be competent to the Local Government, on the application of the promoters of such work, to require such person to abandon such working, or so to work the same as not to endamage the said work, and to construct the works necessary to make it safe. Provided that compensation shall be awarded to such owner, lessee, or occupier, in the manner provided for in the said Act VI of 1857, for any loss sustained by him from being compelled to abandon or alter his mode of working the mine, and also for any necessary works constructed by him (when so required as aforesaid) in order to prevent damage to the said work, but all damage or loss to the promoters, arising from any improper working of such mines, shall be at the risk of the owners, lessees, or occupiers of the said mines, and shall be make good by them.

Proviso as to compensation.

AS TO OFFENCES, AND THE RECOVERY OF PENALTIES.

Certain offences punishable under Penal Code.

LII. Whoever shall obstruct or commit any contempt of the lawful authority of any public servant in the discharge of any function or in the performance of any thing undertaken under this Act, or shall commit mischief by destroying, defacing, or removing any land-mark fixed by the authority of any such public servant shall be punishable under the provisions of the Indian Penal Code.

Recovery of penalties for offences under Bye-laws.

LIII. All penalties for offences under the Bye-laws and Regulations aforesaid shall be recoverable in the manner provided for offences punishable by fine only in the said Act XVIII of 1854, (relating to Railways in India.)

M. WYLIE,
Deputy Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XXIII OF 1863.

An Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make special provision for the speedy adjudication of claims which may be preferred to waste lands proposed to be sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, and of objections taken to the sale or other disposition of such lands; It is enacted as follows :—

Provision for inquiry into claims to land, or objections to sale of same.

I. When any claim shall be preferred to any waste land proposed to be sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, or when any objection shall be taken to the sale or other disposition of such land, the Collector of the District in which such land is situate, or other Officer performing the duties of a Collector of land Revenue in such District, by whatever name his Office is designated, shall, if the claim or objection be preferred within the period mentioned in the advertisement to be issued for the sale or other disposition of such land which period shall not be less than three months proceed to make an enquiry into the claim or objection.

Procedure in such cases.

II. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall call upon the claimant or objector to produce any evidence or documents upon which he may rely in proof of his claim or objection, and after considering the same and making any further enquiry that may appear proper, shall dispose of the case by an order for the admission or rejection of the claim or objection, and if the land is proposed to be sold, for the sale of the same subject to any condition or reservation which to such Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall appear to be proper. If the land is ordered to be sold subject to any condition or reservation, such condition or reservation shall be notified to intending purchasers at the time of sale.

Pending enquiry, sale, &c., to be postponed

III. Pending an enquiry into any claim or objection under the last preceding Section, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall postpone the sale or other disposition of the land, and if he shall order that such claim or objection be rejected, he shall further postpone the sale or other disposition of the land to allow the claimant or objector to contest the order of rejection in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sale to be stopped if claim appear to be established, but may afterwards be proceeded with.

IV. If the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall consider the claim or objection to be established, and that the sale or other disposition of the land should not take place, he shall stop the sale or other disposition of the land; but such sale or other disposition of the land may afterwards be proceeded with if, on an order issued by the local Government to try the claim or objection as provided in Section VI of this Act, the claimant or objector shall fail to establish the same.

Procedure after passing of order in the case.

V. If the Collector or other Officer aforesaid shall order that the claim or objection be rejected, or that the land be sold subject to any condition or reservation, or that it be otherwise dealt with, he shall cause a copy of such order to be delivered to the claimant or objector, and if such claimant or objector shall not within one week from the delivery of such copy, or within such further time as the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid for any special reason to be recorded shall see fit to grant, give notice in writing to such Collector or other Officer as aforesaid that he intends to contest such order, the order shall be final. If the claimant or objector shall, within the time allowed, give such notice, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall immediately make a report to the Board of Revenue or other superior Revenue Authority, and shall forward with such Report a copy of his order, stating fully all the circumstances of the case and the evidence adduced in support or otherwise of the claim or objection, and such Board or other Authority, on the receipt of such Report, and after calling for any further information which it may consider necessary, may confirm, modify, or reverse the order of the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid. If the Board or other Authority as aforesaid confirm the order of the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or modify such order in such manner as to leave any part of such order in force adverse to the claimant or objector, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall certify such order to the Court constituted as hereinafter provided, and such Court shall forthwith give notice to the claimant or objector, and if such claimant or objector shall not, within thirty days from the delivery of such notice from the Court, institute a suit in such Court to establish his claim or objection, the order of the Board or other Authority aforesaid shall be final.

Report to Revenue Board.

Decision of Board.

VI. The local Government may, within twelve months after the date on which the claim of any claimant of waste land, or the objection of any objector as aforesaid, shall have been admitted under this Act by the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, direct a suit to be brought to try the claim or objection of the claimant or objector, in a Court constituted as hereinafter provided.

Local Government may, within twelve months, order suit to be brought to try claim admitted by Collector.

VII. For the investigation and trial of claims under this Act, the local Government shall constitute, in every District in which there may be any waste lands capable of being sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, a Court consisting of an uneven number of persons not less than three, of whom the Judge of the District, or the Officer presiding in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District by whatever name his office may be designated, shall be one. Any one or more of the Members of which such Court shall consist, shall have power to make all such orders in the case as may be necessary prior to the hearing of the suit. Provided that, whenever the Collector or other Officer by whom the original enquiry was held is the Officer presiding in the principal Civil Court of original Jurisdiction in the District, such Officer shall not be a Member of such Court.

Special Court for trying claims.

VIII. Whenever any Court is constituted under this Act, notice thereof shall be given by a written proclamation, copies of which shall be affixed in the several Courts, and in the Offices of the several Collectors and Magistrates of the District, and from the date of the issue of such proclamation no other Court shall be competent to entertain any claim or objection belonging to the class of claims or objections for the trial and determination of which such Court is constituted.

Notice of constitution of Special Courts. Claims not cognizable in other Courts.

IX. The Courts constituted under this Act shall be held at such place or places within the limits of their respective jurisdictions as shall be considered most convenient.

Special Courts where to be held.

X. In every suit instituted under Section V of this Act the claimant of the waste land, or objector to the sale or other disposition of such land, shall appear as plaintiff, and the Collector or other Officer aforesaid shall appear as defendant on the part of Government. Either party may appear by pleader or by agent. Provided that if such other Officer as aforesaid be the presiding Officer of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District, the local Government shall appoint some other Officer to appear as defendant in the case on its behalf. In any suit ordered to be instituted by the local Government under Section VI of this Act, the Government, by any Officer to be appointed for the purpose, shall appear as plaintiff, and the claimant or objector as aforesaid shall appear as defendant.

Plaintiff and Defendant in suits under Section V.

Proviso.

Plaintiff and Defendant in suits under Section VI.

XI. In suits instituted under this Act, except as hereinafter provided, the proceedings shall be regulated, so far as they can be, by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Proceedings regulated by Civil Procedure Code.

XII. The Court shall fix a day for the appearance of the parties and for the hearing of the suit, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their agents, and on the day so fixed the parties or their agents shall bring their witnesses into Court, together with any documents on which they may intend to rely in support of their respective statements. If either party require the assistance of the Court to procure the attendance of a witness on such day, he shall apply to the Court in sufficient time before the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, and the Court shall issue a Subpœna requiring such witness to attend the Court on that day. It shall be competent to the Court to require the personal attendance of the claimant of the waste land or objector as aforesaid on the day fixed for the hearing, or at any subsequent stage of the suit.

Procedure before hearing of suit.

XIII. On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, or as soon after as may be practicable, the Court shall proceed to examine the claimant of the waste land, or the objector, or his agent (when his personal attendance is not required), and the witnesses of the parties, and upon such examination, and after inspecting the documents of the parties, and making any further enquiry that may appear necessary, shall proceed to pass such order in the case as it may consider just and proper.

Procedure on hearing.

XIV. No appeal shall lie from any decision or order passed under this Act, nor shall any such decision or order be open to revision.

No Appeal or revision.

XV. If, on the trial of any suit under this Act, any question of law, or of usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the case shall arise, on which the Court shall entertain reasonable doubts, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, draw up a statement of the case and submit it, with its own opinion, for the opinion of the High Court of Judicature, or of the highest Civil Court of Appeal and revision, in the territory

Reference of question of law, &c. to High Court, &c.

in which the land is situate. Provided that it shall be the duty of every Court held under this Act to make such reference to such High Court, or Court of Appeal, if in any suit under this Act any question shall arise involving any principle of general importance, or the rights of a class.

Such reference obligatory in certain cases.

XVI. The Court may proceed in the case notwithstanding a reference to the High Court, or other highest Civil Court of Appeal as aforesaid, and may pass an order contingent upon the opinion of the High Court, or other Court as aforesaid on the point referred, but no final order for the sale or other disposition of the land in question in the suit, or for the admission or rejection of any claim or objection which shall be before the Court in such suit, shall be passed until the receipt of the order of the said High Court, or highest Civil Court of Appeal.

Court may proceed notwithstanding reference.

XVII. The records of cases disposed of by Courts constituted under this Act shall be deposited amongst the records of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District in which the property in dispute is situate.

Records of cases where to be deposited.

XVIII. No claim to any land, or to compensation or damages in respect of any land sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government as waste land, shall be received after the expiration of three years from the date on which such land shall have been delivered by the Government to the purchaser, or otherwise dealt with. If within three years after any lands have been delivered by the Government to the purchaser, or otherwise dealt with, any claimant or objector shall prefer a claim to the land so delivered or otherwise dealt with, or an objection to such sale, or to compensation or damages in respect thereof, in the Court constituted under this Act for the District in which the land is situate, and shall show good and sufficient reason for not having preferred his claim or objection to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid within the period limited under Section I of this Act, such Court shall file the claim or objection, making the claimant or objector plaintiff, and the Collector of the District or other Officer as aforesaid (with the like provision as aforesaid, if such other Officer be the presiding Officer of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District) the defendant in the suit, and the foregoing provisions of this Act shall be applicable to the trial and determination of the suit. The report of the Officer employed to give delivery, or to take possession on the part of Government, of the land sold or otherwise dealt with, shall be conclusive evidence as to the date on which such delivery was made, or possession was taken.

Limitation as to claims to land sold or dealt with.

Provision for such claims if preferred within time.

XIX. In any case in which the land has been sold, if the Court shall be of opinion that the claim of the claimant is established, the Court shall not award the claimant possession of the land in dispute, but shall order him to receive from the Government Treasury, by way of compensation, a sum equal to the price at which the land was sold, in addition to the costs of suit.

If claim established, possession not to be given, but compensation.

XX. If the land shall have been sold subject to any condition or reservation, or shall not have been sold, but shall have been otherwise dealt with on account of the Government, and the Court shall be of opinion that the claim to such land, or the objection of an objector is established, the Court shall award the claimant or objector to receive such sum in respect of his interest in such land as shall be awarded in that behalf under the provisions of Act VI of 1857 (for the acquisition of lands for public purposes), and thereupon the local Government shall proceed under the said Act to obtain an award of the value of such interest.

When land has not been absolutely sold, or has been otherwise dealt with.

XXI. An award under any of the provisions of the two last preceding Sections shall be in full satisfaction of the claim of the claimant or objector, and shall bar any future claim on his part in respect to the land in suit resting on the same cause of action, or on a cause of action which existed prior to the date of the sale or other disposition of the land on account of Government.

Award under the two last Sections to be in full satisfaction.

XXII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to prevent the local Government form awarding to any claimant of waste land sold on account of Government, on proof to the satisfaction of the local Government of the claim of such claimant (notwithstanding that he may not have preferred his claim either to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or to the proper Court constituted under this Act within the period prescribed by this Act), such amount of compensation for the said land, within the limit as to amount mentioned in Section XIX of this Act, if the land have been sold not subject to any condition or reservation, as to such local Government may seem proper.

Government not barred from awarding compensation for land absolutely sold, though claim be not preferred in time.

XXIII. If the land have been sold subject to any condition or reservation, or have been otherwise disposed of on account of Government, and any claim to such land, or objection to the sale or other disposition of the land shall be proved to the satisfaction of the local Government, although not preferred to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or to the Court constituted under this Act, within the period prescribed by this Act, the local Government may award to such claimant or objector such amount as to such local Government may appear to be the value of the interest of such claimant or objector in such land.

Compensation for land sold subject to condition, if claim proved, though not preferred in time.

XXIV. Unless the contrary appears from the context, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number; and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Education Notice

MEDICAL COLLEGE.

1. THE Calcutta Medical College Session of 1863-64 will commence on the 15th June next.

2. Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal of the Medical College, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., on or before the 15th May next, when the vacant Free Presentations will be awarded, and the vacancies in the Class of Scholarship-holders filled up.

3. The possession of the "Entrance Examination" Certificate of the Calcutta University will entitle Students to enter the Medical College without further Examination.

4. Under certain conditions (which may be learned on application to the Principal) Students will be admitted in anticipation of passing the University Entrance Examination, but in all cases under the clear proviso that they will present themselves for that Examination when next held.

5. The course of Instruction given in the Calcutta Medical College is framed to meet the requirements of the Calcutta University for obtaining its Degrees in Medicine and Surgery.

6. The Candidates who may fail in obtaining a Scholarship or a Free Presentation may be admitted as Students on payment of an Entrance Fee of 15 Rupees, and a further sum of 5 Rupees monthly during the period of their stay at the College, provided they enter into a guarantee to follow out the College Curriculum to a close and to graduate at the Calcutta University. Candidates who do not intend to graduate in Calcutta, or who wish to attend only a few Courses of Lectures, may be admitted as casual Students on payment of a Fee of 40 Rupees for each Course of Lectures, or 60 Rupees for six months' attendance upon any single branch of Hospital practice.

7. The Certificates of Lectures and Hospital attendance of the College are recognized by the University of London, the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Worshipful Society of Apothecaries of London.

Conveyance of Mails on the East Indian Railway

PROCEEDINGS OF THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT;

Head-Quarters, Camp Furrah,

The 20th February 1863.

RAILWAY.

Special Mail Trains on the East Indian Railway.

Read Note by the Officiating Consulting Engineer to Government, Bengal, Railway Department, No. 295, dated 26th January 1863, on the above subject.

RESOLUTION.—The Government of India, by Resolution No. 4946 of the 16th December 1862, requested the Government of Bengal to arrange for a personal interview between the Agent, East Indian Railway Company, the Traffic Manager, and the Consulting Engineer to Government, Bengal, to discuss the details of the question of the provision of Special Trains for the conveyance of Mails on the East Indian Railway in consequence of a reference from the Post Office Department.

2. The Officiating Consulting Engineer having discussed the matter in hand with the Secretary in this Department, has now submitted a Note on the subject, embodying certain suggestions which have been concurred in by the Agent, East Indian Railway Company, and the Director-General of the Post Office in India.

3. His Excellency the Governor General having considered Captain Taylor's proposals, is of opinion that all difficulties may, for the present at least, be satisfactorily met without the necessity of providing Special Trains, the use of which is very desirable to avoid if possible, as they are a source of inconvenience and danger, more especially on single lines.

4. It is obvious that there is no practical utility in bringing Mails to Calcutta by an extra Train if they arrive so late as not to be delivered the same day, consequently no Mails need be sent off from Benares, after the regular down daily Mail has started, if they will not reach Calcutta by 6 P. M. It may further be considered that a quick Train leaving Benares (Raj Ghât) at 3 P. M. will arrive at Calcutta at 5 P. M. the following day, 3 P. M. therefore is the latest hour at which Mails can usefully start for Calcutta.

5. The Railway Company's Agent having agreed to run a Down Day Train from Benares at the hour abovenamed, any Mails reaching Benares after the departure of the regular day Mail at 6 A. M. will be forwarded by this Train. If not in time for this Train they could not, under any circumstances, be delivered any earlier at Calcutta if sent off by Special Train. Further, it will certainly not be worth while to start a Special Train to carry Mails arriving between 6 A. M. and 3 P. M., an interval of only nine hours; and thus the necessity for Special Trains for the Down Calcutta Mail cannot at present arise.

6. His Excellency, under these circumstances, is pleased to resolve that the plan proposed in Captain Taylor's Note shall be adopted at once on the Bengal portion of the East Indian Railway.

7. For the North-Western Provinces portion of the line His Excellency the Governor General is of opinion that every reasonable measure to ensure the speedy and regular dispatch of Mails should be adopted. But the interests of the Passenger Traffic must not be altogether sacrificed for this object, nor will it be right, under present circumstances, to cause the Railway Company to run a Train merely for the convenience of the Post Office. His Excellency accordingly desires that the Government of the North-Western Provinces may re-consider the arrangement of the Trains on the North-Western section of the line so as to expedite the Mails to the utmost without making the Trains inconvenient for ordinary Traffic. It will be plain, for reasons similar to those above given as to the working of the Mails to Calcutta, that there will be no practical utility in sending off from Agra, &c., by an extra Train Mails that are too late to reach Benares by 6 A. M. if they cannot arrive at that place by 3 P. M., and it may be assumed that the convenience of the Public in the matter of Postal arrangements will be sufficiently met for some time to come if these two Mail Trains are properly made use of.

8. His Lordship also desires that the Director-General of the Post Office in India may be informed that it seems to be quite within his power to have the regular Calcutta Mail brought down by the Agra Day Passenger Train in time for dispatch by the 6 A. M. Train from Benares. If the sorting at Benares were dispensed with, either by establishing sorting carriages or by ordering the Calcutta Mail to be made up separately at all Stations, three hours would be saved, and the time between Allahabad and Benares reduced so as to admit of the Calcutta Mail from Agra going straight on by the 6 A. M. Train from Benares. Mails that are required to be sorted at Benares might follow by the 3 P. M. Train with any thing that come in during the interval.

Home Department.

LEGISLATIVE.

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. XIV of 1863.

An Act to amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal).

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to amend Act X of 1859 (to amend the Law relating to the Recovery of Rent in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) so far as it relates to the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and to authorize the extension of the Act to places to which its provisions do not now apply; It is enacted as follows:—

Suits cognizable by Collectors in addition to those specified in Sections XXIII and XXIV of Act X of 1859

I. In addition to the suits specified in Sections XXIII and XXIV of Act X of 1859, the following suits shall be cognizable by the Collectors of Land Revenue under the provisions of the said Act, and, except in the way of appeal as provided in the said Act, shall not be cognizable in any other Court or by any other Officer or in any other manner (that is to say):—

1*st*.—Suits by Lumberdars for arrears of Government revenue payable through them by the co-sharers whom they represent.

2*nd*.—Suits by co-sharers for their share of the profits of an estate or any part thereof after payment of the Government revenue and village expenses, or for a settlement of accounts.

3*rd*.—Suits by Maafeedars or assignees of Government revenue for arrears of revenue owing to them as such Maafeedars or assignees.

4*th*.—Suits by Talookdars and other superior proprietors for arrears of revenue or otherwise (not being rent claimable under Section XXIII of the said Act X of 1859) due to them as such Talookdars or other superior proprietors.

Limitation of suits under preceding Section.

II. Suits instituted under the preceding Section shall be instituted within three years from the date when the arrear or the amount of profits claimed shall have become due, or if the suit be for an arrear, or for profits due at the time of the passing of this Act, it shall be instituted within three years after the passing of this Act, or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire. If the suit be for a settlement of accounts, the suit shall be brought within one year after the expiration of the year to which the accounts relate, or in the case of any claim for such settlement now existing, within one year from the time of the passing of this Act, or within the period now allowed for the institution of such suits in the Civil Court, whichever may first expire.

Additional ground for claim to abatement of rent.

III. In addition to the grounds mentioned in Section XVIII of the said Act X of 1859, upon which a ryot, having a right of occupancy, can claim an abatement of the rent previously paid by him, every such ryot may claim abatement on the ground that the rate of rent paid by him is above the prevailing rate payable by the same class of ryots for land of a similar description, and with similar advantages, in the places adjacent.

Addition to Clause 2, Section XXIII of Act X of 1859.

IV. Clause 2 of Section XXIII of the said Act X of 1859 shall be read as if the words "or by any other means not warranted by law" were added thereto.

Repeal and re-enactment of Sections XXXIV and LXXXVI of Act X of 1859.

V. From the date of the passing of this Act Sections XXXIV and LXXXVI of the said Act X of 1859 shall cease to have effect in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and shall not come into force in any place to which this Act shall be extended as hereinafter provided, and the following Sections are enacted in lieu thereof:—

Procedure in the institution of suits under this Act.

"Section XXXIV. Suits under this Act shall be instituted by presenting to the Collector a plaint or statement of claim, which shall contain the name, description, and place of abode of the plaintiff, the name, description, and place of abode of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained, the substance and value of the claim, estimated according to any law for the time being in force for the valuation of suits, and the date of the cause of action."

Issue of process of Execution.

"Section LXXXVI. Process of execution may be issued against either the person or the property of a judgment debtor, but process shall not be issued simultaneously against both person and property. Such process may be issued on the oral application of the judgment creditor, his agent, or mookhtar, made at the time the decree is passed, or thereafter upon the written application of the judgment creditor, his agent, or mookhtar. Process of execution against the person or moveable property of a debtor shall be in form E or F contained in the Schedule to the said Act X of 1859, or to the like effect."

Certain provisions of Civil Procedure Code applicable to decrees in rent suits.

VI. The provisions of Sections 243 and 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall be applicable to decrees passed in suits under the said Act X of 1859, or this Act, in which the Collector shall award a sum of money on account either of an arrear of Government revenue, or of profits, or otherwise.

Revision and appeal.

Orders passed by a Collector under either of the said Sections shall be subject to revision by the Commissioner of the Division and the Sudder Board of Revenue, but shall not be open to appeal to the Civil Court.

Addition to Section CXII of Act X of 1859.

VII. Section CXII of the said Act X of 1859 shall be read as if the words "or where the rent of a puttee is not collected by a Lumberdar, through the putteedar who is entitled to collect the rent" were added at the end of such Section.

Local Government may invest Settlement Officers with certain powers.

VIII. The local Government may invest any Officer employed in making or revising settlements of the land revenue, with the powers of a Collector as described in the said Act X of 1859, for the decision of suits arising within the local limits of the jurisdiction assigned to such Officer, of the nature mentioned in Section XXIII of the said Act, or in this Act, while such Officer is so employed.

Matters cognizable by such Settlement Officers.

IX. In the exercise of the powers given under the last preceding Section, the Officer so invested shall have power to determine all disputes existing between Zemindars, Talookdars or other Sudder Malgoozars, or Farmers of land, or any person duly authorized on their behalf, and any dependent Zemindar, ryot or other under-tenant of whatever denomination, regarding the rates of rent payable by such dependent Zemindar, under-tenant, ryot, or other tenant.

Rule as to suits for enhancement of rent.

X. If a suit for enhancement of rent be brought before any Officer empowered under Section VIII of this Act to hear the same, such suit shall be heard and determined by such Officer notwithstanding that no notice of enhancement shall have been served under Section XIII of the said Act X of 1859 on the party from whom such enhanced rent is claimed. In such case the statement of claim shall set forth the grounds on which such enhancement of rent is claimed. If a decree be passed in favor of the claimant, such decree shall have effect only from the commencement of the next agricultural year after the date of the decree.

Provision for suits by or against ryots collectively.

XI. Whenever a claim to enhancement or abatement of rent against or by any number of ryots is brought before an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements, and empowered under Section VIII of this Act to hear such claim, such ryots may be sued or may sue collectively, and it shall be no ground for dismissing or refusing to hear the claim that such ryots are wrongly joined as plaintiffs or defendants, Provided all such ryots cultivate in the same Estate, but no decree shall be passed in any such case in which an enhancement of rent is claimed, unless such Officer as aforesaid shall be satisfied that every ryot has had an opportunity to appear and make objection to the claim preferred against him. Provided also that every decree passed in any such case shall specify the extent to which each of the ryots named in the decree shall be affected thereby.

Decisions liable to appeal.

XII. All decisions passed under the foregoing Sections by an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements, and invested as above, shall be open to the same appeal as is given by the said Act X of 1859 in respect to decisions passed by a Collector in suits of the same description.

Proviso as to former decisions.

Provided that no decree passed in any such suit by an Officer engaged in making or revising settlements before the passing of this Act, shall be open to question solely on the ground of want of jurisdiction in the Officer who passed such decree, or of any error, defect, or irregularity in procedure not productive of injury to either party, but an appeal shall lie against such decree in like manner as if the suit had been decided under this Act.

Commutation of rents in kind to fixed money payments.

XIII. In all cases in which rents have heretofore been paid in kind, or by the estimated value of a portion of the crop, it shall be lawful for an Officer employed in making or revising the settlement of the land revenue, on the application either of the payer or the receiver of the rent, to commute such rent into a fixed money payment. The rate or amount of rent thus fixed shall be binding upon the parties concerned, subject to the provisions of the said Act X of 1859. All decisions already passed by any such Officer, commuting rents in kind, or by valuation, to fixed rents in money shall, subject to the same appeal as is given by the said Act X of 1859 in respect to decisions passed by a Collector in suits under the said Act, be legal and binding.

Arbitration Chapter of Civil Procedure Code made applicable.

XIV. The provisions of Chapter VI. (relative to arbitration) of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to suits under the said Act X of 1859, and under this Act.

Provision for collection of water rate.

XV. In any District through which any canal passes, in respect of which any water rate is payable to Government, it shall be lawful for the local Government to appoint any proprietor or farmer of an estate through which such canal passes in such District, with the consent of such proprietor or farmer, to be a lumberdar for the collection of such water rate in such estate, and thereupon the amount annually payable on account of such water rate by the dependent Zemindars, ryots, and other under-tenants in such estate shall (subject to such abatement on account of commission or otherwise as shall be allowed by the local Government to such lumberdar), be held to be a charge on the estate of such proprietor, or farmer, and shall be added to the assessment payable to Government in respect of such estate, and the amount thereof shall be recoverable in like manner as the assessment on such estate, and for the purpose of collecting such water rate from the dependent Zemindars, ryots, and other tenants in such estate liable thereto, such lumberdar shall have the like powers, and shall be subject to the same rules as are provided in any law for the time being in force in respect of the collection of the rent of land.

Rule as to person arrested under Section CXLV of Act X of 1859.

XVI. If any person shall be arrested under Section CXLV of the said Act X of 1859, he shall be brought before the Collector with all convenient speed, and the Collector shall proceed forthwith to try the case. If the case cannot be at once heard and determined, the Collector may, if he think fit, require the party arrested to give security for his person whenever the same may be required. In default of such security, the party arrested may be committed to the Civil Jail until the case is tried.

Special appeal from decisions of Zillah Judge under Act X of 1859.

XVII. Doubts having been entertained as to whether the decisions passed by a Zillah Judge in regular appeal under the said Act X of 1859 are open to special appeal, it is hereby declared that it was the intention of the said Act that such decisions should be open to special appeal to the Sudder Court in the same manner, and subject to the same rules, as the decisions of Zillah Judges passed in regular appeal are open to special appeal under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Construction of Act.

XVIII. This Act shall be read and taken, in the Territories under the Government of the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and in all places to which this Act shall be extended under the next following Section, as part of the said Act X of 1859.

Power to extend the Act.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council to extend the provisions of Act X of 1859 as amended by this Act to any Territories immediately administered by the Government of India, or for the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces, and of the Punjab, respectively, to extend the said Act amended as above to any part of the Territories under their respective Governments, in which the said Act X of 1859 is not now in force. Whenever the said Act amended as above shall be so extended, the Governor-General of India in Council, or the Lieutenant-Governor who shall so extend the same, shall declare by what Officers in the said Territories or any parts thereof, to which the said Act X of 1859 amended as above shall be extended, the powers given by the said Act shall be exercised, and such Officers shall thereupon be authorized to exercise such powers.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information.—

ACT No. XV OF 1863.

An Act to amend Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen.)

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the provisions of Act I of 1859 (for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) in so far as the said Act relates to agreements with Natives of India; to vessels trading from the Straits Settlement to the Gulf of Siam, and the Eastern Archipelago; and to the cancelment and suspension of certificates of competency and service; It is enacted as follows:—

Certain Sections of Act I of 1859, and Act XXVIII of 1861 repealed.

I. Sections XVII, XXI, LXXXI and LXXXII of the said Act I of 1859, and Act XXVIII of 1861 (to extend the provisions of Act I of 1859 for the amendment of the law relating to Merchant Seamen) are hereby repealed.

Sections IX to XVI of Act I of 1859 not to apply to ships registered under Act X of 1841 under certain circumstances.

II. Sections IX to XVI of the said Act I of 1859 shall not apply to ships registered under Act X of 1841, (for prescribing the rules to be observed, in order that ships or vessels belonging to Ports within the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, or belonging to Native Princes or States, or their Subjects, may become entitled to the privileges of British ships under a proclamation of the Governor-General of India in Council, made in pursuance of the Statute 3 and 4 Victoria, Chapter 56*)*, and trading between Ports in India and the Coast of Arabia, when such ships are navigated and manned exclusively by Arabs, Lascars, or other Asiatic Masters and Seamen, or to ships of less than 200 tons burden registered under the said Act X of 1841, and trading between any Port of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca, and the Gulf of Siam, or the Eastern Archipelago, when such ships are navigated exclusively by Malays, Lascars, or other Asiatic Masters and Seamen.

Agreements with seamen and others.

III. The Master of every ship, except ships of a burden not exceeding three hundred tons employed only in the Home-trade, shall enter into an agreement with every Seaman and with every Native of India not being a Seaman whom he carries to sea from any Port in India as one of his crew, in the manner hereinafter mentioned; and every such agreement shall be in a form sanctioned by the Governor-General of India in Council, and shall be dated at the time of the first signature thereof, and shall be signed by the Master before any Seaman or other person aforesaid signs the same, and shall contain the following particulars as terms thereof; (that is to say)—

1.—The nature and, as far as practicable, the duration of the intended voyage or engagement.

2.—The number and description of the crew, specifying how many are engaged as sailors.

3.—The time at which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to be on board or to begin work.

4.—The capacity in which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to serve.

5.—The amount of wages which each Seaman and each Native of India not being a Seaman is to receive.

6.—A scale of the provisions which are to be furnished to each Seaman and to each Native of India not being a Seaman.

7.—Any regulations as to conduct on board, and as to fines, short allowance of provisions, or other lawful punishments for misconduct, which have been sanctioned by the Government as regulations proper to be adopted and which the parties agree to adopt.

And every such agreement shall be so framed as to admit of stipulations to be adopted at the will of the Master and Seaman, and each Native of India not being a Seaman, in each case (not being inconsistent with the provisions of this Act), as to advance of wages and supply of warm clothing, and may contain any other stipulations which are not contrary to law. Provided that, if the Master of any ship belonging to the United Kingdom or any British possession has an agreement with his crew made in due form according to the law of the place to which such ship belongs, or in which her crew were engaged, and engages single Seamen, or any Native of India not being a Seaman, in any Port in India, such Seaman or other person aforesaid may sign the agreement so made, and it shall not be necessary for such Seaman or other person aforesaid to sign an agreement under this Act. Provided also that, in the case of Lascars or other Native Seamen, and every Native of India not being a Seaman, when it shall be agreed that the service of any such Seaman or other person aforesaid shall end at any Port not in India, the agreement shall contain stipulations for providing for such Seaman or other person aforesaid fit employment on board some other vessel bound to the Port at which he was shipped, or such other Port as may be agreed on, or for providing for him a passage to some such Port as aforesaid free of charge, or on such other terms as may be agreed on; and every such stipulation shall be signed by the owner of the vessel or by the Master on his behalf.

Proviso as to forms for British or Colonial ships.

Proviso where Lascars are shipped.

IV. Every Court having Admiralty jurisdiction in India, and the principal Court of Ordinary Criminal Jurisdiction at every Port in India where there is no Court having Admiralty jurisdiction, is hereby authorized to investigate and try charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of any Master, Mate or Engineer of any ship, who shall have obtained his certificate from the Board of Trade, and to make enquiry as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships; and if on such investigation it shall appear to any such Court as aforesaid, that the loss or abandonment of, or any serious damage to, any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by the wrongful act or default of any such Master, Mate or Engineer, or that any such Master, Mate or Engineer has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny, such Court may suspend for such period as it shall think fit, or may cancel such certificate whether of competency or service of such Master, Mate or Engineer, and the Court shall report the same to the local Government, within whose limits such Court is situated. Provided that no certificate shall be cancelled or suspended unless a copy of the Report or a Statement of the case upon which the investigation is made, shall have been furnished to the owner of the certificate before the commencement of the investigation Provided also that the Report of such Court is confirmed by the Governor or other person administering the local Government wherein such Court is held.

Court authorized to make enquiry into charges against Masters, Mates, and Engineers, and to report to local Government.

Proviso.

V. Every Court by which any investigation or trial is held under the last preceding Section shall, at the conclusion of the case, or as soon afterwards as possible, state in open Court the decision to which they may have come with respect to cancelling or suspending certificates, and shall in all cases send a full report upon the case with the evidence to the Board of Trade, and shall also, if they determine to cancel or suspend any certificate, forward such certificate to the Board of Trade with their Report.

Procedure of such Court.

VI. If the local Government, on the information of any Shipping Master, or on any other ground, has reason to believe that any Master or Mate who has obtained a certificate of competency or service from such Government, or from any other local Government, is, from incompetency or misconduct, unfit to discharge his duties, it may direct any Board or Officer at or near to the place at which it may be convenient for the parties and witnesses to attend, to institute an investigation; and thereupon such Board or Officer shall conduct the investigation into such charge of incompetency or misconduct, and shall, on the conclusion of the investigation, make a report upon the case to the local Government which ordered the investigation.

Local Government may direct investigation in cases of incompetency and misconduct.

VII. For the purpose of any such enquiry under Section IV or Section VI, the Court, Board or Officer may summon the Master, Mate or Engineer, as the case may be, to appear, and shall give him full opportunity of making a defence, either in person or otherwise, and may summon and examine witnesses, and may make such order with respect to the costs of such investigation, and may require such security for costs, as such Court, Board, or Officer may deem just. Every order in respect of costs under this Section may be enforced in like manner as a fine may be enforced by a Magistrate in the Port where such investigation is held.

Powers of Court, &c., in making enquiry.

VIII. The local Government may suspend or cancel the certificate (whether of competency or service) granted by such local Government or by any other local Government under the said Act I of 1859, to any Master or Mate in the following cases; (that is to say)—

Local Government may cancel or suspend certificates in certain cases.

Clause 1. If upon any investigation conducted under the provisions of Sections C, CI, and CII of Act I of 1859, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default.

Loss, abandonment or serious damage by default of Master or Mate.

Clause 2. If upon any investigation held under Section VI of this Act, the Master or Mate shall be reported to be incompetent, or to have been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny.

Incompetency, gross misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny of Master or Mate.

Clause 3. If upon any investigation held under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1854, or the Merchant Shipping Amendment Act 1862, or upon any investigation made by a Naval Court constituted as is provided by any law for the time being in force, or upon any investigation made by any Court or Tribunal authorized or hereafter to be authorized by the Legislative Authority in any British possession to make enquiry into charges of incompetency or misconduct on the part of Masters or Mates of ships, or as to shipwreck or other casualties affecting ships, it is reported that the loss or abandonment of, or serious damage to any ship, or loss of life, has been caused by his wrongful act or default; or that he has been guilty of any gross act of misconduct, drunkenness, or tyranny. Provided always that, in the case of any report by any such last-mentioned Court or Tribunal, the report shall have been confirmed by the Governor or person administering the Government of such possession.

Or after other investigations.

Clause 4. If he has been superseded by the order of any Admiralty Court, or of any Naval Court constituted as provided by the Merchant Shipping Act 1854, or any other law for the time being in force.

Supersession.

Clause 5. If he is shown to have been convicted of any offence.

Conviction of any offence.

IX. Every Master, Mate or Engineer whose certificate is cancelled or suspended under the provisions of this Act, shall deliver it to the Shipping Master, or to such other person as the Court or the local Government which cancelled or suspended the certificate shall direct, and in default, shall, for each offence, incur a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees. Provided that if the local Government which cancels or suspends a certificate of a Master or Mate is not the local Government that granted the same, the local Government which so cancels or suspends the certificate, shall report the proceedings and the fact of cancelment or suspension to the local Government which granted such certificate. Provided also that it shall be competent to any local Government at any subsequent time to grant to any person whose certificate has been cancelled a new certificate of the same or of any lower grade.

Master, Mate, or Engineer to deliver up his certificate. Penalty otherwise.

Proviso for report to other local Governments.

X. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the powers of removal vested by Section CCXL of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, or Section LXXX of the said Act I of 1859 in Courts having Admiralty jurisdiction in India. The said powers may be exercised by the principal Court of ordinary Criminal jurisdiction at any Port in India where there is no Court having Admiralty jurisdiction if the Master or Mate shall have received his certificate from any local Government.

Savings of powers vested in certain Admiralty Courts.

Same powers may be exercised by Chief Criminal Court in Indian Port where there is no Admiralty Court.

XI. This Act shall be read and taken as part of the said Act I of 1859.

Act to be taken as part of Act I of 1859.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XVI OF 1863.

An Act to make special provision for the levy of the Excise Duty payable on Spirits used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make special provision for the levy of the Excise Duty payable on Spirits used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. Spirits intended to be used exclusively in Arts and Manufactures or in Chemistry may be removed from any licensed Distillery in any part of British India on payment of Duty calculated at ten per cent. on the value of the Spirits, provided that no Spirits shall be so removed until they have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption.

Such spirits may be removed from Distillery on payment of Duty, on condition.

II. The Board of Revenue, or other authority specially authorized in that behalf by the local Government, shall prescribe from time to time, subject to the approval of the local Government, rules for ascertaining and determining that Spirits proposed to be removed for the purposes aforesaid have been effectually and permanently rendered unfit for human consumption, as required by Section I of this Act; for causing such Spirits to be so rendered, if necessary, by its own officers at the expense of the person who wishes to remove them; and for fixing the value of the Spirit on which the ad valorem duty shall be levied.

Rules for ascertaining and determining that spirits to be removed have been rendered unfit for human consumption, &c.

III. Every person who shall wilfully contravene any rule prescribed by the Board of Revenue, or other Authority as aforesaid, under the last preceding Section of this Act, shall be liable on conviction before any Officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees for every such offence.

Penalty for breach of such rules.

IV. Every person who shall attempt, or shall connive at an attempt, to render fit for human consumption Spirits removed from a Distillery under the provisions of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand Rupees; and the possessor of such Penalty for attempting to render fit for human consumption spirits removed under this Act.

Spirits on which such attempt has been made, or which may have been rendered fit for human consumption, shall be liable on conviction before any Officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate to a penalty not exceeding five hundred Rupees.

Such penalty how to be levied.

V. Any penalty imposed under either of the last two preceding Sections may in case of non-payment be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender, by warrant under the hand of the Officer by whom such penalty was imposed.

In case of non-payment of penalty offender may be detained pending return to distress warrant.

VI. In case any such penalty shall not be forthwith paid, any such Officer may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless the offender shall give security to the satisfaction of such Officer for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress.

Imprisonment of offender in case of failure to recover penalty by distress.

VII. If upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such penalty, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such Officer by the confession of the offender or otherwise that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty could be levied if a warrant of distress were issued, any such Officer may by warrant under his hand commit the offender to the Civil Jail, there to be imprisoned, according to the discretion of such Officer, for any term not exceeding two Calendar months when the amount of penalty shall not exceed fifty Rupees, and for any term not exceeding four Calendar months when the amount shall not exceed one hundred Rupees, and for any term not exceeding six Calendar months in any other case, the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount.

Provisions of Section XI, Act III of 1852 relating to adulteration, not to apply to spirits rendered unfit for consumption under this Act.

VIII. The prohibition contained in Section XI of Act III of 1852 (to amend the law relating to spirituous and intoxicating liquors, drugs, and preparations within the Territories subordinate to the Presidency of Bombay) against mixing any noxious drug or material in, or by other process adulterating Spirits manufactured under the provisions of Regulation XXI of 1827 of the Bombay Code, or of the said Act III of 1852, shall not apply to Spirits rendered unfit for human consumption under this Act.

Confiscation in cases of conviction under Sections III or IV.

IX. In every case of conviction under Section III or Section IV of this Act the liquor or Spirits with the cask or vessel containing the same, and the cart, boat, and animal or animals employed in carrying such liquor or Spirit shall be liable to confiscation.

Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVII OF 1863.

An Act to authorize the extension of the term of Office of the Municipal Commissioners in the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient that the term of Office of the Municipal Commissioners in the Straits Settlement should be extended ; It is enacted as follows :—

Section repealed.

I. Section XIX of Act XXVII of 1856 (for appointing Municipal Commissioners, and for levying rates and taxes in the several Stations of the Settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca), is repealed. The operation of Section XV of the said Act shall be suspended at the election of Municipal Commissioners under the said Act, to be held next after the passing of this Act.

Section suspended.

Governor to declare for what period Commissioner appointed by him shall hold office.

II. The Governor of the Settlement shall, upon the appointment of the Commissioner whom he is empowered by the said Act XXVII of 1856 Section V to appoint, declare for what number of years, not exceeding three, such Commissioner shall hold Office.

Elected Commissioners to hold office for periods to be determined as provided.

III. The Municipal Commissioners of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, respectively, who shall be chosen at the said next election by the largest number of votes, shall hold their Office for one, two, or three years, as shall be determined in manner hereinafter mentioned.

Allotment of periods for tenure of Office, by number of votes.

IV. The Municipal Commissioner who is chosen at such next election by the largest number of votes shall hold his Office for three years ; the Municipal Commissioner who is chosen by the next largest number of votes shall hold his Office for two years, and the remaining Municipal Commissioner shall hold his Office for one year.

Allotment in case of votes for all three Commissioners being equal.

V. If at any of the said Stations the three Municipal Commissioners chosen at the said next election shall be elected by an equal number of votes, the Governor, or, in his absence from such Station, the Resident Councillor shall declare and appoint the periods of three years, two years, and one year, respectively, for which every such elected Municipal Commissioner shall hold Office.

And in case of votes for two being equal, and yet greater than for the third.

VI. If at any of the said Stations at the said next election two of the Municipal Commissioners chosen shall have an equality of votes, but such number shall be greater than the number of votes given for the third Municipal Commissioner; the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall declare and appoint the periods of three years, and two years, respectively, for which each of the said two Municipal Commissioners shall hold Office; and the other Municipal Commissioner shall hold Office for one year only.

And in case of one having a majority, and the other two an equal number.

VII. If at any of the said Stations at the said next election one of the Municipal Commissioners chosen shall have a number of votes larger than the other two Municipal Commissioners, and such other two Commissioners shall have an equality of votes, the Municipal Commissioner who shall have such larger number of votes shall hold Office for three years, and the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall declare the periods of two years, and one year, respectively, for which each of the other two Municipal Commissioners shall hold Office.

When two or more candidates have an equal number of votes, election how to be determined.

VIII. If at any of the said Stations an equal number of votes be given for any two or more candidates at the said next election, so that the Sheriff or his Deputy is not able to declare as between such persons which of them has been elected, the Governor, or, in his absence, the Resident Councillor shall give a casting vote for one or more of such persons, and, reckoning such vote, shall declare the period for which such person or persons shall hold Office in manner provided in Section IV.

Term of tenure of Office of Commissioner appointed under Section XVI of Act XXVII of 1856.

IX. Every Commissioner appointed under Section XVI of the said Act XXVII of 1856, in consequence of a refusal to act, a failure of election, or otherwise, shall hold Office for such term as the Governor or Resident Councillor of the Station shall declare. Provided that such term shall in no case exceed three years, and shall be a term which shall conform to the terms for which the other Commissioner or Commissioners shall have been declared and appointed to hold Office under Section IV of this Act, so that the three Commissioners shall hold their Offices for three years, two years, and one year, respectively.

Proviso.

And of Commissioner appointed under Section XVII of said Act.

X. Every Commissioner appointed under the provisions of Section XVII of the said Act XXVII of 1856, in place of any Commissioner elected at the said next election, shall hold Office for the term for which the Commissioner in whose place he is appointed was entitled to hold Office.

Names and terms of Office to be published.

XI. The names of the persons elected or appointed to be Municipal Commissioners under this Act, and the terms for which such persons shall hold Office, shall be published in such manner as the Governor may direct.

Commissioners when to enter on Office. Subsequent elections limited to one. Appointments to vacancies.

XII. The Municipal Commissioners at each of the said Stations elected under the provisions of this Act shall enter upon their Office on the first day of January after their election, and shall hold Office for the periods hereinbefore provided. At every subsequent election under the said Act XXVII of 1856, one Commissioner only shall be elected. The Commissioner elected at such subsequent election shall hold Office for three years. Appointments to fill up any vacancy occasioned by the death, resignation, or refusal to act of any such Commissioner shall have effect for the period for which such Commissioner would have held Office but for such death, resignation, or refusal to act, and all the provisions of the said Act XXVII of 1856, so far as they are not affected by this Act, which relate to the election of three Commissioners at each annual election shall, so far as practicable, be construed to apply to the election of one Commissioner only.

Construction of Act.

XIII. This Act shall be read and taken as part of the said Act XXVII of 1856.

M. WYLIE,

Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,

Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XVIII OF 1863.

An Act to make provision for the speedy and efficient disposal of the business now pending in the Office of the Master of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and to provide for the abolition of the Oaths now administered to Hindoos and Mahomedans in the said Court, and to amend the Code of Civil Procedure in respect of process issued out of the said Court in the exercise of its Original Civil Jurisdiction.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, at the time of the abolition of the late Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, many matters which had been referred to the Master of the said Court were pending before him, and many of them are still pending before the Master of the High Court, and it is expedient that all such matters should be wound up and determined as expeditiously as possible, and whereas it is expedient that the law concerning the administration of oaths to Hindoos and Mahomedans in such Court should be assimilated to the law concerning such oaths in Courts not established by Royal Charter; and that the Code of Civil Procedure should be amended in respect of process issued out of the said High Court in the exercise of its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. It is enacted as follows:—

Power to Master to summon parties, &c., and to settle and wind up proceedings before him.

I. In order as expeditiously as may be to wind up all the suits, matters, and things which are now pending before the Master of the said High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, it shall be lawful for the Master, at any time after the passing of this Act at his own discretion, and without application on behalf of any of the parties to the suit or reference, and in such manner as he shall deem fit, to summon all or any of the parties to any suit, matter, or thing so pending, or their Solicitors, and thereupon to proceed with such suit, matter, or thing, and to give such directions and make such orders as he may think necessary for the purpose of settling and winding up the same; but any such order shall be subject to be discharged or varied by the said Court upon application made for that purpose, and the Master shall be at liberty to proceed ex-parte for the purposes aforesaid in the absence of any of the parties or their Solicitors neglecting or refusing to attend the summons, and it shall also be lawful for the Master at his discretion to proceed with the reference, and to make a special report to the Court notwithstanding the death of any of the parties to the suit or reference, or their absence from the jurisdiction of the Court, or in cases in which, after search to the satisfaction of the Master, parties are not to be found within the jurisdiction of the Court, or it is uncertain whether such parties are living or dead.

Power to Court upon Master's report or certificate, to make order for prosecution and final disposal of any suit, &c., and for payment of costs, &c.

II. In case the Master shall be unable by reason of the conduct of parties, or otherwise, to dispose finally of any suit, matter, or thing referred to or pending before him (within such time as he shall in that behalf determine), he shall be at liberty to report on or to dispose of any part thereof within his power, and to report or certify on the whole of the case; and upon such report or certificate the Court shall make such order as it shall think proper on all or any of the parties, for the further prosecution of the suit or matter, or for the final disposal thereof and for the payment of the costs thereof, including any of the costs which may have been incurred by reason of the conduct of the parties.

Neglect to bring report before the Court.

III. If within a time to be fixed by the Master in that behalf, the report or certificate of the Master shall not be brought before the Court, the Registrar shall bring such report or certificate before the Court, and the Court is hereby empowered to make such order or decree in the suit as to the Court shall seem fit.

No fresh references to Master except in suits already before him.

IV. From and after the passing of this Act no reference shall be made to the Master except in cases in which, from some previous reference made in the suit or matter, or in some other suit or matter connected therewith, the Court may think it expedient to make such reference.

All powers possessed by Master may be exercised by Judges.

V. From and after the passing of this Act all or any of the powers, authorities, and jurisdiction which at the time of the abolition of the said Supreme Court were vested in the Master in Equity, may be exercised by the High Court, or by a Judge of the said Court.

Power to Court to dismiss suits upon certificate of Master that no proceedings have been taken for a year.

VI. Whenever it shall appear from the certificate of the Master that no proceedings have been taken in his Office for a period of one year in any reference pending before him; the Court shall have power to dismiss such suit, or to make such other order or decree in the suit as to the Court shall seem fit.

Power of division Court to refer matters for investigation by a single Judge.

VII. It shall be lawful for any division Court consisting of more than one Judge to adjourn, for the consideration of a single Judge, any matters of account, detail, or other description which, in the opinion of such Court, may be more conveniently investigated by a single Judge sitting in Chambers, and such matters shall thereupon be investigated by a single Judge, who shall proceed with such investigation sitting either in Chambers or in open Court, and shall report thereon to a division Court, and such report shall as regards such division Court be final, but shall be open to revision by any Court of Appeal to whom the order or decree founded thereon may be appealed. The Chief Justice shall from time to time determine in each case what Judge shall take or proceed with the investigation.

Power to make rules.

VIII. The said High Court shall have power to make general rules or orders for winding up the business now pending in the Office of the said Master, and generally for regulating the conduct of business, and the manner in which the same shall be transacted in the Master's Office, and for regulating the procedure of a single Judge touching investigations before him under the provisions of this Act. Provided that such rules and orders shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, or of any Act for the time being in force relating to such matters.

Extension of Act V of 1840, concerning oaths and declarations of Hindoos and Mahomedans, to High Court.

IX. The proviso contained in Section IV of Act V of 1840 (concerning the oaths and declarations of Hindoos and Mahomedans), that the said Act shall not apply to any declaration or affirmation made in any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice, is hereby repealed, and Section I of the said Act V of 1840 shall be read as if the words following had been added thereto.

"And when verifying an Affidavit to the following effect:—I solemnly affirm in the presence of Almighty God that the signature to this is my name and handwriting, and that the contents of this Affidavit are true."

X. After the passing of this Act notices to produce documents or writings, summonses to witnesses, and all other judicial process issued in the exercise of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, except writs of summons to defendants issued under Section XLI of Act VIII of 1859 (the Code of Civil Procedure) and writs of execution, may be served by the Attorneys in the suit, or by persons employed by them, or in such other manner as the said High Court shall by any rules or orders from time to time direct.

Process from High Court may be served by Attorneys and others.

XI. It shall not be necessary for a Judge of the said High Court to sign any writ, order, summons or other judicial process issued or made in the exercise of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the said High Court. The said High Court shall have power from time to time to direct that such writs, orders, or other process shall be signed by such Officer or Officers of the said Court as to the Court may seem fit.

Not to be necessary for a Judge to sign process.

XII. This Act may be extended to the High Court of Judicature at Madras, and the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, by an order of the Governor in Council of Fort St. George, and the Governor in Council of Bombay, respectively, to be published in the Official Gazettes of Madras and Bombay, respectively; and when so extended by such order, shall take effect in the said Courts from the date of the publication of such order. When so extended to either of such High Courts, this Act shall in all respects apply to such High Court in the same manner as if the name of such High Court had appeared in this Act wherever the name of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal appears.

Extension of the Act to the High Courts at Madras and Bombay.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information.—

ACT No. XIX OF 1863.

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law relating to the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. From the date of the passing of this Act Regulation IX. 1811 of the Bengal Code (for facilitating the division of landed property, and for securing the rights of joint sharers in joint undivided Estates), Regulation XI. 1811 of the same Code (for extending the period fixed by the existing Regulations for revising the jumma on lands ordered to be divided into two or more Estates), Regulation XIX. 1814 of the same Code (for reducing to one Regulation, with alterations and additions, certain Regulations respecting the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government), Act XX of 1836, and Act XI of 1838, except in so far as the said Regulations and Acts repeal any Regulation or Act, or any part of any Regulation or Act, and except as to the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act, shall cease to have effect in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal. Unless as hereinafter provided, the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act shall be proceeded with and completed in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed.

Laws repealed.

II. Except as directed in the last preceding Section, all partitions of estates which shall be ordered to be made by the Officers of Government after the passing of this Act, shall be made under the provisions of this Act, whatever may be the tenure of the estate ordered to be divided.

Future partitions to be made under provisions of this Act.

III. Every recorded proprietor of a joint undivided estate paying revenue to Government or of any portion thereof, whether such Estate is held in common tenancy or otherwise, is entitled to claim partition under this Act.

What parties entitled to partition.

IV. When any one or more of the recorded proprietors of an estate as described in the last preceding Section shall desire to have his or their shares of the estate separated, in order that he or they may hold the same as a separate property, or as separate properties, such proprietor or propietors shall make a written application for the purpose to the Collector of the District. Any two or more proprietors may apply to have their shares separated, and to hold the same as a joint estate.

Parties desirous of partition to apply to Collector in writing.

V. The application shall be signed by the party or parties applying for the partition, and shall specify the nature of the tenure of the estate sought to be divided. The names of all the co-sharers in the estate, the nature and extent of their respective shares, so far as the same may be known to the applicant or applicants, or can be ascertained by him or them, and the mode of partition desired, shall also be stated. If the application does not contain the particulars above mentioned, the Collector may reject it.

Application to be signed, and certain particulars specified.

Otherwise may be rejected.

VI. The Collector, on the receipt of an application for partition, shall, if the application be in order, and not open to objection on the face of it, publish a Notification of the same at his Office, and at some conspicuous place on the estate to which the application relates, and shall invite any party in possession, who may not have joined in the application and who may object to the partition applied for, to appear before him either in person or by a duly constituted agent, on a day to be specified in the Notification, not being less than fifteen or more than thirty days from the date of the Notification, and state his objection. If the application for partition shall not have been made by all the recorded proprietors of the estate, notice of the application shall be served, in the manner usual in the District for serving notices of the Revenue Officers, on such of the recorded proprietors of the estate as shall not have joined in the application. Provided that, if from any cause such service cannottake place, a proclamation notifying such application shall be published by affixing it at the Maal Cutcherry of such estate or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the Village Chowrie, Choupal, or other conspicuous place in each village in such estate.

Procedure of Collector on receipt of application.

Notice to proprietors who have not joined therein.

Proclamation in case of service of notice being impracticable.

VII. If any objection be made to the partition by any party in possession, within the time allowed, and the Collector, on a consideration of such objection, be of opinion that there is any good and sufficient reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, why the partition should be absolutely disallowed, he may refuse the application, recording the grounds of his refusal.

In case of valid objection being made within time allowed, application may be refused.

VIII. If the objection raise any question of title or of proprietary right, which shall not appear to have been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may either decline to grant the application until the question in dispute shall have been determined by a competent Court, or he may proceed to inquire into the merits of the objection. In the latter case the Collector, after making the necessary inquiry and taking such evidence as may be adduced, shall record a proceeding declaring the nature and extent of the interests in the actual possession of the party or parties applying for the partition, and any other party or parties who may be affected thereby. The procedure to be observed by the Collector in trying such cases shall be that laid down in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) for the trial of original suits. And the Collector shall have power to refer any question that may arise in such case to arbitration, and the provisions of Chapter VI. (relative to arbitrators) of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to cases so referred by a Collector.

Procedure, if question of title or of proprietary right be raised.

Reference to arbitrators.

IX. All orders and decisions passed by the Collector under the last preceding Section, for declaring the rights of parties, shall be held to be decisions of a Court of Civil Judicature of first instance, and shall be open to appeal to the District or Sudder Court, according to the value of the claim, under the rules applicable to regular appeals to those Courts. Upon such appeal being made, the District or Sudder Court, as the case may be, may issue a precept to the Collector desiring him to stay the partition pending the decision of the appeal.

Decision of Collector equivalent to decision of Civil Court, and open to appeal.

Appellate Court may, on appeal, stay partition.

X. From every decision passed under the last preceding Section by a District Court a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court, under the rules for the time being in force relating to special appeals to that Court.

Special appeal to Sudder Court.

XI. It shall not be competent to the Civil Court to entertain a suit or application for the partition of an estate, except on appeal from the decision of the Collector as hereinbefore provided, any thing contained in Section 225, Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter), to the contrary notwithstanding.

Civil Court to entertain suits only on appeal from decision of Collector.

XII. When the Collector, after disposing of the objections (if any) taken to the partition, shall order a partition to be made, he shall cause a Notification to be published in his own Office, in the District Court, and at some conspicuous place on the estate which is to be divided, intimating his intention to proceed with the partition after thirty days from the date of the Notification.

Notification on partition being ordered.

XIII. The partition shall be made by the Collector in whose District the estate is situate, or, if the estate be situate in two or more Districts, then by the Collector of any one of such Districts, who may be specially ordered by the Commissioner of the Division to superintend the partition. If the estate be situated in two or more Divisions, the partition shall be made by such Collector as the Board of Revenue shall order.

Partition by whom to be carried out.

XIV. The expense of making the partition, and the allowances of the establishment necessary for the measurement and survey of the lands, the preparation of papers, and any other charges, shall be fixed by the Collector. The amount shall be paid under such rules as may from time to time be laid down by the Board of Revenue with the sanction of the local Government, and, in default of payment, may be realized under the rules applicable to the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

Assessment, and levy of costs incurred in making partition.

XV. At any stage of the proceedings after a partition shall have been ordered, if it shall appear from information which was not before the Collector at the time the partition was ordered, or otherwise, that any reason not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, it shall be competent to the Commissioner, on the report of the Collector, and subject to any orders that the Board of Revenue may pass in the case, to stay the partition, and to order the proceedings to be quashed. The decision of the Revenue Authorities under this Section shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court.

Partition may be stayed, and proceedings quashed, by Commissioner.

Decision not open to revision by Civil Court.

XVI. After the expiration of the period mentioned in the Notification referred to in Section XII of this Act, the Collector shall, if necessary, cause a measurement of all the lands comprised in the estate to be made, and a rent-roll of the same to be prepared. The village papers which are required to be prepared and periodically deposited in the Office of the Collector under the provisions of Sections XI and XII, Regulation IX. 1833 (to modify certain portions of Regulation VII. 1822 and Regulation IV. 1828*; to provide for the more speedy and satisfactory decision of judicial questions cognizable by Officers of Revenue employed in making settlements under the above Regulations; for enforcing the production of the village accounts; for the more extensive employment of Native agency in the Revenue Department; and to declare the intent of Section V, Regulation VII.* 1822, touching claims to Malikana) may be used for the purposes of this Act. Provided that any of the proprietors shall be permitted to file a rent-roll of the estate, which shall be accepted if acknowledged to be correct by all the proprietors.

Examination of the parties and their papers.

XVII. The Collector may examine the parties on solemn affirmation in regard to the papers produced before him, whether by the Officer appointed to make the partition, the proprietors, or otherwise. He shall also allow any shareholder to examine the papers so produced, and to take a copy of the same, and after such examination he shall hear any objections which any of the shareholders may make in respect to such papers. The Collector may direct any Deputy Collector or other Officer subordinate to him to examine the papers produced before him, and to make a report upon the same.

Option of settlement by private agreement. Procedure in case of refusal or default.

XVIII. The Collector, on the completion of the enquiry allowed by the last preceding Section, shall allow the parties the option of making a private partition of the estate and allotment of the public revenue amongst themselves, within such time as he may fix, or, if the parties shall not consent to make a private partition of the estate, or shall fail to make such partition within the time fixed by the Collector, the Collector shall call upon them to state whether they are willing to refer the partition of the estate and the apportionment of the public revenue to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by them. The Collector may also offer the parties the option of referring any point arising in the course of a partition to arbitration. The partition and allotment of the public revenue made by the parties, or by arbitrators appointed by them, shall be subject to the confirmation of the Collector, and the orders of the superior Revenue Authorities.

If parties cannot agree as to arbitrators, latter may be appointed by Collector.

XIX. If the parties consent to refer the partition of the estate and the allotment of the public revenue or any point arising in the course of the partition to arbitration, but they cannot agree amongst themselves as to the arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed, the Collector may appoint two or more persons to be arbitrators in the case. If the arbitrators are equally divided in opinion, the Collector shall act as umpire and the partition made by the arbitrator or arbitrators with whom the Collector shall concur shall be the partition in the case. The same rule shall apply in respect of any point arising in the course of a partition which shall be referred to arbitration.

In case of equality of votes, Collector to act as umpire.

Appointment in place of arbitrator refusing, or being unable to act.

XX. If any person, on being appointed an arbitrator, shall refuse to act, or, after accepting the appointment, shall die or become incapable of acting, another person shall be appointed arbitrator in his stead, in the same manner in which the first person was appointed.

Powers of Collector with regard to arbitrators.

XXI. After the arbitrators shall have accepted the appointment, the Collector shall transmit the whole of the papers to them, and it shall be competent to the Collector to exercise towards the arbitrators the same powers and authority for securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, which he is competent to exercise towards witnesses summoned before him, when acting Judicially, for the purpose of compelling them to attend and give evidence. The Collector shall also fix a time within which the arbitrator or arbitrators shall deliver the paper of partition. On sufficient cause shewn the Collector may extend such period.

Particulars to be specified in partition paper.

XXII. The arbitrators shall deliver a full and complete paper of partition, specifying the separate estates into which they propose that the estate shall be divided, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are proposed to be allotted, and the amount of public revenue to be assessed on each of such estates.

Remuneration of arbitrators.

XXIII. The arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for their services, the amount to be fixed by the Collector.

In default of award by first arbitrators, partition may be referred to others.

XXIV. If the paper of partition be not delivered within the time fixed by the Collector, or within any further period to which the time may have been extended, the Collector may order that the partition shall be referred to another arbitrator or arbitrators, to be chosen in the same manner and subject to the same rules as the first.

In default of private agreement, or settlement by arbitration, Officer may be appointed to make partition.

XXV. If the partition of the estate cannot be made by the parties themselves, or by arbitration, under the foregoing rules, the Collector shall appoint an Officer to make the partition, and shall forward the whole of the papers to such Officer, and shall direct him to proceed to the estate, and to make the partition within a time to be fixed by the Collector.

Who shall summon proprietors by proclamation to attend proceedings.

XXVI. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall issue a proclamation at the Mual-Cutcherry of the estate, or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chourie or Choupal, requiring the several proprietors of the estate to attend upon him in person, or by agent, during the time that the partition is being made.

Estate may be attached and brought under Khas management under superintendence of Officer.

XXVII. At the commencement of the revenue year current in the District, the Collector may direct the Officer appointed to make the partition, or some other person, to attach the estate, and to bring it under Khas management under the personal superintendence of such Officer. The collections of the estate, after defraying the expenses of management, and any other expenses with which the estate is chargeable, shall be applied to the payment of the Government revenue, and the residue shall be divided amongst the proprietors in proportion to their respective shares, at such periods as the Collector may see fit.

Procedure in case of arrears of revenue accruing during course of partition of estate.

XXVIII. If an arrear of public revenue shall accrue on an estate ordered to be divided, while the partition of the estate is being made, any one or more of the proprietors may tender to the Collector his or their quota of the balance, and the Collector shall receive the same, and credit the amount to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors. If a sale of any part of the estate shall ultimately become necessary for the liquidation of any part of such arrear which may remain due, only the share or shares of the proprietor or proprietors who shall not have contributed their quota of the balance shall be sold in the first instance, and the partition shall go on and be completed in the same manner as if no arrear of public revenue had accrued. The purchaser or purchasers of the share or shares sold shall be entitled to separate possession of the estate or estates which, under the partition, would have been allotted to the defaulting proprietor or proprietors. Provided always that, in all cases of a partition, the entire estate shall be considered responsible for the public revenue assessed upon it until the partition shall have been completed, and the several proprietors shall have been put into possession of the separate estates into which the estate may be ordered to be divided, according as the same may be allotted to them.

Powers of Officer charged with partition in respect of measurement, &c.

XXIX. If the Officer appointed to make the partition shall consider it necessary to assist him in making the same, to cause a detailed measurement to be made of all the lands comprised in the estate, or a map of the estate to be prepared, he shall exercise the same powers for making such measurement and map as are vested in the Collector by any law for the time being in force.

Division of lands held in common.

XXX. When some of the lands forming the estate are held in common, the Collector shall declare, by a proceeding to be held under the provisions of this Act, the principle and rule under which, in accordance with the village custom, such lands shall be divided; and he shall cause the partition of such lands to be made in conformity to the provisions of this Act. The portion of the common land falling by such partition to the shares of the several co-sharers shall be added to the lands held by them in severalty, and the several estates thus formed shall be assessed and declared separate estates. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector, to cause any transfer of lands agreed to by the parties to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Proviso.

Collector may refuse to separate lands in certain cases.

XXXI. The Collector may refuse to declare any lands held in severalty, and not liable to re-distribution according to special village custom, a separate mehal, if the lands be so intermixed with other properties as to render the formation of a compact estate impossible, and if the parties affected by the partition decline to permit of the transfers necessary for curing such defect.

Where no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate.

XXXII. Where there may be no lands held in common, the lands in severalty held by the applicant for partition, or assigned to him by the Collector under the provisions of this Act, shall be assessed and declared a separate estate. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector, to cause any transfer of lands agreed to, or directed by his order, as provided in Section XXX, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Proviso, as to transfers.

Sharer failing to attend after proclamation liable to forfeit right of objection.

XXXIII. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVI of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition, during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition shall be heard, unless such sharer can shew that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

Partition may be stayed if parties so desire.

XXXIV. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

Recovery of costs.

Estates formed in course of partition to be as compact as possible.

XXXV. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mehals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to render each estate as compact as possible.

Revenue to be assessed on each divided estate.

XXXVI. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

Circumstances to be considered in making partitions.

XXXVII. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of culturable and unculturable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present, or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall be fairly and impartially selected. So far as may be practicable and consistent with compactness of partition, lands held in severalty shall be left in the possession of the parties holding the same.

Rule when dwelling house belonging to one sharer is situate on ground to be allotted to another sharer.

XXXVIII. If a dwelling house belonging to one sharer shall be situate on any land, or in any village, which it may be necessary to include in the share of another sharer, the proprietor of such house shall be at liberty to retain it, with the offices, buildings, and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay to the proprietor of the land or village in which the same is situate an equitable rent for the ground. The limits of the ground and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Officer making the partition, and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

Rule as to tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments.

XXXIX. Tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments shall be considered as attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made. In cases in which, from the extent, situation, or construction of such works, it shall be found necessary to continue them the joint property of the proprietors of two or more of the estates into which the estate may be divided, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as circumstances may admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same, and the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

Rule as to places of worship.

XL. Places of worship, which shall have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate, shall continue to be so held unless the parties shall otherwise agree amongst themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Officer making the partition shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

Particulars to be contained in the paper of partition to be submitted by Officer making same.

XLI. When the Officer appointed to make the partition shall have completed the partition, and allotted the public revenue on each of the estates into which it is proposed that the estate shall be divided, he shall prepare and submit to the Collector a paper of partition shewing how he proposes to divide the estate, and to apportion the public revenue. This paper shall specify the names of the Mehals or villages included in each separate estate, the gross produce of each Mehal and village for the three years immediately preceding the year in which the partition is ordered to be made, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are allotted, and the proportion of the public revenue proposed to be assessed on each of such estates, with any remarks regarding the mode observed in selecting the lands included in each estate, and the accounts upon which the apportionment of the public revenue assessed thereon shall have been based, as may be necessary for the information of the Collector. The paper shall further contain a detail of the adjustments, if any, which shall have been made in respect to any tanks, places of worship, or other matters, as specified in the preceding Sections. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall also submit a map shewing the several estates into which the estate is proposed to be divided.

Map to be also submitted.

Procedure of Collector thereupon.

XLII. The Collector shall take into consideration the partition proposed by the Officer appointed to make the partition, and, after calling for any further information which he shall deem necessary, and disposing of any objections which shall be taken to the partition and allotment of public revenue as proposed by such Officer, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner, together with such of the papers of the case as shall appear to him essential. He shall also forward a list of the papers not sent. The Collector shall record his opinion whether the proposed partition should be confirmed or modified, and in the latter case he shall state the nature of the modification which, in his opinion, should be made.

Commissioner may confirm or modify partition, subject to appeal to Board of Revenue.

XLIII. The Commissioner shall either uphold the partition proposed by the Collector, or modify the same. The decision of the Commissioner shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court, but shall be subject to appeal to the Board of Revenue. The Commissioner, before coming to a decision, may call for any additional papers, or direct any further inquiry that he shall consider necessary. He may also, if he think proper, direct that, when two or more of the estates into which it is proposed to divide the estate shall consist of the same proportions of the entire estate, the parties entitled thereto shall draw lots for the same before the Collector.

And may direct division by lot under certain circumstances.

Procedure by Collector on receipt of order of Commissioner, or of Board of Revenue on appeal.

XLIV. On the receipt of the order of the Commissioner, or if an appeal be preferred to the Board of Revenue, then, of the order passed on the appeal, the Collector shall cause the same to be published in his Office, and in some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by such order. The Collector shall at the same time specify the date from which each of the estates shall be held to be a separate estate, and shall enter the several estates into which the estate has been divided in the Register of Estates paying revenue to Government. The Collector shall give the several proprietors possession of the estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may avail himself of the assistance of the Magistrate in giving possession.

Government may order new allotment of public Revenue among estates formed by partition, in case of fraud or error in original allotment being proved.

XLV. In order to prevent collusion or error in the distribution of the public revenue assessed upon an estate which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Government, within twelve years from and after the date of confirmation of the partition, that the public revenue was fraudulently or erroneously apportioned at the time of the partition, the Government shall have power to order a new allotment of the public revenue upon the several estates into which such estate may have been divided, conformably to the principles prescribed in this Act, on an estimate of the gross produce of each estate at the time of the partition, to be made agreeably to the best evidence and information which may be procurable respecting the same. Such order shall not be liable to be contested in the Civil Court. The parties whose estates may be declared to have been under-assessed shall be required to pay to the proprietors of the estates which shall have been over-assessed the sum in which they shall be found to have been over-assessed, and in default of payment the amount shall be leviable by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

Consequence to party having interest in any estate, if he neglect to affirm or establish such interest while the estate is under attachment with a view to partition.

XLVI. If, during the time an estate is under attachment with a view to the partition of the same, any party shall neglect or omit to claim by a suit any right or title he may then have to the ownership or occupancy at a fixed rent of any land situated in such estate, or any other interest therein, such neglect or omission shall be a valid plea in bar of any suit relating to such right, title, or interest, unless the party can satisfy the Court that there was good and sufficient reason for his neglect or omission to institute the suit at or before such time. Provided that this Section shall not bar any action for arrears of rent, or the enhancement or alteration of rent.

Holder of decree of Civil Court, awarding right to portion of an estate, may apply for partition, and Collector may proceed thereon under Act.

XLVII. Whenever any Court of Civil Judicature shall pass a decree, awarding to any person the proprietary right in a portion of an estate paying revenue to Government, whether the portion so awarded shall consist of a fractional share in the whole or a part of the estate, or of specific lands, the decree-holder may apply to the Collector for a partition of the estate; and on the receipt of such application, the Collector shall proceed thereupon under the provisions of this Act, which are hereby declared applicable to such applications.

Union in certain cases of severed portions of estates originally undivided.

XLVIII. If two or more estates which may have originally formed portions of the same estate shall come into the possession of one person, such person shall be entitled to have such estates united, and to hold them as a single estate; or if two or more persons shall have separate possession of their respective shares of an estate which was originally held as a joint undivided estate, such persons may apply to have their shares united, and to hold them as one estate.

Application for such union how to be made, and how to be dealt with.

XLIX. The applications for the union of the estates, or of the shares of the estate, as the case may be, shall be made in writing to the Collector of the District in which the estates or shares of the estate are situate, and the Collector (provided he see no objection) shall comply with the application, and cause the necessary entries to be made in the records of his Office, reporting the case to the superior Revenue Authorities.

Certain provisions of Act applicable to partition cases pending at the time of its passing.

L. The provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to the completion and confirmation or to the staying or quashing of the partition of an estate, may be applied, at the discretion of the Collector, in all cases of the partition of estates pending at the time of the passing of this Act.

Provisions of Act may be applied to partition of estates held free from payment of revenue.

LI. The provisions of this Act may, in so far as the same are applicable, be applied by order of the local Government to the partition of any estate held free from the payment of Government revenue.

Control of Collector's proceedings under Act.

LII. In the performance of his duties under this Act, the Collector shall be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioner of the Division, and the Board of Revenue.

Orders of Collector, except in certain cases, open to revision by superior Revenue Authorities.

LIII. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act, unless otherwise provided, not being orders or decisions within the meaning of Section IX, shall be open to revision by the superior Revenue Authorities.

What other officers may exercise powers vested in Collector by this Act.

LIV. The powers vested in a Collector by this Act may be exercised by a Deputy Collector, or other Officer vested with the full powers of a Collector, subject to the control of the Collector of the District.

Powers to be exercised by Collector, or Officer appointed to make partition.

LV. In carrying out the provisions of this Act the Collector shall exercise the powers described in Regulation II. 1819, Regulation VII. 1822, and Regulations IX. and XIV 1825. Any Officer appointed to make a partition under this Act may also exercise the powers described in the foregoing Regulations, so far as the same may be applicable.

Powers of Officers exercising jurisdiction under this Act, with regard to false evidence.

LVI. If, in any case in which a Collector or other Officer shall exercise jurisdiction under this Act, any person is guilty of the offence of giving or fabricating false evidence, or of forgery, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, or of abetting any of those offences, such Collector or other Officer shall have the same powers in respect of such offence, and of the person charged with committing the same, as are vested by the Code of Criminal Procedure in a Civil Court when any such offence is committed before or against such Court, or when a document charged to be a forgery is given in evidence in any proceedings in such Court.

Board of Revenue to be guided by instructions of local Government.

LVII. In the execution of the duties vested in the Board of Revenue by this Act, the Board shall be guided by such orders or instructions as they may from time to time receive from the local Government, to whom they shall apply in all cases which shall appear to the Board not to have been provided for by the existing law.

LVIII. Unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number, and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Interpretation.

LIX. This Act shall extend only to such parts of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal as are subject to the general Regulations of that Presidency; but the Act may be extended by order of the local Government, either wholly or in part, to any Non-Regulation Province under such Government.

Territorial scope of Act.

M. Wylie,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

Act No. XX of 1863.

An Act to enable the Government to divest itself of the management of Religious Endowments.

Whereas it is expedient to relieve the Boards of Revenue, and the Local Agents in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and the Presidency of Fort St. George, from the duties imposed on them by Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code (for the due appropriation of the Rents and produce of Lands granted for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, Colleges, and other purposes; for the maintenance and repair of Bridges, Serays, Kuttras, and other public buildings; and for the custody and disposal of Nuzzool Property or Escheats), and Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code (for the due appropriation of the rents and produce of lands granted for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, and Colleges, or other public purposes; for the maintenance and repair of Bridges, Choultries, or Chuttrums, and other public buildings; and for the custody and disposal of Escheats), so far as those duties embrace the superintendence of lands granted for the support of Mosques or Hindoo Temples, and for other religious uses, the appropriation of endowments made for the maintenance of such religious establishments, the repair and preservation of buildings connected therewith, and the appointment of Trustees or Managers thereof, or involve any connexion with the management of such religious establishments; and whereas it is expedient for that purpose to repeal so much of Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code, and Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code, as relate to endowments for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, or other religious purposes; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. So much of Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code, and so much of Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code, as relate to endowments for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, or other religious purposes, are repealed.

Regulations repealed.

II. In this Act words importing the singular number shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular.

Number.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Gender.

The words "Civil Court" and "Court" shall mean the principal Court of Original Civil Jurisdiction in the District in which the Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment is situate, relating to which, or to the endowment whereof, any suit shall be instituted or application made under the provisions of this Act.

"Civil Court" and "Court."

III. In the case of every Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment to which the provisions of either of the Regulations specified in Section I are applicable, and the nomination of the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent whereof at the time of the passing of this Act is vested in, or may be exercised by, the Government, or any public Officer; or in which the nomination of such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent shall be subject to the confirmation of the Government, or any public Officer, the local Government shall, as soon as possible after the passing of this Act, make special provision as hereinafter provided.

Local Government to make special provision respecting Mosques, &c., in certain cases.

IV. In the case of every such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be under the management of any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent whose nomination shall not vest in, nor be exercised by, nor be subject to the confirmation of, the Government, or any public Officer, the local Government shall, as soon as possible after the passing of this Act, transfer to such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent all the landed or other property which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be under the superintendence or in the possession of the Board of Revenue, or any local Agent, and belonging to such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, except such property as is hereinafter provided, and the powers and responsibilities of the Board of Revenue and the local Agents in respect to such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, and to all land and other property so transferred, except as regards acts done and liabilities incurred by the said Board of Revenue or any local Agent previous to such transfer, shall cease and determine.

Transfer to independent Trustees, &c., of all property belonging to their Trusts, &c., remaining in charge of Revenue Board or others.

V. Whenever from any cause a vacancy shall occur in the office of any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom any property shall have been transferred under the last preceding Section, and any dispute shall arise respecting the right of succession to such office, it shall be lawful for any person interested in the Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment to which such property shall belong, or in the performance of the worship or of the service thereof, or of the Trusts relating thereto, to apply to the Civil Court to appoint a Manager of such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, and thereupon such Court may appoint such Manager to act until some other person shall by suit have established his right of succession to such office. The Manager so appointed by the Civil Court shall have, and shall exercise all the powers which, under this or any other Act, the former Trustee, Manager or Superintendent in whose place such Manager is appointed by the Court had, or could exercise, in relation to such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or the property belonging thereto.

Rights, powers, and responsibilities of Trustees, &c., to whom any charge shall be transferred.

VI. The rights, powers and responsibilities of every Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom the land and other property of any Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment is transferred in the manner prescribed in Section IV of this Act, as well as the conditions of their appointment, election, and removal, shall be the same as if this Act had not been passed, except in respect of the liability to be sued under this Act, and except in respect of the authority of the Board of Revenue and local Agents, given by the Regulations hereby repealed, over such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and over such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, which authority is hereby determined and repealed. All the powers which might be exercised by any Board or local Agent for the recovery of the rent of land or other property transferred under the said Section IV of this Act may, from the date of such transfer, be exercised by any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom such transfer is made.

Appointment of Committees.

VII. In all cases described in Section III of this Act, the local Government shall once for all appoint one or more Committees in every Division or District to take the place, and to exercise the powers, of the Board of Revenue and the local Agents, under the Regulations hereby repealed. Such Committee shall consist of three or more persons, and shall perform all the duties imposed on such Board and local Agents, except in respect of any property which is specially provided for under Section XXI of this Act.

Provision as to qualifications for Member of such Committee.

VIII. The Members of the said Committee shall be appointed from among persons professing the religion for the purposes of which the Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment was founded, or is now maintained, and in accordance, so far as can be ascertained, with the general wishes of those who are interested in the maintenance of such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment. The appointment of the Committee shall be notified in the Official Gazette. In order to ascertain the general wishes of such persons in respect of such appointment, the local Government may cause an election to be held under such Rules (not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act) as shall be framed by such local Government.

Every Member to be appointed for life unless removed for misconduct, &c.

IX. Every Member of a Committee appointed as above shall hold his office for life, unless removed for misconduct or unfitness, and no such Member shall be removed except by an order of the Civil Court as hereinafter provided.

Provision for filling up vacancies.

X. Whenever any vacancy shall occur among the Members of a Committee appointed as above, a new Member shall be elected to fill the vacancy by the persons interested as above provided. The remaining Members of the Committee shall, as soon as possible, give public notice of such vacancy, and shall fix a day which shall not be later than three months from the date of such vacancy, for an election of a new Member by the persons interested as above provided, under Rules for elections which shall be framed by the local Government; and whoever shall be then elected under the said Rules shall be a Member of the Committee to fill such vacancy. If any vacancy as aforesaid shall not be filled up by such election as aforesaid within three months after it has occurred, the Civil Court, on the application of any person whatever, may appoint a person to fill the vacancy, or may order that the vacancy be forthwith filled up by the remaining Members of the Committee, with which order it shall then be the duty of such remaining Members to comply, and if this order be not complied with, the Civil Court may appoint a Member to fill the said vacancy.

No Member of a Committee to be Trustee, &c., of the Mosque, &c., under charge of such Committee.

XI. No Member of a Committee appointed under this Act shall be capable of being or shall act also as a Trustee, Manager or Superintendent of the Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment for the management of which such Committee shall have been appointed.

On appointment of Committee, Board and Local Agents to transfer property.

XII. Immediately on the appointment of a Committee as above provided, for the superintendence of any such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and for the management of its affairs, the Board of Revenue, or the local Agents acting under the authority of the said Board, shall transfer to such Committee all landed or other property which, at the time of appointment, shall be under the superintendence or in the possession of the said Board or local Agents, and belonging to the said religious establishment, except as is hereinafter provided for, and thereupon the powers and responsibilities of the Board and the local Agents in respect to such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and to all land and other property so transferred except as above, and except as regards acts done and liabilities incurred by the said Board or Agents previous to such transfer, shall cease and determine. All the powers which might be exercised by any Board or local Agent for the recovery of the rent of land or other property transferred under this Section may from the date of such transfer be exercised by such Committee to whom such transfer is made.

Accounts of receipts and disbursements.

XIII. It shall be the duty of every Trustee, Manager, and Superintendent of a Mosque, Temple or religious establishment to which the provisions of this Act shall apply, to keep regular accounts of his receipts and disbursements in respect of the endowments and expenses of such Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment, and it shall be the duty of every Committee of management appointed or acting under the authority of this Act, to require

from every Trustee, Manager and Superintendent of such Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment, the production of such regular accounts of such receipts and disbursements at least once in every year, and every such Committee of management shall themselves keep such accounts thereof

Any person interested may sue in case of breach of trust, &c.

XIV. Any person or persons interested in any Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or in the performance of the worship or of the service thereof, or of the trusts relating thereto may, without joining as plaintiff any of the other persons interested therein, sue before the Civil Court the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent of such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or the Member of any Committee appointed under this Act, for any misfeasance, breach of trust, or neglect of duty committed by such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of such Committee, in respect of the trusts vested in or confided to them respectively, and the Civil Court may direct the specific performance of any act by such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of a Committee, and may decree damages and costs against such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent, or Member of a Committee, and may also direct the removal of such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of a Committee.

Nature of interest entitling a person to sue.

XV. The interest required in order to entitle a person to sue under the last preceding Section need not be a pecuniary, or a direct or immediate interest, or such an interest as would entitle the person suing to take any part in the management or superintendence of the trusts. Any person having a right of attendance, or having been in the habit of attending at the performance of the worship or service of any Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or of partaking in the benefit of any distribution of alms, shall be deemed to be a person interested within the meaning of the last preceding Section.

Reference to Arbitrators.

XVI. In any suit or proceeding instituted under this Act it shall be lawful for the Court before which such suit or proceeding is pending, to order any matter in difference in such suit to be referred for decision to one or more arbitrators. Whenever any such order shall be made the provisions of Chap. VI of the Code of Civil Procedure shall in all respects apply to such order and arbitration, in the same manner as if such order had been made on the application of the parties under Section 312 of the said Code.

Reference under Section 312 of Civil Procedure Code.

XVII. Nothing in the last preceding Section shall prevent the parties from applying to the Court, or the Court from making the order of reference under the said Section 312 of the said Code of Civil Procedure,

Preliminary application for leave to institute suit.

XVIII. No suit shall be entertained under this Act without a preliminary application being first made to the Court for leave to institute such suit. The application may be made upon unstamped paper. The Court, on the perusal of the application, shall determine whether there are sufficient prima facie grounds for the institution of a suit, and if in the judgment of the Court there are such grounds, leave shall be given for its institution. In calculating the costs at the termination of the suit, the Stamp Duty on the preliminary application shall be estimated, and shall be added to the costs of the suit. If the Court shall be of opinion that the suit has been for the benefit of the Trust, and that no party to the suit is in fault, the Court may order the costs, or such portion as it may consider just, to be paid out of the estate.

Costs.

Court may require accounts of Trust to be filed.

XIX. Before giving leave for institution of a suit, or after leave has been given, before any other proceeding is taken, or at any time when the suit is pending, the Court may order the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or any Member of a Committee, as the case may be, to file in Court the accounts of the Trust or such part thereof as to the Court may seem necessary.

No Civil suit to bar proceedings for Criminal breach of Trust.

XX. No suit or proceeding before any Civil Court under the preceding Sections shall in any way affect or interfere with any proceeding in a Criminal Court for Criminal breach of trust.

Provision for cases in which the endowments are partly for religious and partly for secular purposes.

XXI. In any case in which any land or other property has been granted for the support of an establishment partly of a religious and partly of a secular character, or in which the endowment made for the support of an establishment is appropriated partly to religious and partly to secular uses, the Board of Revenue, before transferring to any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or to any Committee of Management appointed under this Act, shall determine what portion, if any, of the said land or other property shall remain under the superintendence of the said Board for application to secular uses, and what portion shall be transferred to the superintendence of the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or of the Committee, and also what annual amount, if any, shall be charged on the land or other property which may be so transferred to the superintendence of the said Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or of the Committee, and made payable to the said Board or to the Local Agents for secular uses as aforesaid. In every such case the provisions of this Act shall take effect only in respect to such land and other property as may be so transferred.

Government not to hold charge henceforth of property for support of any Mosque, Temple, &c.

XXII. Except as provided in this Act it shall not be lawful, after the passing of this Act, for any Government in India, or for any Officer of any Government in his official character to undertake or resume the superintendence of any land or other property granted for the support of, or otherwise belonging to, any Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, or to take any part in the management or appropriation of any endowment made for the maintenance of any such Mosque, Temple, or other establishment, or to nominate or appoint any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent thereof, or to be in any way concerned therewith.

XXIII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the provisions of the Regulations mentioned in this Act, except in so far as they relate to Mosques, Hindoo Temples, and other religious establishments; or to prevent the Government from taking such steps as it may deem necessary under the provisions of the said Regulations, to prevent injury to, and preserve buildings remarkable for their antiquity, or for their historical or architectural value, or required for the convenience of the public.

Effect of Act in respect of Regulations therein mentioned, and of buildings of antiquity &c.

XXIV. The word "India" in this Act shall denote the territories which are or may become vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic., C. 106, entitled "an Act for the better Government of India."

"India."

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XXI OF 1863.

An Act to constitute Recorders' Courts for the Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein in British Burmah, and to establish Courts of Small Causes in the said Towns.

WHEREAS the Resolution of the Governor-General in Council, dated the 31st January 1862, declares that instead of a Judicial Commissioner for the whole Province of British Burmah, whose ordinary business can well be undertaken by the Chief Commissioner, and who, as Judge of a Special Court, sitting at the Head-Quarters of each Division, could not possibly dispose of the causes arising at each place in a manner that would satisfy the suitors, or be consistent with the prompt and regular administration of Justice, there shall be established at Rangoon and Moulmein a Court to be presided over by a Barrister or Advocate of not less than five years' standing, with full powers of Civil and Criminal jurisdiction, analogous to those now exercised by the Recorders of Prince of Wales' Island and Singapore, with the exception of the power to try cases in which European British subjects are charged with capital offences; and whereas it is expedient to make provision for the establishment of such Court, and of a similar Court for the Town of Akyab, and also for the establishment of a Court of Small Causes in each of the said Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein, and to prescribe the procedure for the said Courts, respectively; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to establish Courts of Judicature for the Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein in British Burmah, or for any of the said Towns, which Courts, when so established, shall be called, respectively, the "Court of the Recorder of Akyab," the "Court of the Recorder of Rangoon," and the "Court of the Recorder of Moulmein." Such Courts shall be Courts of Record.

Governor General may establish Courts for certain Towns in British Burmah.

II. The said Courts, respectively, shall be held before a Judge who shall be called "The Recorder" thereof, and who shall be appointed by the Governor-General in Council, and shall be a Barrister of not less than five years' standing. Every Recorder appointed under this Act shall hold his Office during the pleasure of the Governor-General in Council.

Designation, appointment, &c. of Judges of such Courts.

III. Previously to entering upon the execution of the duties of his Office, every Recorder appointed under this Act shall make or subscribe the following declaration before such authority or person as the Governor-General in Council may commission to receive the same:—

Declaration to be made by Recorder.

"I, A. B. appointed Recorder of [ ] do solemnly declare that I will faithfully perform the duties of my Office to the best of my ability, knowledge, and judgment."

IV. The Governor-General in Council may appoint only one Recorder to be the Recorder of the said three Courts, or he may from time to time appoint a separate Recorder for any one or for any two of the said Courts.

Governor General may appoint one Recorder only, or more.

V. So long as there shall be only one Recorder of the said three Courts, such Recorder shall hold his Court at each of the said three Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein at stated periods. He shall hold his Court in Rangoon at such times as may be necessary, in Moulmein at least once in every three months, and in Akyab at least once in every four months.

If only one Recorder, how Court shall be held.

VI. The Recorder shall, on or before the 1st day of January in each and every year, or at such other convenient times as the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah shall direct, notify in the Official Gazettes of the Towns in which the Court is to be held, the days on which he intends to hold his Court at the said Towns, respectively, during the then next ensuing twelve months: and a copy of such Notification shall be stuck up in a conspicuous part of the Court Houses in the said Towns respectively.

Notification by Recorder as to time and place of holding Court.

VII. If the Recorder shall be unable to hold his Court at the time and place fixed in any Notification issued under the last preceding Section, he shall fix another period for holding his Court at such place, and shall publish notice of the same in the same manner, so far as circumstances will permit, in which a Notification under the said Section is directed to be published.

Procedure in case of Recorder being unable to hold Court as notified.

VIII. Notwithstanding any thing in Sections VI and VII of this Act contained, it shall be lawful for the Recorder to hold his Court at times other than those notified, as provided in the said Sections, when for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear to him necessary and proper to do so.

Recorder may hold Court at other than notified times.

Section VI to VIII how to be applied when there is one Recorder for two Courts.

IX. Whenever there shall be one Recorder for any two only of the said three Courts, the provisions contained in Sections VI, VII, and VIII of this Act shall be applied, so far as the same may be applicable, in respect of the sittings to be held by such Recorder within the Towns of the Courts of which he is Recorder.

Civil jurisdiction of Recorder.

X. The Recorders appointed under this Act shall have and exercise Civil jurisdiction, within such local limits in the said Towns of which they are respectively the Recorders and in the neighbourhood thereof as may from time to time be fixed by the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah, with the approval of the Governor-General in Council, and the limits so fixed shall be published in the Official Gazettes of the said Towns. Provided that it shall be lawful for the said Chief Commissioner, with such approval as aforesaid, as often as he shall think proper, to vary or alter the limits so fixed: and, save as in this Act provided, no Court other than the Recorder's Court shall have or exercise any Civil jurisdiction whatever within the limits for the time being fixed as aforesaid.

Proviso as to alteration of local limits.

Suits cognizable by Recorder.

XI. The Recorders appointed under this Act shall receive, try, and determine suits of every description, if in the case of suits for land or other immoveable property, such land or property shall be situate, or if in all other cases, the cause of action shall have arisen, or the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit shall dwell or carry on business, or personally work for gain within the local limits of the ordinary jurisdiction of their respective Courts. Provided that the Recorders shall not take cognizance of any suit, the cognizance of which, by the ordinary Civil Courts in British India not established by Royal Charter, is barred by any Act of Parliament or by any Regulation or Act of the Governor-General of India in Council.

Proviso.

Transfer of cases from other Courts to Recorder's Court.

Such cases how to be dealt with.

XII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner to direct the transfer to any Recorder's Court of any case which shall have been instituted in any Court in British Burmah other than a Recorder's Court. Every case so transferred shall be tried and determined by the Recorder to whose Court it is transferred, in the same manner and under the same rules as to procedure, and in all other respects, as if the Recorder had originally had jurisdiction in the case, and the case had originally been instituted before him.

Rule as to trial of suits by Recorder having jurisdiction in more than one Court.

XIII. A Recorder, who is the Recorder of more Courts than one, shall, while sitting in any one of the Courts of which he is Recorder, ordinarily try no suits except such as shall have been instituted in such Court, or shall have been transferred to it by the Chief Commissioner as hereinbefore provided: but such Recorder may, if he think proper, try any suit instituted in any other of the said Courts of which he is Recorder, if the parties thereto shall join in an application to him (which shall be in writing, signed by all the parties to the suit or their Agents) so to try the same.

Seal of Courts. Use and custody of same.

XIV. A separate seal shall be made under the direction of the Governor-General in Council for each of the said Courts, and all summonses, orders and other process issuing out of the said Courts, respectively, shall be sealed or stamped with the seal of the Court issuing the same. The said seal shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Recorder, but during any absence of the Recorder, or in case of the vacancy of the Office of Recorder, the same shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Registrar of the Court appointed as is hereinafter provided, and if there be no Registrar then it shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Deputy Commissioner.

Appointment and removal of Ministerial Officers.

XV. It shall be lawful for the Recorder of any Court or Courts established under this Act, from time to time, and subject to any rules and restrictions which may be prescribed by the Governor-General in Council, to appoint such and so many Clerks and other Ministerial Officers as shall be found necessary for the administration of justice by the said Recorder in such Court or Courts, respectively, and the due execution of the powers and authorities given to him by this Act, and every Clerk and Officer appointed as aforesaid shall be liable to dismissal by order of the Recorder of the Court to which he is appointed: provided that no person shall be removed from any Office, the salary of which is one hundred Rupees per mensem or upwards, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner.

Licensing of Advocates, and Rules regarding qualifications and admission.

XVI. No person shall be permitted to appear or act as the Advocate of any suitor in any Court held under this Act in any action or suit, or touching any matter whatever, unless such person shall have been previously licensed by the Recorder of such Court to act for the suitors of such Court, generally, or specially for the particular occasion, and it shall be lawful for the Recorder of every Court held under this Act to make rules for the qualifications and admission of proper persons to act as Advocates in such Court. Provided that nothing in this Section contained shall be deemed to prevent any person from appearing or acting as the Agent for the Secretary of State for India in Council, or to prevent any suitor from appearing, pleading, or acting on his own behalf, or on behalf of a co-suitor. Provided also that any person who for the time being is an Advocate, Vakeel, or Attorney-at-Law of any of the High Courts of Judicature in India shall be entitled without any license to act as an Advocate for any suitor in any of the said Courts, and that any person for the time being licensed to act generally in any one of the said Courts, shall without further license be also entitled to act generally in any other of the said Courts.

Saving of Agent for Secretary of State &c.

And of advocates &c., of High Courts.

License may be withdrawn.

XVII. The Recorder of any Court may for any sufficient reason withdraw or vacate any license which shall at any time be granted by such Recorder to any person to act generally or specially as an Advocate under this Act.

XVIII. The fees to be received by any Advocate, whether general or special, licensed under this Act, or entitled to act as an Advocate for another person in any of the said Courts, without a license under Section XVI of this Act, shall at all times be subject to the control and taxation of the Recorder of the Court having jurisdiction in the case in respect of which such fees are payable, and no fees shall be recoverable by any Advocates except such fees as shall have been allowed by the Recorder on taxation.

Fees of Advocates, &c., subject to taxation.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Recorder of any Court or Courts established under this Act to make and issue rules to regulate the service and execution of the processes of the Court or Courts within the territorial limits of his jurisdiction, and also to settle a table of fees to be allowed to the persons employed in such service or execution, and from time to time to alter any such rule or table, and the rules so made and the tables so issued shall be used and observed in the said Court or Courts; provided that such rules and tables be not inconsistent with the provisions of any law in force, and shall, before they are issued, have received the sanction of the Chief Commissioner. All such rules and tables shall be published in the Official Gazettes of the said Towns, and shall thenceforth have the force of law until repealed or over-ruled by any Act of the Legislature, or by any rule or table subsequently issued and published with the sanction and in the manner aforesaid.

Rules for service and execution of process, and table of fees for same.

Publication of same.

XX. Save as in this Act otherwise provided, the proceedings in Civil suits of every description between party and party brought in any Court established under this Act, shall be regulated by Act VIII of 1859, (the Code of Civil Procedure) as amended by Act XXIII of 1861, and by any other Act or Acts that may hereafter be passed for that purpose.

Proceedings in Civil Suits how to be regulated.

XXI. In all suits cognizable by any Court held under this Act, all questions as well of fact as of law or equity shall be dealt with and determined according to the law administered by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of its ordinary original Civil jurisdiction. Provided that this Section shall not apply to any case heard and determined by any Court held under this Act in which a Native of British India is a defendant, and in which any question relating to marriage, inheritance or succession shall be involved; but every such case in so far as such question is concerned, shall be determined by the law or usage which would have been applied thereto if such question had arisen in any other Court in British Burmah than a Court held under this Act.

Law as administered in Calcutta High Court, in its ordinary original Civil jurisdiction, to obtain in all suits.

Saving of certain cases.

XXII. If in any suit, any question of law or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, shall arise, on which the Recorder shall entertain any doubt, the Recorder may either of his own motion or on the application of either of the parties to the suit draw up a statement of the case, and submit such statement with his own opinion for the decision of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

In case of doubt as to certain questions, statement of case may be submitted for decision of High Court.

XXIII. The Recorder may proceed in the case, notwithstanding a reference to the said High Court, and may pass a decree contingent upon the opinion of the High Court on the point referred; but no execution shall be issued in any case in which a reference shall be made to the High Court until the receipt of the order of that Court.

And decree may be passed contingent thereon; but pending receipt execution not to issue.

XXIV. Cases referred for the opinion of the High Court shall be dealt with by a bench of two or more Judges of that Court.

Full bench of High Court to deal with cases referred.

XXV. The parties to the case may appear and be heard in the High Court in person or by an Advocate or Pleader, and the High Court when it has heard and considered the case, shall transmit a copy of its judgment under the seal of the Court, and the signature of the proper Officer of the Court, to the Recorder, who shall on the receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case conformably to the decision of the High Court.

And parties may appear in person, or by Advocate, &c. Transmission of Judgment of High Court, and proceeding thereupon.

XXVI. Costs, if any, consequent on the reference of a case for the opinion of the High Court, shall be costs in the suit.

XXVIII. It shall be competent to the Recorder, if he shall think fit, to grant a new trial in any suit tried by him, if applied for within three months from the date of decision if the suit relate to any land or other immoveable property, and in all other cases if applied for within thirty days from the date of the decision. Provided that nothing hereinbefore contained shall interfere with the power of the Recorder to allow a review of judgment under the Code of Civil Procedure, if such review be applied for within the period allowed by the said Code for making such applications. Provided also that in any case in which the Recorder may think it necessary to do so, he may, before granting a new trial or a review, require the party applying for the same to give sufficient security for the due compliance with the terms of the decree or order which it is sought to set aside or review.

Grant of new trial on application within given time.

And review of judgment.

Security from applicant for either.

Recorder may receive and dispose of all cases under certain Acts, subject to provisions of same as to jurisdiction.

XXIX. All cases and proceedings arising under Act XIX of 1841 (for the protection of moveable and immoveable property against wrongful possession in cases of successions), Act XXXV of 1858 (to make better provision for the care of the Estates of Lunatics not subject to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature), Act XL of 1858 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) as amended by Act IX of 1861 (to amend the law relating to Minors) or Act XXVII of 1860 (for facilitating the collection of debts on successions, and for the security of parties paying debts to the representatives of deceased persons) may be received and disposed of by the Recorder of any Court established under this Act, subject always to all the rules and provisions as to jurisdiction and otherwise in the said Acts contained, respectively. Orders passed by the Recorder in cases arising under the said Acts shall not be open to appeal, but the parties shall be at liberty to contest such orders in a regular suit. No Court other than the Recorder's Court shall, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Recorder's Court, receive or deal with any case or proceeding arising under any of the Acts mentioned in this section.

And his orders in such cases not open to appeal.

No other Court to deal therewith, within the jurisdiction of Recorder.

Assessors in Civil Suits.

XXX. For the trial of Civil suits under this Act, the Recorder may constitute one or more persons Assessor or Assessors of the Court. Such person or persons shall attend during the trial of the suit, and shall deliver his or their opinion or opinions in writing, to be recorded on the proceedings. But the decision of the case shall rest with the Recorder. No Officer of the Recorder's Court shall be appointed an Assessor under this Section, but this prohibition shall not extend to any other public Officer.

Appointment of Registrar.

XXXI. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to appoint to each or any of the Recorder's Courts established under this Act, an Officer who shall be called the Registrar of the Court to which he shall be appointed.

Duties of Registrar.

XXXII. The Registrar of the Recorder's Court shall be the chief Ministerial Officer of the Court, and shall, subject to the provisions in the next following Section contained, receive all plaints presented to the Court, and in the absence of the Recorder shall issue notice of suit to the defendants, receive any documents which the parties may wish to put in, and issue process for the attendance of their witnesses: he shall also keep lists of all causes coming on for trial, and shall fix such days for their being heard, respectively, as may seem to him fit, having regard to the period appointed for the Recorder's sittings.

Procedure in case of plaint being considered defective in certain particulars.

XXXIII. If the Registrar shall be of opinion that any plaint presented to the Court is defective in any of the particulars mentioned in Section 28, Section 29, Section 30, Section 31, or Section 32, of the Code of Civil Procedure, he shall not reject the plaint, but shall point out to the plaintiff wherein the plaint is defective, and shall with as little delay as possible forward the plaint to the Recorder of the Court for his orders, together with any statement which the plaintiff may think proper to make, and such plaint shall be dealt with as the Recorder shall order. Provided always that if the defect in the plaint is capable of being cured under any of the said Sections, and the plaintiff shall be willing to amend it, it shall not be necessary for the Registrar to send the plaint to the Recorder, but such amendment may thereupon be made.

Proviso.

Execution of decrees by Registrar.

XXXIV. The Registrar shall also receive applications for the execution of decrees passed by the Recorder of the Court of which he is the Registrar, and subject to any orders which he may receive from the Recorder, shall execute such decrees in the same manner as the Recorder may execute them. No appeal shall lie from any order passed by the Registrar under this Section, but the Recorder may of his own motion reverse or modify any such order whenever he shall think it necessary to do so.

Registrar to have powers of Small Cause Court Judge in certain cases.

XXXV. The Registrar shall have the powers of a Small Cause Court Judge in suits of the nature of those described in Act XLII of 1860 (for the establishment of Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter) arising within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court of which he is the Registrar, provided that the amount or value of the claim shall not exceed two hundred Rupees, but he shall exercise such powers subject to the general control of the Recorder. The Governor-General in Council may invest any Registrar appointed under this Act with jurisdiction to hear and determine suits of the nature cognizable by him as a Small Cause Court Judge under this Section, in which the amount or value of the claim does not exceed five hundred Rupees.

And may be invested by Governor-General with higher powers.

Suits cognizable by Registrar how to be heard, &c.

XXXVI. The suits cognizable by the Registrar under the last preceding Section shall be set down for hearing before such Registrar, and he shall hear and determine such suits and execute the decrees made therein in such manner as is prescribed in the said Act XLII of 1860, and subject to such rules as to procedure and otherwise in all respects as are in the said Act contained. Provided that the Recorder, whenever he thinks proper, may transfer to his own file any suits on the file of the Registrar, and may hear and determine the same subject to the rules as to procedure and otherwise hereinbefore mentioned.

Transfer from Registrar's to Recorder's File.

No appeal from decision of Registrar under last Section; but in case of doubt, statement may be submitted for opinion of Recorder.

XXXVII. No appeal shall lie from any order or decision made or passed by the Registrar in any case heard or disposed of by him under the last preceding Section, but in any case in which the Registrar shall entertain any doubt upon any question of law, or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, he shall be at liberty to state a case for the opinion of the Recorder, in like manner as the Recorder may, under Section XXII of this Act, state a case for the opinion of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all the rules and provisions hereinbefore contained, relative to the stating of a case by the Recorder, shall apply mutatis mutandis to the stating of a case by the Registrar, so far as the same are applicable

Rules applicable to such references.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Recorder to refer to the Registrar of his Court any suit, not falling within the description of suits contained in Act XLII of 1860, which shall be instituted in the Court of such Recorder, and the amount or value of the property in dispute in which shall not exceed one hundred Rupees. Every suit so referred to the Registrar shall be heard and determined, and the decree made shall be executed, by him, under the same rules as to procedure and otherwise as are applicable to suits tried by the Recorder. In such suits the Registrar shall have no power to state a case to the High Court or to the Recorder, but an appeal shall lie on questions of law and of fact, from the Registrar's decision to the Recorder, under the rules for regular appeals contained in the Code of Civil Procedure. The decision on the appeal shall be final, but the Recorder shall be at liberty to state a question of law, or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, for the opinion of the High Court in the same manner as in cases originally tried by himself.

Recorder may refer certain suits to Registrar—Rules respecting trial of same.

Reference to High Court.

XXXIX. In all suits heard and determined by a Recorder under this Act, in which the sum or matter at issue is Rupees ten thousand or upwards, or in which the judgment, decree, or order shall involve directly or indirectly any claim demand or question to or respecting property of the value of Rupees ten thousand or upwards, an appeal shall lie to Her Majesty in Council, subject to the rules and orders for the time being in force regarding appeals to Her Majesty in Council, from decisions of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of its ordinary original Civil Jurisdiction.

Appeal to Her Majesty in Council in certain cases.

XL. The Recorder shall exercise all the powers of a Court of Session as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, within the territorial limits of the Civil jurisdiction of the Court or Courts of which he is Recorder, and shall at the place or places where such Court or Courts are held, hold Gaol deliveries at convenient periods, of which due notice shall be given in the manner prescribed in Sections VI and VII of this Act, for the trial of all persons charged with offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, who may be committed to take their trial before his Court as a Court of Session.

Recorder to exercise power of Court of Session, and to hold Gaol deliveries for trial of offenders.

Provided that the Recorder shall not have power to try any European British subject charged with an offence punishable with death under the said Code. The commitment of any European British subject charged with any such offence shall be made to the High Court of Fort William in Bengal. In all other cases the commitments made within the limits of the jurisdiction of any Recorder's Court, for offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, shall be made to that Court.

Proviso as to European British subjects charged with offences punishable with death.

XLI. If any European British subject shall be charged in British Burmah with any offence (other than an offence punishable with death under the Indian Penal Code) which a Justice of the Peace shall not be competent to punish, and there shall be sufficient grounds for committing him for trial, such European British subject shall be committed to take his trial before the Recorder, and shall be tried by the Recorder of the Court held within the Division of British Burmah in which either such European British subject shall have been arrested, or in which the offence with which he is charged shall have been committed, that is to say, before the Recorder at Rangoon if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in Pegu; before the Recorder at Akyab if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in Arracan; and before the Recorder at Moulmein if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in the Tenasserim Provinces.

Commitment and trial of such subjects when charged with offences other than those punishable with death.

XLII. The proceedings on trials held by the Recorder as a Court of Session under this Act shall be regulated by the Code of Criminal Procedure, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act in so far as the same may be found applicable.

Proceedings of Recorder as Court of Session how to be regulated.

XLIII. If on any trial sentence of death shall be passed by the Recorder, such sentence shall not be carried into execution until it shall have been confirmed by the Chief Commissioner. It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner, in any case in which it shall seem proper to him so to do, to commute a sentence of death to a sentence of transportation for life, or for any shorter period not less than seven years.

Execution or commutation of sentence of death.

XLIV. No appeal shall lie from any order or sentence passed by the Recorder in any Criminal case. But it shall be at the discretion of the Recorder to reserve any point or points of law for the opinion of the said High Court.

No appeal from order, &c., of Recorder in criminal case, but he may reserve points for opinion of High Court.

XLV. On such point or points of law being so reserved, as in the last preceding Section mentioned, or on its being certified by the Advocate General at Fort William that, in his judgment, there is an error in the decision of a point or points of law decided by the Recorder, or that a point or points of law which has or have been decided by the said Recorder should be further considered, the said High Court shall have full power and authority to review the case, or such part of it as may be necessary, and finally determine such point or points of law, and thereupon to alter the sentence passed by the Recorder, and to pass such judgment and sentence as to the said High Court shall seem right.

Review of case and alteration of judgment by High Court.

XLVI. The Stamp Duties prescribed by Schedule B annexed to Act X of 1862 (to consolidate and amend the law relating to Stamp Duties) for Instruments and Writings in the Sudder Court shall be chargeable on Instruments and Writings in the Courts of the Recorders established under this Act, if the amount or value of the claim exceed one thousand Rupees, or if the case be an appeal. The foregoing limitation as to amount shall not extend to petitions of plaint. For such petitions whether the suit be tried by the Recorder or the Registrar of the Court, and for Certificates granted under Act XXVII of 1860 the duty prescribed by the said Schedule B shall be chargeable. For copies of decrees in suits in which the amount or value of the claim does not exceed one thousand Rupees, as well as for copies of judgments and orders, the same duty shall be chargeable as prescribed by the said Schedule B for copies of decrees, judgments, and orders passed or made by a Court below the Sudder Court. On Instruments and Writings in all other cases, as well in the Recorders' Courts, as in the Courts of the Registrars in cases cognizable by those Officers, on which a duty of eight annas is prescribed by the said Schedule B, the duty chargeable shall be eight annas.

Stamp Duties chargeable on instruments, &c., in Recorders Court.

XLVII. The Commissioner of the Division within which the said Town of Akyab, Rangoon, or Moulmein is situated, may sit with the Recorder in the trial and hearing of any Civil or Criminal case arising within the limits of his Division, and may record his opinion in any case in which he may so sit.

Commissioner may sit with Recorder in any suit, and record opinion.

XLVIII. If there shall for the time being be no Recorder, or if the Recorder of any of the said Courts shall at any time from sickness or from being absent on leave or other cause be unable to attend to the duties of his Office, it shall be lawful for the Commissioner of the Town wherein such Court is situate to sit in such Court, and to exercise all the powers vested by this Act in the Recorder, but subject to all the rules, provisions, and limitations herein prescribed and declared. Provided that no Commissioner shall act as Recorder, or exercise any authority under this Section, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner first obtained.

And may, in the absence of Recorder, sit in Court and exercise all powers.

XLIX. The Recorder shall keep such Registers and Books and Accounts, and submit to the Chief Commissioner such Statements and Returns of the work done in his Court on the Civil and Criminal sides, as may be prescribed by the said Chief Commissioner with the approval of the Governor-General in Council. The Recorder shall also comply with such requisitions as may be made by the Governor-General in Council, or by the Chief Commissioner for records.

Recorder to keep such Registers, &c., and to submit such returns, &c., as Chief Commissioner shall prescribe.

L. The word "Barrister" in this Act shall be deemed to include Barristers of England or Ireland, or Members of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland, or Advocates of any High Court or Colonial Supreme Court authorized by Royal Charter to admit Advocates.

Interpretation of "Barrister."

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XXII OF 1863.

An Act to provide for taking land for works of public utility to be constructed by private persons or Companies, and for regulating the construction and use of works on land so taken.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enable the Government to take land for the construction of works of public utility by private persons or Companies; and whereas it is proper at the same time to protect the rights of all persons from whom land shall be so taken, or be proposed to be taken, and also to determine the manner in which such works may be undertaken, and shall be managed after their construction, as well as to secure to the public under suitable regulations the use of works constructed on land so taken; It is enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

AS TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE ACT.

I. The following words and expressions shall have the several meanings hereby assigned to them, unless when a contrary intention appears from the context.

Governor-General may vest certain Officers with powers conferred by this Act on Local Government.

III. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council to vest the principal Executive Officer of any territory under the immediate administration of the Governor-General in Council with any or all of the powers vested by this Act in the Local Government of such territory.

AS TO THE PRELIMINARY PROCEEDINGS TO BE TAKEN, AND THE REGISTRATION OF WORKS.

Promoters to make preliminary application accompanied by statement.

IV. The promoters of any work of public utility, who shall desire to proceed under this Act, shall make a preliminary application in writing to the Local Government, explaining the general object and nature of the work, and its intended locality. Every such application shall further be accompanied by a statement of the estimated cost of the construction of the said work, and the mode in which the promoters propose to provide the funds for constructing, maintaining, and working the same.

Local Government may reject application, or call for further information, &c.

V. If the Local Government shall not be satisfied with any such application or statement, it may reject it, or it may call on the promoters to supply any further information, or to amend such application or statement on any point on which such further information or amendment shall to the Local Government seem requisite.

Issue of certificate authorizing preliminary survey.

VI. If the promoters shall desire to undertake any preliminary survey on account of the proposed work, before preparing and submitting the statement aforesaid, they shall declare the same in their preliminary application, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if satisfied of the expediency of permitting such survey, to issue a certificate authorizing the same. Such certificate shall declare the names of the promoters entitled to use it, the time for which it shall be in force, and the District or Districts or locality for which it shall be valid, and shall contain such further regulations for the guidance of the persons using the said certificate as to the Local Government shall seem fit. The promoters named in such certificate, and such other persons as the promoters shall name in a list to be furnished to the Chief Officer charged with the Executive Administration of each District in which the proposed work is to be constructed, shall be authorized to enter upon any lands, in the manner and for the time declared in such certificate, to undertake any survey or other investigation necessary for the proper prosecution of the proposed work; and while acting under the authority given in the said certificate, such promoters and other persons aforesaid shall be deemed to be public servants whose duty it is to make a survey under Clause 10 of Section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Provided that such promoters and other persons shall not be authorized to enter any house or building, or the curtilage of any house or enclosed garden, without the assent of the occupier, or to cut down any tree or otherwise injure or destroy any property. Provided also that such promoters and other persons aforesaid shall, while acting under the authority of such certificate, be liable as public servants for any offence described in Chapter IX of the said Indian Penal Code, to the penalty provided in the said Chapter for such offence.

Terms of certificate.

Authority conveyed thereby.

Proviso limiting authority.

Liability for offences.

Deposit of caution money may be required before issue of certificate.

VII. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, before issuing a certificate as aforesaid, to call on the promoters to deposit, as caution money, such sum and in such manner as the Local Government shall in each case determine, to be applied by the Local Government to make good any damage done in the course of such survey by the promoters or other persons using the said certificate. The promoters shall be entitled on their demand to receive back, after the expiry of such certificate, and after the payment of any claim for damage which shall have been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government, any surplus remaining in the hands of such Government.

Refund of surplus.

Cancelment of certificate.

VIII. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, at any time prior to the provisional registration of a public work under this Act as hereinafter provided, to cancel a certificate granted under Section VI of this Act, if it shall appear to such Local Government that the powers granted by such certificate have been abused, or for any other sufficient reason.

Publication of preliminary application, &c., by promoters, and supply of copies to Collectors, &c.

Amended application.

IX. The promoters shall, at the time when they submit their preliminary application to the Local Government, publish the same, and if they so desire, the statement that accompanies it, in the Official Gazette, and also, if possible, in at least two Newspapers (one of which shall be in English) in the Province in which the work is proposed to be executed, and shall repeat such publication at least six times within a period of two months from the date of submission of such application to the Local Government; the promoters shall further cause to be delivered, with all reasonable despatch and within a period not exceeding two months, to the Collector of every district in which any part of such work is proposed to be constructed, or such other Officer as the Local Government shall from time to time direct, six copies of such application, with a faithful translation of the same into the vernacular language of the District; and shall in like manner publish from time to time and deliver as aforesaid, copies and translations of any amended applications submitted to the Local Government.

Publication by Collector.

X. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall, on receipt of the preliminary application, publish the same in English and in the vernacular language of the District, in the localities where the work is proposed to be constructed, in such manner as to him seems best.

Local Government to decide, after stated interval, whether work may be provisionally registered or not.

XI. At any time not sooner than four months after the receipt of the said application, or if the application be amended then within four months after the receipt of such amended application, the Local Government, on being satisfied by the promoters that the above conditions have been complied with, shall be authorized to consider finally such application, and any objections that shall have been raised against the construction of the proposed work, and to declare whether the said work may be provisionally registered under this Act or not.

And before deciding, in case of continuation or branch Railway, or tramway, to allow time for opposition, &c.

XII. Before declaring that any work may be provisionally registered under this Act, being a railway or tramway in continuation of or forming a branch of any existing line, or being a line that might reasonably be expected to be united with any existing railway either as a continuation or a branch, and at the same time being at some one point within fifty miles distance of such existing railway, the Local Government shall afford to the owners of such existing line reasonable time and opportunity to declare whether they offer any opposition to the registration of the proposed line, and on a full consideration of such opposition, and of the application of the promoters, and of any objections aforesaid, and of the relative public advantages of all proposals made in the matter, the Local Government shall be authorized to declare its decision on the said application.

And may also appoint a commission to inquire into particulars.

XIII. Previously to deciding that the said work shall be provisionally registered under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if it shall think fit, to appoint a Commission of one or more persons who may be Government Officers to enquire into the general object and nature of the said work, its intended locality and probable utility, its estimated cost, the grounds of any opposition to the said work, and any other matter connected with the said work, on which such Local Government shall desire to be satisfied. For the purposes of such enquiry, such Commission shall have power to take evidence, and for obtaining the attendance and for the examination of witnesses, may exercise the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Powers of commission.

On report of Commission Local Government to decide as to registry.

XIV. On the receipt of the Report of the Commission appointed under the last preceding Section, the Local Government shall decide if the said work shall be provisionally registered.

And to prescribe conditions to be imposed on promoters, before declaring decision.

XV. Before declaring its decision as aforesaid, the Local Government shall, subject to such general or special instructions as the Governor-General of India in Council shall from time to time lay down, prescribe the conditions which such Local Government shall consider it necessary to impose on the promoters, having regard to the special circumstances of each case, in respect to the provision and payment of the price of the land for the proposed work, the construction, maintenance, or working of the same, the regulation of the use of the work as regards the security and convenience of the public, and such other matters as to the Local Government may from time to time seem right, and the Local Government shall inform the promoters of such conditions.

Duration of provisional registry, and right to have it made definitive.

XVI. The Local Government, on causing a work to be provisionally registered under this Act, shall determine for what period, being not less than six months, such registry shall be in force. And at any time within such period the promoters may claim to have the registry made definitive as hereinafter provided.

Promoters to deposit caution money before definitive registry.

XVII. Unless for any cause the Local Government shall otherwise determine, the promoters, before they are entitled to claim the definitive registry of the proposed work, shall deposit with the Government, in such manner as shall be approved by the Local Government, a sum to be fixed in each case by the Local Government, but not exceeding ten per cent. on the whole estimated cost of the said work, as caution money, to be disposed of in the manner agreed in the said conditions, unless it be otherwise dealt with as hereinafter provided. And any sum remaining in the hands of the Local Government from any caution money lodged under Section VII of this Act, shall be held to be a payment in part of the caution money required under this Section.

Also to complete agreement under conditions.

XVIII. The promoters, before such claim for definitive registry shall be admitted, shall further complete an agreement with the Secretary of State for India in Council through the Government, under the conditions aforesaid, or under such other conditions as may be agreed between the said promoters and the Local Government. And thereupon the Local Government shall cause such agreement with the conditions thereof to be published in the Official Gazette, and shall declare that the work is definitively registered as a public work under this Act.

Publication of agreement, and declaration of registry.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, on the application of the promoters of any public work under this Act, to cause to be definitively registered under this Act, any public work undertaken by such promoters under an agreement entered into previously to the passing of this Act with the Secretary of State, or the Government of India, or any local Government, as though such work had been proposed to be undertaken under the provisions of this Act hereinbefore contained. Provided that, at the time of so registering any work, the Local Government shall cause the said contract to be published in the Official Gazette, with all the conditions attaching thereto, and declare that the said work has been so registered definitively.

Definitive registry of work undertaken under agreement entered into before passing of Act.

Proviso.

XX. It shall be lawful for the Local Government to apply any land in its lawful possession, also any public road or place, for the purposes of any public work under this Act, to be constructed at the expense and risk of the promoters of such work. Provided that every such work shall be definitively registered accordingly, and that the conditions under which such work is undertaken shall be published in the Official Gazette; also that the prosecution and construction of every such work shall be subject to the provisions of Section XII of this Act.

Local Government may apply land, &c., for purposes of public work under Act.

Proviso.

XXI. The Local Government may from time to time, with the assent of the owners of any work under this Act, vary the conditions to be agreed to under Section XV of this Act. Provided that such variation shall forthwith be published in the Official Gazette, and that after such publication the amended conditions shall be in force in supersession of those first made.

Local Government may, with consent, vary conditions.

Proviso.

XXII. After the definitive registry of any work under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government from time to time, in such wise as to it shall appear fit, to issue certificates to authorize the promoters, their servants, and agents to enter upon any lands, and to undertake such surveys or levels or other examinations as may be necessary for the proper prosecution of the said work; also to dig and bore into the sub-soil, and to indicate the intended boundaries of the land to be taken, and the positions of the proposed works, by suitable land-marks, and to perform all other necessary preliminary acts of the like nature; and such certificates shall declare the names of the persons entitled to use them, the time for which they shall be in force, and the Districts or locality for which they shall be valid, and shall contain such further regulations for the guidance of the persons using them as to the Local Government shall seem fit. And while acting under the authority given in the said certificate, such persons shall be deemed to be public servants, whose duty it is to make a survey under Clause 10 of Section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Provided, however, that such persons shall not enter any house, or building, or the curtilage of any house, or enclosed garden without giving twenty-four hours' notice, or without the assent of the occupier thereof, nor shall they cut down any tree, or otherwise injure or destroy any property, unless the same be essentially necessary. Provided also that such persons, while acting under the authority of such certificate, shall be liable as public servants for any offence described in Chapter IX of the said Indian Penal Code, to the penalty provided in the said Chapter for such offence.

After definitive registry, Local Government may issue certificate authorizing surveys, &c.

Terms of Certificate.

Proviso limiting authority.

Liability for offences.

XXIII. The promoters shall, on the completion of the necessary surveys and the like, submit to the Local Government such drawings, maps, and plans of the proposed work, as well as of the land required for it, as the Local Government shall in each case require. And thereupon the Local Government shall appoint one or more Commissioners, who may be Government Officers, to examine the said drawings, maps, and plans, and to determine finally, in concert with the promoters or their agents, all matters of detail in respect of the exact position of the work, or of the parts thereof, as well as the boundaries of the land to be taken for the said work, and shall notify such appointment in the Official Gazette, and shall cause such Notification to be published in the District where the work is proposed to be undertaken in such manner as shall seem best to the Local Government.

On completion of surveys, &c., promoters to submit drawings, &c.,

Appointment of Commissioners to examine same, and settle details.

XXIV. The Commissioners appointed under the last preceding Section shall proceed at any time, but not sooner than thirty days after such notification, to settle, in concert with the promoters or their agents, the exact position of the work or of the parts thereof, and thereafter with all practicable despatch to examine the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken for the work; and the said Commissioners may call upon the promoters to make any variation in their project, and in the position of the works or any part of them, and in the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, that may to the said Commissioners seem necessary to secure the safety or convenience of the public, or to prevent any undue interference with private property, or for any other reasonable cause, and any such variation, if agreed to by the promoters, shall thereon be considered to be finally adopted; but if the promoters shall not agree, the question in dispute shall be submitted to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government shall be final, provided that the promoters shall not be bound to carry out the proposed work if any variation be insisted upon by the local Government to which the promoters will not assent.

Commissioners how to proceed.

May call for variation of project, &c.

Provision for case of promoters not agreeing thereto.

XXV. The Local Government shall be authorized to extend the periods allowed for giving any notices, or for performing any acts required under the foregoing Sections, as from time to time may seem to it proper.

Extension of periods allowed for notices, &c.

AS TO THE TAKING LANDS, THE TITLE THEREIN, AND THE PAYMENT THEREFOR.

XXVI. When the boundaries of the land required for the work shall have been settled as aforesaid, and the promoters shall have caused the said land to be measured, and suitable land-plans to be prepared of the same, the Local Government shall cause a declaration to be made, under the signature of a Secretary to such Government or some Officer duly authorized to certify the orders of the Local Government, that the land aforesaid is required for the said work, and such declaration, shall be conclusive that the land may be taken under this Act. After making such declaration the Local Government may proceed to take any such land as though it had been required to be taken at the public expense, and for a public purpose, and as though a declaration had been made as required under Act VI of 1857 (for the acquisition of land for public purposes.)

On settlement of boundaries, &c., Local Government to issue declaration as to land being required.

And may thereafter proceed to take the same.

XXVII. The boundaries as determined by the Commissioners, and the plans and measurements aforesaid of the said land, when verified and found to be correct, or when duly corrected by the Collector or other Officer appointed to proceed under the said Act VI of 1857, shall be held to be the boundaries, plans, and measurements required under Section IV of the said Act, so far as the said lands are concerned.

Rule as to boundaries, plans, and measurements.

XXVIII. If at any time land shall be required for any necessary or reasonable extension of or addition to any work under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government to make all requisite declarations for the purpose of obtaining such land under this Act, after such and only such of the preliminary proceedings and enquiries hereinbefore required, as to the Local Government shall in each case seem sufficient for the protection of the rights of the public and of individuals concerned. Provided that nothing shall be done contrary to the provisions of Section XII of this Act, and that all proceedings for the actual taking possession of the land shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the said Act VI of 1857.

Preliminary proceedings and declaration by Local Government, as to land required for extension of, or addition to, work under Act.

Proviso.

XXIX. Land may be taken under this Act for a temporary purpose in like manner as under the said Act VI of 1857.

Taking land for temporary purpose.

XXX. All land taken under this Act shall vest absolutely in the Local Government as though it had been taken for a public purpose under the said Act VI of 1857, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government to dispose of any land taken under this Act, the whole or any part of which shall not be required for the purpose for which it was taken, in any manner that it may think fit. The Local Government alone shall be responsible for the payment of all claims on account of such land to all persons whatever, and the promoters shall in no wise be responsible for any such payment otherwise than to the Local Government, and then only as is herein declared and provided, and as shall be specially agreed in the conditions aforesaid.

Right, powers, and responsibilities of Local Government as to land taken under Act.

XXXI. When all the conditions as aforesaid applicable to the transfer of the land to the promoters shall have been fully complied with, and not till then, the Government shall cause the promoters to be placed in possession of such land in accordance with such conditions. The title of the Local Government or of the promoters to such land shall not be liable to be questioned on account of any informality in any proceeding taken under this Act.

Promoters when to be placed in possession of land.

XXXII. All expenses attending the proceedings of the Commissioners to be appointed under Section XXIII of this Act, and all expenses incurred by the Local Government in taking up the land required for the promoters under the said Act VI of 1857, shall be paid by the said promoters, unless otherwise specially agreed. The Local Government shall determine the sum due on account of such expenses, and shall be authorized to deduct such amount from any sum lodged as caution money as aforesaid, if it be not otherwise paid by the promoters, and any sum remaining unpaid both as aforesaid, and on account of land or compensation for which the promoters are liable under the said conditions, may, on the order of the Local Government to that effect, be levied by distress and sale on the said promoters, in the manner provided for distress and sale under Civil process.

Expenses to be paid by promoters.

Amount of same how to be determined and recovered.

XXXIII. The promoters shall further be liable for all damage done in any of their preliminary operations, and shall duly satisfy and pay all claims of this description; and if at the time of taking possession of the land required for the promoters, it shall appear that any such claim remains unsatisfied, the Collector or other Officer acting under the said Act VI of 1857 in respect of such land shall be authorized to determine all such claims summarily, as though they had been claims arising under the said Act, and all payments on account of such claims shall be made good by the promoters as under the last preceding Section.

Liability of promoters for damage done in preliminary operations.

Provision for satisfaction of claims on account of damage.

AS TO THE PUBLIC USE OF WORKS.

XXXIV. Every work under this Act shall be available for the use of the public in accordance with and to the extent provided by the conditions aforesaid, or any Act at the time being in force, but not otherwise; and after the publication of the conditions relating to any such works in the Official Gazette, all Courts may take judicial notice of the same, and it shall be lawful for any person whatsoever to sue the owners of such work for any damage he may incur by reason of any neglect of the said conditions by the said owners, in respect of any such public use of such work, as though such person had been a party to the said conditions.

Works under Act how far available for public use.

Courts may take cognizance of conditions relating to same, and owners may be sued for damage resulting from neglect.

XXXV. The owners of any work under this Act shall be authorized to levy such tolls, in such manner, as shall be fixed in accordance with the conditions aforesaid, also to refuse the use of such work, and to refuse to perform any service in connection therewith, unless such tolls shall be paid in the manner fixed aforesaid, as well as to detain any thing or animal on which such tolls shall be due, and to sell the same if the said tolls shall remain unpaid after a reasonable time has been allowed to elapse for the payment of the same. Provided that no such tolls shall be demanded or taken at any place unless proper tables and lists of such tolls be exhibited at such place in the manner fixed as aforesaid.

Powers of owners as to tolls for use of their works.

Proviso.

AS TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE WORKS, AND THE INSPECTION OF THE SAME.

XXXVI. The Local Government may appoint Inspectors to inspect any work under this Act, also all things appertaining thereto, and to the working of the same; but not books or documents otherwise than as shall be provided in the conditions aforesaid. The owners of such work, and all persons authorized by them to use the same in connection with any public use of the said work, and their servants and agents, shall be bound to afford to such Inspectors all reasonable facility for their inspection, and all such information as may be reasonably required by them.

Inspection of works.

XXXVII. If it appear to the Local Government, upon the report of any Inspector, that the use of any work under this Act cannot be continued without danger to the public or to the persons employed thereon, or that rules adequate to the protection of the public under the provisions of this Act have not been framed and put in force, or that the conditions agreed upon under Section XV of this Act have not been carried out, the Local Government may order that all defects shall be made good within a reasonable specified time; and in default of the owners of such work complying with such order within such time, or such further time as the Local Government shall appoint, the Local Government shall be empowered to direct that the use of such work shall be suspended, until the defects aforesaid shall be remedied to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

If report of Inspector show cause, Local Government may order use of work to be suspended until defects are remedied.

XXXVIII. The Local Government may at any time, on the report of an Inspector during the construction of any work under this Act, direct the promoters to construct in connection therewith such culverts, bridges, tunnels, drains, or other works as may be considered by the Local Government to be necessary to continue to the public any roads, or rights of way, or easements, or the use of any water theretofore available, and to make due provision for the irrigation and drainage of the country, so as to prevent the same from being impeded or unnecessarily altered by the construction of the said work. If default be made in complying with any directions given under the provisions of this Section, the Local Government may order the prosecution of the work to be stopped until such directions shall be complied with to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Local Government may direct construction of subsidiary works.

And in default of compliance, may stop work.

XXXIX. Nothing in the last preceding Section shall be construed to render the promoters liable to construct any work, or to undertake any thing, at variance with the special conditions of agreement under Section XV of this Act.

Saving as to matters at variance with special conditions.

XL. The owners of every Railway under this Act, being of the gauge of five feet six inches, shall be bound, unless specially exempted by the Governor-General of India in Council, to erect all the fixed structures, and to construct all the rolling stock, in conformity with the standard dimensions determined in that behalf from time to time by the Governor-General of India in Council, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government to order the said owners to make good all defects in such structures or rolling stock, and to suspend their use until such defects shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Fixed structures, &c., on Railway of certain gauge, to be of standard dimensions.

XLI. The provisions of Act XVIII of 1854 (relating to Railways in India) shall apply to all Railways under this Act; provided that in respect of such Railways the Local Government shall be authorized to determine, from time to time, the extent to which fences shall be constructed under Section XX of the said Act XVIII of 1854, and that the owners of such Railways shall not be liable to maintain fences under the said Section otherwise than as shall be so determined.

Act XVIII of 1854 applicable to Railways under this Act.

Proviso, as to fences.

XLII. In case any doubt shall at any time arise, as to the necessity for constructing or altering any work to ensure the safety of the public, or to provide for established public rights of way, or other public rights of any sort in connection with any work under this Act, the decision of the Local Government on such subject shall be final, and shall not be liable to be called in question in any Court of Justice.

Decision of Local Government, on questions concerning public safety, &c.

XLIII. If the owners of a Railway under this Act shall desire to form a connection with any existing Railway of the same gauge, the owners of the new line shall be authorized to call on the owners of the old line to effect the junction, and if the owners of the old line shall not proceed to effect the junction within a reasonable time, the Local Government, on being satisfied that the junction may be made with safety to the public, and without injury to the existing Railway, or detriment to the traffic thereon, may authorize the owners of the proposed line to form the junction, and to do all necessary acts in that behalf, and to lay down such additional lines of rails, points, and crossings as may be necessary for the purpose, at such time and in such manner as the Local Government shall direct. Provided that if the junction be effected by the owners of the previously existing Railway, the expense of forming the junction, of supplying all necessary works, and of keeping in repair and renewing the same, shall be paid by the owners of the new line.

Provision as to junction of Railway under Act, with pre-existing line.

As to expenses.

XLIV. If any difference shall arise as to the terms on which the traffic of a branch or junction line of Railway under this Act shall pass over or upon any other line with which it shall be connected, or as to the manner and times of conducting the traffic, or of regulating the same, over the two lines or either of them, or as to any matter touching any line under this Act used in common by two or more Companies, the Local Government shall be authorized, on the application of either or any one of the said Companies, to hear and determine all such differences, and any order given by the Local Government in such a case shall be final and binding on all parties, provided that no order shall be so given at variance with any condition of any agreement between the Government and any of the said Companies, that shall be applicable to the said lines of Railway.

Local Government to determine differences between owners of lines joined, connected, or used in common.

Proviso.

AS TO THE MAKING OF BYE-LAWS.

XLV. It shall be lawful for the owners of any work under this Act to make Bye-Laws and Regulations for the guidance of their servants and agents, and of persons employed by them, and for the maintenance of order in the use of such work, and to provide for the safety and convenience of the public, or of the persons employed on such work; and all such Bye-Laws and Regulations shall be subject to the approval of the Local Government, and when so approved all Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of the same, and the Local Government shall be authorized to cause any alterations to be made in the Bye-Laws and Regulations so made and approved, as to the Local Government shall from time to time seem proper. Provided that such Bye-Laws and Regulations be not repugnant to any Law in force in the British Territories in India, and that no penalty shall be attached to the infringement of any such Bye-Law or Regulation exceeding a fine of fifty Rupees.

Power of owners to make Bye-laws and Regulations.

Subject to approval and alteration.

Proviso.

XLVI. Such Bye-Laws and Regulations affecting the public shall be published, and the substance of them shall be notified, in such places on the said work and in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time approve or direct, and no penalty shall be recoverable under such Bye-Laws or Regulations unless the same shall have been published and kept published as aforesaid.

Publication of Bye-laws, and notification of substance of same.

XLVII. In the case of a Railway under this Act, being of the gauge of five feet and six inches, it is further provided that the Bye-Laws and Regulations shall, unless the Governor-General of India in Council shall otherwise permit, conform in every respect to the Regulations for Railway Companies under the said Act XVIII of 1854.

Provision as to Bye-laws in the case of a Railway, under Act, of 5½ feet gauge.

AS TO THE LIEN OF THE GOVERNMENT ON ANY WORK.

XLVIII. No lands taken or supplied by Government for any work under this Act; no tree, building, or structure standing on such lands; no machinery nor permanent way fixed to the soil on such lands; nor anything whatsoever on which the Local Government shall be entitled to re-enter, or of which it shall be entitled to take possession without payment on the determination from any cause of the agreement between the Local Government and the promoters under the conditions aforesaid, shall without the consent of the Local Government be liable to be seized or applied in satisfaction of any debts or liabilities of any sort of the promoters, nor without such consent shall the promoters alienate the same, or any part thereof, in any way not provided for, or consonant with such agreement or conditions.

Lands for work under Act, and fixtures thereon, not liable to seizure for debt, nor alienable by promoters, without consent of Local Government.

XLIX. If the owners of a work under this Act shall voluntarily determine to wind up their affairs, or shall be so directed by an order of Court, or shall abandon or determine to abandon such work, or shall commit an act of Bankruptcy or Insolvency, it shall be lawful for the Local Government thereupon to terminate all contracts then existing between it and the promoters in respect of such work, and to re-enter upon and take possession of all things whatsoever, to which the Local Government shall be so entitled under the conditions of such contracts; also of all lands taken at the public expense, or supplied to the said promoters free of cost, together with all trees, buildings, and structures standing on such lands, as well as all machinery and permanent way fixed to the soil on such lands; provided that nothing shall be so taken which shall be expressly excluded from such liability under the conditions aforesaid. But the Local Government shall be bound to surrender to a lawful claimant all moveable property of which it shall at any time obtain possession from the promoters otherwise than by purchase, which shall not have been fully paid for by the promoters; or in lieu of such surrender, if the Local Government shall so determine, to satisfy all just outstanding claims on account of such property; provided that no such surrender shall be obligatory, and no such claim shall be entertained, in respect of any thing that shall have been delivered to the said promoters more than twelve months before the date of such surrender being required, or of such claim being made known to the Local Government.

Right of Local Government to terminate contracts with promoters in certain cases.

And to re-enter and take possession of lands &c.

Saving of moveable property in certain cases.

Proviso.

AS TO MINES NEAR ANY WORK.

L. Whenever land shall be taken under this Act for the construction of any work, the taking thereof shall not be held to convey or include the right to any mine of coal or other minerals lying under such land, except only such part thereof as shall be necessary to be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works, unless compensation for the same shall have been expressly allowed in the award made in favor of the persons interested in the land.

And to working of mines under or near work under Act.

LI. If the owner, lessee, or occupier of any mine of coal, or of any other mineral, lying immediately under any work under this Act, or within forty yards therefrom, shall work the same, it shall be competent to the Local Government, on the application of the promoters of such work, to require such person to abandon such working, or so to work the same as not to endamage the said work, and to construct the works necessary to make it safe. Provided that compensation shall be awarded to such owner, lessee, or occupier, in the manner provided for in the said Act VI of 1857, for any loss sustained by him from being compelled to abandon or alter his mode of working the mine, and also for any necessary works constructed by him (when so required as aforesaid) in order to prevent damage to the said work, but all damage or loss to the promoters, arising from any improper working of such mines, shall be at the risk of the owners, lessees, or occupiers of the said mines, and shall be make good by them.

Proviso as to compensation.

AS TO OFFENCES, AND THE RECOVERY OF PENALTIES.

Certain offences punishable under Penal Code.

LII. Whoever shall obstruct or commit any contempt of the lawful authority of any public servant in the discharge of any function or in the performance of any thing undertaken under this Act, or shall commit mischief by destroying, defacing, or removing any land-mark fixed by the authority of any such public servant shall be punishable under the provisions of the Indian Penal Code.

Recovery of penalties for offences under Bye-laws.

LIII. All penalties for offences under the Bye-laws and Regulations aforesaid shall be recoverable in the manner provided for offences punishable by fine only in the said Act XVIII of 1854, (relating to Railways in India.)

M. WYLIE,
Deputy Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XXIII OF 1863.

An Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make special provision for the speedy adjudication of claims which may be preferred to waste lands proposed to be sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, and of objections taken to the sale or other disposition of such lands; It is enacted as follows :—

Provision for inquiry into claims to land, or objections to sale of same.

I. When any claim shall be preferred to any waste land proposed to be sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, or when any objection shall be taken to the sale or other disposition of such land, the Collector of the District in which such land is situate, or other Officer performing the duties of a Collector of land Revenue in such District, by whatever name his Office is designated, shall, if the claim or objection be preferred within the period mentioned in the advertisement to be issued for the sale or other disposition of such land, which period shall not be less than three months, proceed to make an enquiry into the claim or objection.

Procedure in such cases.

II. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall call upon the claimant or objector to produce any evidence or documents upon which he may rely in proof of his claim or objection, and after considering the same and making any further enquiry that may appear proper, shall dispose of the case by an order for the admission or rejection of the claim or objection, and if the land is proposed to be sold, for the sale of the same subject to any condition or reservation which to such Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall appear to be proper. If the land is ordered to be sold subject to any condition or reservation, such condition or reservation shall be notified to intending purchasers at the time of sale.

Pending enquiry, sale, &c., to be postponed

III. Pending an enquiry into any claim or objection under the last preceding Section, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall postpone the sale or other disposition of the land, and if he shall order that such claim or objection be rejected, he shall further postpone the sale or other disposition of the land to allow the claimant or objector to contest the order of rejection in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sale to be stopped if claim appear to be established, but may afterwards be proceeded with.

IV. If the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall consider the claim or objection to be established, and that the sale or other disposition of the land should not take place, he shall stop the sale or other disposition of the land; but such sale or other disposition of the land may afterwards be proceeded with if, on an order issued by the local Government to try the claim or objection as provided in Section VI of this Act, the claimant or objector shall fail to establish the same.

Procedure after passing of order in the case.

V. If the Collector or other Officer aforesaid shall order that the claim or objection be rejected, or that the land be sold subject to any condition or reservation, or that it be otherwise dealt with, he shall cause a copy of such order to be delivered to the claimant or objector, and if such claimant or objector shall not within one week from the delivery of such copy, or within such further time as the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid for any special reason to be recorded shall see fit to grant, give notice in writing to such Collector or other Officer as aforesaid that he intends to contest such order, the order shall be final. If the claimant or objector shall, within the time allowed, give such notice, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall immediately make a report to the Board of Revenue or other superior Revenue Authority, and shall forward with such Report a copy of his order, stating fully all the circumstances of the case and the evidence adduced in support or otherwise of the claim or objection, and such Board

Report to Revenue Board.

or other Authority, on the receipt of such Report, and after calling for any further information which it may consider necessary, may confirm, modify, or reverse the order of the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid. If the Board or other Authority as aforesaid confirm the order of the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or modify such order in such manner as to leave any part of such order in force adverse to the claimant or objector, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall certify such order to the Court constituted as hereinafter provided, and such Court shall forthwith give notice to the claimant or objector, and if such claimant or objector shall not, within thirty days from the delivery of such notice from the Court, institute a suit in such Court to establish his claim or objection, the order of the Board or other Authority aforesaid shall be final.

Decision of Board.

VI. The local Government may, within twelve months after the date on which the claim of any claimant of waste land, or the objection of any objector as aforesaid, shall have been admitted under this Act by the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, direct a suit to be brought to try the claim or objection of the claimant or objector, in a Court constituted as hereinafter provided.

Local Government may, within twelve months, order suit to be brought to try claim admitted by Collector.

VII. For the investigation and trial of claims under this Act, the local Government shall constitute, in every District in which there may be any waste lands capable of being sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, a Court consisting of an uneven number of persons not less than three, of whom the Judge of the District, or the Officer presiding in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District by whatever name his office may be designated, shall be one. Any one or more of the Members of which such Court shall consist, shall have power to make all such orders in the case as may be necessary prior to the hearing of the suit. Provided that, whenever the Collector or other Officer by whom the original enquiry was held is the Officer presiding in the principal Civil Court of original Jurisdiction in the District, such Officer shall not be a Member of such Court.

Special Court for trying claims.

VIII. Whenever any Court is constituted under this Act, notice thereof shall be given by a written proclamation, copies of which shall be affixed in the several Courts, and in the Offices of the several Collectors and Magistrates of the District, and from the date of the issue of such proclamation no other Court shall be competent to entertain any claim or objection belonging to the class of claims or objections for the trial and determination of which such Court is constituted.

Notice of constitution of Special Courts. Claims not cognizable in other Courts.

IX. The Courts constituted under this Act shall be held at such place or places within the limits of their respective jurisdictions as shall be considered most convenient.

Special Courts where to be held.

X. In every suit instituted under Section V of this Act the claimant of the waste land, or objector to the sale or other disposition of such land, shall appear as plaintiff, and the Collector or other Officer aforesaid shall appear as defendant on the part of Government. Either party may appear by pleader or by agent. Provided that if such other Officer as aforesaid be the presiding Officer of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District, the local Government shall appoint some other Officer to appear as defendant in the case on its behalf. In any suit ordered to be instituted by the local Government under Section VI of this Act, the Government, by any Officer to be appointed for the purpose, shall appear as plaintiff, and the claimant or objector as aforesaid shall appear as defendant.

Plaintiff and Defendant in suits under Section V.

Proviso.

Plaintiff and Defendant in suits under Section VI.

XI. In suits instituted under this Act, except as hereinafter provided, the proceedings shall be regulated, so far as they can be, by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Proceedings regulated by Civil Procedure Code.

XII. The Court shall fix a day for the appearance of the parties and for the hearing of the suit, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their agents, and on the day so fixed the parties or their agents shall bring their witnesses into Court, together with any documents on which they may intend to rely in support of their respective statements. If either party require the assistance of the Court to procure the attendance of a witness on such day, he shall apply to the Court in sufficient time before the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, and the Court shall issue a Subpœna requiring such witness to attend the Court on that day. It shall be competent to the Court to require the personal attendance of the claimant of the waste land or objector as aforesaid on the day fixed for the hearing, or at any subsequent stage of the suit.

Procedure before hearing of suit.

XIII. On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, or as soon after as may be practicable, the Court shall proceed to examine the claimant of the waste land, or the objector, or his agent (when his personal attendance is not required), and the witnesses of the parties, and upon such examination, and after inspecting the documents of the parties, and making any further enquiry that may appear necessary, shall proceed to pass such order in the case as it may consider just and proper.

Procedure on hearing.

XIV. No appeal shall lie from any decision or order passed under this Act, nor shall any such decision or order be open to revision.

No Appeal or revision.

XV. If, on the trial of any suit under this Act, any question of law, or of usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the case shall arise, on which the Court shall entertain reasonable doubts, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, draw up a statement of the case and submit it, with its own opinion, for the opinion of the High Court of Judicature, or of the highest Civil Court of Appeal and revision, in the territory

Reference of question of law, &c. to High Court, &c.

in which the land is situate. Provided that it shall be the duty of every Court held under this Act to make such reference to such High Court, or Court of Appeal, if in any suit under this Act any question shall arise involving any principle of general importance, or the rights of a class.

Such reference obligatory in certain cases.

XVI. The Court may proceed in the case notwithstanding a reference to the High Court, or other highest Civil Court of Appeal as aforesaid, and may pass an order contingent upon the opinion of the High Court, or other Court as aforesaid on the point referred, but no final order for the sale or other disposition of the land in question in the suit, or for the admission or rejection of any claim or objection which shall be before the Court in such suit, shall be passed until the receipt of the order of the said High Court, or highest Civil Court of Appeal.

Court may proceed notwithstanding reference.

XVII. The record of cases disposed of by Courts constituted under this Act shall be deposited amongst the records of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District in which the property in dispute is situate.

Record of cases where to be deposited.

XVIII. No claim to any land, or to compensation or damages in respect of any land sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government as waste land, shall be received after the expiration of three years from the date on which such land shall have been delivered by the Government to the purchaser, or otherwise dealt with. If within three years after any lands have been delivered by the Government to the purchaser, or otherwise dealt with, any claimant or objector shall prefer a claim to the land so delivered or otherwise dealt with, or an objection to such sale, or to compensation or damages in respect thereof, in the Court constituted under this Act for the District in which the land is situate, and shall show good and sufficient reason for not having preferred his claim or objection to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid within the period limited under Section I of this Act, such Court shall file the claim or objection, making the claimant or objector plaintiff, and the Collector of the District or other Officer as aforesaid (with the like provision as aforesaid, if such other Officer be the presiding Officer of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District) the defendant in the suit, and the foregoing provisions of this Act shall be applicable to the trial and determination of the suit. The report of the Officer employed to give delivery, or to take possession on the part of Government, of the land sold or otherwise dealt with, shall be conclusive evidence as to the date on which such delivery was made, or possession was taken.

Limitation as to claims to land sold or dealt with.

Provision for such claims if preferred within time.

XIX. In any case in which the land has been sold, if the Court shall be of opinion that the claim of the claimant is established, the Court shall not award the claimant possession of the land in dispute, but shall order him to receive from the Government Treasury, by way of compensation, a sum equal to the price at which the land was sold, in addition to the costs of suit.

If claim established, possession not to be given, but compensation.

XX. If the land shall have been sold subject to any condition or reservation, or shall not have been sold, but shall have been otherwise dealt with on account of the Government, and the Court shall be of opinion that the claim to such land, or the objection of an objector is established, the Court shall award the claimant or objector to receive such sum in respect of his interest in such land as shall be awarded in that behalf under the provisions of Act VI of 1857 (for the acquisition of lands for public purposes), and thereupon the local Government shall proceed under the said Act to obtain an award of the value of such interest.

When land has not been absolutely sold, or has been otherwise dealt with.

XXI. An award under any of the provisions of the two last preceding Sections shall be in full satisfaction of the claim of the claimant or objector, and shall bar any future claim on his part in respect to the land in suit resting on the same cause of action, or on a cause of action which existed prior to the date of the sale or other disposition of the land on account of Government.

Award under the two last Sections to be in full satisfaction.

XXII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to prevent the local Government form awarding to any claimant of waste land sold on account of Government, on proof to the satisfaction of the local Government of the claim of such claimant (notwithstanding that he may not have preferred his claim either to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or to the proper Court constituted under this Act within the period prescribed by this Act), such amount of compensation for the said land, within the limit as to amount mentioned in Section XIX of this Act, if the land have been sold not subject to any condition or reservation, as to such local Government may seem proper.

Government not barred from awarding compensation for land absolutely sold, though claim be not preferred in time.

XXIII. If the land have been sold subject to any condition or reservation, or have been otherwise disposed of on account of Government, and any claim to such land, or objection to the sale or other disposition of the land shall be proved to the satisfaction of the local Government, although not preferred to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or to the Court constituted under this Act, within the period prescribed by this Act, the local Government may award to such claimant or objector such amount as to such local Government may appear to be the value of the interest of such claimant or objector in such land.

Compensation for land sold subject to condition, if claim proved, though not preferred in time.

XXIV. Unless the contrary appears from the context, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number; and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Camp Meerut, the 9th March 1863.

Notifications.—His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor General held a Durbar this day for the reception of the principal Residents of the Meerut and Rohilcund Divisions of the North-Western Provinces.

After the Native Gentlemen had been presented to the Viceroy and Governor General, the following Address was read to them by the Secretary by the Viceroy's command:—

"After the suppression of mutiny and the restoration of order in these Provinces, Lord Canning held a Durbar at this place, on which occasion the conduct of those who had merited the favor and approval of the British Government was the subject of the Governor General's notice. Mindful of the loyalty and good faith displayed by those now present, the Governor General could not pass through Meerut without seeing and being acquainted with them. The Viceroy has therefore held this Durbar and directed me to express the pleasure he has in receiving these Native Gentlemen who proved themselves friends of order and of the British Government, and His Excellency's confidence that they will never depart from the path of their duty."

At this Durbar the usual ceremonies were observed, and Khilluts were conferred on a few of the principal Native Gentlemen present.

ADVERTISEMENT OF SALE.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Zemindaree rights of Government to the Khas Mehals situated in the District of Midnapore, and mentioned in the Statement hereto annexed, will be put up to sale, under orders of the Board of Revenue, as communicated in their Secretary's letter No. 182, dated 13th December 1862, in the Midnapore Collectorate, on Monday, the 6th day of April 1863, corresponding with the 26th Choit 1270 Umlee, and the 25th Choit 1269 Bengallee.

The Purchasers of the Mehals will be subject to the undermentioned Conditions :—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1*st.*—The Estates to be sold to the highest bidders above the upset price.

2*nd.*—When the amount of purchase money does not exceed Rupees 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once. When the amount of purchase money exceeds Rupees 100, a deposit, at Rupees 25 per cent, to be at once made upon the amount bid; the same to be forfeited to Government if the whole amount of purchase money be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, or if the day be a close holiday, then on the first Office day, reckoning the day of sale as one, and the Mehal will be again put up to sale at the risk of the former Purchaser.

3*rd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the right conferred by the Settlement proceedings and laws in force, and Purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the Jummabundees made by the Revenue Authorities.

4*th.*—The annual Embankment charges of the Mehals which are assessed with such charges will be paid by the Purchasers, as heretofore paid by Government, proportionately with other Zemindars. The existing arrangements for the repairs and maintenance of the Embankments will remain in force.

5*th.*—In addition to the ordinary Sudder Jummas fixed on the Estates Purchasers will be bound to pay an annual sum calculated at one per cent. on the Sudder Jummas, to be devoted to the construction of roads and improvement of communications. This sum will be leviable in the same manner as other arrears of Revenue.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1863.

NOTIFICATION.

An Agricultural Exhibition will be held at Calcutta in January 1864, under the direction of the Government, with the assistance and co-operation of the Agricultural and Horticultural Society of India.

The undermentioned Gentlemen are appointed a Provisional Committee of Management to arrange preliminaries and to communicate with intending Exhibitors :—

A. GROTE, ESQ., President of the Agricultural and Horticultural Society.

Brigadier-General Showers, C. B.	J. Beckwith, Esq.
C. F. Montresor, Esq.	W. Haworth, Esq.
C. P. Hobhouse, Esq.	Douglas Stewart, Esq.
J. A. Crawford, Esq.	S. P. Griffiths, Esq.
The Hon'ble A. Eden.	Baboo Prosono Coomar Tagore.
Lieutenant-Colonel H. C. James.	Baboo Ram Gopal Ghose.
T. Anderson, Esq., M. D.	Moulvie Abdul Luteef.

Mr. J. A. Crawford will act as Honorary Secretary.

The object of the Exhibition is to bring together for show, competition and eventual sale, cattle and other live stock, agricultural implements and machinery, and articles of Indian agricultural produce.

The Exhibition will be arranged in three Departments :—

I. Cattle and Poultry.

II. Agricultural implements.

III. Produce.

The first Department will include (1) Bulls, Cows, Bullocks, and Buffaloes; (2) Horses and Ponies; (3) Sheep and Goats; (4) Pigs; (5) Fowls, Guinea Fowls, &c.; (6) Turkeys; (7) Geese and Ducks; (8) Pigeons; and (9) Rabbits.

The second Department will include (1) Ploughs, Cultivators, Harrows, &c.; (2) Threshing Machines; (3) Saw Mills; (4) Flour Mills; (5) Sugar Mills; (6) Oil Mills; (7) Bonedust Mills; (8) Pumps for irrigation; (9) Cotton cleaning Machines, and (10) other implements.

The third Department will include (1) Gram, Pulse and Tubers; (2) Fibres; (3) Cotton; (4) Raw Silk; (5) Drugs and Dyes; (6) Oil Seeds; (7) Indigo; (8) Tobacco; (9) Tea and Coffee; (10) Timber, and (11) other produce.

The Exhibition will be held on the grounds adjoining the Lieutenant-Governor's House at Belvidere, 35 acres in extent. It will commence on Monday, the 18th January 1864, and end on Saturday, the 23rd idem. On the last day there will be a show of Flowers, Fruits and Vegetables, and the Prizes will be publicly distributed.

A List of the Prizes to be awarded for the best specimens of every kind exhibited will be published hereafter.

Judges will be appointed for each Department, and the Prizes will be adjudged on the first day.

To provide means towards defraying the necessary expenses of the Exhibition, a charge will be made on the admission of Visitors. The terms of charge will be duly published.

No charge will be made for the admission of live stock and articles intended for exhibition.

All produce and implements for show must arrive in Calcutta and be sent to the Exhibition on or before the 31st December 1863, and live stock on or before the 14th January 1864.

The Committee will take charge of and feed all live stock from the date of its arrival at the Exhibition Yard till the end of the Exhibition.

All live stock and articles exhibited and intended for sale must have their price attached to them.

The principal object in giving Prizes for cattle and other live stock is to promote improvement in breed: and the Judges in making their award will decide according to that view.

Local Committees will be formed at the principal Stations in the interior.

Manufacturers of agricultural implements in Europe will be invited to send for exhibition specimens of such implements suited to India.

It is intended, if this Exhibition meet with public support, to repeat it annually, either at Calcutta or elsewhere in the Lower Provinces of Bengal. It is hoped that by this means the quality of agricultural produce in Bengal will be gradually improved, and that the attention of Native Zemindars and others interested in land will be drawn to the importance of promoting practical agriculture in a large scale.

By Order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

A. EDEN,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE.

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information.—

Act No. XIX of 1863.

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law relating to the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal; It is enacted as follows:—

Laws repealed.

I. From the date of the passing of this Act Regulation IX. 1811 of the Bengal Code (for facilitating the division of landed property, and for securing the rights of joint sharers in joint undivided Estates), Regulation XI. 1811 of the same Code (for extending the period fixed by the existing Regulations for revising the Jumma on lands ordered to be divided into two or more Estates), Regulation XIX. 1814 of the same Code (for reducing to one Regulation, with alterations and additions, certain Regulations respecting the Partition of Estates paying Revenue to Government), Act XX of 1836, and Act XI of 1838, except in so far as the said Regulations and Acts repeal any Regulation or Act, or any part of any Regulation or Act, and except as to the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act, shall cease to have effect in the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal. Unless as hereinafter provided, the partition of any estate which shall be pending at the time of the passing of this Act shall be proceeded with and completed in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed.

Future partitions to be made under provisions of this Act.

II. Except as directed in the last preceding Section, all partitions of estates which shall be ordered to be made by the Officers of Government after the passing of this Act, shall be made under the provisions of this Act, whatever may be the tenure of the estate ordered to be divided.

What parties entitled to partition.

III. Every recorded proprietor of a joint undivided estate paying revenue to Government or of any portion thereof, whether such Estate is held in common tenancy or otherwise, is entitled to claim partition under this Act.

Parties desirous of partition to apply to Collector in writing.

IV. When any one or more of the recorded proprietors of an estate as described in the last preceding Section shall desire to have his or their shares of the estate separated, in order that he or they may hold the same as a separate property, or as separate properties, such proprietor or proprietors shall make a written application for the purpose to the Collector of the District. Any two or more proprietors may apply to have their shares separated, and to hold the same as a joint estate.

Application to be signed, and certain particulars specified.

V. The application shall be signed by the party or parties applying for the partition, and shall specify the nature of the tenure of the estate sought to be divided. The names of all the co-sharers in the estate, the nature and extent of their respective shares, so far as the same may be known to the applicant or applicants, or can be ascertained by him or them, and the mode of partition desired, shall also be stated. If the application does not contain the particulars above mentioned, the Collector may reject it.

Otherwise may be rejected.

Procedure of Collector on receipt of application.

VI. The Collector, on the receipt of an application for partition, shall, if the application be in order, and not open to objection on the face of it, publish a Notification of the same at his Office, and at some conspicuous place on the estate to which the application relates, and shall invite any party in possession, who may not have joined in the application and who may object to the partition applied for, to appear before him either in person or by a duly constituted agent, on a day to be specified in the Notification, not being less than fifteen or more than thirty days from the date of the Notification, and state his objection. If the application for partition shall not have been made by all the recorded proprietors of the estate, notice of the application shall be served, in the manner usual in the District for serving notices of the Revenue Officers, on such of the recorded proprietors of the estate as shall not have joined in the application. Provided that, if from any cause such service cannottake place, a proclamation notifying such application shall be published by affixing it at the Maal Cutcherry of such estate or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the Village Chowrie, Choupal, or other conspicuous place in each village in such estate.

Notice to proprietors who have not joined therein.

Proclamation in case of service of notice being impracticable.

VII. If any objection be made to the partition by any party in possession, within the time allowed, and the Collector, on a consideration of such objection, be of opinion that there is any good and sufficient reason, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, why the partition should be absolutely disallowed, he may refuse the application, recording the grounds of his refusal.

In case of valid objection being made within time allowed, application may be refused.

VIII. If the objection raise any question of title or of proprietary right, which shall not appear to have been already determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the Collector may either decline to grant the application until the question in dispute shall have been determined by a competent Court, or he may proceed to inquire into the merits of the objection. In the latter case the Collector, after making the necessary inquiry and taking such evidence as may be adduced, shall record a proceeding declaring the nature and extent of the interests in the actual possession of the party or parties applying for the partition, and any other party or parties who may be affected thereby. The procedure to be observed by the Collector in trying such cases shall be that laid down in Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter) for the trial of original suits. And the Collector shall have power to refer any question that may arise in such case to arbitration, and the provisions of Chapter VI. (relative to arbitrators) of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to cases so referred by a Collector.

Procedure, if question of title or of proprietary right be raised.

Reference to arbitrators.

IX. All orders and decisions passed by the Collector under the last preceding Section, for declaring the rights of parties, shall be held to be decisions of a Court of Civil Judicature of first instance, and shall be open to appeal to the District or Sudder Court, according to the value of the claim, under the rules applicable to regular appeals to those Courts. Upon such appeal being made, the District or Sudder Court, as the case may be, may issue a precept to the Collector desiring him to stay the partition pending the decision of the appeal.

Decision of Collector equivalent to decision of Civil Court, and open to appeal.

Appellate Court may, on appeal, stay partition.

X. From every decision passed under the last preceding Section by a District Court a special appeal shall lie to the Sudder Court, under the rules for the time being in force relating to special appeals to that Court.

Special appeal to Sudder Court.

XI. It shall not be competent to the Civil Court to entertain a suit or application for the partition of an estate, except on appeal from the decision of the Collector as hereinbefore provided, any thing contained in Section 225, Act VIII of 1859 (for simplifying the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature not established by Royal Charter), to the contrary notwithstanding.

Civil Court to entertain suits only on appeal from decision of Collector.

XII. When the Collector, after disposing of the objections (if any) taken to the partition, shall order a partition to be made, he shall cause a Notification to be published in his own Office, in the District Court, and at some conspicuous place on the estate which is to be divided, intimating his intention to proceed with the partition after thirty days from the date of the Notification.

Notification on partition being ordered.

XIII. The partition shall be made by the Collector in whose District the estate is situate, or, if the estate be situate in two or more Districts, then by the Collector of any one of such Districts, who may be specially ordered by the Commissioner of the Division to superintend the partition. If the estate be situated in two or more Divisions, the partition shall be made by such Collector as the Board of Revenue shall order.

Partition by whom to be carried out.

XIV. The expense of making the partition, and the allowances of the establishment necessary for the measurement and survey of the lands, the preparation of papers, and any other charges, shall be fixed by the Collector. The amount shall be paid under such rules as may from time to time be laid down by the Board of Revenue with the sanction of the local Government, and, in default of payment, may be realized under the rules applicable to the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

Assessment, and levy of costs incurred in making partition.

XV. At any stage of the proceedings after a partition shall have been ordered, if it shall appear from information which was not before the Collector at the time the partition was ordered, or otherwise, that any reason not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act exists why the partition should not be proceeded with, it shall be competent to the Commissioner, on the report of the Collector, and subject to any orders that the Board of Revenue may pass in the case, to stay the partition, and to order the proceedings to be quashed. The decision of the Revenue Authorities under this Section shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court.

Partition may be stayed, and proceedings quashed, by Commissioner.

Decision not open to revision by Civil Court.

XVI. After the expiration of the period mentioned in the Notification referred to in Section XII of this Act, the Collector shall, if necessary, cause a measurement of all the lands comprised in the estate to be made, and a rent-roll of the same to be prepared. The village papers which are required to be prepared and periodically deposited in the Office of the Collector under the provisions of Sections XI and XII, Regulation IX. 1833 (to modify certain portions of Regulation VII. 1822 and Regulation IV. 1828*; to provide for the more speedy and satisfactory decision of judicial questions cognizable by Officers of Revenue employed in making settlements under the above Regulations; for enforcing the production of the village accounts; for the more extensive employment of Native agency in the Revenue Department; and to declare the intent of Section V, Regulation VII.* 1822*, touching claims to Malikana)* may be used for the purposes of this Act. Provided that any of the proprietors shall be permitted to file a rent-roll of the estate, which shall be accepted if acknowledged to be correct by all the proprietors.

Procedure after lapse of period mentioned in Notification under Section XII

Examination of the parties and their papers.

XVII. The Collector may examine the parties on solemn affirmation in regard to the papers produced before him, whether by the Officer appointed to make the partition, the proprietors, or otherwise. He shall also allow any shareholder to examine the papers so produced, and to take a copy of the same, and after such examination he shall hear any objections which any of the shareholders may make in respect to such papers. The Collector may direct any Deputy Collector or other Officer subordinate to him to examine the papers produced before him, and to make a report upon the same.

Option of settlement by private agreement. Procedure in case of refusal or default.

XVIII. The Collector, on the completion of the enquiry allowed by the last preceding Section, shall allow the parties the option of making a private partition of the estate and allotment of the public revenue amongst themselves, within such time as he may fix, or, if the parties shall not consent to make a private partition of the estate, or shall fail to make such partition within the time fixed by the Collector, the Collector shall call upon them to state whether they are willing to refer the partition of the estate and the apportionment of the public revenue to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by them. The Collector may also offer the parties the option of referring any point arising in the course of a partition to arbitration. The partition and allotment of the public revenue made by the parties, or by arbitrators appointed by them, shall be subject to the confirmation of the Collector, and the orders of the superior Revenue Authorities.

If parties cannot agree as to arbitrators, latter may be appointed by Collector.

XIX. If the parties consent to refer the partition of the estate and the allotment of the public revenue or any point arising in the course of the partition to arbitration, but they cannot agree amongst themselves as to the arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed, the Collector may appoint two or more persons to be arbitrators in the case. If the arbitrators are equally divided in opinion, the Collector shall act as umpire and the partition made by the arbitrator or arbitrators with whom the Collector shall concur shall be the partition in the case. The same rule shall apply in respect of any point arising in the course of a partition which shall be referred to arbitration.

In case of equality of votes, Collector to act as umpire.

Appointment in place of arbitrator refusing, or being unable to act.

XX. If any person, on being appointed an arbitrator, shall refuse to act, or, after accepting the appointment, shall die or become incapable of acting, another person shall be appointed arbitrator in his stead, in the same manner in which the first person was appointed.

Powers of Collector with regard to arbitrators.

XXI. After the arbitrators shall have accepted the appointment, the Collector shall transmit the whole of the papers to them, and it shall be competent to the Collector to exercise towards the arbitrators the same powers and authority for securing their attendance and the due completion of their award, which he is competent to exercise towards witnesses summoned before him, when acting Judicially, for the purpose of compelling them to attend and give evidence. The Collector shall also fix a time within which the arbitrator or arbitrators shall deliver the paper of partition. On sufficient cause shewn the Collector may extend such period.

Particulars to be specified in partition paper.

XXII. The arbitrators shall deliver a full and complete paper of partition, specifying the separate estates into which they propose that the estate shall be divided, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are proposed to be allotted, and the amount of public revenue to be assessed on each of such estates.

Remuneration of arbitrators.

XXIII. The arbitrators, on delivering the paper of partition as aforesaid, shall be entitled to reasonable fees for their services, the amount to be fixed by the Collector.

In default of award by first arbitrators, partition may be referred to others.

XXIV. If the paper of partition be not delivered within the time fixed by the Collector, or within any further period to which the time may have been extended, the Collector may order that the partition shall be referred to another arbitrator or arbitrators, to be chosen in the same manner and subject to the same rules as the first.

In default of private agreement, or settlement by arbitration, Officer may be appointed to make partition.

XXV. If the partition of the estate cannot be made by the parties themselves, or by arbitration, under the foregoing rules, the Collector shall appoint an Officer to make the partition, and shall forward the whole of the papers to such Officer, and shall direct him to proceed to the estate, and to make the partition within a time to be fixed by the Collector.

Who shall summon proprietors by proclamation to attend proceedings.

XXVI. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall issue a proclamation at the Maal-Cutcherry of the estate, or other conspicuous place thereon, or at the village Chourie or Choupal, requiring the several proprietors of the estate to attend upon him in person, or by agent, during the time that the partition is being made.

Estate may be attached and brought under Khas management under superintendence of Officer.

XXVII. At the commencement of the revenue year current in the District, the Collector may direct the Officer appointed to make the partition, or some other person, to attach the estate, and to bring it under Khas management under the personal superintendence of such Officer. The collections of the estate, after defraying the expenses of management, and any other expenses with which the estate is chargeable, shall be applied to the payment of the Government revenue, and the residue shall be divided amongst the proprietors in proportion to their respective shares, at such periods as the Collector may see fit.

Procedure in case of arrears of revenue accruing during course of partition of estate.

XXVIII. If an arrear of public revenue shall accrue on an estate ordered to be divided, while the partition of the estate is being made, any one or more of the proprietors may tender to the Collector his or their quota of the balance, and the Collector shall receive the same, and credit the amount to the share or shares of such proprietor or proprietors. If a sale of any part of the estate shall ultimately become necessary for the liquidation of any part of such arrear which may remain due, only the share or shares of the proprietor or proprietors who shall not have contributed their quota of the balance shall be sold in the first instance, and the partition shall go on and be completed in the same manner as if no arrear of public revenue had accrued. The purchaser or purchasers of the share or shares sold shall be entitled to separate possession of the estate or estates which, under the partition, would have been allotted to the defaulting proprietor or proprietors. Provided always that, in all cases of a partition, the entire estate shall be considered responsible for the public revenue assessed upon it until the partition shall have been completed, and the several proprietors shall have been put into possession of the separate estates into which the estate may be ordered to be divided, according as the same may be allotted to them.

Powers of Officer charged with partition in respect of measurement, &c.

XXIX. If the Officer appointed to make the partition shall consider it necessary to assist him in making the same, to cause a detailed measurement to be made of all the lands comprised in the estate, or a map of the estate to be prepared, he shall exercise the same powers for making such measurement and map as are vested in the Collector by any law for the time being in force.

Division of lands held in common.

XXX. When some of the lands forming the estate are held in common, the Collector shall declare, by a proceeding to be held under the provisions of this Act, the principle and rule under which, in accordance with the village custom, such lands shall be divided; and he shall cause the partition of such lands to be made in conformity to the provisions of this Act. The portion of the common land falling by such partition to the shares of the several co-sharers shall be added to the lands held by them in severalty, and the several estates thus formed shall be assessed and declared separate estates. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector, to cause any transfer of lands agreed to by the parties to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Proviso.

Collector may refuse to separate lands in certain cases.

XXXI. The Collector may refuse to declare any lands held in severalty, and not liable to re-distribution according to special village custom, a separate mehal, if the lands be so intermixed with other properties as to render the formation of a compact estate impossible, and if the parties affected by the partition decline to permit of the transfers necessary for curing such defect.

Where no lands held in common, lands in severalty may be declared a separate estate.

XXXII. Where there may be no lands held in common, the lands in severalty held by the applicant for partition, or assigned to him by the Collector under the provisions of this Act, shall be assessed and declared a separate estate. Provided that it shall be in the discretion of the Collector, to cause any transfer of lands agreed to, or directed by his order, as provided in Section XXX, to be made previous to such declaration, and the new estate shall be declared subject to the transfer so made.

Proviso as to transfers.

Sharer failing to attend after proclamation liable to forfeit right of objection.

XXXIII. If any sharer, after the issue of the proclamation mentioned in Section XXVI of this Act, shall fail to attend the Officer appointed to make the partition, during the time the partition is being made, no objection taken by such sharer to the partition shall be heard, unless such sharer can shew that his absence was not wilful, or unless for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear just and proper to allow him to be heard against the partition.

Partition may be stayed if parties so desire.

XXXIV. If, at any time after an order shall have been passed for making a partition, it shall appear, either from the report of the Officer appointed to make the partition, or from any other information, that the parties are not desirous that the partition should proceed, it shall be competent to the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to stop the partition, and to strike the case off the file, recovering from the sharers all costs and expenses incurred up to that time.

Recovery of costs.

Estates formed in course of partition to be as compact as possible.

XXXV. It shall be the duty of the Officer appointed to make the partition, so far as circumstances will admit, to take care that the estates into which the estate is divided shall consist of contiguous mehals or villages. Provided that if the estate ordered to be divided shall not consist of a sufficient number of villages to admit of one or more entire village or villages being included in each estate, the partition of the village or villages of which the estate shall consist shall be made so as to render each estate as compact as possible.

Revenue to be assessed on each divided estate.

XXXVI. The public revenue shall be assessed on each estate into which the property shall be ordered to be divided, in conformity to the rules contained in any law for the time being in force.

Circumstances to be considered in making partitions.

XXXVII. In selecting the villages or lands to be included in each separate estate, the advantages or disadvantages arising from situation, the vicinity of roads, railways, navigable rivers, or canals, the nature and quality of the soil and produce, the quantity of culturable and unculturable waste land, the depth at which water may be procurable, the number of tanks and wells, the state of the embankments and water-courses, and any other local circumstances affecting the present, or likely to influence the future value of the lands, shall be duly considered, and the villages or lands to be included in each estate shall be fairly and impartially selected. So far as may be practicable and consistent with compactness of partition, lands held in severalty shall be left in the possession of the parties holding the same.

Rule when dwelling house belonging to one sharer is situate on ground to be allotted to another sharer.

XXXVIII. If a dwelling house belonging to one sharer shall be situate on any land, or in any village, which it may be necessary to include in the share of another sharer, the proprietor of such house shall be at liberty to retain it, with the offices, buildings, and grounds immediately attached thereto, upon agreeing to pay to the proprietor of the land or village in which the same is situate an equitable rent for the ground. The limits of the ground and the rent to be paid for it shall be fixed by the Officer making the partition, and shall be stated in the paper of partition.

Rule as to tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments.

XXXIX. Tanks, wells, water-courses, and embankments shall be considered as attached to the land for the benefit of which they were originally made. In cases in which, from the extent, situation, or construction of such works, it shall be found necessary to continue them the joint property of the proprietors of two or more of the estates into which the estate may be divided, the paper of partition shall specify, as far as circumstances may admit, the extent to which the proprietors of each of such estates may make use of the same, and the proportion of the charges for repairs to be borne by them respectively.

Rule as to places of worship.

XL. Places of worship, which shall have been held in common previous to the partition of an estate, shall continue to be so held unless the parties shall otherwise agree amongst themselves, in which case they shall state in writing the agreement into which they have entered, and the Officer making the partition shall enter a note of the agreement in the paper of partition.

Particulars to be contained in the paper of partition to be submitted by Officer making same.

XLI. When the Officer appointed to make the partition shall have completed the partition, and allotted the public revenue on each of the estates into which it is proposed that the estate shall be divided, he shall prepare and submit to the Collector a paper of partition shewing how he proposes to divide the estate, and to apportion the public revenue. This paper shall specify the names of the Mehals or villages included in each separate estate, the gross produce of each Mehal and village for the three years immediately preceding the year in which the partition is ordered to be made, the names of the parties to whom the several estates are allotted, and the proportion of the public revenue proposed to be assessed on each of such estates, with any remarks regarding the mode observed in selecting the lands included in each estate, and the accounts upon which the apportionment of the public revenue assessed thereon shall have been based, as may be necessary for the information of the Collector. The paper shall further contain a detail of the adjustments, if any, which shall have been made in respect to any banks, places of worship, or other matters, as specified in the preceding Sections. The Officer appointed to make the partition shall also submit a map shewing the several estates into which the estate is proposed to be divided.

Map to be also submitted.

Procedure of Collector thereupon.

XLII. The Collector shall take into consideration the partition proposed by the Officer appointed to make the partition, and, after calling for any further information which he shall deem necessary, and disposing of any objections which shall be taken to the partition and allotment of public revenue as proposed by such Officer, he shall submit a report to the Commissioner, together with such of the papers of the case as shall appear to him essential. He shall also forward a list of the papers not sent. The Collector shall record his opinion whether the proposed partition should be confirmed or modified, and in the latter case he shall state the nature of the modification which, in his opinion, should be made.

Commissioner may confirm or modify partition, subject to appeal to Board of Revenue.

XLIII. The Commissioner shall either uphold the partition proposed by the Collector, or modify the same. The decision of the Commissioner shall not be open to revision by the Civil Court, but shall be subject to appeal to the Board of Revenue. The Commissioner, before coming to a decision, may call for any additional papers, or direct any further inquiry that he shall consider necessary. He may also, if he think proper, direct that, when two or more of the estates into which it is proposed to divide the estate shall consist of the same proportions of the entire estate, the parties entitled thereto shall draw lots for the same before the Collector.

And may direct division by lot under certain circumstances.

Procedure by Collector on receipt of order of Commissioner, or of Board of Revenue on appeal.

XLIV. On the receipt of the order of the Commissioner, or if an appeal be preferred to the Board of Revenue, then, of the order passed on the appeal, the Collector shall cause the same to be published in his Office, and in some conspicuous place in each of the estates separately constituted by such order. The Collector shall at the same time specify the date from which each of the estates shall be held to be a separate estate, and shall enter the several estates into which the estate has been divided in the Register of Estates paying revenue to Government. The Collector shall give the several proprietors possession of the estates allotted to them, and, if necessary, may avail himself of the assistance of the Magistrate in giving possession.

Government may order new allotment of public Revenue among estates formed by partition, in case of fraud or error in original allotment being proved.

XLV. In order to prevent collusion or error in the distribution of the public revenue assessed upon an estate which may be ordered to be divided into two or more distinct estates, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Government, within twelve years from and after the date of confirmation of the partition, that the public revenue was fraudulently or erroneously apportioned at the time of the partition, the Government shall have power to order a new allotment of the public revenue upon the several estates into which such estate may have been divided, conformably to the principles prescribed in this Act, on an estimate of the gross produce of each estate at the time of the partition, to be made agreeably to the best evidence and information which may be procurable respecting the same. Such order shall not be liable to be contested in the Civil Court. The parties whose estates may be declared to have been under-assessed shall be required to pay to the proprietors of the estates which shall have been over-assessed the sum in which they shall be found to have been over-assessed, and in default of payment the amount shall be leviable by the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of rent or revenue.

Consequence to party having interest in any estate, if he neglect to affirm or establish such interest while the estate is under attachment with a view to partition.

XLVI. If, during the time an estate is under attachment with a view to the partition of the same, any party shall neglect or omit to claim by a suit any right or title he may then have to the ownership or occupancy at a fixed rent of any land situated in such estate, or any other interest therein, such neglect or omission shall be a valid plea in bar of any suit relating to such right, title, or interest, unless the party can satisfy the Court that there was good and sufficient reason for his neglect or omission to institute the suit at or before such time. Provided that this Section shall not bar any action for arrears of rent, or the enhancement or alteration of rent.

Holder of decree of Civil Court, awarding right to portion of an estate, may apply for partition, and Collector may proceed thereon under Act.

XLVII. Whenever any Court of Civil Judicature shall pass a decree, awarding to any person the proprietary right in a portion of an estate paying revenue to Government, whether the portion so awarded shall consist of a fractional share in the whole or a part of the estate, or of specific lands, the decree-holder may apply to the Collector for a partition of the estate; and on the receipt of such application, the Collector shall proceed thereupon under the provisions of this Act, which are hereby declared applicable to such applications.

Union in certain cases of severed portions of estates originally undivided.

XLVIII. If two or more estates which may have originally formed portions of the same estate shall come into the possession of one person, such person shall be entitled to have such estates united, and to hold them as a single estate; or if two or more persons shall have separate possession of their respective shares of an estate which was originally held as a joint undivided estate, such persons may apply to have their shares united, and to hold them as one estate.

Application for such union how to be made, and how to be dealt with.

XLIX. The applications for the union of the estates, or of the shares of the estate, as the case may be, shall be made in writing to the Collector of the District in which the estates or shares of the estate are situate, and the Collector (provided he see no objection) shall comply with the application, and cause the necessary entries to be made in the records of his Office, reporting the case to the superior Revenue Authorities.

Certain provisions of Act applicable to partition cases pending at the time of its passing.

L. The provisions of this Act, so far as they relate to the completion and confirmation or to the staying or quashing of the partition of an estate, may be applied, at the discretion of the Collector, in all cases of the partition of estates pending at the time of the passing of this Act.

Provisions of Act may be applied to partition of estates held free from payment of revenue.

LI. The provisions of this Act may, in so far as the same are applicable, be applied by order of the local Government to the partition of any estate held free from the payment of Government revenue.

Control of Collector's proceedings under Act.

LII. In the performance of his duties under this Act, the Collector shall be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioner of the Division, and the Board of Revenue.

Orders of Collector, except in certain cases, open to revision by superior Revenue Authorities.

LIII. All orders passed by a Collector under this Act, unless otherwise provided, not being orders or decisions within the meaning of Section IX, shall be open to revision by the superior Revenue Authorities.

What other officers may exercise powers vested in Collector by this Act.

LIV. The powers vested in a Collector by this Act may be exercised by a Deputy Collector, or other Officer vested with the full powers of a Collector, subject to the control of the Collector of the District.

Powers to be exercised by Collector, or Officer appointed to make partition.

LV. In carrying out the provisions of this Act the Collector shall exercise the powers described in Regulation II. 1819, Regulation VII. 1822, and Regulations IX. and XIV. 1825. Any Officer appointed to make a partition under this Act may also exercise the powers described in the foregoing Regulations, so far as the same may be applicable.

Powers of Officers exercising jurisdiction under this Act, with regard to false evidence.

LVI. If, in any case in which a Collector or other Officer shall exercise jurisdiction under this Act, any person is guilty of the offence of giving or fabricating false evidence, or of forgery, as defined in the Indian Penal Code, or of abetting any of those offences, such Collector or other Officer shall have the same powers in respect of such offence, and of the person charged with committing the same, as are vested by the Code of Criminal Procedure in a Civil Court when any such offence is committed before or against such Court, or when a document charged to be a forgery is given in evidence in any proceedings in such Court.

Board of Revenue to be guided by instructions of local Government.

LVII. In the execution of the duties vested in the Board of Revenue by this Act, the Board shall be guided by such orders or instructions as they may from time to time receive from the local Government, to whom they shall apply in all cases which shall appear to the Board not to have been provided for by the existing law.

LVIII. Unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number, and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Interpretation.

LIX. This Act shall extend only to such parts of the North-Western Provinces of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal as are subject to the general Regulations of that Presidency; but the Act may be extended by order of the local Government, either wholly or in part, to any Non-Regulation Province under such Government.

Territorial scope of Act.

M. WYLIE,
Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XX OF 1863.

An Act to enable the Government to divest itself of the management of Religious Endowments.

WHEREAS it is expedient to relieve the Boards of Revenue, and the Local Agents in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, and the Presidency of Fort St. George, from the duties imposed on them by Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code (for the due appropriation of the Rents and produce of Lands granted for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, Colleges, and other purposes; for the maintenance and repair of Bridges, Serays, Kuttras, and other public buildings; and for the custody and disposal of Nuzzool Property or Escheats), and Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code (for the due appropriation of the rents and produce of lands granted for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, and Colleges, or other public purposes; for the maintenance and repair of Bridges, Choultries, or Chuttrums, and other public buildings; and for the custody and disposal of Escheats), so far as those duties embrace the superintendence of lands granted for the support of Mosques or Hindoo Temples, and for other religious uses, the appropriation of endowments made for the maintenance of such religious establishments, the repair and preservation of buildings connected therewith, and the appointment of Trustees or Managers thereof, or involve any connexion with the management of such religious establishments; and whereas it is expedient for that purpose to repeal so much of Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code, and Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code, as relate to endowments for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, or other religious purposes; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. So much of Regulation XIX. 1810 of the Bengal Code, and so much of Regulation VII. 1817 of the Madras Code, as relate to endowments for the support of Mosques, Hindoo Temples, or other religious purposes, are repealed.

Regulations repealed.

II. In this Act words importing the singular number shall include the plural, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular.

Number.

Words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

Gender.

The words "Civil Court" and "Court" shall mean the principal Court of Original Civil Jurisdiction in the District in which the Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment is situate, relating to which, or to the endowment whereof, any suit shall be instituted or application made under the provisions of this Act.

"Civil Court" and "Court."

III. In the case of every Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment to which the provisions of either of the Regulations specified in Section I are applicable, and the nomination of the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent whereof at the time of the passing of this Act is vested in, or may be exercised by, the Government, or any public Officer; or in which the nomination of such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent shall be subject to the confirmation of the Government, or any public Officer, the local Government shall, as soon as possible after the passing of this Act, make special provision as hereinafter provided.

Local Government to make special provision respecting Mosques, &c., in certain cases.

IV. In the case of every such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be under the management of any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent whose nomination shall not vest in, nor be exercised by, nor be subject to the confirmation of, the Government, or any public Officer, the local Government shall, as soon as possible after the passing of this Act, transfer to such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent all the landed or other property which, at the time of the passing of this Act, shall be under the superintendence or in the possession of the Board of Revenue, or any local Agent, and belonging to such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, except such property as is hereinafter provided, and the powers and responsibilities of the Board of Revenue and the local Agents in respect to such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, and to all land and other property so transferred, except as regards acts done and liabilities incurred by the said Board of Revenue or any local Agent previous to such transfer, shall cease and determine.

Transfer to independent Trustees, &c., of all property belonging to their Trusts, &c., remaining in charge of Revenue Board or others.

V. Whenever from any cause a vacancy shall occur in the office of any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom any property shall have been transferred under the last preceding Section, and any dispute shall arise respecting the right of succession to such office, it shall be lawful for any person interested in the Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment to which such property shall belong, or in the performance of the worship or of the service thereof, or of the Trusts relating thereto, to apply to the Civil Court to appoint a Manager of such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, and thereupon such Court may appoint such Manager to act until some other person shall by suit have established his right of succession to such office. The Manager so appointed by the Civil Court shall have, and shall exercise all the powers which, under this or any other Act, the former Trustee, Manager or Superintendent in whose place such Manager is appointed by the Court had, or could exercise, in relation to such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or the property belonging thereto.

Rights, powers, and responsibilities of Trustees, &c., to whom any charge shall be transferred.

VI. The rights, powers and responsibilities of every Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom the land and other property of any Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment is transferred in the manner prescribed in Section IV of this Act, as well as the conditions of their appointment, election, and removal, shall be the same as if this Act had not been passed, except in respect of the liability to be sued under this Act, and except in respect of the authority of the Board of Revenue and local Agents, given by the Regulations hereby repealed, over such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and over such Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, which authority is hereby determined and repealed. All the powers which might be exercised by any Board or local Agent for the recovery of the rent of land or other property transferred under the said Section IV of this Act may, from the date of such transfer, be exercised by any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent to whom such transfer is made.

Appointment of Committees.

VII. In all cases described in Section III of this Act, the local Government shall once for all appoint one or more Committees in every Division or District to take the place, and to exercise the powers, of the Board of Revenue and the local Agents, under the Regulations hereby repealed. Such Committee shall consist of three or more persons, and shall perform all the duties imposed on such Board and local Agents, except in respect of any property which is specially provided for under Section XXI of this Act.

Provision as to qualifications for Member of such Committee.

VIII. The Members of the said Committee shall be appointed from among persons professing the religion for the purposes of which the Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment was founded, or is now maintained, and in accordance, so far as can be ascertained, with the general wishes of those who are interested in the maintenance of such Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment. The appointment of the Committee shall be notified in the Official Gazette. In order to ascertain the general wishes of such persons in respect of such appointment, the local Government may cause an election to be held under such Rules (not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act) as shall be framed by such local Government.

Every Member to be appointed for life unless removed for misconduct, &c.

IX. Every Member of a Committee appointed as above shall hold his office for life, unless removed for misconduct or unfitness, and no such Member shall be removed except by an order of the Civil Court as hereinafter provided.

Provision for filling up vacancies.

X. Whenever any vacancy shall occur among the Members of a Committee appointed as above, a new Member shall be elected to fill the vacancy by the persons interested as above provided. The remaining Members of the Committee shall, as soon as possible, give public notice of such vacancy, and shall fix a day which shall not be later than three months from the date of such vacancy, for an election of a new Member by the persons interested as above provided, under Rules for elections which shall be framed by the local Government; and whoever shall be then elected under the said Rules shall be a Member of the Committee to fill such vacancy. If any vacancy as aforesaid shall not be filled up by such election as aforesaid within three months after it has occurred, the Civil Court, on the application of any person whatever, may appoint a person to fill the vacancy, or may order that the vacancy be forthwith filled up by the remaining Members of the Committee, with which order it shall then be the duty of such remaining Members to comply, and if this order be not complied with, the Civil Court may appoint a Member to fill the said vacancy.

No Member of a Committee to be Trustee, &c., of the Mosque, &c., under charge of such Committee.

XI. No Member of a Committee appointed under this Act shall be capable of being or shall act also as a Trustee, Manager or Superintendent of the Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment for the management of which such Committee shall have been appointed.

On appointment of Committee, Board and Local Agents to transfer property.

XII. Immediately on the appointment of a Committee as above provided, for the superintendence of any such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and for the management of its affairs, the Board of Revenue, or the local Agents acting under the authority of the said Board, shall transfer to such Committee all landed or other property which, at the time of appointment, shall be under the superintendence or in the possession of the said Board or local Agents, and belonging to the said religious establishment, except as is hereinafter provided for, and thereupon the powers and responsibilities of the Board and the local Agents in respect to such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, and to all land and other property so transferred except as above, and except as regards acts done and liabilities incurred by the said Board or Agents previous to such transfer, shall cease and determine. All the powers which might be exercised by any Board or local Agent for the recovery of the rent of land or other property transferred under this Section may from the date of such transfer be exercised by such Committee to whom such transfer is made.

Accounts of receipts and disbursements.

XIII. It shall be the duty of every Trustee, Manager, and Superintendent of a Mosque, Temple or religious establishment to which the provisions of this Act shall apply, to keep regular accounts of his receipts and disbursements in respect of the endowments and expenses of such Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment, and it shall be the duty of every Committee of management appointed or acting under the authority of this Act, to require

from every Trustee, Manager and Superintendent of such Mosque, Temple or other religious establishment, the production of such regular accounts of such receipts and disbursements at least once in every year, and every such Committee of management shall themselves keep such accounts thereof

Any person interested may sue in case of breach of trust, &c.

XIV. Any person or persons interested in any Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or in the performance of the worship or of the service thereof, or of the trusts relating thereto may, without joining as plaintiff any of the other persons interested therein, sue before the Civil Court the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent of such Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or the Member of any Committee appointed under this Act, for any misfeasance, breach of trust, or neglect of duty committed by such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of such Committee, in respect of the trusts vested in or confided to them respectively, and the Civil Court may direct the specific performance of any act by such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of a Committee, and may decree damages and costs against such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent, or Member of a Committee, and may also direct the removal of such Trustee, Manager, Superintendent or Member of a Committee.

Nature of interest entitling a person to sue.

XV. The interest required in order to entitle a person to sue under the last preceding Section need not be a pecuniary, or a direct or immediate interest, or such an interest as would entitle the person suing to take any part in the management or superintendence of the trusts. Any person having a right of attendance, or having been in the habit of attending at the performance of the worship or service of any Mosque, Temple, or religious establishment, or of partaking in the benefit of any distribution of alms, shall be deemed to be a person interested within the meaning of the last preceding Section.

Reference to Arbitrators.

XVI. In any suit or proceeding instituted under this Act it shall be lawful for the Court before which such suit or proceeding is pending, to order any matter in difference in such suit to be referred for decision to one or more arbitrators. Whenever any such order shall be made the provisions of Chap. VI of the Code of Civil Procedure shall in all respects apply to such order and arbitration, in the same manner as if such order had been made on the application of the parties under Section 312 of the said Code.

Reference under Section 312 of Civil Procedure Code.

XVII. Nothing in the last preceding Section shall prevent the parties from applying to the Court, or the Court from making the order of reference under the said Section 312 of the said Code of Civil Procedure.

Preliminary application for leave to institute suit.

XVIII. No suit shall be entertained under this Act without a preliminary application being first made to the Court for leave to institute such suit. The application may be made upon unstamped paper. The Court, on the perusal of the application, shall determine whether there are sufficient prima facie grounds for the institution of a suit, and if in the judgment of the Court there are such grounds, leave shall be given for its institution. In calculating the costs at the termination of the suit, the Stamp Duty on the preliminary application shall be estimated, and shall be added to the costs of the suit. If the Court shall be of opinion that the suit has been for the benefit of the Trust, and that no party to the suit is in fault, the Court may order the costs, or such portion as it may consider just, to be paid out of the estate.

Costs.

Court may require accounts of Trust to be filed.

XIX. Before giving leave for institution of a suit, or after leave has been given, before any other proceeding is taken, or at any time when the suit is pending, the Court may order the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or any Member of a Committee, as the case may be, to file in Court the accounts of the Trust or such part thereof as to the Court may seem necessary.

No Civil suit to bar proceedings for Criminal breach of Trust.

XX. No suit or proceeding before any Civil Court under the preceding Sections shall in any way affect or interfere with any proceeding in a Criminal Court for Criminal breach of trust.

Provision for cases in which the endowments are partly for religious and partly for secular purposes.

XXI. In any case in which any land or other property has been granted for the support of an establishment partly of a religious and partly of a secular character, or in which the endowment made for the support of an establishment is appropriated partly to religious and partly to secular uses, the Board of Revenue, before transferring to any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or to any Committee of Management appointed under this Act, shall determine what portion, if any, of the said land or other property shall remain under the superintendence of the said Board for application to secular uses, and what portion shall be transferred to the superintendence of the Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or of the Committee, and also what annual amount, if any, shall be charged on the land or other property which may be so transferred to the superintendence of the said Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent, or of the Committee, and made payable to the said Board or to the Local Agents for secular uses as aforesaid. In every such case the provisions of this Act shall take effect only in respect to such land and other property as may be so transferred.

Government not to hold charge henceforth of property for support of any Mosque, Temple, &c.

XXII. Except as provided in this Act it shall not be lawful, after the passing of this Act, for any Government in India, or any Officer of any Government in his official character to undertake or resume the superintendence of any land or other property granted for the support of, or otherwise belonging to, any Mosque, Temple, or other religious establishment, or to take any part in the management or appropriation of any endowment made for the maintenance of any such Mosque, Temple, or other establishment, or to nominate or appoint any Trustee, Manager, or Superintendent thereof, or to be in any way concerned therewith.

XXIII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to affect the provisions of the Regulations mentioned in this Act, except in so far as they relate to Mosques, Hindoo Temples, and other religious establishments; or to prevent the Government from taking such steps as it may deem necessary under the provisions of the said Regulations, to prevent injury to, and preserve buildings remarkable for their antiquity, or for their historical or architectural value, or required for the convenience of the public.

Effect of Act in respect of Regulations therein mentioned, and of buildings of antiquity &c.

XXIV. The word "India" in this Act shall denote the territories which are or may become vested in Her Majesty by the Statute 21 and 22 Vic., C. 106, entitled "an Act for the better Government of India."

"India."

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XXI OF 1863.

An Act to constitute Recorders' Courts for the Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein in British Burmah, and to establish Courts of Small Causes in the said Towns.

WHEREAS the Resolution of the Governor-General in Council, dated the 31st January 1862, declares that instead of a Judicial Commissioner for the whole Province of British Burmah, whose ordinary business can well be undertaken by the Chief Commissioner, and who, as Judge of a Special Court, sitting at the Head-Quarters of each Division, could not possibly dispose of the causes arising at each place in a manner that would satisfy the suitors, or be consistent with the prompt and regular administration of Justice, there shall be established at Rangoon and Moulmein a Court to be presided over by a Barrister or Advocate of not less than five years' standing, with full powers of Civil and Criminal jurisdiction, analogous to those now exercised by the Recorders of Prince of Wales' Island and Singapore, with the exception of the power to try cases in which European British subjects are charged with capital offences; and whereas it is expedient to make provision for the establishment of such Court, and of a similar Court for the Town of Akyab, and also for the establishment of a Court of Small Causes in each of the said Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein, and to prescribe the procedure for the said Courts, respectively; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

I. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to establish Courts of Judicature for the Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein in British Burmah, or for any of the said Towns, which Courts, when so established, shall be called, respectively, the "Court of the Recorder of Akyab," the "Court of the Recorder of Rangoon," and the "Court of the Recorder of Moulmein." Such Courts shall be Courts of Record.

Governor General may establish Courts for certain Towns in British Burmah.

II. The said Courts, respectively, shall be held before a Judge who shall be called "The Recorder" thereof, and who shall be appointed by the Governor-General in Council, and shall be a Barrister of not less than five years' standing. Every Recorder appointed under this Act shall hold his Office during the pleasure of the Governor-General in Council.

Designation, appointment, &c. of Judges of such Courts.

III. Previously to entering upon the execution of the duties of his Office, every Recorder appointed under this Act shall make or subscribe the following declaration before such authority or person as the Governor-General in Council may commission to receive the same:—

Declaration to be made by Recorder.

"I, A. B. appointed Recorder of [ ] do solemnly declare that I will faithfully perform the duties of my Office to the best of my ability, knowledge, and judgment."

IV. The Governor-General in Council may appoint only one Recorder to be the Recorder of the said three Courts, or he may from time to time appoint a separate Recorder for any one or for any two of the said Courts.

Governor General may appoint one Recorder only, or more.

V. So long as there shall be only one Recorder of the said three Courts, such Recorder shall hold his Court at each of the said three Towns of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein at stated periods. He shall hold his Court in Rangoon at such times as may be necessary, in Moulmein at least once in every three months, and in Akyab at least once in every four months.

If only one Recorder, how Court shall be held.

VI. The Recorder shall, on or before the 1st day of January in each and every year, or at such other convenient times as the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah shall direct, notify in the Official Gazettes of the Towns in which the Court is to be held, the days on which he intends to hold his Court at the said Towns, respectively, during the then next ensuing twelve months: and a copy of such Notification shall be stuck up in a conspicuous part of the Court Houses in the said Towns respectively.

Notification by Recorder as to time and place of holding Court.

VII. If the Recorder shall be unable to hold his Court at the time and place fixed in any Notification issued under the last preceding Section, he shall fix another period for holding his Court at such place, and shall publish notice of the same in the same manner, so far as circumstances will permit, in which a Notification under the said Section is directed to be published.

Procedure in case of Recorder being unable to hold Court as notified.

VIII. Notwithstanding any thing in Sections VI and VII of this Act contained, it shall be lawful for the Recorder to hold his Court at times other than those notified, as provided in the said Sections, when for any good and sufficient reason it shall appear to him necessary and proper to do so.

Recorder may hold Court at other than notified times.

Section VI to VIII how to be applied when there is one Recorder for two Courts.

IX. Whenever there shall be one Recorder for any two only of the said three Courts, the provisions contained in Sections VI, VII, and VIII of this Act shall be applied, so far as the same may be applicable, in respect of the sittings to be held by such Recorder within the Towns of the Courts of which he is Recorder.

Civil jurisdiction of Recorder.

X. The Recorders appointed under this Act shall have and exercise Civil jurisdiction, within such local limits in the said Towns of which they are respectively the Recorders and in the neighbourhood thereof as may from time to time be fixed by the Chief Commissioner of British Burmah, with the approval of the Governor-General in Council, and the limits so fixed shall be published in the Official Gazettes of the said Towns. Provided that it shall be lawful for the said Chief Commissioner, with such approval as aforesaid, as often as he shall think proper, to vary or alter the limits so fixed: and, save as in this Act provided, no Court other than the Recorder's Court shall have or exercise any Civil jurisdiction whatever within the limits for the time being fixed as aforesaid.

Proviso as to alteration of local limits.

Suits cognizable by Recorder.

XI. The Recorders appointed under this Act shall receive, try, and determine suits of every description, if in the case of suits for land or other immoveable property, such land or property shall be situate, or if in all other cases, the cause of action shall have arisen, or the defendant at the time of the commencement of the suit shall dwell or carry on business, or personally work for gain within the local limits of the ordinary jurisdiction of their respective Courts. Provided that the Recorders shall not take cognizance of any suit, the cognizance of which, by the ordinary Civil Courts in British India not established by Royal Charter, is barred by any Act of Parliament or by any Regulation or Act of the Governor-General of India in Council.

Proviso.

Transfer of cases from other Courts to Recorder's Court.

Such cases how to be dealt with.

XII. It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner to direct the transfer to any Recorder's Court of any case which shall have been instituted in any Court in British Burmah other than a Recorder's Court. Every case so transferred shall be tried and determined by the Recorder to whose Court it is transferred, in the same manner and under the same rules as to procedure, and in all other respects, as if the Recorder had originally had jurisdiction in the case, and the case had originally been instituted before him.

Rule as to trial of suits by Recorder having jurisdiction in more than one Court.

XIII. A Recorder, who is the Recorder of more Courts than one, shall, while sitting in any one of the Courts of which he is Recorder, ordinarily try no suits except such as shall have been instituted in such Court, or shall have been transferred to it by the Chief Commissioner as hereinbefore provided: but such Recorder may, if he think proper, try any suit instituted in any other of the said Courts of which he is Recorder, if the parties thereto shall join in an application to him (which shall be in writing, signed by all the parties to the suit or their Agents) so to try the same.

Seal of Courts. Use and custody of same.

XIV. A separate seal shall be made under the direction of the Governor-General in Council for each of the said Courts, and all summonses, orders and other process issuing out of the said Courts, respectively, shall be sealed or stamped with the seal of the Court issuing the same. The said seal shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Recorder, but during any absence of the Recorder, or in case of the vacancy of the Office of Recorder, the same shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Registrar of the Court appointed as is hereinafter provided, and if there be no Registrar then it shall be delivered to and kept in the custody of the Deputy Commissioner.

Appointment and removal of Ministerial Officers.

XV. It shall be lawful for the Recorder of any Court or Courts established under this Act, from time to time, and subject to any rules and restrictions which may be prescribed by the Governor-General in Council, to appoint such and so many Clerks and other Ministerial Officers as shall be found necessary for the administration of justice by the said Recorder in such Court or Courts, respectively, and the due execution of the powers and authorities given to him by this Act, and every Clerk and Officer appointed as aforesaid shall be liable to dismissal by order of the Recorder of the Court to which he is appointed: provided that no person shall be removed from any Office, the salary of which is one hundred Rupees per mensem or upwards, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner.

Licensing of Advocates, and Rules regarding qualifications and admission.

XVI. No person shall be permitted to appear or act as the Advocate of any suitor in any Court held under this Act in any action or suit, or touching any matter whatever, unless such person shall have been previously licensed by the Recorder of such Court to act for the suitors of such Court, generally, or specially for the particular occasion, and it shall be lawful for the Recorder of every Court held under this Act to make rules for the qualifications and admission of proper persons to act as Advocates in such Court. Provided that nothing in this Section contained shall be deemed to prevent any person from appearing or acting as the Agent for the Secretary of State for India in Council, or to prevent any suitor from appearing, pleading, or acting on his own behalf, or on behalf of a co-suitor.

Saving of Agent for Secretary of State &c.

And of advocates &c., of High Courts.

Provided also that any person who for the time being is an Advocate, Vakeel, or Attorney-at-Law of any of the High Courts of Judicature in India shall be entitled without any license to act as an Advocate for any suitor in any of the said Courts, and that any person for the time being licensed to act generally in any one of the said Courts, shall without further license be also entitled to act generally in any other of the said Courts.

License may be withdrawn.

XVII. The Recorder of any Court may for any sufficient reason withdraw or vacate any license which shall at any time be granted by such Recorder to any person to act generally or specially as an Advocate under this Act.

XVIII. The fees to be received by any Advocate, whether general or special, licensed under this Act, or entitled to act as an Advocate for another person in any of the said Courts, without a license under Section XVI of this Act, shall at all times be subject to the control and taxation of the Recorder of the Court having jurisdiction in the case in respect of which such fees are payable, and no fees shall be recoverable by any Advocates except such fees as shall have been allowed by the Recorder on taxation.

Fees of Advocates, &c., subject to taxation.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Recorder of any Court or Courts established under this Act to make and issue rules to regulate the service and execution of the processes of the Court or Courts within the territorial limits of his jurisdiction, and also to settle a table of fees to be allowed to the persons employed in such service or execution, and from time to time to alter any such rule or table, and the rules so made and the tables so issued shall be used and observed in the said Court or Courts; provided that such rules and tables be not inconsistent with the provisions of any law in force, and shall, before they are issued, have received the sanction of the Chief Commissioner. All such rules and tables shall be published in the Official Gazettes of the said Towns, and shall thenceforth have the force of law until repealed or over-ruled by any Act of the Legislature, or by any rule or table subsequently issued and published with the sanction and in the manner aforesaid.

Rules for service and execution of process, and table of fees for same.

Publication of same.

XX. Save as in this Act otherwise provided, the proceedings in Civil suits of every description between party and party brought in any Court established under this Act, shall be regulated by Act VIII of 1859, (the Code of Civil Procedure) as amended by Act XXIII of 1861, and by any other Act or Acts that may hereafter be passed for that purpose.

Proceedings in Civil Suits how to be regulated.

XXI. In all suits cognizable by any Court held under this Act, all questions as well of fact as of law or equity shall be dealt with and determined according to the law administered by the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of its ordinary original Civil jurisdiction. Provided that this Section shall not apply to any case heard and determined by any Court held under this Act in which a Native of British India is a defendant, and in which any question relating to marriage, inheritance or succession shall be involved; but every such case, in so far as such question is concerned, shall be determined by the law or usage which would have been applied thereto if such question had arisen in any other Court in British Burmah than a Court held under this Act.

Law as administered in Calcutta High Court, in its ordinary original Civil jurisdiction, to obtain in all suits.

Saving of certain cases.

XXII. If in any suit, any question of law or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, shall arise, on which the Recorder shall entertain any doubt, the Recorder may either of his own motion or on the application of either of the parties to the suit draw up a statement of the case, and submit such statement with his own opinion for the decision of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

In case of doubt as to certain questions, statement of case may be submitted for decision of High Court.

XXIII. The Recorder may proceed in the case, notwithstanding a reference to the said High Court, and may pass a decree contingent upon the opinion of the High Court on the point referred; but no execution shall be issued in any case in which a reference shall be made to the High Court until the receipt of the order of that Court.

And decree may be passed contingent thereon; but pending receipt execution not to issue.

XXIV. Cases referred for the opinion of the High Court shall be dealt with by a bench of two or more Judges of that Court.

Full bench of High Court to deal with cases referred.

XXV. The parties to the case may appear and be heard in the High Court in person or by an Advocate or Pleader, and the High Court when it has heard and considered the case, shall transmit a copy of its judgment under the seal of the Court, and the signature of the proper Officer of the Court, to the Recorder, who shall on the receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case conformably to the decision of the High Court.

And parties may appear in person, or by Advocate, &c. Transmission of Judgment of High Court, and proceeding thereupon

XXVI. Costs, if any, consequent on the reference of a case for the opinion of the High Court, shall be costs in the suit.

Costs of reference to High Court.

XXVII. In all suits heard and determined by a Recorder under this Act, in which the amount or value of the suit shall exceed Rupees three thousand, and be less than Rupees ten thousand, an appeal shall lie to the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal subject to the rules contained in the said Code of Civil Procedure regarding regular appeals.

Appeal to High Court in certain cases.

XXVIII. It shall be competent to the Recorder, if he shall think fit, to grant a new trial in any suit tried by him, if applied for within three months from the date of decision if the suit relate to any land or other immoveable property, and in all other cases if applied for within thirty days from the date of the decision. Provided that nothing hereinbefore contained shall interfere with the power of the Recorder to allow a review of judgment under the Code of Civil Procedure, if such review be applied for within the period allowed by the said Code for making such applications. Provided also that in any case in which the Recorder may think it necessary to do so, he may, before granting a new trial or a review, require the party applying for the same to give sufficient security for the due compliance with the terms of the decree or order which it is sought to set aside or review.

Grant of new trial on application within given time.

And review of judgment.

Security from applicant for either.

Recorder may receive and dispose of all cases under certain Acts, subject to provisions of same as to jurisdiction.

XXIX. All cases and proceedings arising under Act XIX of 1841 (for the protection of moveable and immoveable property against wrongful possession in cases of successions), Act XXXV of 1858 (to make better provision for the care of the Estates of Lunatics not subject to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature), Act XL of 1858 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal) as amended by Act IX of 1861 (to amend the law relating to Minors) or Act XXVII of 1860 (for facilitating the collection of debts on successions, and for the security of parties paying debts to the representatives of deceased persons) may be received and disposed of by the Recorder of any Court established under this Act, subject always to all the rules and provisions as to jurisdiction and otherwise in the said Acts contained, respectively. Orders passed by the Recorder in cases arising under the said Acts shall not be open to appeal, but the parties shall be at liberty to contest such orders in a regular suit. No Court other than the Recorder's Court shall, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Recorder's Court, receive or deal with any case or proceeding arising under any of the Acts mentioned in this section.

And his orders in such cases not open to appeal.

No other Court to deal therewith, within the jurisdiction of Recorder.

Assessors in Civil Suits.

XXX. For the trial of Civil suits under this Act, the Recorder may constitute one or more persons Assessor or Assessors of the Court. Such person or persons shall attend during the trial of the suit, and shall deliver his or their opinion or opinions in writing, to be recorded on the proceedings. But the decision of the case shall rest with the Recorder. No Officer of the Recorder's Court shall be appointed an Assessor under this Section, but this prohibition shall not extend to any other public Officer.

Appointment of Registrar.

XXXI. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council to appoint to each or any of the Recorder's Courts established under this Act, an Officer who shall be called the Registrar of the Court to which he shall be appointed.

Duties of Registrar.

XXXII. The Registrar of the Recorder's Court shall be the chief Ministerial Officer of the Court, and shall, subject to the provisions in the next following Section contained, receive all plaints presented to the Court, and in the absence of the Recorder shall issue notice of suit to the defendants, receive any documents which the parties may wish to put in, and issue process for the attendance of their witnesses: he shall also keep lists of all causes coming on for trial, and shall fix such days for their being heard, respectively, as may seem to him fit, having regard to the period appointed for the Recorder's sittings.

Procedure in case of plaint being considered defective in certain particulars.

XXXIII. If the Registrar shall be of opinion that any plaint presented to the Court is defective in any of the particulars mentioned in Section 28, Section 29, Section 30, Section 31, or Section 32, of the Code of Civil Procedure, he shall not reject the plaint, but shall point out to the plaintiff wherein the plaint is defective, and shall with as little delay as possible forward the plaint to the Recorder of the Court for his orders, together with any statement which the plaintiff may think proper to make, and such plaint shall be dealt with as the Recorder shall order. Provided always that if the defect in the plaint is capable of being cured under any of the said Sections, and the plaintiff shall be willing to amend it, it shall not be necessary for the Registrar to send the plaint to the Recorder, but such amendment may thereupon be made.

Proviso.

Execution of decrees by Registrar.

XXXIV. The Registrar shall also receive applications for the execution of decrees passed by the Recorder of the Court of which he is the Registrar, and subject to any orders which he may receive from the Recorder, shall execute such decrees in the same manner as the Recorder may execute them. No appeal shall lie from any order passed by the Registrar under this Section, but the Recorder may of his own motion reverse or modify any such order whenever he shall think it necessary to do so.

Registrar to have powers of Small Cause Court Judge in certain cases.

XXXV. The Registrar shall have the powers of a Small Cause Court Judge in suits of the nature of those described in Act XLII of 1860 (for the establishment of Courts of Small Causes beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Courts of Judicature established by Royal Charter) arising within the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court of which he is the Registrar, provided that the amount or value of the claim shall not exceed two hundred Rupees, but he shall exercise such powers subject to the general control of the Recorder. The Governor-General in Council may invest any Registrar appointed under this Act with jurisdiction to hear and determine suits of the nature cognizable by him as a Small Cause Court Judge under this Section, in which the amount or value of the claim does not exceed five hundred Rupees.

And may be invested by Governor-General with higher powers.

Suits cognizable by Registrar how to be heard, &c.

XXXVI. The suits cognizable by the Registrar under the last preceding Section shall be set down for hearing before such Registrar, and he shall hear and determine such suits and execute the decrees made therein in such manner as is prescribed in the said Act XLII of 1860, and subject to such rules as to procedure and otherwise in all respects as are in the said Act contained. Provided that the Recorder, whenever he thinks proper, may transfer to his own file any suits on the file of the Registrar, and may hear and determine the same subject to the rules as to procedure and otherwise hereinbefore mentioned.

Transfer from Registrar's to Recorder's File.

No appeal from decision of Registrar under last Section; but in case of doubt, statement may be submitted for opinion of Recorder.

XXXVII. No appeal shall lie from any order or decision made or passed by the Registrar in any case heard or disposed of by him under the last preceding Section, but in any case in which the Registrar shall entertain any doubt upon any question of law, or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, he shall be at liberty to state a case for the opinion of the Recorder, in like manner as the Recorder may, under Section XXII of this Act, state a case for the opinion of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and all the rules and provisions hereinbefore contained, relative to the stating of a case by the Recorder, shall apply mutatis mutandis to the stating of a case by the Registrar, so far as the same are applicable

Rules applicable to such references.

XXXVIII. It shall be lawful for the Recorder to refer to the Registrar of his Court any suit, not falling within the description of suits contained in Act XLII of 1860, which shall be instituted in the Court of such Recorder, and the amount or value of the property in dispute in which shall not exceed one hundred Rupees. Every suit so referred to the Registrar shall be heard and determined, and the decree made shall be executed, by him, under the same rules as to procedure and otherwise as are applicable to suits tried by the Recorder. In such suits the Registrar shall have no power to state a case to the High Court or to the Recorder, but an appeal shall lie on questions of law and of fact, from the Registrar's decision to the Recorder, under the rules for regular appeals contained in the Code of Civil Procedure. The decision on the appeal shall be final, but the Recorder shall be at liberty to state a question of law, or usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the decision, for the opinion of the High Court in the same manner as in cases originally tried by himself.

Recorder may refer certain suits to Registrar—Rules respecting trial of same.

Reference to High Court.

XXXIX. In all suits heard and determined by a Recorder under this Act, in which the sum or matter at issue is Rupees ten thousand or upwards, or in which the judgment, decree, or order shall involve directly or indirectly any claim demand or question to or respecting property of the value of Rupees ten thousand or upwards, an appeal shall lie to Her Majesty in Council, subject to the rules and orders for the time being in force regarding appeals to Her Majesty in Council, from decisions of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in the exercise of its ordinary original Civil Jurisdiction.

Appeal to Her Majesty in Council in certain cases.

XL. The Recorder shall exercise all the powers of a Court of Session as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure, within the territorial limits of the Civil jurisdiction of the Court or Courts of which he is Recorder, and shall at the place or places where such Court or Courts are held, hold Gaol deliveries at convenient periods, of which due notice shall be given in the manner prescribed in Sections VI and VII of this Act, for the trial of all persons charged with offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, who may be committed to take their trial before his Court as a Court of Session. Provided that the Recorder shall not have power to try any European British subject charged with an offence punishable with death under the said Code. The commitment of any European British subject charged with any such offence shall be made to the High Court of Fort William in Bengal. In all other cases the commitments made within the limits of the jurisdiction of any Recorder's Court, for offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, shall be made to that Court.

Recorder to exercise power of Court of Session, and to hold Gaol deliveries for trial of offenders.

Proviso as to European British subjects charged with offences punishable with death.

XLI. If any European British subject shall be charged in British Burmah with any offence (other than an offence punishable with death under the Indian Penal Code) which a Justice of the Peace shall not be competent to punish, and there shall be sufficient grounds for committing him for trial, such European British subject shall be committed to take his trial before the Recorder, and shall be tried by the Recorder of the Court held within the Division of British Burmah in which either such European British subject shall have been arrested, or in which the offence with which he is charged shall have been committed, that is to say, before the Recorder at Rangoon if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in Pegu; before the Recorder at Akyab if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in Arracan; and before the Recorder at Moulmein if the arrest took place or the offence were committed in the Tenasserim Provinces.

Commitment and trial of such subjects when charged with offences other than those punishable with death.

XLII. The proceedings on trials held by the Recorder as a Court of Session under this Act shall be regulated by the Code of Criminal Procedure, and shall be subject to all the provisions of this Act in so far as the same may be found applicable.

Proceedings of Recorder as Court of Session how to be regulated.

XLIII. If on any trial sentence of death shall be passed by the Recorder, such sentence shall not be carried into execution until it shall have been confirmed by the Chief Commissioner. It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner, in any case in which it shall seem proper to him so to do, to commute a sentence of death to a sentence of transportation for life, or for any shorter period not less than seven years.

Execution or commutation of sentence of death.

XLIV. No appeal shall lie from any order or sentence passed by the Recorder in any Criminal case. But it shall be at the discretion of the Recorder to reserve any point or points of law for the opinion of the said High Court.

No appeal from order, &c., of Recorder in criminal case, but he may reserve points for opinion of High Court.

XLV. On such point or points of law being so reserved, as in the last preceding Section mentioned, or on its being certified by the Advocate General at Fort William that, in his judgment, there is an error in the decision of a point or points of law decided by the Recorder, or that a point or points of law which has or have been decided by the said Recorder should be further considered, the said High Court shall have full power and authority to review the case, or such part of it as may be necessary, and finally determine such point or points of law, and thereupon to alter the sentence passed by the Recorder, and to pass such judgment and sentence as to the said High Court shall seem right.

Review of case and alteration of judgment by High Court.

XLVI. The Stamp Duties prescribed by Schedule B annexed to Act X of 1862 (to consolidate and amend the law relating to Stamp Duties) for Instruments and Writings in the Sudder Court shall be chargeable on Instruments and Writings in the Courts of the Recorders established under this Act, if the amount or value of the claim exceed one thousand Rupees, or if the case be an appeal. The foregoing limitation as to amount shall not extend to petitions of plaint. For such petitions whether the suit be tried by the Recorder or the Registrar of the Court, and for Certificates granted under Act XXVII of 1860 the duty prescribed by the said Schedule B shall be chargeable. For copies of decrees in suits in which the amount or value of the claim does not exceed one thousand Rupees, as well as for copies of judgments and orders, the same duty shall be chargeable as prescribed by the said Schedule B for copies of decrees, judgments, and orders passed or made by a Court below the Sudder Court. On Instruments and Writings in all other cases, as well in the Recorders' Courts, as in the Courts of the Registrars in cases cognizable by those Officers, on which a duty of eight annas is prescribed by the said Schedule B, the duty chargeable shall be eight annas.

Stamp Duties chargeable on instruments, &c., in Recorders Court.

XLVII. The Commissioner of the Division within which the said Town of Akyab, Rangoon, or Moulmein is situated, may sit with the Recorder in the trial and hearing of any Civil or Criminal case arising within the limits of his Division, and may record his opinion in any case in which he may so sit.

Commissioner may sit with Recorder in any suit, and record opinion.

XLVIII. If there shall for the time being be no Recorder, or if the Recorder of any of the said Courts shall at any time from sickness or from being absent on leave or other cause be unable to attend to the duties of his Office, it shall be lawful for the Commissioner of the Town wherein such Court is situate to sit in such Court, and to exercise all the powers vested by this Act in the Recorder, but subject to all the rules, provisions, and limitations herein prescribed and declared. Provided that no Commissioner shall act as Recorder, or exercise any authority under this Section, without the sanction of the Chief Commissioner first obtained.

And may, in the absence of Recorder, sit in Court and exercise all powers.

XLIX. The Recorder shall keep such Registers and Books and Accounts, and submit to the Chief Commissioner such Statements and Returns of the work done in his Court on the Civil and Criminal sides, as may be prescribed by the said Chief Commissioner with the approval of the Governor-General in Council. The Recorder shall also comply with such requisitions as may be made by the Governor-General in Council, or by the Chief Commissioner for records.

Recorder to keep such Registers, &c., and to submit such returns, &c., as Chief Commissioner shall prescribe.

L. The word "Barrister" in this Act shall be deemed to include Barristers of England or Ireland, or Members of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland, or Advocates of any High Court or Colonial Supreme Court authorized by Royal Charter to admit Advocates.

Interpretation of "Barrister."

It shall be lawful for the Governor-General in Council, from time to time by a declaration to be made to that effect and published in the Official Gazette, to order that any other class of works, or any particular work other than those named above, shall be included among works of public utility within this Act.

What to be deemed works of public utility.

III. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council to vest the principal Executive Officer of any territory under the immediate administration of the Governor-General in Council with any or all of the powers vested by this Act in the Local Government of such territory.

Governor-General may vest certain Officers with powers conferred by this Act on Local Government.

AS TO THE PRELIMINARY PROCEEDINGS TO BE TAKEN, AND THE REGISTRATION OF WORKS.

IV. The promoters of any work of public utility, who shall desire to proceed under this Act, shall make a preliminary application in writing to the Local Government, explaining the general object and nature of the work, and its intended locality. Every such application shall further be accompanied by a statement of the estimated cost of the construction of the said work, and the mode in which the promoters propose to provide the funds for constructing, maintaining, and working the same.

Promoters to make preliminary application accompanied by statement.

V. If the Local Government shall not be satisfied with any such application or statement, it may reject it, or it may call on the promoters to supply any further information, or to amend such application or statement on any point on which such further information or amendment shall to the Local Government seem requisite.

Local Government may reject application, or call for further information, &c.

VI. If the promoters shall desire to undertake any preliminary survey on account of the proposed work, before preparing and submitting the statement aforesaid, they shall declare the same in their preliminary application, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if satisfied of the expediency of permitting such survey, to issue a certificate authorizing the same. Such certificate shall declare the names of the promoters entitled to use it, the time for which it shall be in force, and the District or Districts or locality for which it shall be valid, and shall contain such further regulations for the guidance of the persons using the said certificate as to the Local Government shall seem fit. The promoters named in such certificate, and such other persons as the promoters shall name in a list to be furnished to the Chief Officer charged with the Executive Administration of each District in which the proposed work is to be constructed, shall be authorized to enter upon any lands, in the manner and for the time declared in such certificate, to undertake any survey or other investigation necessary for the proper prosecution of the proposed work; and while acting under the authority given in the said certificate, such promoters and other persons aforesaid shall be deemed to be public servants whose duty it is to make a survey under Clause 10 of Section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Provided that such promoters and other persons shall not be authorized to enter any house or building, or the curtilage of any house or enclosed garden, without the assent of the occupier, or to cut down any tree or otherwise injure or destroy any property. Provided also that such promoters and other persons aforesaid shall, while acting under the authority of such certificate, be liable as public servants for any offence described in Chapter IX of the said Indian Penal Code, to the penalty provided in the said Chapter for such offence.

Issue of certificate authorizing preliminary survey.

Terms of certificate.

Authority conveyed thereby.

Proviso limiting authority.

Liability for offences.

VII. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, before issuing a certificate as aforesaid, to call on the promoters to deposit, as caution money, such sum and in such manner as the Local Government shall in each case determine, to be applied by the Local Government to make good any damage done in the course of such survey by the promoters or other persons using the said certificate. The promoters shall be entitled on their demand to receive back, after the expiry of such certificate, and after the payment of any claim for damage which shall have been proved to the satisfaction of the Local Government, any surplus remaining in the hands of such Government.

Deposit of caution money may be required before issue of certificate

Refund of surplus.

VIII. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, at any time prior to the provisional registration of a public work under this Act as hereinafter provided, to cancel a certificate granted under Section VI of this Act, if it shall appear to such Local Government that the powers granted by such certificate have been abused, or for any other sufficient reason.

Cancelment of certificate.

IX. The promoters shall, at the time when they submit their preliminary application to the Local Government, publish the same, and if they so desire, the statement that accompanies it, in the Official Gazette, and also, if possible, in at least two Newspapers (one of which shall be in English) in the Province in which the work is proposed to be executed, and shall repeat such publication at least six times within a period of two months from the date of submission of such application to the Local Government; the promoters shall further cause to be delivered, with all reasonable despatch and within a period not exceeding two months, to the Collector of every district in which any part of such work is proposed to be constructed, or such other Officer as the Local Government shall from time to time direct, six copies of such application, with a faithful translation of the same into the vernacular language of the District; and shall in like manner publish from time to time and deliver as aforesaid, copies and translations of any amended applications submitted to the Local Government.

Publication of preliminary application, &c., by promoters, and supply of copies to Collectors, &c.

Amended application.

Publication by Collector.

X. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall, on receipt of the preliminary application, publish the same in English and in the vernacular language of the District, in the localities where the work is proposed to be constructed, in such manner as to him seems best.

Local Government to decide, after stated interval, whether work may be provisionally registered or not.

XI. At any time not sooner than four months after the receipt of the said application, or if the application be amended then within four months after the receipt of such amended application, the Local Government, on being satisfied by the promoters that the above conditions have been complied with, shall be authorized to consider finally such application, and any objections that shall have been raised against the construction of the proposed work, and to declare whether the said work may be provisionally registered under this Act or not.

And before deciding, in case of continuation or branch Railway, or tramway, to allow time for opposition, &c.

XII. Before declaring that any work may be provisionally registered under this Act, being a railway or tramway in continuation of or forming a branch of any existing line, or being a line that might reasonably be expected to be united with any existing railway either as a continuation or a branch, and at the same time being at some one point within fifty miles distance of such existing railway, the Local Government shall afford to the owners of such existing line reasonable time and opportunity to declare whether they offer any opposition to the registration of the proposed line, and on a full consideration of such opposition, and of the application of the promoters, and of any objections aforesaid, and of the relative public advantages of all proposals made in the matter, the Local Government shall be authorized to declare its decision on the said application.

And may also appoint a commission to inquire into particulars.

XIII. Previously to deciding that the said work shall be provisionally registered under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government, if it shall think fit, to appoint a Commission of one or more persons who may be Government Officers to enquire into the general object and nature of the said work, its intended locality and probable utility, its estimated cost, the grounds of any opposition to the said work, and any other matter connected with the said work, on which such Local Government shall desire to be satisfied. For the purposes of such enquiry, such Commission shall have power to take evidence, and for obtaining the attendance and for the examination of witnesses, may exercise the powers of a Civil Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Powers of commission.

On report of Commission Local Government to decide as to registry.

XIV. On the receipt of the Report of the Commission appointed under the last preceding Section, the Local Government shall decide if the said work shall be provisionally registered.

And to prescribe conditions to be imposed on promoters, before declaring decision.

XV. Before declaring its decision as aforesaid, the Local Government shall, subject to such general or special instructions as the Governor-General of India in Council shall from time to time lay down, prescribe the conditions which such Local Government shall consider it necessary to impose on the promoters, having regard to the special circumstances of each case, in respect to the provision and payment of the price of the land for the proposed work, the construction, maintenance, or working of the same, the regulation of the use of the work as regards the security and convenience of the public, and such other matters as to the Local Government may from time to time seem right, and the Local Government shall inform the promoters of such conditions.

Duration of provisional registry, and right to have it made definitive.

XVI. The Local Government, on causing a work to be provisionally registered under this Act, shall determine for what period, being not less than six months, such registry shall be in force. And at any time within such period the promoters may claim to have the registry made definitive as hereinafter provided.

Promoters to deposit caution money before definitive registry.

XVII. Unless for any cause the Local Government shall otherwise determine, the promoters, before they are entitled to claim the definitive registry of the proposed work, shall deposit with the Government, in such manner as shall be approved by the Local Government, a sum to be fixed in each case by the Local Government, but not exceeding ten per cent. on the whole estimated cost of the said work, as caution money, to be disposed of in the manner agreed in the said conditions, unless it be otherwise dealt with as hereinafter provided. And any sum remaining in the hands of the Local Government from any caution money lodged under Section VII of this Act, shall be held to be a payment in part of the caution money required under this Section.

Also to complete agreement under conditions.

XVIII. The promoters, before such claim for definitive registry shall be admitted, shall further complete an agreement with the Secretary of State for India in Council through the Government, under the conditions aforesaid, or under such other conditions as may be agreed between the said promoters and the Local Government. And thereupon the Local Government shall cause such agreement with the conditions thereof to be published in the Official Gazette, and shall declare that the work is definitively registered as a public work under this Act.

Publication of agreement, and declaration of registry.

XIX. It shall be lawful for the Local Government, on the application of the promoters of any public work under this Act, to cause to be definitively registered under this Act, any public work undertaken by such promoters under an agreement entered into previously to the passing of this Act with the Secretary of State, or the Government of India, or any local Government, as though such work had been proposed to be undertaken under the provisions of this Act hereinbefore contained. Provided that, at the time of so registering any work, the Local Government shall cause the said contract to be published in the Official Gazette, with all the conditions attaching thereto, and declare that the said work has been so registered definitively.

Definitive registry of work undertaken under agreement entered into before passing of Act.

Proviso.

XX. It shall be lawful for the Local Government to apply any land in its lawful possession, also any public road or place, for the purposes of any public work under this Act, to be constructed at the expense and risk of the promoters of such work. Provided that every such work shall be definitively registered accordingly, and that the conditions under which such work is undertaken shall be published in the Official Gazette; also that the prosecution and construction of every such work shall be subject to the provisions of Section XII of this Act.

Local Government may apply land, &c., for purposes of public work under Act.

Proviso.

XXI. The Local Government may from time to time, with the assent of the owners of any work under this Act, vary the conditions to be agreed to under Section XV of this Act. Provided that such variation shall forthwith be published in the Official Gazette, and that after such publication the amended conditions shall be in force in supersession of those first made.

Local Government may, with consent, vary conditions.

Proviso.

XXII. After the definitive registry of any work under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government from time to time, in such wise as to it shall appear fit, to issue certificates to authorize the promoters, their servants, and agents to enter upon any lands, and to undertake such surveys or levels or other examinations as may be necessary for the proper prosecution of the said work; also to dig and bore into the sub-soil, and to indicate the intended boundaries of the land to be taken, and the positions of the proposed works, by suitable land-marks, and to perform all other necessary preliminary acts of the like nature; and such certificates shall declare the names of the persons entitled to use them, the time for which they shall be in force, and the Districts or locality for which they shall be valid, and shall contain such further regulations for the guidance of the persons using them as to the Local Government shall seem fit. And while acting under the authority given in the said certificate, such persons shall be deemed to be public servants, whose duty it is to make a survey under Clause 10 of Section 21 of the Indian Penal Code. Provided, however, that such persons shall not enter any house, or building, or the curtilage of any house, or enclosed garden without giving twenty-four hours' notice, or without the assent of the occupier thereof, nor shall they cut down any tree, or otherwise injure or destroy any property, unless the same be essentially necessary. Provided also that such persons, while acting under the authority of such certificate, shall be liable as public servants for any offence described in Chapter IX of the said Indian Penal Code, to the penalty provided in the said Chapter for such offence.

After definitive registry, Local Government may issue certificate authorizing surveys, &c.

Terms of Certificate.

Proviso limiting authority.

Liability for offences.

XXIII. The promoters shall, on the completion of the necessary surveys and the like, submit to the Local Government such drawings, maps, and plans of the proposed work, as well as of the land required for it, as the Local Government shall in each case require: And thereupon the Local Government shall appoint one or more Commissioners, who may be Government Officers, to examine the said drawings, maps, and plans, and to determine finally, in concert with the promoters or their agents, all matters of detail in respect of the exact position of the work, or of the parts thereof, as well as the boundaries of the land to be taken for the said work, and shall notify such appointment in the Official Gazette, and shall cause such Notification to be published in the District where the work is proposed to be undertaken in such manner as shall seem best to the Local Government.

On completion of surveys, &c., promoters to submit drawings, &c.,

Appointment of Commissioners to examine same, and settle details.

XXIV. The Commissioners appointed under the last preceding Section shall proceed at any time, but not sooner than thirty days after such notification, to settle, in concert with the promoters or their agents, the exact position of the work or of the parts thereof, and thereafter with all practicable despatch to examine the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken for the work; and the said Commissioners may call upon the promoters to make any variation in their project, and in the position of the works or any part of them, and in the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken, that may to the said Commissioners seem necessary to secure the safety or convenience of the public, or to prevent any undue interference with private property, or for any other reasonable cause, and any such variation, if agreed to by the promoters, shall thereon be considered to be finally adopted; but if the promoters shall not agree, the question in dispute shall be submitted to the Local Government, and the decision of the Local Government shall be final, provided that the promoters shall not be bound to carry out the proposed work if any variation be insisted upon by the local Government to which the promoters will not assent.

Commissioners how to proceed.

May call for variation of project, &c.

Provision for case of promoters not agreeing thereto.

XXV. The Local Government shall be authorized to extend the periods allowed for giving any notices, or for performing any acts required under the foregoing Sections, as from time to time may seem to it proper.

Extension of periods allowed for notices, &c.

AS TO THE TAKING LANDS, THE TITLE THEREIN, AND THE PAYMENT THEREFOR.

XXVI. When the boundaries of the land required for the work shall have been settled as aforesaid, and the promoters shall have caused the said land to be measured, and suitable land-plans to be prepared of the same, the Local Government shall cause a declaration to be made, under the signature of a Secretary to such Government or some Officer duly authorized to certify the orders of the Local Government, that the land aforesaid is required for the said work, and such declaration, shall be conclusive that the land may be taken under this Act. After making such declaration the Local Government may proceed to take any such land as though it had been required to be taken at the public expense, and for a public purpose, and as though a declaration had been made as required under Act VI of 1857 (for the acquisition of land for public purposes.)

On settlement of boundaries, &c., Local Government to issue declaration as to land being required.

And may thereafter proceed to take the same.

XXVII. The boundaries as determined by the Commissioners, and the plans and measurements aforesaid of the said land, when verified and found to be correct, or when duly corrected by the Collector or other Officer appointed to proceed under the said Act VI of 1857, shall be held to be the boundaries, plans, and measurements required under Section IV of the said Act, so far as the said lands are concerned.

Rule as to boundaries, plans, and measurements.

XXVIII. If at any time land shall be required for any necessary or reasonable extension of or addition to any work under this Act, it shall be lawful for the Local Government to make all requisite declarations for the purpose of obtaining such land under this Act, after such and only such of the preliminary proceedings and enquiries hereinbefore required, as to the Local Government shall in each case seem sufficient for the protection of the rights of the public and of individuals concerned. Provided that nothing shall be done contrary to the provisions of Section XII of this Act, and that all proceedings for the actual taking possession of the land shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the said Act VI of 1857.

Preliminary proceedings and declaration by Local Government, as to land required for extension of, or addition to, work under Act.

Proviso.

XXIX. Land may be taken under this Act for a temporary purpose in like manner as under the said Act VI of 1857.

Taking land for temporary purpose.

XXX. All land taken under this Act shall vest absolutely in the Local Government as though it had been taken for a public purpose under the said Act VI of 1857, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government to dispose of any land taken under this Act, the whole or any part of which shall not be required for the purpose for which it was taken, in any manner that it may think fit. The Local Government alone shall be responsible for the payment of all claims on account of such land to all persons whatever, and the promoters shall in no wise be responsible for any such payment otherwise than to the Local Government, and then only as is herein declared and provided, and as shall be specially agreed in the conditions aforesaid.

Right, powers, and responsibilities of Local Government as to land taken under Act.

XXXI. When all the conditions as aforesaid applicable to the transfer of the land to the promoters shall have been fully complied with, and not till then, the Government shall cause the promoters to be placed in possession of such land in accordance with such conditions. The title of the Local Government or of the promoters to such land shall not be liable to be questioned on account of any informality in any proceeding taken under this Act.

Promoters when to be placed in possession of land.

XXXII. All expenses attending the proceedings of the Commissioners to be appointed under Section XXIII of this Act, and all expenses incurred by the Local Government in taking up the land required for the promoters under the said Act VI of 1857, shall be paid by the said promoters, unless otherwise specially agreed. The Local Government shall determine the sum due on account of such expenses, and shall be authorized to deduct such amount from any sum lodged as caution money as aforesaid, if it be not otherwise paid by the promoters, and any sum remaining unpaid both as aforesaid, and on account of land or compensation for which the promoters are liable under the said conditions, may, on the order of the Local Government to that effect, be levied by distress and sale on the said promoters, in the manner provided for distress and sale under Civil process.

Expenses to be paid by promoters.

Amount of same how to be determined and recovered.

XXXIII. The promoters shall further be liable for all damage done in any of their preliminary operations, and shall duly satisfy and pay all claims of this description; and if at the time of taking possession of the land required for the promoters, it shall appear that any such claim remains unsatisfied, the Collector or other Officer acting under the said Act VI of 1857 in respect of such land shall be authorized to determine all such claims summarily, as though they had been claims arising under the said Act, and all payments on account of such claims shall be made good by the promoters as under the last preceding Section.

Liability of promoters for damage done in preliminary operations.

Provision for satisfaction of claims on account of damage.

AS TO THE PUBLIC USE OF WORKS.

XXXIV. Every work under this Act shall be available for the use of the public in accordance with and to the extent provided by the conditions aforesaid, or any Act at the time being in force, but not otherwise; and after the publication of the conditions relating to any such works in the Official Gazette, all Courts may take judicial notice of the same, and it shall be lawful for any person whatsoever to sue the owners of such work for any damage he may incur by reason of any neglect of the said conditions by the said owners, in respect of any such public use of such work, as though such person had been a party to the said conditions.

Works under Act how far available for public use.

Courts may take cognizance of conditions relating to same, and owners may be sued for damage resulting from neglect.

XXXV. The owners of any work under this Act shall be authorized to levy such tolls, in such manner, as shall be fixed in accordance with the conditions aforesaid, also to refuse the use of such work, and to refuse to perform any service in connection therewith, unless such tolls shall be paid in the manner fixed aforesaid, as well as to detain any thing or animal on which such tolls shall be due, and to sell the same if the said tolls shall remain unpaid after a reasonable time has been allowed to elapse for the payment of the same. Provided that no such tolls shall be demanded or taken at any place unless proper tables and lists of such tolls be exhibited at such place in the manner fixed as aforesaid.

Powers of owners as to tolls for use of their works.

Proviso.

AS TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE WORKS, AND THE INSPECTION OF THE SAME.

XXXVI. The Local Government may appoint Inspectors to inspect any work under this Act, also all things appertaining thereto, and to the working of the same; but not books or documents otherwise than as shall be provided in the conditions aforesaid. The owners of such work, and all persons authorized by them to use the same in connection with any public use of the said work, and their servants and agents, shall be bound to afford to such Inspectors all reasonable facility for their inspection, and all such information as may be reasonably required by them.

Inspection of works.

XXXVII. If it appear to the Local Government, upon the report of any Inspector, that the use of any work under this Act cannot be continued without danger to the public or to the persons employed thereon, or that rules adequate to the protection of the public under the provisions of this Act have not been framed and put in force, or that the condition agreed upon under Section XV of this Act have not been carried out, the Local Government may order that all defects shall be made good within a reasonable specified time; and in default of the owners of such work complying with such order within such time, or such further time as the Local Government shall appoint, the Local Government shall be empowered to direct that the use of such work shall be suspended, until the defects aforesaid shall be remedied to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

If report of Inspector show cause, Local Government may order use of work to be suspended until defects are remedied.

XXXVIII. The Local Government may at any time, on the report of an Inspector during the construction of any work under this Act, direct the promoters to construct in connection therewith such culverts, bridges, tunnels, drains, or other works as may be considered by the Local Government to be necessary to continue to the public any roads, or rights of way, or easements, or the use of any water theretofore available, and to make due provision for the irrigation and drainage of the country, so as to prevent the same from being impeded or unnecessarily altered by the construction of the said work. If default be made in complying with any directions given under the provisions of this Section, the Local Government may order the prosecution of the work to be stopped until such directions shall be complied with to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Local Government may direct construction of subsidiary works.

And in default of compliance, may stop work.

XXXIX. Nothing in the last preceding Section shall be construed to render the promoters liable to construct any work, or to undertake any thing, at variance with the special conditions of agreement under Section XV of this Act.

Saving as to matters at variance with special conditions.

XL. The owners of every Railway under this Act, being of the gauge of five feet six inches, shall be bound, unless specially exempted by the Governor-General of India in Council, to erect all the fixed structures, and to construct all the rolling stock, in conformity with the standard dimensions determined in that behalf from time to time by the Governor-General of India in Council, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government to order the said owners to make good all defects in such structures or rolling stock, and to suspend their use until such defects shall be made good to the satisfaction of the Local Government.

Fixed structures, &c., on Railway of certain gauge, to be of standard dimensions.

XLI. The provisions of Act XVIII of 1854 (relating to Railways in India) shall apply to all Railways under this Act; provided that in respect of such Railways the Local Government shall be authorized to determine, from time to time, the extent to which fences shall be constructed under Section XX of the said Act XVIII of 1854, and that the owners of such Railways shall not be liable to maintain fences under the said Section otherwise than as shall be so determined.

Act XVIII of 1854 applicable to Railways under this Act.

Proviso, as to fences.

XLII. In case any doubt shall at any time arise, as to the necessity for constructing or altering any work to ensure the safety of the public, or to provide for established public rights of way, or other public rights of any sort in connection with any work under this Act, the decision of the Local Government on such subject shall be final, and shall not be liable to be called in question in any Court of Justice.

Decision of Local Government on questions concerning public safety, &c.

XLIII. If the owners of a Railway under this Act shall desire to form a connection with any existing Railway of the same gauge, the owners of the new line shall be authorized to call on the owners of the old line to effect the junction, and if the owners of the old line shall not proceed to effect the junction within a reasonable time, the Local Government, on being satisfied that the junction may be made with safety to the public, and without injury to the existing Railway, or detriment to the traffic thereon, may authorize the owners of the proposed line to form the junction, and to do all necessary acts in that behalf, and to lay down such additional lines of rails, points, and crossings as may be necessary for the purpose, at such time and in such manner as the Local Government shall direct. Provided that if the junction be effected by the owners of the previously existing Railway, the expense of forming the junction, of supplying all necessary works, and of keeping in repair and renewing the same, shall be paid by the owners of the new line.

Provision as to junction of Railway under Act, with pre-existing line.

As to expenses.

XLIV. If any difference shall arise as to the terms on which the traffic of a branch or junction line of Railway under this Act shall pass over or upon any other line with which it shall be connected, or as to the manner and times of conducting the traffic, or of regulating the same, over the two lines or either of them, or as to any matter touching any line under this Act used in common by two or more Companies, the Local Government shall be authorized, on the application of either or any one of the said Companies, to hear and determine all such differences, and any order given by the Local Government in such a case shall be final and binding on all parties, provided that no order shall be so given at variance with any condition of any agreement between the Government and any of the said Companies, that shall be applicable to the said lines of Railway.

Local Government to determine differences between owners of lines joined, connected, or used in common.

Proviso.

AS TO THE MAKING OF BYE-LAWS.

XLV. It shall be lawful for the owners of any work under this Act to make Bye-Laws and Regulations for the guidance of their servants and agents, and of persons employed by them, and for the maintenance of order in the use of such work, and to provide for the safety and convenience of the public, or of the persons employed on such work; and all such Bye-Laws and Regulations shall be subject to the approval of the Local Government, and when so approved all Courts and Magistrates shall take judicial notice of the same, and the Local Government shall be authorized to cause any alterations to be made in the Bye-Laws and Regulations so made and approved, as to the Local Government shall from time to time seem proper. Provided that such Bye-Laws and Regulations be not repugnant to any Law in force in the British Territories in India, and that no penalty shall be attached to the infringement of any such Bye-Law or Regulation exceeding a fine of fifty Rupees.

Power of owners to make Bye-laws and Regulations.

Subject to approval and alteration.

Proviso.

XLVI. Such Bye-Laws and Regulations affecting the public shall be published, and the substance of them shall be notified, in such places on the said work and in such manner as the Local Government shall from time to time approve or direct, and no penalty shall be recoverable under such Bye-Laws or Regulations unless the same shall have been published and kept published as aforesaid.

Publication of Bye-laws, and notification of substance of same.

XLVII. In the case of a Railway under this Act, being of the gauge of five feet and six inches, it is further provided that the Bye-Laws and Regulations shall, unless the Governor-General of India in Council shall otherwise permit, conform in every respect to the Regulations for Railway Companies under the said Act XVIII of 1854.

Provision as to Bye-laws in the case of a Railway, under Act, of 5½ feet gauge.

AS TO THE LIEN OF THE GOVERNMENT ON ANY WORK.

XLVIII. No lands taken or supplied by Government for any work under this Act; no tree, building, or structure standing on such lands; no machinery nor permanent way fixed to the soil on such lands; nor anything whatsoever on which the Local Government shall be entitled to re-enter, or of which it shall be entitled to take possession without payment on the determination from any cause of the agreement between the Local Government and the promoters under the conditions aforesaid, shall without the consent of the Local Government be liable to be seized or applied in satisfaction of any debts or liabilities of any sort of the promoters, nor without such consent shall the promoters alienate the same, or any part thereof, in any way not provided for, or consonant with such agreement or conditions.

Lands for work under Act, and fixtures thereon, not liable to seizure for debt, nor alienable by promoters, without consent of Local Government.

XLIX. If the owners of a work under this Act shall voluntarily determine to wind up their affairs, or shall be so directed by an order of Court, or shall abandon or determine to abandon such work, or shall commit an act of Bankruptcy or Insolvency, it shall be lawful for the Local Government thereupon to terminate all contracts then existing between it and the promoters in respect of such work, and to re-enter upon and take possession of all things whatsoever, to which the Local Government shall be so entitled under the conditions of such contracts; also of all lands taken at the public expense, or supplied to the said promoters free of cost, together with all trees, buildings, and structures standing on such lands, as well as all machinery and permanent way fixed to the soil on such lands; provided that nothing shall be so taken which shall be expressly excluded from such liability under the conditions aforesaid. But the Local Government shall be bound to surrender to a lawful claimant all moveable property of which it shall at any time obtain possession from the promoters otherwise than by purchase, which shall not have been fully paid for by the promoters; or in lieu of such surrender, if the Local Government shall so determine, to satisfy all just outstanding claims on account of such property; provided that no such surrender shall be obligatory, and no such claim shall be entertained, in respect of any thing that shall have been delivered to the said promoters more than twelve months before the date of such surrender being required, or of such claim being made known to the Local Government.

Right of Local Government to terminate contracts with promoters in certain cases.

And to re-enter and take possession of lands &c.

Saving of moveable property in certain cases.

be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works, unless compensation for the same shall have been expressly allowed in the award made in favor of the persons interested in the land.

And to working of mines under or near work under Act.

LI. If the owner, lessee, or occupier of any mine of coal, or of any other mineral, lying immediately under any work under this Act, or within forty yards therefrom, shall work the same, it shall be competent to the Local Government, on the application of the promoters of such work, to require such person to abandon such working, or so to work the same as not to endamage the said work, and to construct the works necessary to make it safe. Provided that compensation shall be awarded to such owner, lessee, or occupier, in the manner provided for in the said Act VI of 1857, for any loss sustained by him from being compelled to abandon or alter his mode of working the mine, and also for any necessary works constructed by him (when so required as aforesaid) in order to prevent damage to the said work, but all damage or loss to the promoters, arising from any improper working of such mines, shall be at the risk of the owners, lessees, or occupiers of the said mines, and shall be make good by them.

Proviso as to compensation.

Recovery of penalties for offences under Bye-laws.

LIII. All penalties for offences under the Bye-laws and Regulations aforesaid shall be recoverable in the manner provided for offences punishable by fine only in the said Act XVIII of 1854, (relating to Railways in India.)

M. WYLIE,
Deputy Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Home Department.

THE following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 10th March 1863, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XXIII OF 1863.

An Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make special provision for the speedy adjudication of claims which may be preferred to waste lands proposed to be sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, and of objections taken to the sale or other disposition of such lands; It is enacted as follows :—

Provision for inquiry into claims to land, or objections to sale of same.

I. When any claim shall be preferred to any waste land proposed to be sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, or when any objection shall be taken to the sale or other disposition of such land, the Collector of the District in which such land is situate, or other Officer performing the duties of a Collector of land Revenue in such District, by whatever name his Office is designated, shall, if the claim or objection be preferred within the period mentioned in the advertisement to be issued for the sale or other disposition of such land, which period shall not be less than three months, proceed to make an enquiry into the claim or objection.

Procedure in such cases.

II. The Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall call upon the claimant or objector to produce any evidence or documents upon which he may rely in proof of his claim or objection, and after considering the same and making any further enquiry that may appear proper, shall dispose of the case by an order for the admission or rejection of the claim or objection, and if the land is proposed to be sold, for the sale of the same subject to any condition or reservation which to such Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall appear to be proper. If the land is ordered to be sold subject to any condition or reservation, such condition or reservation shall be notified to intending purchasers at the time of sale.

Pending enquiry, sale, &c., to be postponed.

III. Pending an enquiry into any claim or objection under the last preceding Section, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall postpone the sale or other disposition of the land, and if he shall order that such claim or objection be rejected, he shall further postpone the sale or other disposition of the land to allow the claimant or objector to contest the order of rejection in the manner hereinafter provided.

Sale to be stopped if claim appear to be established, but may afterwards be proceeded with.

IV. If the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall consider the claim or objection to be established, and that the sale or other disposition of the land should not take place, he shall stop the sale or other disposition of the land; but such sale or other disposition of the land may afterwards be proceeded with if, on an order issued by the local Government to try the claim or objection as provided in Section VI of this Act, the claimant or objector shall fail to establish the same.

Procedure after passing of order in the case.

V. If the Collector or other Officer aforesaid shall order that the claim or objection be rejected, or that the land be sold subject to any condition or reservation, or that it be otherwise dealt with, he shall cause a copy of such order to be delivered to the claimant or objector, and if such claimant or objector shall not within one week from the delivery of such copy, or within such further time as the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid for any special reason to be recorded shall see fit to grant, give notice in writing to such Collector or other Officer as aforesaid that he intends to contest such order, the order shall be final. If the claimant or objector shall, within the time allowed, give such notice, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall immediately make a report to the Board of Revenue or other superior Revenue Authority, and shall forward with such Report a copy of his order, stating fully all the circumstances of the case and the evidence adduced in support or otherwise of the claim or objection, and such Board

Report to Revenue Board.

or other Authority, on the receipt of such Report, and after calling for any further information which it may consider necessary, may confirm, modify, or reverse the order of the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid. If the Board or other Authority as aforesaid confirm the order of the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or modify such order in such manner as to leave any part of such order in force adverse to the claimant or objector, the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid shall certify such order to the Court constituted as hereinafter provided, and such Court shall forthwith give notice to the claimant or objector, and if such claimant or objector shall not, within thirty days from the delivery of such notice from the Court, institute a suit in such Court to establish his claim or objection, the order of the Board or other Authority aforesaid shall be final.

Decision of Board.

VI. The local Government may, within twelve months after the date on which the claim of any claimant of waste land, or the objection of any objector as aforesaid, shall have been admitted under this Act by the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, direct a suit to be brought to try the claim or objection of the claimant or objector, in a Court constituted as hereinafter provided.

Local Government may, within twelve months, order suit to be brought to try claim admitted by Collector.

VII. For the investigation and trial of claims under this Act, the local Government shall constitute, in every District in which there may be any waste lands capable of being sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government, a Court consisting of an uneven number of persons not less than three, of whom the Judge of the District, or the Officer presiding in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction in the District by whatever name his office may be designated, shall be one. Any one or more of the Members of which such Court shall consist, shall have power to make all such orders in the case as may be necessary prior to the hearing of the suit. Provided that, whenever the Collector or other Officer by whom the original enquiry was held is the Officer presiding in the principal Civil Court of original Jurisdiction in the District, such Officer shall not be a Member of such Court.

Special Court for trying claims.

VIII. Whenever any Court is constituted under this Act, notice thereof shall be given by a written proclamation, copies of which shall be affixed in the several Courts, and in the Offices of the several Collectors and Magistrates of the District, and from the date of the issue of such proclamation no other Court shall be competent to entertain any claim or objection belonging to the class of claims or objections for the trial and determination of which such Court is constituted.

Notice of constitution of Special Courts. Claims not cognizable in other Courts.

IX. The Courts constituted under this Act shall be held at such place or places within the limits of their respective jurisdictions as shall be considered most convenient.

Special Courts where to be held.

X. In every suit instituted under Section V of this Act the claimant of the waste land, or objector to the sale or other disposition of such land, shall appear as plaintiff, and the Collector or other Officer aforesaid shall appear as defendant on the part of Government. Either party may appear by pleader or by agent. Provided that if such other Officer as aforesaid be the presiding Officer of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District, the local Government shall appoint some other Officer to appear as defendant in the case on its behalf. In any suit ordered to be instituted by the local Government under Section VI of this Act, the Government, by any Officer to be appointed for the purpose, shall appear as plaintiff, and the claimant or objector as aforesaid shall appear as defendant.

Plaintiff and Defendant in suits under Section V.

Proviso.

Plaintiff and Defendant in suits under Section VI.

XI. In suits instituted under this Act, except as hereinafter provided, the proceedings shall be regulated, so far as they can be, by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Proceedings regulated by Civil Procedure Code.

XII. The Court shall fix a day for the appearance of the parties and for the hearing of the suit, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their agents, and on the day so fixed the parties or their agents shall bring their witnesses into Court, together with any documents on which they may intend to rely in support of their respective statements. If either party require the assistance of the Court to procure the attendance of a witness on such day, he shall apply to the Court in sufficient time before the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, and the Court shall issue a Subpœna requiring such witness to attend the Court on that day. It shall be competent to the Court to require the personal attendance of the claimant of the waste land or objector as aforesaid on the day fixed for the hearing, or at any subsequent stage of the suit.

Procedure before hearing of suit.

XIII. On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit, or as soon after as may be practicable, the Court shall proceed to examine the claimant of the waste land, or the objector, or his agent (when his personal attendance is not required), and the witnesses of the parties, and upon such examination, and after inspecting the documents of the parties, and making any further enquiry that may appear necessary, shall proceed to pass such order in the case as it may consider just and proper.

Procedure on hearing.

XIV. No appeal shall lie from any decision or order passed under this Act, nor shall any such decision or order be open to revision.

No Appeal or revision.

XV. If, on the trial of any suit under this Act, any question of law, or of usage having the force of law, or the construction of a document affecting the merits of the case shall arise, on which the Court shall entertain reasonable doubts, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties to the suit, draw up a statement of the case and submit it, with its own opinion, for the opinion of the High Court of Judicature, or of the highest Civil Court of Appeal and revision, in the territory

Reference of question of law, &c. to High Court, &c.

in which the land is situate. Provided that it shall be the duty of every Court held under this Act to make such reference to such High Court, or Court of Appeal, if in any suit under this Act any question shall arise involving any principle of general importance, or the rights of a class.

Such reference obligatory in certain cases.

XVI. The Court may proceed in the case notwithstanding a reference to the High Court, or other highest Civil Court of Appeal as aforesaid, and may pass an order contingent upon the opinion of the High Court, or other Court as aforesaid on the point referred, but no final order for the sale or other disposition of the land in question in the suit, or for the admission or rejection of any claim or objection which shall be before the Court in such suit, shall be passed until the receipt of the order of the said High Court, or highest Civil Court of Appeal.

Court may proceed notwithstanding reference.

XVII. The record of cases disposed of by Courts constituted under this Act shall be deposited amongst the records of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District in which the property in dispute is situate.

Record of cases where to be deposited.

XVIII. No claim to any land, or to compensation or damages in respect of any land sold or otherwise dealt with on account of Government as waste land, shall be received after the expiration of three years from the date on which such land shall have been delivered by the Government to the purchaser, or otherwise dealt with. If within three years after any lands have been delivered by the Government to the purchaser, or otherwise dealt with, any claimant or objector shall prefer a claim to the land so delivered or otherwise dealt with, or an objection to such sale, or to compensation or damages in respect thereof, in the Court constituted under this Act for the District in which the land is situate, and shall show good and sufficient reason for not having preferred his claim or objection to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid within the period limited under Section I of this Act, such Court shall file the claim or objection, making the claimant or objector plaintiff, and the Collector of the District or other Officer as aforesaid (with the like provision as aforesaid, if such other Officer be the presiding Officer of the principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the District) the defendant in the suit, and the foregoing provisions of this Act shall be applicable to the trial and determination of the suit. The report of the Officer employed to give delivery, or to take possession on the part of Government, of the land sold or otherwise dealt with, shall be conclusive evidence as to the date on which such delivery was made, or possession was taken.

Limitation as to claims to land sold or dealt with.

Provision for such claims if preferred within time.

XIX. In any case in which the land has been sold, if the Court shall be of opinion that the claim of the claimant is established, the Court shall not award the claimant possession of the land in dispute, but shall order him to receive from the Government Treasury, by way of compensation, a sum equal to the price at which the land was sold, in addition to the costs of suit.

If claim established, possession not to be given, but compensation.

XX. If the land shall have been sold subject to any condition or reservation, or shall not have been sold, but shall have been otherwise dealt with on account of the Government, and the Court shall be of opinion that the claim to such land, or the objection of an objector is established, the Court shall award the claimant or objector to receive such sum in respect of his interest in such land as shall be awarded in that behalf under the provisions of Act VI of 1857 (for the acquisition of lands for public purposes), and thereupon the local Government shall proceed under the said Act to obtain an award of the value of such interest.

When land has not been absolutely sold, or has been otherwise dealt with.

XXI. An award under any of the provisions of the two last preceding Sections shall be in full satisfaction of the claim of the claimant or objector, and shall bar any future claim on his part in respect to the land in suit resting on the same cause of action, or on a cause of action which existed prior to the date of the sale or other disposition of the land on account of Government.

Award under the two last Sections to be in full satisfaction.

XXII. Nothing in this Act shall be held to prevent the local Government form awarding to any claimant of waste land sold on account of Government, on proof to the satisfaction of the local Government of the claim of such claimant (notwithstanding that he may not have preferred his claim either to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or to the proper Court constituted under this Act within the period prescribed by this Act), such amount of compensation for the said land, within the limit as to amount mentioned in Section XIX of this Act, if the land have been sold not subject to any condition or reservation, as to such local Government may seem proper.

Government not barred from awarding compensation for land absolutely sold, though claim be not preferred in time.

XXIII. If the land have been sold subject to any condition or reservation, or have been otherwise disposed of on account of Government, and any claim to such land, or objection to the sale or other disposition of the land shall be proved to the satisfaction of the local Government, although not preferred to the Collector or other Officer as aforesaid, or to the Court constituted under this Act, within the period prescribed by this Act, the local Government may award to such claimant or objector such amount as to such local Government may appear to be the value of the interest of such claimant or objector in such land.

Compensation for land sold subject to condition, if claim proved, though not preferred in time.

XXIV. Unless the contrary appears from the context, words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number; and words importing the masculine gender shall include females.

A. EDEN,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

An Agricultural Exhibition will be held at Calcutta in January 1864, under the direction of the Government, with the assistance and co-operation of the Agricultural and Horticultural Society of India.

The undermentioned Gentlemen are appointed a Provisional Committee of Management to arrange preliminaries and to communicate with intending Exhibitors :—

A. Grote, Esq.
Brigadier-General Showe s, C. B.
C. P. Montresor, Esq.
C. P. Hobhouse, Esq.
J. A. Crawford, Esq.
The Hon'ble A. Eden.
Lieutenant-Colonel H. C. James.
T. Anderson, Esq., M. D.
J. Beckwith, Esq.
W. Haworth, Esq.
Stewart Douglas, Esq.
S. P. Griffiths, Esq.
Baboo Prosono Coomar Tagore.
Baboo Ram Gopal Ghose.
Moulvie Abdul Luteef.

Mr. J. A. Crawford will act as Honorary Secretary.

The object of the Exhibition is to bring together for show, competition, and eventual sale, cattle and other live stock, agricultural implements and machinery, and articles of Indian agricultural produce.

The Exhibition will be arranged in three Departments :—

I. Cattle and Poultry.
II. Agricultural Implements.
III. Produce.

The first Department will include (1) Bulls, Cows, Bullocks, and Buffaloes; (2) Horses and Ponies; (3) Sheep and Goats; (4) Pigs; (5) Fowls, Guinea Fowls, &c.; (6) Turkeys; (7) Geese and Ducks; (8) Pigeons, and (9) Rabbits.

The second Department will include (1) Ploughs, Cultivators, Harrows, &c.; (2) Threshing Machines; (3) Saw Mills; (4) Flour Mills; (5) Sugar Mills; (6) Oil Mills; (7) Bonedust Mills; (8) Pumps for irrigation; (9) Cotton cleaning Machines, and (10) other implements.

The third Department will include (1) Gram, Pulse, and Tubers; (2) Fibres; (3) Cotton; (4) Raw Silk; (5) Drugs and Dyes; (6) Oil Seeds; (7) Indigo; (8) Tobacco; (9) Tea and Coffee; (10) Timber, and (11) other produce.

The Exhibition will be held on the grounds adjoining the Lieutenant-Governor's House at Belvedere, 35 acres in extent. It will commence on Monday, the 18th January 1864, and end on Saturday, the 23rd idem. On the last day there will be a show of Flowers, Fruits, and Vegetables, and the Prizes will be publicly distributed.

A List of the Prizes to be awarded for the best specimens of every kind exhibited will be published hereafter.

Judges will be appointed for each Department, and the Prizes will be adjudged on the first day.

To provide means towards defraying the necessary expenses of the Exhibition a charge will be made on the admission of Visitors. The terms of charge will be duly published.

No charge will be made for the admission of live stock and articles intended for exhibition.

All produce and implements for show must arrive in Calcutta and be sent to the Exhibition on or before the 31st December 1863, and live stock on or before the 14th January 1864.

The Committee will take charge of and feed all live stock from the date of its arrival at the Exhibition Yard till the end of the Exhibition.

All live stock and articles exhibited and intended for sale must have their price attached to them.

The principal object in giving Prizes for cattle and other live stock is to promote improvement in breed: and the Judges in making their award will decide according to that view.

Local Committees will be formed at the principal Stations in the interior.

Manufacturers of agricultural implements in Europe will be invited to send for exhibition specimens of such implements suited to India.

It is intended, if this Exhibition meet with public support, to repeat it annually, either at Calcutta or elsewhere in the Lower Provinces of Bengal. It is hoped that by this means the quality of agricultural produce in Bengal will be gradually improved, and that the attention of Native Zemindars and others interested in land will be drawn to the importance of promoting practical agriculture on a large scale.

By Order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

A. EDEN,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

FORT WILLIAM,
The 24th March 1863.

Government of India, Home Department.

Christian Colony in Dehra Doon.

From SIR GEORGE COUPER, BART., C. B., Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces, to W. GREY, ESQ., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,—(No. 821A., dated Nynee Tal, the 29th July 1861.)

I HAVE the honor, by direction of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, to forward to you, for the information of His Excellency the Viceroy in Council, the accompanying copy of a letter from the Commissioner of Meerut, No. 37, dated the 26th ultimo, with its enclosed Report from the Superintendent of the Dehra Doon on the Christian Colony which has been established there by Major Rind.

2. This Report gives so interesting an account of the Colony, and offers such strong evidence of its complete success, that the Lieutenant-Governor would suggest its being forwarded specially for the information of Sir Charles Wood.

3. There are but two points which call for notice from this Government, and these are treated in paragraphs 25 and 26 of the Superintendent's Report. The first is the proposal that the Government should extend some assistance to the Colony in the form of a fixed allowance to the Native Pastor and to the Scripture-readers who assist him. The second, that the Government should give pecuniary aid in the erection of a Church and a School-room.

4. Having regard to the benevolence and disinterestedness of Major Rind in establishing this Christian Colony, unassisted save by private charity, to the great success which has been achieved under his judicious management, and to the value of the Colony not only in itself, but as a great example to all, the Lieutenant-Governor would be very glad if the Government of India would be pleased to give their consent to both proposals. In that event His Honor would undertake, after consulting the local Officers, to ascertain how far the Government might reasonably assist Major Rind in the maintenance of the Native Pastor and the Scripture-readers, and to lay a definite proposal before the Government of India on that point as well as in respect of the aid that might, in the Lieutenant-Governor's judgment, be properly given in the erection of a Church and School-room.

5. His Honor would beg that a copy of the Report of the Superintendent of Dehra Doon, and of its annexures, may be furnished to the Lord Bishop of Calcutta.

From F. WILLIAMS, ESQ., Commissioner of the 1st or Meerut Division, to SIR GEORGE COUPER, BART., C. B, Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces,—(No. 37, dated Meerut, the 26th June 1861.)

IN answer to your letter of the 14th June 1860, No. 621A. (Revenue Department), I have the honor to forward a Report from the Superintendent of the Doon on the Christian Colony located by Major Rind, which, I think, shews that most satisfactory progress has been made.

2. I have not, during my service in India, seen such an interesting sight as the congregation of about 200 Native Christians in their temporary Church under their Native Minister. The appearance of the younger members of it was very encouraging; such clean, well dressed, intelligent-looking specimens of the youths of both sexes of their class I have never seen collected together.

3. The little villages were surrounded by a fine sheet of cultivation. The state of the little community is in every way most promising.

4. I hope a copy of Mr. Manderson's Report may be transmitted to the Bishop of Calcutta, who will, I have no doubt, use his influence to advance the prospects of the Colony, and I would solicit the favorable consideration by Government of the recommendations contained in the 25th and 26th paragraphs of the Superintendent's Report.

5. Such a congregation is, I think, as well entitled as any other to expect aid in the shape of funds for the construction of a Church and a permanent allowance for the Minister.

From R. Manderson, Esq., Superintendent, Dehra Doon, to Fleetwood Williams, Esq., Commissioner, 1st or Meerut Division,—(No. 139, dated the 3rd June 1861.)

With reference to Government Order No. 621A., dated the 14th June, forwarded by your letter No. 70, dated 5th October 1860, I have now the honor to forward a Report upon Major Rind's Christian Colony, partly based upon information kindly furnished to me by him, and partly upon that which I have been enabled to acquire during the late cold season, not only by personal visits to the Colony, but by facts elicited during a semi-judicial investigation instituted at the request of the Bishop of Calcutta, having for its object a decision upon certain charges brought against Paul, the Native Pastor of the Colony.

2. In order to make the Report as complete as possible it is necessary to report the origin of the Colony. It originated in the suggestion of the late Revd. Mr. Lamb, of the Church Mission Society, stationed at Meerut, who, finding that the converts which he had made to Christianity in that District were scattered and exposed to persecution by the surrounding heathens, proposed to Major Rind to collect them into one place, both for the purposes of protection, and also to ensure their being under that degree of observation which might be beneficial to their religious advancement.

3. An attempt by Major Rind to locate them in the Hills failed from the unwillingness of the converts to live in a climate which, especially during the winter, was uncongenial to them, and at that time Major Rind had no lands in the Doon on which to settle them. They therefore returned to the Meerut District to their homes.

4. The Mutiny then broke out, and the converts were subjected to all the persecutions which bigotry and religious hatred in a time of anarchy exposed them. Several lost their lives, and the rest were driven from their villages into the jungles and plundered of all they possessed, even to the clothes on their backs.

5. The majority at least, however, did not forsake the faith they had adopted, and when communication between Mussoorie and Meerut was re-opened, Major Rind, who in the meantime had purchased an estate from a Zemindar in the Doon and obtained some lands from Government on grant terms, sent down money to enable them to purchase the necessaries of life and procure carriage for themselves and families to the Doon.

6. In February 1858 the first instalment of thirty-five arrived, and others followed them in such numbers that Major Rind found that he was personally unable to provide for them, which, until they had settled themselves and reaped at least one crop from the then uncleared land, was necessary for their very existence.

7. The Revd. Mr. Sloggett, who has of late been so actively and usefully employed in the relief measures in the Punjab, now took up the cause of the infant Colony, and mainly by his advocacy Major Rind was enabled to provide the settlers, who by May 1858 had numbered some sixty souls, with shelter, food, clothes, and the implements of husbandry, and this support and the produce of the crops which they had sown carried them through the season of 1858.

8. In December 1858 the Colony received an acquisition of thirty more persons, and in February 1860 it numbered 140 souls; and Major Rind, who, except in the first location of the settlement, has adopted as a rule that it should be self-supporting and not dependent on external aid for its existence, was obliged to acquaint his settlers that he could not receive any more unless the newcomers were assisted solely by their friends, who had previously arrived.

9. The distress (especially in this portion of the North-Western Provinces) now ensued, and large numbers, attracted by the comparative plenty in the Doon, flocked up to the Colony until the number of settlers reached 315; but as the means of supporting so large an influx was not then available, and many of these had come not on account of their religious convictions or to escape the ill-treatment of their heathen neighbours, but with a view of being supported during the season of scarcity then prevailing, and therefore did not relish the labor of clearing waste lands for themselves, they, to the number of about sixty, left the Colony.

10. There are at present 258 souls residing there.

11. The system pursued by Major Rind in the management of his settlement is, in my opinion, eminently practical. Beyond assistance at first starting, to enable the settlers to procure absolute necessaries, they are expressly told that they are to look for no further pecuniary aid. For the first two or three years the waste lands which they reclaim are to be held rent-free; but they have been warned that this will not hereafter be the case, and that they are not received into the Colony to be supported by charity, but to earn an honest livelihood. They are fully aware that the object of massing them together is not to give them temporal advantages superior to those in the same condition around them, but to free them from molestation, to relieve them from the out-cast condition into which, if left in their own villages, they would fall, and to enable them to earn their bread in peace and quietness out of reach of the contaminating influences of idolatry, and with the means at hand of acquiring and improving religious knowledge. The only advantages, therefore, which, as cultivators, they possess over their heathen brethern is in being started in life without being saddled with debt at usurious interest, which has the ruinous effect of rendering the Ryot too often a slave for the rest of his existence.

12. Among the people of the surrounding villages no ill-will is shewn towards these Christians, and I have reason to believe that their quiet orderly lives, their civil demeanor and cleanly habits are not without their effects; silent, but not the less certain, witnesses of the superiority of the faith they profess.

13. They receive religious instruction from the Revd. Tulsi Paul, formerly a Catechist under the late Mr. Lamb, and afterwards in the Agra Mission College under Revd. Mr. French.

He was subsequently ordained by the present Bishop of Calcutta, and has converted himself most of the Christians in the Colony, and to his influence and earnestness in the work may be attributed (under God) the success of the undertaking as a Christian settlement.

14. Two services after the ritual of the Church of England are performed by him every Sunday in Hindustani, and the Scriptures are read and prayers offered up every evening in each of the five villages composing the Colony either by himself or by one of the young men whom he has trained. He visits in person one or more of these villages every day.

15. Baptisms, marriages, and burials are also conducted by him according to the service of the Church of England.

16. As regards this portion of the subject, I may re-call to your recollection a service which we attended together one Sunday, at which about 200 Native Christians were present.

17. In the past history of this interesting Colony a difficulty, which ended in the expulsion of twenty-four of its members, has occurred.

18. This arose from a determination on Major Rind's part not to allow any of the Christians to have more than one wife living with him.

19. Some of them were doubtless converted after having contracted marriage, or established ties resembling those of marriage, with more than one wife, and no doubt the enforcement of this rule interfered with their natural affections and prompted them to evade it as much as possible.

20. This they did by bringing at first only one wife into the Colony and locating the other at a convenient distance, whence after some months they introduced her into the Christian village in exchange for the one who had hitherto been with them, an arrangement which was perfectly acquiesced in by the latter.

21. When this was discovered, the Revd. Paul ejected the latter arrival from the village. This led to the malcontents charging him with seduction, the rumours of which, and certain petitions presented to the Bishop of Calcutta, induced him to request me, in conjuction with the Chaplain of Landour and a Missionary at Agra, to investigate and thoroughly sift the charges, the result of which was a most thorough disproval of them and triumphant acquittal of the accused before a large proportion of the most respectable of the Colonists whom I had summoned through the Police to be present at the trial and to give that general evidence which such cases require of the general estimation in which he was held.

22. A report of the trial, with details of the evidence for the prosecution (which broke down at every stage), was sent to the Bishop, who was completely convinced at the conclusion arrived at.

23. I have digressed to relate this circumstance at length, because the question on which it arose is one of general interest, and is liable to recur in the establishment of all such institutions. To avoid its repetition I recommended Major Rind to make the possession of only one wife the sine qua non of admission into his Colony, and in the event of infraction of the rule not to attempt to separate the parties but to expel them at once, a course which would prevent the possibility of any more false charges against his Pastor; this he has adopted.

24. I now turn to the future prospects of this undertaking.

25. Major Rind states that for the present the Revd. Paul is indebted for his salary of 50 Rupees a month partly to the Church Mission Society, and partly to the liberality of a private individual; the latter source being precarious, he would wish the continuance of it to be made permanent: he would also wish a small allowance to be made to the Scripture-readers, who are at present supported by the Revd. Paul's generosity and funds allowed for the payment of a School Master and Mistress. As the Colony is now in its infancy, it is clear that it must be indebted to external aid for the above objects, and I think that the subject might well be brought to the notice of the Bishop of Calcutta and the Religious Societies whose mission it is to render such aids; as the Colony increases in size and prosperity, it may well bear a considerable portion of the burden.

26. But the Government might give assistance for the erection of a suitable Chapel and School-house, two very great necessaries for the future well-being of the Colony; and if this be not contrary to established principles, I would strongly urge its being done.

27. In conclusion, I would briefly observe that the establishment of this Christian Colony has led not only to the protection and means of instruction afforded to a large number of our fellow-creatures, who would otherwise have been but at best isolated and uninstructed, and who would most probably have given up in utter weariness a faith which they had recently embraced and with which they are imperfectly acquainted, but it has effected the clearance of 200 acres of grass jungle which defied the efforts of the former propietor to make in any way productive, and fresh land is being cleared year by year, so that as the number and wealth of the Colonists increase so will the produce of the soil, and as a marked contract between this and adjoining villages belonging to Native capitalists, there stands out the fact that the Ryots established by them have no sooner received the necessary assistance to enable them to commence cultivation then they desert with their master's property to the neighbouring Native State of Naburi, whence arrest is impossible, and hence these villages are fast losing their value; whereas I have never heard of one instance of such being practised by the Christians of Aunfield, shewing clearly the value they attach to their position and the higher tone of morality which prevails among them.

28. I append a Tabular Statement of the residents in the five villages composing the Colony and of the Receipts and Disbursements of sums received in its aid, furnished by Major Rind at my request.

Mussoorie,
The 22nd May 1861.

Of the sum, Rs. 1,406, expended this year, 900 has been given for food alone in consequence of the famine; 469-15-0 for the School and Paul's House; about 200 are still required to finish them.

The pecuniary aid we require now is—

1*st*.—The means for supporting a School Master, Mistress, and a trifle for the support of the four Scripture-readers.

2*nd*.—The purchase of 50 pairs of bullocks and ploughs for the last comers now settled in village No. 5; the average cost of each plough would be 21.

3*rd*.—The purchase of 10 pairs of bullocks and ploughs for the maintenance of the widows and orphans.

(Sd.) W. Rind, Major.

From W. Grey, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, to Sir George Couper, Bart. and C. B., Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces,—(No. 1827, dated the 10th September 1861.)

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 821A., dated the 29th July, submitting copy of a letter from the Commissioner of Meerut, with its enclosed Report from the Superintendent of Dehra Doon on the Christian Colony which has been established there by Major Rind.

2. With reference to the recommendation that Government should aid the Colony by granting a fixed allowance to the Native Pastor and the Scripture-readers who assist him, and by a pecuniary donation towards the erection of a Church and School-room, I am desired to state that the support of their Pastor is an object which must necessarily be left to the people themselves, or to private benevolence, but that the Governor General in Council sees no objection to the grant of a donation towards the erection of a Church and School-room, and he will be glad to consider any definite proposal on this point which the Lieutenant-Governor may make. The School, if it receives a contribution from Government, will, it is presumed, be brought under the Grant-in-aid Rules.

3. Adverting to the 11th paragraph of Mr. Manderson's Report, I am directed to say that the Governor General in Council is of opinion that there is no objection, if His Honor should consider it expedient, to placing a sum of money at Major Rind's disposal to be lent out on the usual terms to enable destitute families to purchase bullocks or other farm stock required to provide them at starting with the means of carrying on cultivation, subject to the usual terms as to re-payment. In doing this Major Rind would, no doubt, be careful not to impair that spirit of self-reliance which after all is the only guarantee for the success of such an experiment.

4. A copy of the papers will be furnished to the Bishop, as requested in your letter, and the correspondence will be reported to the Secretary of State.

From Sir George Couper, Bart. and C. B., Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces, to E. C. Bayley, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,—(No. 1366A., dated Allahabad, the 12th December 1862.)

With reference to Mr Under-Secretary Monteath's endorsement No. 157, dated 10th January 1862, I am directed to forward, for submission to His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council, the accompanying copies of a letter* from the Commissioner of Meerut and of its enclosed Reports by the Superintendent of the Doon and Major Rind, regarding the settlement of Native Christians in Dehra Doon.

* No. 31, dated 1st November.

2. As the Government of India and the Secretary of State have evinced an interest in the Christian Colony established by Major Rind on his grant in the Doon, it will perhaps be acceptable to the Government of India to receive these Reports in extenso, although in them reference is had to many other points than those on which information is specially asked for in Mr. Grey's letter No. 1827, dated 10th September 1861.

3. These relate to the amount of the donation which should be granted by the Government towards the erection of a Church and School-room, and to the expectation that the School, if it receive a contribution, will be brought under the Grant-in-aid Rules.

4. The delay which has occurred in replying to the letter of the Government of India is accounted for by the discontent and consequent desertion of some of the Colonists, as stated by Major Rind. These have now returned in a better spirit, and are working cheerfully and vigorously in their own support.

5. It will be seen that Major Rind desires to erect separate buildings for the purposes of a Church and for the purposes of a School-room; and that he would rather forego the aid of the Government towards the latter than subject the School to Government inspection, on the ground that thereby two Masters will be introduced in the Colony.

6. Passing over this objection for the present, the Lieutenant-Governor must observe that in his judgment there can be no need of two separate buildings in the present condition of this Colony. It appears to his Honor that one edifice should be made to suffice both for Divine worship and for education, at least until the Society of Native Christians shall have become more extended, and its means more largely developed. These means, Major Rind states, do not just now suffice to assure to the Christian Pastor a salary of Rupees 50 per mensem, and it does not appear clear to Mr. Edmonstone how, even if a separate School-room be provided, a School Master can be maintained and the requisite School apparatus be procured without assistance from the Government on conditions much more favorable than those which attach to Grants-in-aid under the prescribed Rules.

7. The "definite proposal," therefore, which the Lieutenant-Governor begs to submit on this point, as required in Mr. Grey's letter, is that a donation to the amount of Rupees 7,000 be granted to Major Rind, on the understanding that he will guarantee the completion, within eighteen months, of a substantial permanent building which shall be used both as a Chapel and as a School, and shall be of dimensions sufficient to accommodate 300 Native Christians for either purpose; and that he will also, from this sum, provide such School books and apparatus as shall be needed to initate a system of rudimental education on a sound footing. Hereafter, if this small Christain Society should largely increase in numbers, and its interests should so require, the building might be consecrated and used as a Church exclusively; it being understood that, in such an event, the Government will contribute a sum equivalent to the amount which may be raised by private subscriptions towards the erection of a separate School-room.

8. Reverting now to Major Rind's objection to inspection of the School in the case of Government aiding in the construction of a building, the Lieutenant-Governor confesses his inability to recognize its validity. The Inspector would have no concern with any other matter than the School itself. The affairs of the Colony would still remain, without any interference on the part of the Inspector, and even on the part of the Government, in the hands of Major Rind; and his relation to the Colonists would be no more affected by the occasional visits and report of the School Inspector than his private interests in the grant would be. The Lieutenant-Governor does not agree with the Commissioner that the circumstances are so exceptional as to call for a concession on this point even if His Honor's proposal of constructing only one building both for Chapel and for School be adopted.

9. The plan of building submitted by Major Rind is so very rough that its submission to the Government of India, unaccompanied as it is by estimate, would be quite useless. But in point of fact the Lieutenant-Governor does not see that the Government need concern itself with this matter. The object in view is to assist Major Rind in placing the Christian Colony, which has been established on his grant, upon a durable footing; and the measure which seems best calculated to secure this end is the erection of a Chapel School-room. The Government may, His Honor thinks, satisfy itself with giving a sufficient pecuniary contribution, and then leave the execution in the hands of Major Rind himself. The building will not be a Government building. It will appertain to the Colony on Major Rind's grant, and its maintenance will devolve either on Major Rind or on the Native Christian Community collectively. It is very undesirable that the Government should make itself in any way responsible for the repairs of the building, which, to a certain extent, it would do by requiring Plans, Specifications, and Estimates; and all, as it seems to Mr. Edmonstone, that the Government can properly do at the present time is to fulfil its engagement of granting a donation towards its erection.

10. The Government of India will note that Major Rind repeats his application for the aid of Government toward the support of the Pastor of the Colony, stating that his salary of Rupees 50 per mensem is, precarious. In this he is, to some extent, supported by the Commissioner of the Division. On this point a decided opinion has been already expressed in Mr. Grey's letter No. 1827, above referred to, and in the justice of that opinion His Honor must acquiesce. But adverting to the very limited means of the Colonists, and the necessity of giving to them at least a rudimental education, His Honor would venture to suggest that the Government of India should make an allowance, not exceeding Rupees 600 per annum, to cover the expense of providing a School-Master for the Native Christians. Major Rind has done so much already with his own means towards the establishment of this Colony that he can hardly be expected to bear the whole cost of keeping up a School for its benefit, and he seems to the Lieutenant-Governor fully to deserve the little assistance which His Honor has just recommended in advancing its interests and its welfare.

11. It will be seen from the enclosures that no such assistance as that offered in the 3rd paragraph of Mr. Grey's letter, viz., the advance of money for the purchase of bullocks or other farm stock, is required at present.

12. The Superintendent General of Irrigation will be addressed on the subject of the Kuttur Puttur Canal and urged to use the best means in his power to improve its bearing capacity, and to secure a continuous supply of water to that part of the Doon in which Major Rind's grant is situated.

From F. WILLIAMS, Esq., Commissioner of the 1st or Meerut Division, to SIR GEORGE COUPER, BART. and C. B., Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces,—(No. 31, dated the 1st November 1862.)

I HAVE the honor, with reference to the Orders quoted in the margin, to submit Major Rind's answer regarding the requirements of the Christian Colony at Annefield in the Doon, and the Superintendent's letter forwarding it.

Commissioner, to Government, No. 27, dated the 22nd of September 1862.
Government, to Commissioner, No. 1133A., dated the 8th of October 1862.

2. His Honor will observe that the matter was at first delayed owing to some uncertainty respecting the fate of the undertaking. A large body of the Native Christians became discontented and left the Colony in the hopes of bettering themselves; during this crisis it was not thought advisable to propose any extensive operations.

3. Nearly all have now returned in a much better spirit; all now appear to have settled down, determined to depend on their own exertions; and Major Rind has no longer any hesitation as to soliciting the aid offered by Government.

4. Major Rind, in accordance with the opinion of Mr. Manderson that the projects where too costly, refrained from submitting two of a Church, the estimates being Rupees 10,000 and 8,000, and has now forwarded very rough sketches of a building which, he thinks, can be erected for Rupees 5,000.

5. Fearing that it may be impossible to secure sanction to a grant without proper plan and estimate, I have requested the Civil Divisional Engineer to design a Church capable of accommodating a congregation of 300 people and admiting of extension, which, with plan and estimate, I hope to submit very shortly.

6. Perhaps His Honor will be able to intimate whether a grant of Rupees 5,000 is likely to be sanctioned. It will be hardly possible to construct a substantial building for such a congregation for a less sum.

7. I fear that Major Rind's unwillingness to accept aid for the School on the conditions that it be brought under the Grant-in-aid Rules may be a bar to any assistance being given by Government. But the case of this Christian Colony is an exceptional one. The Civil Divisional Engineer's estimates for School-rooms on standard plans approved by the Department of Public Instruction are noted in the margin. If the sum of Rupees 2,310 could be granted the case of education among a considerable body of people would be advanced, where it is at present in danger, for the provision of a good building is essential to the progress of a School. The temporary room, Major Rind fears, will not last much longer.

	Rs.	As.	P.
For 250 Boys ...	3,311	13	0
„ 200 „ ...	3,056	5	0
„ 150 „ ...	2,310	3	0
„ 80 „ ...	1,400	14	0

8. If the grant of any assistance to the School is, under the circumstances, impossible, I would solicit attention to the remarks in the 5th paragraph of Major Rind's letter of the 12th of February 1862. The people are as yet too poor to assist in supporting a Pastor. The provision for the Native Clergyman Paul is apparently precarious. The maintenance of Ministers for the care of the Soldiers, the servants of Government, and British subjects generally is part of the policy of the State. I hope similar care for the Christian Native subjects is not impossible, and that the maintenance of Paul's salary on its present footing by Government, in the event of the cessation of the contributions which now supply it, can be promised.

9. The efficiency and improvement of the Kuttur Puttur land is a matter on which not only the success of this Colony, but the prosperity of a large tract of country depends.

10. The supply is sometimes altogether stopped in the rainy season owing to failure of the upper works in consequence of floods in the Jumna from falls of rain in the Hills when water is still urgently required below, and the Canal in its present state cannot carry a sufficient volume of water to irrigate all the lands which might benefit by a work of greater capability.

11. Besides this interesting Christian Colony extensive Tea Plantations are springing up in this tract under European energy; any amount of water that could be thrown into the Canal would, to a considerable extent, be restored to the lower works on the Jumna by percolation.

12. I have no doubt that the attention of the Canal Officers will hardly require stimulation; but the assurance that any expenditure requisite to make the Canal at all seasons equal to the demands upon it will be passed in the Budget may encourage them to propose the undertaking of the necessary works.

13. I have already reported that Major Rind's protracted inability to attend to business, owing to an accident and sickness, prevented him replying sooner.

From S. S. Melville, Esq., Officiating Superintendent, Dehra Doon, to F. Williams, Esq., Commissioner, 1st or Meerut Division,—(No. 222, dated the 28th October 1862.)

I have the honor at last to forward Major Rind's Report on the Christian Colony in the Doon, together with a plan of a Church which that gentleman is anxious that Government should assist him in erecting. It will be seen that no contribution can be fairly expected from the Colony towards this object. As the expense of the projected building, as designed, will be heavy, I would suggested that, rather than that such an important work should be neglected, a good solid building might be begun which might be used for the present as Church and School-room, and when the required funds were obtained it might be completed as a Church. This, an oblong pucka building, might be begun with the view of its ultimately assuming the form of a Church. At present the walls and arched roof alone might be completed. It might subsequently be lengthened and ornamented, and the steeple and chancel be built.

This beginning would be sufficient to satisfy the Colonists that Government is anxious to assist them, and probably a proper pride would lead them to complete the Church when they might become sufficiently prosperous.

From Major W. Rind, to R. Manderson, Esq., Superintendent, Dehra Doon,—(Dated the 12th February 1862.)

In reply to your request that I will state, for the information of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces, what assistance is required for the Native Christian Colony settled on my grant in the Dehra Doon, I now proceed to do so, but would first ask to be allowed to express my best thanks as well as sense of the kind manner in which His Honor has interested himself for the success and welfare of the Colony.

The first thing to be desired is a Church. I think a Church would very greatly help to convince the Natives that we are anxious and in earnest in our endeavors to promote their spiritual welfare. I think also that a Church for the express use of the Colony would raise the Native Christians in their own estimation, the necessity for doing which, and thus giving confidence in themselves, is, I think, not sufficiently considered; by means of a Church we might do this without offending any prejudices.

The Colony now consists of 228 souls in all, Natives of course, and allowing for a small increase a Church capable of holding 300 people would not be too large for the Colony.

A School-room is perhaps our next chief want, and for which I would wish to ask two rooms, so as to allow of a separate apartment for girls and boys.

With reference to His Excellency the Viceroy's intimation that "a contribution from Government in aid of the School would render us liable to the Grant-in-aid Rules, I trust it will not be considered disrespectful when I say I would rather forego assistance for the maintenance of the School on this condition. The Grant-in-aid Rules would give two Masters to the Colony, a Government Inspector and myself; and from the experience I have had in these matters, it has satisfied me that nothing can be more opposed to and prejudicial to the even and orderly working of a Village School such as the one at Martindell Colony.

That His Lordship the Viceroy should consider support for the Native Clergyman beyond the limits Government would be warranted in affording aid to the Colony is a matter of much regret and disappointment to me. Paul's salary is now 50 Rupees a month, for 30 of which he is dependant on, and indebted to, the liberality of one gentleman, for the other 20 to the Church Mission Society; any accident might reduce Paul to the 20 Rupees a month, a sum, I am sure His Excellency will allow, is not sufficient to maintain a Clergyman in a position where so much depends on influence and example. His Lordship's remark, that "the Colony should support their own Pastor," I willingly recognize, but for the present must be content to hope in time it will be so; in fact, several of the people have more than once expressed a wish it was even now in their power to do this, but this it is not, nor can I hope to see it so for some time to come.

I would now wish to express my best thanks for His Lordship the Viceroy's liberal offer of pecuniary aid for the purpose of settling destitute cultivators under the usual conditions,—aid is afforded on like occasions. At this moment there is no urgent necessity for my taking advantage of this offer. We have now struggled pretty successfully through the difficulties of a first settlement in the midst of a wild grass jungle and two successive bad seasons, but if we have only a fair supply of moisture, either from rain or the canal, within the next fortnight, the crops now springing up should be sufficient for the support of the Colony at its present strength; but both of these sources failing, and which I cannot but greatly fear and apprehend, the condition of the Colony of all here would be most precarious, disheartening to myself, and most discouraging to the people. Since the end of last rains, or 20th September, the total fall of rain in this part of the Doon has been short of one inch, and the Kuttur Puttur Canal during a great part of this time has entirely failed us. I do not say this of the Canal by way of complaint, but merely to shew His Honor I have good grounds for the apprehension I have expressed. We had not only the famine to contend against last year, but the almost entire failure of our rain-crop from the breaking down of the Canal,—a failure we are feeling smartly to this day, and a repetition of which this year would be most disastrous.

I would beg to assure His Excellency the Viceroy that my main object has been to encourage in every possible way "not to impair that spirit of self-reliance," which, as His Lordship justly remarks, I feel to be "the only guarantee for the success of such an undertaking." I may with truth say to impress this on the minds of the Native Christians has not only been one of my chief objects, but to do so successfully I have found one of my greatest difficulties; and until this truth is more generally recognized and enforced as a rule in Missionary Establishments than I fear it now is, the efforts of any single individual to accomplish this will be of little avail.

From Major W Rind, to S. S. Melville, Esq., Superintendent, Dehra Doon,—(Dated Mussoorie, the 27th September 1862.)

In continuation of my letter dated 12th February last, to the address of R. Manderson, Esq., then Superintendent of the Doon, at your request I have now to report as follows on the present condition of the Christian Colony settled in my grant in the Doon :—

First.—Very soon after despatching the above letter to Mr. Manderson a degree of discontent manifested itself among the Native Christians. How far this feeling had at that time spread among them I could not then well ascertain, but believe it was in consequence of this and my communication with Mr. Manderson on the subject that that gentleman abstained from forwarding my letter for a time at all events. Several, some seventy of the Native Christians, left the Colony at that time, assigning chiefly as their reason for doing so the difficulty and hardship they suffered from want of water, not only for the purposes of cultivation, but for drinking, and consequent loss of their crops,—a hardship, I must confess, not altogether imaginary on their part; for three successive seasons it was one they had to contend against in consequence of the frequent failure and break down of the Kuttur Puttur Canal. Again some of these people had been led to believe that by going to a station where there is a European Missionary they would receive more assistance than they did from us; their belief was that a European Missionary is occupied chiefly in begging for assistance for Native Christians, and that from this source the help they received greatly lessens the necessity of exertion and labor on their part for their own support. Again some of them, who had been carefully instructed and were pretty well acquainted with the main points of Christianity, took it into their heads that by travelling about the country as Preachers and begging they could easily obtain a livelihood. Against these two last motives I found reason and argument of no avail, and had no alternative but allow the mischief to run its own course, feeling sure ere long it would work its own cure; this, I am happy to say, it has now done pretty effectually. Many of the people who then left have since returned to the Colony and begged to be received back again, and are now working hard and conducting themselves well, while to those who were not enticed to leave this result has also had a visible and advantageous effect, inasmuch as all now at the Colony are evidently sensible of the advantages of their present position, and of the folly of attempting to benefit themselves by any such means. The elder people are now working steadily in their fields, while the children are pretty constant in their attendance on Pall in School. In one other respect I cannot but observe a marked improvement, which is in their dress and manner, particularly when attending Church service on Sundays, and which they are all very regular in doing.

The plan and estimate of a Church and School-room I found difficulty in obtaining; it was that I hardly felt myself competent to offer, and had therefore to seek assistance. Through the kindness of the Engineer Officers I obtained plans and estimates for two Churches; these estimates, however, Mr. Manderson thought too costly, and such as he could not offer to Government for sanction, the estimate for one of the Churches being ten thousand, and the other eight thousand Rupees, though perhaps these estimates were above the sum they could have been built for. I am now, therefore, forced to offer the rough plan of a Church drawn by myself; estimating at the rate at which work of this kind is done in the Doon, such a building would cost about 5,000 Rupees.

It would indeed be a subject of great regret to find that the main obstacle to Church at the Colony was cost of such a building. I can only express a sincere hope that this may not prove to be the case. I feel certain that a Church would not only greatly tend to permanently establish the Colony, but would satisfy and convince the the Native Christians that Government were really anxious to promote, and did feel an interest in, their welfare and were ready and willing to do so by every means in their power; and I will add my belief that some such evidence of our sincerity is necessary to convince the Native Christians that we are in earnest in our professions of good-will, and desire to see them placed on an equality in every respect with all other classes; that however low they may now stand in the opinion of other Natives, in that of Europeans their interest and welfare is equally as much an object of solicitude and desire as that of any other class or caste of their own countrymen; that in the estimation of Englishmen Hindoos, Mahomedans, and Native Christians are all equal. Even though a Church did cost a few thousand Rupees, it would be a small sum to pay for an object so much to be desired.

From so young a Colony, yet struggling to maintain its footing, we can hardly except any help towards building a Church; the people have several times expressed a hope they will soon be in a posititon to maintain, by their own exertions, their Native Clergymen, and this would be as much as we could possibly except from them for a long time to come; from any other source, such as public subcriptions, I am afraid we have little to hope in aid of such a work; but I may as well here add that a sum of five hundred Rupees has been placed at my disposal by a Lady in England (Miss Burdet Coutts I believe) for this purpose. It is, therefore, only through the kind assistance and liberality of Government we can hope to obtain this desired object.

For a School-room I would plead much in the same way and with as much earnestness as I would for a Church; the School-room may be truly said to be the door of the Church, the only entrance. Such a building need cost very little; the present School-room, built merely as a temporary accommodation for both Church and School-room, will not, I am afraid, last much longer.

But I would now earnestly solicit some arrangement being allowed and made for the efficient repair of the Kuttur Puttur Canal; as already observed, the bad state of repair and consequent constant break-down and stoppage of all water supply has been a most serious inconvenience (to call it by no graver name) to the Colony; every drop of drinking water even has had, time after time, and this for weeks together, to be carried from the Jumna River, a distance of a mile, to the huts of the people. We can hardly be surprised when, after a hard day's work in the fields, the people are apt to be discontented and grumble at this. Besides some 200 Christians I have now on my own Tea Plantation, and other Assamees settled on my grant, at least some 400 men men, many of these with families, all entirely dependent on the Kuttur Puttur Canal for water; the discontent from this cause is general among all hands, and the more general and wide-spread it is, the more serious it becomes—serious to a degree as often to cause me much anxiety. I would, therefore, earnestly beg some means may be sanctioned by His Honor to remedy this most, to all, irritating want.

During last cold weather, as in the two preceding ones, many of the crops were entirely lost for want of water. From the same cause I could not even have a vegetable in any own garden;—grain-seed I had brought at much expense from the Cape of Good Hope, from Oude, and from Futteyghur, was all entirely lost. During the rains of 1861 the rain-crop was nearly all lost from the same reasons; the Canal has broken down again twice these rains, but luckily the rains have been favorable and the crops saved. All this we cannot but feel to be very disheartening; it is evident that exertion on the part of the people is withheld from shere dread of this happening at any hour, and most likely when a supply of water is essential. I am afraid I shall be considered to have digressed too much on this point; but it is a matter of the greatest importance to all on the land, a matter of life or death to all of us. I therefore trust, though I have been rather lengthy in adverting to it, I shall be excused. The Native Christians, as cultivators, are now on the same footing as any other Assamees; a few who joined the Colony last cold weather receive occasional aid, but this will soon cease. The widows and orphans, who were made so by the insurrection of 1857, are still and must in some measure remain dependent on us for support. No rent has yet been received from any of the Christians for the land they occupy, and which now measures some 500 acres at least; they have never been asked for this, nor is it my wish or intention to do so until such time as I see them all comfortably settled, and with every want supplied they can fairly expect to have; but, then, they have been plainly warned, exemption from land rent will cease, and that they will stand precisely on the same footing as any other Assamees, and when this has been explained to them they have always expressed their perfect readiness to agree to it; for we to act otherwise, to shew more favor towards the Native Christians than to any other class of Natives, I feel would be as deterimental to their own welfare as it would be very probably a cause of discontent to the other Assamees settled on my grant, as well as to the surrounding villagers, and so breed ill-will between them: it would be to fall into the very error the late Governor General and Viceroy so strongly guards us against, "to impair that sprit of self-reliance which after all is the only guarantee for the success of such undertaking."

I believe I have given all the information as to the state of the Colony in my power. I have also availed myself of the invitation to state what I considered necessary for the success of the Colony. With these few wants supplied, care and attention, and a kind but steady hand in the management of the people, in all human probability its success is certain.

I now return my letter of the 12th February which you obligingly sent me. I have no wish and see no reason to alter any part of what I have therein stated.

I can now only once more beg to express our grateful acknowledgments to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor for the interest he has shewn, as well as for his kind promise to afford every assistance in his power towards rendering our endeavors in this undertaking successful.

Letter from the Secretary to the Government of the North-Western Provinces No. 1366A., dated 12th December 1862.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council observes that in September 1861, with reference to a Report from the Government of the North-Western Provinces on the Christian Colony established in the Dehra Doon by Major Rind, the Government of India agreed to the grant of a donation towards the erection of a Church or School-room and awaited a definite proposal on the point. It was presumed that the School, if it received a contribution from Government, would be brought under the Grant-in aid Rules.

2. With regard, however, to another proposal, that the Government should assist in paying the Native Pastor of the Colony and the Scripture Readers, the Governor General in Council recorded his opinion that the support of the Pastor "is an object which must necessarily be left to "the people themselves or to private bene-"volence."

3. The Government of the North-Western Provinces now submits a Report containing the following definite propositions for the consideration and orders of the Governor General in Council:—

(I).—Erection of a Church and School-room.

Major Rind desires to erect separate buildings for the purposes of a Church and of a School, and would rather forego the aid of the Government towards the latter than subject the School to Government inspection, on the ground that thereby two Masters would be introduced in the Settlement.

The Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces sees no need of two separate buildings in the present condition of the Colony; and, with regard to the supposed interference of the Inspector, His Honor observes that "the Inspector "would have no concern with any other matter "than the School itself. The affairs of the "Colony would still remain, without any inter-"ference on the part of the Inspector, and even "on the part of Government, in the hands of "Major Rind." His Honor accordingly recommends "that a donation to the amount of "Rupees 7,000 be granted to Major Rind, on the "understanding that he will guarantee the com-"pletion, within eighteen months, of a substan-"tial permanent building, which shall be used "both as a Chapel and as a School, and shall be "of dimensions sufficient to accommodate 300 "Native Christians for either purpose; and that "he will also, from this sum, provide such School "books and apparatus as shall be needed to "initiate a system of rudimental education on a "sound policy."

(II).—Aid towards the support of a School Master. The Lieutenant-Governor acquiesces in the justice of the opinion expressed by the Government of India in respect of the previously proposed aid on account of a Pastor; but, "adverting to the very limited means of the "Colonists, and to the necessity of giving to "them at least a rudimental education, His Honor "suggests that the Government should make an "allowance, not exceeding Rupees 600 per annum, "to cover the expense of providing a School "Master."

4. The Governor General in Council is disposed to sanction both the above propositions, the first being subject to the conditions mentioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, including that of Government inspection. His Excellency in Council would require, however, that the plan of the building should be previously submitted to and approved of by His Honor. With regard to the yearly allowance proposed for the School Master the Governor General in Council wishes it to be clearly understood that it is granted for a School Master whatever other duties the holder of the office may perform in connection with the Colony at large. This grant, like the previous one, will, of course, be subject to the condition of inspection of the School on the part of the Government.

READ Extract from Proceedings in the Home Department No. 509, dated 22nd January 1863, forwarding a letter from the Government of North-Western Provinces, in which the following definite propositions are submitted on behalf of the Christian Colony established in the Dehra Doon by Major Rind, viz.,—

1*st*.—A donation of Rupees 7,000 for the completion, within eighteen months, of a substantial permanent building which shall be used both as a Chapel and as a School, and shall be of dimensions sufficient to accommodate 300 Native Christians for either purpose; also for the provision of such School books and apparatus as shall be needed to initiate a system of rudimental education on a sound policy.

2*nd*.—An allowance, not exceeding Rupees 600 per annum, to cover the expense of providing a School Master.

RESOLUTION.—The Hon'ble the President in Council is pleased to authorize from the Educational Funds a grant of Rupees 5,000 for a building of the kind and capacity described by the Government of North-Western Provinces, and admitting of extension.

His Honor in Council also authorizes the proposed allowance of Rupees (50) fifty per mensem for a School Master for twelve months, a fresh application being made at the expiration of that period should circumstances require a continuance of the aid of Government.
